"For the purpose of ascertaining the cause of failure and disappointment among American settlers in the West, I instructed our boundary inspectors a year or so ago to keep a sharp outlook for any such returning, to interview them and ascertain their story and report same to me. This has been done regularly and systematically, and consequently I am in a position to readily declare that the story of the so-called American exodus is an unmitigated fraud, the work of certain land syndicates in Montana, certain seriously affected American railway corporations and other interests, prejudiced to the Canadian West from the United States. I am prepared to prove by the growing volume of emigration what I say by facts and figures, calling from official sources.

"My officers have had access to the United States customs records and the various boundary points, and those records show that from January 1, 1910, to July 27, 1910, exactly 184 persons describing themselves as farmers returned to the United States from Canada and made report. The figures are indisputable, emphatic and conclusive. The alleged exodus is a myth. The tide of immigration towards Canada flows steadily onward, not only unabated and undiminished, but greatly increased in volume. During the period above referred to, 23,754 American farmers made entry for Canadian homesteads and pre-emptions. This represents over 50,000 persons.

"The vast interest prejudiced by this movement are greatly exasperated and we must therefore look upon the alleged exodus as the opening gun in a systematically planned and vigorously prosecuted campaign to depopulate Canada and sow distrust in the American agricultural mind. and that shrub by any means, however disreputable, the over-increasing proportions of the great trek northward."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

British Visitors Surprised.

Mr. R. M. Roy, who by the way, is one of The Times oldest consecutive subscribers, having taken the journal for a quarter of a century, on Wednesday did a lightning piece of photographing. He took pictures of twenty of the British bowlers at the local bowling lawn. All of these negatives were delivered at 8 p.m. the same evening at the banquet, as highly finished photographs.

Our visitors from "across the briny" were astounded at this Canadian piece of hustling.

Tried to "Rough House" a Restaurant.

Restaurant keepers seem to have their troubles as well as big profits. Yesterday at noon three young men, who had dallied with the intoxicating tumblers, not wisely but too well, entered a local restaurant. They raised — and spoilt the pleasures of all those present. Their talk was emphasized by language that would offset the whole decalogue. One of the trio seemed anxious to pick a quarrel with the waiter. If the waiter had risen, in his might, and had the necessary muscle, he would have conferred a favor on the community by marking up the would-be fighter in a way that would remain with him.

Peterborough Ships Goods to New York.

As an instance of "Progressive Peterboro," it might be noted that yesterday Mr. Fred Walker, manager of the grocery store at 420 George street, shipped a large consignment of imported English condiments and other high grade goods to Mr. Frederick Cass, of the handsome apartment building, the "Rockingham" corner of Broadway and 65th street, New York City. Mr. Cass has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. James Kendry, city. Whilst here he procured some of the goods referred to, and saying, "I cannot get those goods in New York," ordered the shipment sent direct. This speaks well for Peterboro, that she can supply New York with goods that city has not got, and for the enterprise of Mr. Walker.

Questionable Verdict of the Jury.

At the inquest in Havelock town hall on Monday afternoon before Coroner Kindred, into the death of Mr. Allan Elmhurst, whose death took place last week the jury brought in the following verdict:—"That the deceased, Allan Elmhurst came to his death in an unknown manner, but presumably from a kick from a horse, or a severe fall on some object." Despatches from Havelock say that Mr. Elmhurst was killed by the kick of a horse. County Crown Attorney, R. E. Wood, attended the inquest, in the interests of the Ontario Government. The post mortem showed that Elmhurst died directly from bruisings of the windpipe.

YOU CAN BUY INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS Now at 15 Cents

Every dollar invested in this stock now should pay as much as $10 invested in any other manufacturing enterprise. The demand for asbestos is greater than the supply. Our new mill, just completed, according to our mill contractor, will soon be treating 200 tons of asbestos rock per day. The mines of Quebec and the mines of Cooper, Wyoming, which we control, are the two great sources of the supply. The product we turn out can sell for twenty times what it costs to produce. Can you find a better paying enterprise? We want you to join us and share in the profits. The limited amount of stock to be sold at 15c per share is Treasury stock, fully paid and non-assessable

VOL. XXXIII NO. 191 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO FRIDAY AUGUST 26 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

MADE FORTUNES OUT IN CANADA

THREE SONS OF COUNT ALVERSLEBEN HAVE DONE WELL IN BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Kaiser is Given Credit—He Advised Them Not to Live Beyond Their Means and to Work Hard.

Berlin, Aug. 25.—A frank, fatherly talk by Emperor William to the family of the late Countess Alversleben, given nearly ten years ago, but published in the Berlin press today for the first time, is believed to be responsible for the business success that has attended the three sons of the countess.

The kaiser's speech was delivered December 19, 1900, at a private gathering of Count Alversleben's family at Neu Gatterleben, the occasion being the unveiling of a monument to the countess. After the unveiling the kaiser gathered the three sons of the countess about him, and addressed them as follows: "Dear boys. I want to give you a straight talk. I want you to revere the memory of your mother, for she was an angel. You are descended from an ancient and great family, which has given Germany many distinguished men. But I know that all your family have a wicked vein in them.

"Remember that your father has met with misfortunes, and that your circumstances are not such that you will be able to take life easy. You must make your own way in the world, and must give your fellow nobles proof that it is possible to be noblemen in poverty. Don't live beyond your means. Give me your hand on it."

The three counts thus admonished, went to Canada determined to show the emperor that his words were appreciated. They now form the big business firm of "Alvon Von Alversleben, Limited," of Vancouver and Victoria, B.C.

ZAM-BUK CURES SUNBURN.

Neglect of a sunburn on face, arm or neck often leads to the after growth of skin which is freckled or coarse; and this is particularly distressing to ladies. Timely application of Zam-Buk will prevent this. Zam-Buk is a herbal balm, which soothes and cools the burned skin, and assists nature to replace the damaged tissue with soft, velvety skin.

Zam-Buk is also good for stings, scratches, heat sores, blisters on the hands or feet, and all skin injuries. Applied to these it quickly stops the smarting, and ensures quick healing. As it is free from animal fat and mineral coloring matter, it is particularly suited to the delicate skin of babies, suffering from heat rashes, chafed places, etc. Sold everywhere by druggists and store-keepers. Beware of harmful imitations, and see the name "Zam-Buk" on the box before buying.

Fine County Maps.

The Times Job Department has just issued a very handsome wall map of the county of Victoria. The map will be ready for delivery in the course of a couple or three weeks. A map of the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham, is also under way, and will be ready for delivery in October. Both maps are lithographed in four colors and contain everything usually given in a map of this kind.

THE TRIP OF THE SEASON.

The steamer "Otonabee" will leave Wells street wharf at 8 a.m. on Saturday, August 27th, for Lindsay, arriving there in ample time to connect with the afternoon train for Peterborough. Meals served on board. Return tickets, including railroad, $2.25. This will probably be the last trip of the season to Lindsay.

ADVERTISED IN THE TIMES.

MRS. POTTER HONORED.

Popular Pastor's Wife Presented With Fruit Set.

At the close of the prayer meeting of St. Andrew's church on Wednesday evening a pleasant surprise was given Mrs. (Rev.) J. G. Potter when the Daughters of Erin, presented her with a handsome combination silver fruit set. The affair took place at the residence of Mrs. Thomas Richardson, Cedar street, the presentation being made by Mrs. Hugh Waddell, the president of the society.

Mrs. Waddell said a few words, in which she touchingly referred to the deep sorrow felt by the class in the departure of Rev. and Mrs. Potter from the city.

Mrs. Potter replied in suitable terms, expressing her heartfelt thanks for the honor given her.

MACKENZIE AND MANN GET AN IRON FIELD.

Outbid United States Steel Trust for Property on the Mattagami.

Cobalt, Aug. 24.—Mackenzie and Mann have closed an option for the purchase of over 4,000 acres of iron land at Grand Rapids, on Mattagami. Both the owners of the Canadian Northern and the United States Steel Corporation were interested in the new field on the coastal plain of Hudson Bay. Representatives of the big steel corporation were not prepared to hazard as much on the proposition as Mackenzie & Mann, and consequently the latter got the option.

The purchase includes practically all the area of ore yet exposed on the Grand Rapids field. There are three syndicates, Shields of Sudbury, Flaherty, Powell, and Laduke of Coabit and Haileybury, and another. In all 110 claims of 40 acres each are under option. By if the purchasers are bound to put at least five diamond drills at work at once, and in the event of its provir up the final sum paid will be high.

As the ore is unquestionably of the best grade in Canada today, and the option covers all of it exposed so far, it is of the utmost importance.

END OF KOREA AS A NATIONAL UNIT

CONVENTION FOR ITS ANNEXATION BY JAPAN HAS ALREADY BEEN SIGNED.

Gobbled Up By the Japs—Country for Whose Independence Japan Fought is Being Taken Over.

Tokio, Aug. 25.—The text of the convention under which Korea, the "Hermit Kingdom," is annexed to Japan, was communicated at eleven o'clock yesterday morning to the representatives of the powers. The document, which according to now established facts, was signed Aug. 22, will be effective when officially promulgated. This will occur, according to some of the ministers on August 29 or 30, when the independent existence of the little kingdom, the struggle for whose control started the Russo-Japanese war, will cease.

Baron Hirate, minister of the interior, summoned the proprietors of all the Japanese newspapers to his cabinet today, and requested them to publish the unauthorized information regarding the situation in Korea. He pointed out that such publication under existing conditions would only make the task of the Japanese Government in carrying out the annexation more difficult. The newspapers agreed to his wishes, and nothing regarding the annexation, beyond official statements, will therefore be published here before the publication of the convention.

The Japanese Government, which has a large number of representatives already in Korea, will be prepared to take over the machinery of administration in Korea without any delay. Considerable uneasiness is reported at Seoul owing to the circulation of threats of disorder following the annexation. These emanate, according to the view taken here, from malcontents, who have not received the consideration they think their due in the provision made by the convention for the future of the Korean royal family, nobles and officials.

MAKE THE GROCER MAN EAT HIS OWN TRUCK.

Invited Him to Dinner, and Fed Him on Stale Eggs and Corn He Had Sold.

Granite City, Ill., Aug. 25.—When her grocer repeated the offence of delivering to her "tanned" and antiquated eggs, Mrs. Allon Kilfosky made him sit down and dine with her. Mrs. Kilfosky is one of several women who preside over boarding houses in "Hungry Hollow." All have complained lately at the quality of the foodstuffs delivered to them, and when Mrs. Kilofsky overheard her grocer gleefully telling that he foisted off his ancient stuff on the "Hungry Hollow" folks, she sought vengeance.

She apprised no one of her intention, but waited until her grocery man came blithely up the steps of the house. She invited him in with a flourish of arms and a benign smile. All unsuspecting the man entered the house and was invited to "sit down and eat."

He demurred at first, but Mrs. Kilfosky fixed him with a steely eye, and, after threatening to administer a drubbing if he protested, she subdued him. Steak, scrambled eggs and "roasting ears" composed the menu. The steak was bravely attacked, but his frantic efforts to cut it were without avail. He managed to eat a portion after a time, and was instructed to attack the eggs. He did. He took one mouthful and balked, announcing that he would rather stand a trouncing than proceed.

The corn, Mrs. Kilfosky asserts, was of a ripe old age, and was impossible of mastication except by good, strong teeth and jaws. After extracting a promise that in the future she will receive only fresh groceries and eggs, Mrs. Kilfosky permitted the tortured man to depart without finishing the impecunious meal.

TRIED TO BURN DOWN BUSINESS SECTION OF TOWN OF LINDSAY

Two Bad Incendiary Fires in Eastern Part of Business Section---Two Small Fires

The hands of an incidendiary were evidently quite busy last evening shortly after midnight, when four frame barns within a short distance of one another, on each side of Kent street, were from all appearances purposely set on fire. It was evident that the incendiary intended burning the entire eastern part of the business section of the town, for with the strong wind blowing had the fires not been quickly got under control no person knows what the result might have been in the loss of life and property.

THE FIRST FIRE.

The first fire was noticed at 12.20 o'clock in the barn owned by Dr. Simpson at the rear of his residence. An alarm was quickly sent in and in a few minutes the firemen were on the scene and quickly had the fire under control, but not before the barn was almost completely destroyed, along with its contents, which included a valuable box of tools, the property of Mr. George Fowler. The fire started inside of the building, and in a few minutes the entire building was enveloped in flames.

SECOND FIRE.

While the firemen were busily engaged in putting out the Simpson fire, fire broke out in the barn owned by Mr. Thomas Simons, at the rear of Dr. Brown's and only a short distance from the first fire, and in less time than it takes to tell it the entire building was a mass of flames. The firemen returned to the hall and secured the hook and ladder wagon and more hose and upon their return had four streams of water upon the two fires. The firemen worked like Trojans, and deserve considerable praise for the able manner in which they quickly got both fires under control, and saved what might have been a disastrous fire to the town of Lindsay.

The latter barn owned by Mr. Simons, is a total loss, along with its contents, including a set of sleighs and a delivery wagon owned by Mr. J. C. Burke.

The strong wind that prevailed made it difficult for the firemen to get the fires under control. The sparks were carried several hundred yards, and many of the nearby buildings caught fire several times.

BUILDINGS IN DANGER.

It was thought at one time that the skating rink, Dr. Simpson's residence and McGahey's livery barn would be doomed as they were on fire several times. Sparks were also carried in all directions and were blown into the windows of several of the private houses.

ANOTHER FIRE.

The incendiary evidently visited the north side of Kent street, but without success. It was not discovered until this morning that Gunigal's barn on the west side of York street had been set on fire at the rear corner, but had failed to burn anything more than the grass, although the end of the building was scorched.

It is also reported that the barn owned by Mr. M. E. Tagney on Lindsay street, which is occupied by Mr. J. L. Primeau, was set on fire, but failed to burn.

TWO MEN NOTICED.

It is said that a couple of men were noticed coming out of the lane shortly after 12 o'clock.

It is estimated that the loss in each case is about $400, and partly covered by insurance.

The firemen worked until almost four o'clock before the fires were totally extinguished.

One of the largest crowds that was ever present at a midnight fire were out last evening, many of them being in their night robes.

May Isolate Whole City of Brantford

Toronto, Aug. 25—Dr. Bell, Provincial Medical Health Inspector, was in Brantford yesterday, investigating the smallpox outbreak in that city, and stirring up the local public to co-operate with the health authorities in stamping out the epidemic.

The Brantford Health Department is doing all that can be expected of it, but is having some difficulty in enforcing its vaccination regulations. About 2,000 persons have been vaccinated, and it is hoped that practically all of the children in the Telephone City will be attended to before the schools re-open.

"The outside public must be protected," said Dr. Bell to a reporter this morning, "and if the people of Brantford do not respond to the orders that their board has issued, the Provincial Board might see fit to take more severe measures."

"And what would those measures be?"

"We might, if the necessity should arise, even go so far as to isolate the whole city."

Reports of smallpox outbreaks in two remote parts of the Province were received at the Provincial Department yesterday.

SUFFICIENT IMMIGRANTS FROM GREAT BRITAIN FOR FOUR CITIES

The immigration into Western Canada during the last four months has been the largest in the history of the country.

From Great Britain	36,000
From the Continent of Europe	10,900
From the United States	46,500
Total	92,400

HEAVY FROM UNITED STATES.

The immigration from the United States has been especially heavy, and the sums of money brought by these American settlers is so large as to be almost incredible.

From the accurate information furnished to the commissioner of immigration by his officers in various parts of the West he estimates that $50,000,000 in cash has been brought into the Dominion by these American settlers in four months.

BROUGHT IMMENSE WEALTH.

In addition to the actual money which the new-comers have had with them, they have brought also immense wealth in the form of farm implements, household effects, horses and cattle.

Some of the American farmers have had capital to the amount of $50,000 or more. At an estimate of only $1,000 for each immigrant, which is believed to be below the real sum, the actual cash would be $46,500,000. The estimate of fifty millions made by Mr. Walker is believed to be conservative.

The Americans coming into Canada have almost without exception gone into farming districts and are now engaged in farming operations. Very few of them comparatively are in the towns and cities.

The total immigration into Canada for the last fiscal year ending March 31, 1910, was 206,794. Of this total 59,790 came from the British Isles, 45,206 from the continent of Europe, and 103,798 from the United States.

ENOUGH FOR FOUR CITIES.

Although the immigration from the United States has been exceptionally large during the past four months, there has been no diminution in the numbers arriving from Great Britain. As pointed out by Mr. Walker, in graphic manner, there were enough immigrants from Great Britain during the last four months to create four new cities, equal in size to Brandon, Saskatoon, Prince Albert and Medicine Hat.

OUTDOOR CANADA.

"OUTDOOR CANADA'S" name changed to THE ATHLETIC WORLD

The August number of "THE ATHLETIC WORLD," a new name for "OUTDOOR CANADA" Magazine has just been received at this office. Since this publication was taken over by W. J. Taylor, Limited Woodstock, Ont., each issue has shown a marked improvement over its predecessor. Its change of policy to that of a national athletic periodical is this month carried out both in name and nature. Besides the change of title the size has been increased and the contents augmented. Judging by the August number, full as it is of good, up-to-date reading pertaining to things athletic, a conspicuous place is assured "THE ATHLETIC WORLD" among the leading Canadian sentiment publications.

POLICE COURT CASES.

A Couple of Drunks Were Disposed of Yesterday.

A young Englishman who blew in from Beaufort, appeared before City Clerk Armstrong at the police court yesterday, and was allowed to go.

Walter Wright was charged with vagrancy. Chief Thompson asked for a remand. Wright will appear September 1st.

Don't waste your money buying plasters when you can get a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment for twenty-five cents. A piece of flannel dampened with this liniment is superior to any plaster for lame back, pains in the side and chest, and much cheaper. Sold by all dealers.

TORONTO YOUNG MAN DROWNED

Toronto, Aug. 24.—"I feel certain that my son, Alexander, has been drowned."

These words were sobbed by Mrs. Alexander Stewart. A pitiful scene it was indeed, as the grief-stricken mother sat huddled in a chair in the little parlor of her modest home at 626 Clinton street, vainly attempting to hide her sorrow as she spoke of the subject that was breaking her heart.

She was referring to the finding of a dead body in Sarnia Bay yesterday, which from letters and papers found in the clothes is believed to be Alexander Stewart, her 26-year-old son.

LETTER FROM GIRL.

"Yesterday, when I received the first word of the affair, I was a little hopeful that there might be a mistake. But today when I heard of the finding of a letter from a girl saying that she reproached him for not writing to her, I was sure that it was my son. He had received a letter like that about a month ago, and then a membership certificate of the Wellington Court I.O.F. was also found in the dead boy's clothes. Everything points to his death, and I think it must be all too true."

Mrs. Stewart said Alexander had left Streetsville to assume a position as spare fireman on the G.T.R. at Sarnia. He left for there a week ago last Sunday. He had expected to return home for a visit Sunday last but nothing had been heard of him.

Yesterday and today the family have telegraphed for particulars of the affair, but have had no reply. The statement that the body must have been in the water for a couple of weeks at first raised some hope that it was not Alexander, but the finding of the certificate and the letters has made the identification all most certain.

When found the back of his head was injured and the nose was smashed in, suggesting foul play. An inquest will be held.

ROOSEVELT STARTS ON HIS CAMPAIGN

GLAD THERE IS FIGHT ON AS HE LIKES TO BE IN THE FRAY.

Not Afraid of the Result—When He Returns From the West There Will Be Definite Lineup for New York State Convention.

Buffalo, N.Y., Aug. 25.—Col. Roosevelt was in fine humor today when the newspaper correspondents, who are with him on the trip, asked him how the New York situation was getting along.

"Oh, it's all right," he responded amiably, "there's a good fight on, and I like to fight. You know that."

When told that William Barnes, the Albany leader, was confident of beating him in the fight for temporary chairmanship of the state convention Col. Roosevelt beamed.

"Now Barnes was always quite frank in saying what he thought," was the ex-president's reply, "but when he speaks of fight I want to say that there will be plenty of it."

AT TOP OF HEAP.

Col. Roosevelt leaves New York State absolutely confident from all he says that he is going to emerge the top of the heap in the battle with the Barnes-Woodruff-Ward element. He is to get reports on the state division while on his way from Collector William Loeb and Lloyd Griscom, chairman of the New York Republican County Committee. By the time the ex-president gets back from the trip, which will be on September 12th, he expects that there will be a definite lineup of the delegates to the state convention and that the majority will be with him.

TRIP TO CHEYENNE.

Col. Roosevelt's special train will make no stops except for very brief periods during the trip from here to Cheyenne. The train is due at Cheyenne on Saturday morning at 10.25 o'clock, and from the time the colonel strikes town until he gets away on Sunday night it will be one round of fun. The cowboys, so the colonel has been informed, are going to "turn things loose for him."

"I expect to have the time of my life in Cheyenne," remarked the ex-president this morning, as the special whirled out of Buffalo.

"Can be depended upon," is an expression we all like to hear, and when it is used in connection with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy it means that it never fails to cure diarrhoea, dysentery or bowel complaints. It is pleasant to take and equally valuable for children and adults. Sold by all dealers.

FRANCE IS FALLING DOWN.

Paris is No Longer Dictator of Feminine Fashions.

Paris, Aug. 25.—Paris, long the arbiter of feminine fashions of the world, is losing its leadership according to a report here today by the French Chamber of Commerce in Milan. Insult is added to this injury in the French mind by the announcement that Berlin is gaining the glory that once belonged to France.

Unless French dressmakers beatir themselves, the report says, American women will patronize the German modistes.

OTONABEE TOOK PASSENGERS.

Steamer Takes Moonlight for Steamer Lintonia.

On Wednesday evening on the arrival of the steamer Otonabee from Lindsay with the Havelock excursionists, she was commissioned to take the moonlight excursion booked for the steamer Lintonia, there being more than the latter could legally carry. The steamer returned at 10.30 p.m., after a delightful sail a few miles down the river.

Private Moir is Now in the Central Prison

Toronto, Aug. 25.—Where is Gunner Moir?

With the exception of the acting Provincial secretary, and a little circle of government officials, the present whereabouts of the notorious homicide is about as dark a mystery as before his capture. Judging from a message received this morning from Hamilton, however, and a series of events during the past week, the Star is of the opinion that the man is at present confined in the latter institution.

"When will Moir be removed to Kingston?" asked the Star of the warden of the Central Prison this morning.

"I don't care to discuss the matter," was the answer. "Too much has been published in the papers already about the unfortunate man."

Inspector Rogers of the Provincial Police Department was next consulted.

"The thing has passed out of our hands," said he. "See Dr. Bruce Smith, or Mr. Armstrong."

The former gentleman stated over the telephone, that it would be scarcely likely that Moir would be taken to the penitentiary which is under control of the minister of justice. He r reporter to consult the Government fountainhead, the acting Provincial secretary.

"Is the report correct that Moir has been removed from the Hamilton Asylum?" was asked of Hon. Col. Matheson, at noon.

"I think I had better not make any statement at present," said he. "The less that is said publicly about the matter at the present stage the better. I will say, though, that the man is being well taken care of, and that we hope to land Taggart very soon."

This afternoon it was said that Moir will be kept at the Central, and that in order to legally do this the Government will create a branch asylum there for the criminal insane, such as exists at Kingston penitentiary.

THE APPALLING LOSS OF LIFE

SAVE THE LIVES IS THE ORDER GIVEN TO THE FIRE FIGHTERS IN WESTERN STATES.

Known Dead Total 143—And Many More Charred Bodies May Yet Be Found—The Latest Details of the Conflagration.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 25.— One hundred and six men, living in the St. Joe Valley, are missing. Twenty-two bodies, supposed to be of settlers, were found yesterday. Several days ago twenty bodies were discovered, scattered over an area of over a mile, and it was assumed that they were forest employes. Supervisor Weigl included them in his list of dead employes. Last night, however, he declared they were not rangers.

Add to the number of dead rangers 74, the 44 bodies found near Avery, the ten Japanese who perished near Avery, and the various known dead in Washington, Idaho, and Montana, and the total is 142. This is without taking into account the 185 rangers imprisoned on the head waters of the St. Joe.

The appalling loss of life among the forest employes has taken the heart out of the surviving foresters so that posse[illegible] men are still risk life to save timber. The little fires are being extinguished, but the great fires, to fight which might result in more loss of life, will be allowed to burn themselves out or until the rains has extinguished them.

In the Coeur d'Alene mining country, the fires have exhausted their fuel, as also they have done in the Pend d'Reille valley. In the Clear water country, and the thickest timber of the Coeur d'Alene national forest, however, the flames are hungry and active as ever.

No lumberman or forester will give an estimate of the timber losses. Even after the fires are out, it will be difficult to reckon the cost. It is believed, however, that the present fires are the most expensive that the United States has ever known. A prominent railroad builder estimates the loss of the Chicago, Milwaukee and Puget Sound Railroad at $2,500,000.

The Spokane Chamber of Commerce has begun the raising of a large relief fund.

There are 160 men surrounded in the mountains between Lolo Pass and St. Mary's, and Major Fenn has sent three guides to pilot them out.

Conditions in the Clearwater Reserve are hopeless and Major Fenn has received instructions from the forestry headquarters at Missoula to recall all the fire fighters from the interior of the stricken region and set them to work on the outskirts of the fire zone. The message said, "Save the lives of the men, and let the timber go."

Speculation on World's Series

New York, Aug. 25.—Not in several seasons has a series of games between the New York and Chicago National League teams aroused less interest than the one which begins today in the western city. This is another way of saying that New York fans have put their pent-up hopes in camphor until next season.

"Mugsy" McGraw held out encouragement as long as he could, and even he contends that the Giants still have a chance. But the fans know different, and their only speculation now is as to the winner of the world's series between the Chicago Cubs and the Philadelphia Athletics.

Despite McGraw's tip that Chicago will win the series with ease, there is a lot of tentative betting in New York on Mack's team. Should Chicago be the favorite when the series opens, there will be a flood of New York money on the short end.

OIL IS KING.

California, the Golden State, has become a strong competitor with the Eastern States in production of petroleum. The California oil is a strong competitor by reason of the heavy freight rates paid on refined oil shipped from the east and on account of the growing demand for crude oil for fuel on steamships and railway engines. The Atlanta Oil Co., has secured proven property adjacent to other properties daily producing thousands of barrels. The company has 160 acres of oil land on Sulphur Mountain, within ten miles of Santa Paula, Ventura Co.

TWENTY-TWO DEAD FOUND IN CREEK

BODIES OF A SCORE OF FIRE-FIGHTERS RECOVERED NEAR AVERY, IDAHO.

Only Four are Identified—Remains are Buried Quickly for Fear Epidemic Might Break Out.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 25.—A Chicago, Milwaukee and Puget Sound freight train that arrived Avery, Idaho, last night, brought news that twenty-two bodies were found yesterday in Bitter Root Creek, south of Avery. Thirty bodies were buried at Avery yesterday.

Sixteen of the bodies found yesterday were lying close together. The other six were in the creek with their hands covering their faces. A detachment of negro soldiers of the 25th Infantry, found the bodies and conveyed them to Avery.

Only four of the fifty-two persons killed near Avery have been identified and these four were settlers. All bodies are buried as soon as they are brought in, for fear of infection. While fire fighters are referred to as rangers, most of them are hired from employment agencies, and are not regularly connected with the forestry service.

MANY KILLED IN A TRAIN WRECK

A BAD WRECK ON TRAIN RUNNING OUT OF CHICAGO YESTERDAY.

Train No. 4 Ran Into No. 14 When Latter Was Stopped for Repairs—Awful Scenes at Wreck—Train Crews Said to be Retained Strike Breakers.

Durand, Mich., Aug. 25.—Eight terribly scalded and mangled lifeless bodies, four others missing, three persons probably fatally injured, and five seriously injured, is the result of a frightful wreck on the Grand Trunk at Duffield, near here, early today.

The Montreal express from Chicago, consisting of nine coaches, stopped at Duffield, four miles east of Durand to make some repairs, when train No. 4, running 35 minutes late, crashed into the rear end, splitting the Pullman in two, and hurling the passengers in every direction.

IDENTIFICATION IMPOSSIBLE.

The wreckage caught fire immediately, and the cries of the dying and injured rose above the blazing ruins. When some of the bodies of the dead were taken from the wreck early this morning, they were so frightfully burned and mangled that identification was impossible.

Positive statements of the rescuers on the scene in the first hours following the wreck, were that 19 were killed. They still insist that there are other dead besides the eight bodies now recovered, and even railroaders at the scene think the list will total the first estimate.

The confusion has been so great at this little junction that the Grand Trunk has not yet made any official statement.

Engineer George Mitchell was under his engine when the crash came, and was seriously injured. His fireman, George Nelson, was brought here this morning, badly scalded.

Brakeman G. N. Graham of Detroit, was sent to the rear of No. 14 to post danger signals. He declared he stuck his signals as ordered but will not commit himself as to the rear lights of the train. He was brought here pending investigation of the wreck.

TORPEDO WENT OFF.

Engineer Charles Spencer of passenger No. 4, was running fast to make up a few lost minutes, and declares that he put on brakes and reversed as soon as he heard the torpedoes placed on the tracks to warn him, but it was too late. He claims No. 14 had no tail lights. His fireman is missing and is thought to be dead.

No. 4 plowed through the rear Pullman like a stick through sand. The passengers had no chance for their lives. It is declared here that both crews, with the exception of the engine crews, were strike breakers, held over by the Grand Trunk.

A SCIENCE OF PRICES.

A certain chart in the special report on prices issued by the Department of Labor must suggest to one who considers it, in the first place, the immensity of the volume of ordered knowledge on the subject possessed by those who specialize in this matter, and in the second place, the wonderful closeness with which the average of prices in one country follows a similar line in other countries. This chart shows by distinctive lines the course of prices in Canada, in Britain, and in the United States, for the decade ending 1908. The basis for each country is necessarily different, each investigation having been made independent of the other. Yet the lines follow a course a little apart but substantially the same, like people walking in the same street. The United States prices show the greatest variation, being higher in boom times and lower in hard times, than those of either Britain or Canada. British prices are almost always lower than those of Canada, the only case of increase showing a rather more rapid recovery from the depression of 1905-7.

With the information at hand that this report indicates, and with that information charted and tabulated, it ought to be possible for the coming Newton or Darwin of prices to give us a science of the whole matter which shall enable even common people to understand the meaning of these movements and shall warn them to govern themselves accordingly. At present, we have trades or lines of business in greatly different stages of development. One business uses machinery and methods of the very highest efficiency while another business lounges along using hand labor mainly, yet both, on the whole are about equally rewarded. If prices were really understood those who have cheapened their product by calling to their aid the greatest inventive genius would decline to pay old prices to others who have manifested so little pride in their business and so little regard for the common interest as to be content to merely follow the methods of centuries gone by. Prices measure the rewards of labor, and should be regulated, at least in part, by public opinion, enlightened by facts.

A RARE CHANCE.

Remember That Asbestos is Daily Increasing in Use in Electrical Work.

Any intelligent man of business, or busy manufacturer knows that asbestos is, of all mineral substances, greatly in demand. Asbestos is essential to makers of electrical apparatus of all kinds, and is used freely in the manufacture of paints and many other commodities. The Province of Quebec has in the past supplied the great majority of the asbestos used throughout the world. Now however, rich asbestos lands have been discovered in the State of Wyoming. This mineral as found there is of a better grade than most of the Quebec product. Fortunately also the Wyoming asbestos lands are within easy access of cheap transportation. The Rochester and Wyoming Asbestos Co., whose advertisement appears in this issue, have secured a rich asbestos property in Wyoming, and are as noticed in the adv. offering a limited number of shares at $1 per share. The proposition is well worth investigation.

"Can be depended upon," is an expression we all like to hear, and when it is used in connection with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy it means that it never fails to cure diarrhoea, dysentery or bowel complaints. Miss Lena Drake has returned home after spending a pleasant vacation with friends at Muskoka.

Mr. C. H. Clementi of The Times' staff was in Lindsay yesterday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. (Rev.) H. J. Keith and family have returned from a months' sojourn at Camp Comfort, Rideau Lake.

Mrs. Burnham and her charming little daughter, Miss Betty, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Kendry, Mrs. Burnham's parents.

City Clerk Armstrong and family, have returned from Beckhorn; where they spent two weeks very pleasantly. Our genial city clerk doubtless has a few good fish stories on hand.

The many friends of Mr. W. E. Wasson, will deeply sympathize with him in the serious illness of Mrs. Wasson, whose condition causes the gravest anxiety.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Cressman, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Robertson, leave this morning for Fenelon Falls, where they will enjoy a day's fishing.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

A general exodus from Stony Lake and other summer resorts will begin next week.

The Collegiate Institute and Public schools will open on Tuesday, Sept. 6th.

A modern steam heating plant is to be installed in The Times building during the next few weeks.

The Times is adding another up-to-date typesetting machine, preliminary to improving The Times.

The heat yesterday sent those who owned autos to the country to get away from the humid air of the city.

The steamer Otonabee will leave tomorrow morning for Lindsay, on her way to Orillia and other points on Lake Simcoe.

A collision between an auto and a buggy occurred in the south end a day or two ago. The buggy was badly smashed and the shield of the auto broken. Fortunately no one was injured.

Omemee Range.

Lindsay Warder.—Major G. W. Bennett and Lieut. Cameron, of the 57th Regiment, Peterboro, were in Omemee Monday afternoon looking over the ranges of the Omemee rifle club. This was done with a view of ascertaining whether arrangements could be made for the use of a detachment of the local corps for rifle practice on Labor Day.

Machine Phones in Lindsay.

The Lindsay Post says that Mr. F. D. Mackay, manager of the Machine Telephone Company, was in that town the other day and stated that the new telephone service would be in operation not later than October. Peterboro has had a dual-telephone system for some years, and it is not a success. The Bell Company given the people what they want and a dual service is unsatisfactory and little short of a nuisance.

No Fault of the Otonabee.

Mr. Pinchin, general manager of the Otonabee Navigation Company, informed The Times yesterday, that the company's office was rung up yesterday a number of times by people who wanted to know if the drowning accident was caused by the steamer, and that a report to this effect had become general. There is no foundation for this story. The steamer Otonabee had no connection whatever with the accident. The wash from the steamer was not the cause of the raft upsetting, as those on board can testify.

HAVE YOU WRITTEN TO MOTHER?

Have you written home to mother?
This only, I ask you, worthy lad,
Whose smile no care can smother,
Though busy life throbs around about.
Have you written home to mother?
You are forgetting, aren't you quite;

Flash past the weeks went flying.
Only a little blotted sheet,
Unanswered still is lying.
Don't you remember how she stood
With wistful glance at parting?

Don't you remember how the tears were in her eyes?
Have you forgotten how her arms stole round to caress you?
Have you forgotten those low words,
Good-bye my son, God bless you?
Oh! Do not wrong her patient love.
Save God there is no other
So faithful through all mists of sin
Fear not to write to mother.

Tell her how hard it is to walk
As Walked the Master lowly.
Tell her how hard it is to keep
A man's life pure and holy.
Tell her to keep the lamp of prayer
A light, a beacon burning,
Whose beams shall reach you far away
Shall lure your soul returning.

Tell her you love her dearly still,
For fear some sad tomorrow,
Shall bear away the listening soul
And leave you lost in sorrow
And then through the falling tears
And sighs you may not smother
You will remember when too late.
You will not write to mother.

YOU CAN BUY INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS Now at 15 Cents

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

VOL. XXXIII NO. 192 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO SATURDAY AUGUST 27 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

CANADIAN SHIP WAS SET ON FIRE

NEW BRUNSWICK SCHOONER IS FOUND IN SINKING STATE BY GERMAN LINER.

Whole Crew Was Rescued—Vessel Burned Because She Would Be a Menace to Navigation as a Derelict.

Bremen, Aug. 26.—A despatch from Fayal, Azores Islands, to the North German Lloyd Company, reports that the North German Lloyd steam er Kaiserin Luise encountered the ship Harvest Queen of Windsor, N. S., which sailed from Halhousie, N. B., Aug. 10, for Ayres, Aug. 25, in a sinking condition, the ship being in longitude 40.51 west, and in latitude 44.24 north.

WESTERN CROPS GOOD.

Mr. R. R. Hall, After Two Months Out West Gives His Opinion.

Mr. R. R. Hall, ex-M.P., and general hustler after the interests of this county, has returned after a sixty days' tour of the North-west. Mr. Hall left Peterborough on June 23rd. Telling of his trip out West, Mr. Hall says, in part. "During the latter end of June and July, the whole of the North West Provinces, but more particularly southern Alberta and Southern Manitoba suffered very severely from prolonged drought and hot winds, with the result that the crop, in some places, was practically a failure." Still, even under these adverse circumstances, the crops will yield a sixty per cent. outcome. It was obvious to him, when looking towards the probable results of the crops, that said result would greatly depend upon the work and intelligence of the individual farmers and ranchmen. The man who sowed on stubble this year is reaping stubble; on the other hand, the man who sowed on well cultivated soil and fairly deep is reaping a good crop.

Y.P.S. of St. Andrew's Entertained.

The members of the Young People's Society of St. Andrew's church were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. A. Petterson at their camp at Crawford's Grove. A pleasant hour was enjoyed by all present. The launch "Awawe gang," conveyed the party in quick time down the river. The evening was spent in games and songs and choruses around the camp fire.

Temporary Stoppage of Dredging.

It is rumored that some of the dredging work here will, pro tem. discontinued, owing to the Dominion Government's appropriation for that purpose being exhausted. Whilst the dredging may be stopped for a time, there is every hope that the government will "dig up" as soon as the necessary legislative wheels can be set revolving.

Tea for Mrs. H. F. McWilliams.

As a slight idea of the popularity of Mrs. Roland McWilliams, who with her husband, Peterborough's ex mayor, well-known barrister and all round athlete, is leaving to live in Winnipeg, Man., it might be noted that the North End Reading Circle, held a tea at Mrs. Boucher's, in honor of the lady referred to. Mrs. McWilliams has been a most valuable and popular member for nine years, and they will miss her with deep regret. They presented her with a handsome silver entree dish.

Local S.A. Band at Kingston.

A Kingston despatch says that the Peterborough Salvation Army Band of thirty-five players are coming with the "United Sunday Schools" excursion to the Thousand Islands Saturday, August 27. When they return to Kingston at 5 p.m., the local bandsmen and officers will entertain them at the Citadel, with an informal banquet. Early in the evening after the "feed," the combined bands will render a musical treat in two or three different places in the city. Ensign and Mrs. Merritt, the officers in charge of Peterborough Corps, will be with them.

FISH SLIDE AT LINDSAY DAM.

Port Perry People Anxious to See One Installed.

Port Perry Star: The government fishing patrol boat, under Captain W. R. Carson, called here for a brief time last Thursday. Mr. W. H. Harris, clerk of the town, met the captain and impressed him with the necessity of having a fish slide put in at the new dam at Lindsay. The captain said that he represented a government that "gets busy and does things" and that the matter will receive prompt attention. It is difficult to understand how Government officials can talk conservation so boldly and waste fish in the way they are wasted, by being shut out of the best feeding grounds to be found, some say, in America.

MR. McCARTHY'S DEATH.

Well-Known Lake Street Resident Pays the Debt of Nature.

The many friends of Mr. Jeremiah McCarthy, 295 Lake street, were yesterday shocked when they learned that this well-known local citizen had passed away at his residence early in the morning. The late Mr. McCarthy was born in Cork County, Ireland, and came to this country when only twelve years of age, first settling near Cobourg. He came to Peterborough forty-two years ago and has resided here since. Four boys and four girls are left to mourn his loss. They are: Thomas, Portage la Prairie; John, city; residing at 193 Reid street; Joseph and Frank at home; Mrs. Brown, city; Mrs. Galvin, Port Arthur; Mrs. Florence McAuliffe, Passine, N.J., and Mrs. Crawford, of Toronto. Mr. McCarthy had been in declining health for some time and death was due to a general break-down of his constitution.

In religion he was a Roman Catholic and in politics a Liberal.

The funeral will be held at three o'clock on Sunday afternoon from the residence to the Church of the Sacred Heart and from there to St. Peter's cemetery.

ROOSEVELT FOR THE PRESIDENCY

EVERYWHERE ON WESTERN TRIP HE CRY FOR ROOSEVELT FOR 1912.

What About Third Term—Colonel is Silent on Question But Talks Like Man Who Means to Be Deep in the Fight.

Chicago, Aug. 26.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt is being whisked over the Iowa prairies today in his special train after his well- crowded day in the trip from Utica to Chicago. The colonel, after getting back to the train at Chicago last night, remarked that it was one of the most "thoroughly delightful days he had ever experienced." He was immensely pleased with the great ovation he got all along the road from Buffalo. The size of the crowds surprised him.

In truth, those who are experienced in politics say that the trip across the northern end of New York State and Ohio gave full evidence that Roosevelt's popularity is not diminished. They look to a Roosevelt boom out West after the trip to Cheyenne that will find an echo in Ohio and the surrounding states.

THE NEXT PRESIDENT.

That Roosevelt will be able to get the nomination for the presidency in 1912 if he wants it is believed by the Roosevelt admirers who boarded his train at various points in the run to Chicago. Everywhere there were cries of "The next president." "We want Teddy in 1912."

An effort to get some expression from the former president as to the third term proposition today was futile. He would not answer any question as to whether he would be a prospective candidate. All inquiries were turned aside with a wave of the hand.

The Central Canada Fair at Ottawa, is furnishing this year, cold storage for cheese. A good idea! Still, Peterborough County cheeses are in such demand and so eagerly sought for, that cold storage is hardly needed as our local made cheese quickly passes to the "department of the interior."

TWO COWS DEAD FROM THE RABIES

And Many Others are Thought to Have the Disease Also—A Bad Outbreak.

London, Aug. 26.—Two cows are dead, and many others affected, in the worst outbreak of rabies for many months, on the farm of E. S. McIntyre, a well-known stock raiser of Lobo township. The cattle died in horrible agony after a brief illness, and Dominion Government Officer Mr. J. H. Tennent ordered them to be cremated, and the other cattle isolated.

The McIntyre farm is a mile from that of D. Campbell, at whose place a horse died of rabies in March last, and eight people were hurried to the Pasteur Institute for treatment. McIntyre's cows are supposed to have developed disease from them in some way.

LESS CATTLE ARE BEING SHIPPED

AND STEADY DECREASE RESULT IN CONSIDERABLE LOSS TO OCEAN COMPANIES.

The Revenue Much Less—Shipments Show Steady Falling Off, and U. S. Ports are Getting the Trade.

Montreal, Aug. 26.—The steady increase in the cattle shipments from Montreal is sure to result in a considerable loss of revenue to several of the ocean steamship lines which appeal especially for this part of the port's business. Not only has this season seen a falling off in the number of animals exported, but the revenue for the business has not been at all in proportion to that of other years, and all the time the cost of sending the cattle across the Atlantic goes steadily up.

This year the opening month of the shipping season saw only 6,966 cattle and 27 horses sent out of Canadian Atlantic ports, while during the year just closed the shipments for May, the corresponding month numbered 14,173 cattle and 22 horses. Similarly in June of the present year the exports reached only 8,067 cattle as against 10,268 for June of last year. The month of July shows another big slump, when from 14,152 cattle sent out last year the figures receded to 12,731 this season. Although figures for the current month are not available it is stated that the decrease is going on unabated.

CUTTING RATES.

The figure which the steamship lines can get for the carriage of stock this year is also away below the ordinary rate. This season the ruling price is from twenty to thirty shillings. In order that their ships may get a little of what business is offering the lines running out of Boston and Philadelphia are offering to carry stock as low as 15 shillings a head.

The reason for the comparative dearth of export cattle are said to be many. The chief of these is the state of the export markets, while it is stated that everywhere cattle is scarce. When the shortage of hay throughout Eastern Canada and the Northern States made itself felt last summer farmers at once began to do away with all additional stock in order that they might have sufficient fodder left to carry over the pick of their herds. This selling off of all extra cattle resulted in heavy shipments of Canadian stock going by way of American winter ports to Europe, and when the rush was over there was little but breeding cattle left in the Dominion.

With the cattle exporting business left in this situation the ship liners have seen fit to start an agitation for an increase of pay. That the time for such negotiations is not opportune is the opinion of those who watch closely the affairs of the shipping companies, but at the same time many of the ship owners will not be in the least surprised if the board of investigation find in favor of paying the ship liners of the port more money than they are at present receiving.

Canadian Club's Excursion.

The Peterborough branch of the Canadian Club, an aggregation of Canadian business and professional men, united in an ardent effort to encourage and foster loyalty to the Mother Country and help Canada advance rapidly towards its evidently predestined successful future, has decided to have an outing. Whilst the education of Canadian citizens in historical and patriotic subjects is most commendable, the club has concluded that a day's outing amid the inspiring scenery and invigorating ozone of Rice Lake would be an object lesson and "a joy forever" for its members. Consequently the Canadian Club will on Friday, September 2nd, hold their first annual excursion to Idyl Wyld per steamer Empress.

SOLD SWEETHEART FOR A KEG OF BEER

Judge Theodore Dismissed Assault Case Which One Lover Laid Against Another.

Niagara Falls, Aug. 26.—Joe Siebold and Lena Weber, fair and buxom lately entered this country from Germany, and more recently hailing from Newark, N.J., were engaged to be married, in fact the fair Lena followed her Joe here from Newark some days after his arrival. The pair finally found lodgings in the same house on Third street and Joe secured employment in a local brewery. Then Isadore Heinrich, also from the Faderland, entered the lives of the lovers, and finally it seemed to Joe that Lena's love was growing cold.

One day he did not go to work as usual, and Isadore was seen to enter the house, and Joe interrupted the interview. Alas, he found Lena in Isadore's embrace. There was a rumpus, and Joe was terribly beaten up. He swore out a complaint against Isadore, and the case was fought out before Police Judge Piper yesterday afternoon.

"But you stole his sweetheart!" asked the cadi.

"Why, no," said the man. "He sold her to me for a keg of beer."

That ended the case.

GOT A BILL-FISH.

Norwood Fisherman Secures One of Nature's Freaks.

Mr. W. R. Howson, of Norwood, with his sons, Dr. O. C. Howson, D.-D.S., Kalamazoo, Mich., and W. R. Howson, manager of the Bank of Montreal, Stirling has been fishing at Chisholm's Rapids. Among the trophies of the outing which the party secured was a "bill fish." This species of the finny tribe bears a strong resemblance to the sword fish and is remarkable for its long, sword like bill. The specimen which they secured had a bill nine inches long half the length of its body. Mr. Howson kept the fish alive by fastening a line to it, intending to bring it home in a pail of water, but no sooner had he placed it in the pail when the fish jumped six or eight feet in the air. He then decided to adopt the expedient of a wet sack, but the fish was dead when he arrived home.

CZAR OF RUSSIA PLACED UNDER ARREST BY GERMAN POLICEMAN

Berlin, Aug. 26.—The Czar of all the Russians has been arrested by a German policeman, according to a story printed here today by the Tageblatt. Nicholas, with a grand duke slipped across the frontier incognito, according to the story.

During their stay at Wolf's Garten they entered a park whose use is forbidden to the public. They were arrested by gendarmes. Taking their predicament as a joke, they went to the police station and were photographed before the blunder was discovered.

They were finally released with profound apologies presented by officials ranging in rank from the policeman to ministers and ambassadors. The latest photograph of the czar is in possession of the police and the error will not happen again.

WILL COURT ORDER THE RELEASE OF DR. CRIPPEN AND MISS LE NEVE

London, Aug. 26.—From Solicitor Arthur Newton, attorney for Dr. H. H. Crippen, who is now en route from Quebec to London to undergo trial for the murder of his wife, Belle Elmore, the first outline of the defence has been secured.

Emotional appeals to the jury, such as figure in American courts, Newton declared, will not be made. From his standpoint, the case appears substantially as follows:

Fragements of a human body were dug up in the cellar of the house of Dr. Crippen. The police say the bricks under which these fragements were found had recently been disturbed, but expert evidence will be forth coming that it is impossible for anyone to determine this point, assuming that the bricks had been untouched for as long as a month.

Dr. Hepher, government analyst, has stated that he has identified the remains as those of a woman, but Dr. Marshall, who conducted the post mortem, testified before the coroner that he could not swear as to the question of sex, and it is doubtful if Dr. Hepher's belief can be substantiated under cross-examination.

At any rate it seems certain that the prosecution will fail to make good its claim that the fragments were those of a woman who once underwent an operation, the overwhelming weight of medical evidence being that it is a sheer impossibility to find such traces in remains in the condition of those discovered in the Hilldrop Crescent residence.

PAWNING OF JEWELRY.

The police expect to make much of the fact that Crippen is known to have pawned jewelry belonging to his wife and her disappearance. Newton will show that for years she was constantly pawning and redeeming this jewelry.

ALLEGED FORGER ARRESTED IN TORONTO

SAID HE WAS GOING TO RICE LAKE.

Toronto, Aug. 26.—With the arrest of John Bagley, believed to be Charles V. Knightley, of 15 East Eleventh street, New York, the police think that last night they got one of the cleverest and smoothest forgers that has attempted to operate in Toronto for a long time.

In company with a woman and a three-year-old boy, Bagley was arrested on a Bathurst street car in Front street by Detective Tipton on a charge of forgery and of obtaining diamonds and jewelry under false pretences, to the value of $700 from the Ontario Diamond Company of 90 Yonge street, Mr. Wm. J. Jackson, manager, preferred the charges.

Bagley will also be charged with issuing a forged cheque for $2,000 upon the College street branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. A wire was also received that he is wanted in Boston on a charge of obtaining railway and steamship tickets and accommodation on a false cheque for $300, and while passing through Niagara Falls, Detective Wallace received from Chief Mains of the Frontier Police, a description of a man wanted in Peekskill, N.Y., which tallies with that of Bagley. This charge, too, is for issuing a forged cheque for $500.

It appears that Bagley came to the city Wednesday, and registered at a down-town hotel as J. W. Jones family and sister, of Janesville, Ark. He also covered his ground by engaging rooms at 169 College street, but at that address said he had gone to Rice Lake for a few days' holidays and would be back soon.

How Rumors Gain Quickly.

The Wednesday night fires in Lindsay, whilst it may be admitted, threatened the extinction of part of the town, were a seemingly sent dispensation of Providence to the reporters of that busy and a source of excitement to residents along the stump-lined Scugog river. It was funny to an outsider, who could not claim the privilege of living in Lindsay, to see the excitement raised by the fire reports. As an absolute matter of fact, at the corner of Kent and Williams street, the following conversation took place. "What do you think of that incendiary? He set fire to five different barns!" A few minutes later, a dishevelled citizen rushed up and yelled, "Say, who do you think the scoundrel was that set fire to six places in town?" After the clock had ticked off about ten minutes more, a Lindsay merchant, joining the crowd, circulated: "What are the police doing? Twelve fires deliberately lighted by incendiaries in one night. They must have wanted to burn the town down."

ANOTHER C.P.R. ENTERPRISE.

Automatic Electric Signal Installed in Ashburnham.

Last night for the first time the C.P.R., at Marria and Stark streets, had their recently installed electric automatic signals at work. The batteries are placed about 350 yards each side of the crossings. They are similar to regular telegraph batteries, and are placed in a steel pipe sunk in the ground.

The signal itself is placed about fifteen feet from the crossing on the road. At night it shows a red light. Between the lights, electric bells are placed, and when the train reaches the point where the batteries are installed the bell rings and continues ringing until after the train passes the battery on the other side. About the center of the signal frame is a sign on which the words "Railway Crossing" and "Danger" are placed in prominent letters. This is only another sample of the indefatigable enterprise of the C.P.R. This one local addition may be the means of saving scores of lives.

AN INSTRUMENT OF THE LORD

KAISER TELLS PRUSSIANS THEY SHOULD CULTIVATE ALL THE MILITARY VIRTUES.

An Instrument of the Lord—Emperor William Says That He Will Go His Way Regardless of the Opinion of the Hour.

Koenigsberg, West Prussia, Aug. 26.—Emperor William, who is making a tour of Eastern Germany in connection with his visit to Posen for the dedication of his new castle there, delivered a martial speech at the provincial banquet here last night in which he urged the necessity of co-operating with him in his work for the welfare and defence of the country. Taking as a text the role of Queen Louise of Prussia during the Napoleonic wars, he exolted her virtues and pointed out how the memory of her dead fired the courage of Prussian soldiers and saved the country.

QUEEN LOUISE'S EXAMPLE.

"What does the loft figure of Queen Louise teach us?" he asked.

In the course of his long speech the emperor alluded to Emperor William I. of Germany, in terms indicating the identity of his convictions with those of his grandfather. "My grandfather," he said, "again, by his own right placed the Prussian crown upon his head and gain proclaimed it to be bestowed upon him by God's grace alone and not by parliaments, assemblages of the people, or resolutions of the people, and that he saw in himself the chosen instrument of Heaven, and such he regarded his duty as regent and ruler."

CHIEF HOWARD PRAISED.

Syracuse, N.Y. Journal Has Commendatory Words for Local Fire Fighter.

Our readers are generally aware that Fire Chief Howard has been away at Syracuse, N.Y., attending the meeting there of the Fire Chiefs' convention. The Syracuse Journal has the following concerning our local doughty fire fighter:

"Canada is represented by over 30 delegates, chiefs and visiting officials. Among them is one of the most prominent young fire fighters of the Dominion, Chief W. A. Howard of Peterborough. Chief Howard is secretary of the Provincial Association of Fire Chiefs of Canada, and is one of the best known and most popular members of the association.

Besides its splendid fire department, Peterborough is noted for its famous hydraulic lift lock, the largest in the world. By this boats are raised in an instant instead of the slow process of letting the water run in.

Chief Howard is among the close personal friends of Chief Quigley and although he is identified with the success of the Canadian Association he takes an active interest in the International, and says that neither he nor any of the Canadian Association will ever break away from the International Association.

BORN ON OCEAN ON ROYAL GEORGE

English Child Christened Georgina Royal—Belongs to an English Parish.

Montreal, Aug. 26.—Georgina Royal Bonava, is the name of the little English lassie, who first saw the light on board the steamship Royal George, when the vessel was be three days out of Bristol Port. Her father and mother were steerage passengers bound for Canada when the baby was born. Every possible kindness was shown to the happy mother on the birth of her first born, and Dr. Douglas McCrae, the surgeon of the ship, was unremitting in his attentions.

The child was christened by a clergyman who was traveling in the steerage, the captain and one of the first cabin lady passengers acting as godparents.

The child according to the laws of the sea belongs to the parish of Stepney, London according to an old musty law of centuries ago. Its name will be registered by the Bishop of Stepney on the parish books.

HAVE DROPPED THE FOOT-NOTE

CONFERENCE SUBSTITUTES FOR IT GENERAL ADMONITION AS TO AMUSEMENTS.

A Bitter Discussion—Question Has Long Been a Bone of Contention in the Methodist Church of Canada.

Victoria, Aug. 26.—The famous footnote in the Discipline of the Methodist Church specifying certain amusements as contrary to the rules have been dropped. After a long and bitter discussion the General Conference voted by an overwhelming majority to eliminate the prohibitory note and to substitute for it a general admonition as to the need of guarding one's reputation as a consistent Christian. Thus terminates the long-discussed amusement question, which has been a bone of contention in the Methodist Church ever since the specific foot-note was inserted in the Discipline.

CHURCH SMALL-MINDED.

The Rev. G. W. Henderson, of Peterborough, Ont., supported Mr. Pitcher's amendment. He regretted the footnote had ever found its way into the discipline. The conference should vote that it be struck out, and trust to the good sense of the church members to properly interpret such actions. All that was in the footnote could be deducted from the rules themselves. The Church has been small- minded in trying to explain to its people what should be done in such matters. The footnote selected half a dozen practices for prohibition out of a vast number which might be named. There was a vast number of questionable practices, but why should the Church particularly specify dancing and theatre going. Many of the young people in the Church believed that to give up these things was to become too religious.

He had been told that there were multitudes of young people outside the doors of the Methodist Church on account of this note in discipline. He believed that the number was exaggerated, but at the same time, he though that the Church had a right to dictate individual actions in such matters. It was small business. Methodists were honest. Wasn't it possible to leave how they would amuse themselves and how they couldn't to their own conscience and judgement?

The amendment which finally prevailed, was then put before the conference by Prof. Andrews, who said that the amendment he had seconded was putting the matter on the basis on the individual conscience. His resolution would cover all amusements and practices which would be regarded as questionable.

The assertion that the Canadian newspapers daily contain advertisements that "No English need apply" for certain positions, which has created so much bad feeling in the mother country, although it had small foundation in actuality, has its counterpart in Australia, where it is stated seriously in some cases—probably about as frequently as the "no English need apply" in Canada—that immigrants will be more welcome if they are without families.

The Sydney Bulletin quotes an American account of the rush of emigrants to Canada, with which is coupled the statement that "the efforts of Australian officials to divert part of the stream to Australia, are failing because that country has served notice that it prefers emigrants without children." The Bulletin complains that these advertisements, which are now coming "home to roost" have done Australia a great amount of damage in the eyes of emigrants; and rightly so, for men and women without children are of small use in building up a new Commonwealth.

160 acres of absolutely proven oil land on Sulphur Mountain, adjoining and between the Liberty and Puritan Oil Companies' property. Two miles from Santa Paula, Ventura Co., Calif.

FACTS—The property is absolutely proven territory, lying as it does with the UNION OIL CO. producing on the south, the LIBERTY OIL CO. producing on the west, the BARD OIL CO. producing on the north, which only recently started its 20th rig, and Puritan Oil Co. to commence drilling on the east. Also it is located in a district of BIG PRODUCING COMPANIES, such as Olet Petroleum, Pyramid Oil Co., Canadian Queen, Capital Crude, Bard Oil and Asphalt Co., and others. THERE'S NO QUESTION ABOUT THE COMPANY GETTING OIL. It is possible that Liberty Oil Company's new well will be a gusher, which would make the ATLANTA OIL COMPANY stock worth par. Mr. Cornell, our Superintendent, knows every foot of the ground, and having his log-book of Liberty property, which adjoins our land, and as experienced OIL MAN and we consider ourselves fortunate in obtaining his services. VENTURA CO. OIL represents the cream of the industry. It is the home of HIGH GRAVITY OIL. VENTURA COUNTY OIL means $1.50 a barrel at well. Costs from 25 to 60 to produce it. THE GREAT UNION OIL CO. got its start in VENTURA CO. and has paid over twenty-two millions in dividends. These GREAT ASSETS had a small beginning in the WILD CAT SCHEME, within SIGHT OF ATLANTA OIL CO. property. The demand for refining oil FAR EXCEEDS THE SUPPLY. The 35 refineries in California are crying for the product. The eastern high gravity fields are diminishing. The OHIO FIELDS, FOR INSTANCE, have fallen off one-third. The demand is caused by the increased market for gasoline. Throughout the world the number of automobiles and internal combustion gasoline engines is forcing up the price of high gravity crude petroleums. Eastern operators are now looking to VENTURA COUNTY. Wells are held to be the most productive in the world. THIS IS THE FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT of ground floor offering of ATLANTA OIL CO., and may be oversubscribed at any time. One day's delay may mean you are too late. ACT NOW. WRITE FOR LATEST NEWS OF VENTURA OIL FIELDS.

The lumber for the derrick is on the ground and machinery has been ordered. Well No. 1 will be started as soon as drilling is installed. It should not take over six months to complete first well. Well No. 2, by conditions of lease, must be in operation by February 14th, 1911.

On an Ostrich Farm.

A writer in a recent number of the Boy's Own Paper gives an interesting account of a visit he paid to a South Australian ostrich farm at Port Augusta. The ostriches, he says, were chiefly hatched in incubators. The eggs take 45 to 50 days. The chicks are first fed on bread crumbs, bran, and water. On the fourth day a little enclosure is made round the incubator, and the young are allowed to take exercise. They are then fed on grain, green vegetables, and water. The dangerous age is from birth to three months, after which time they generally live. When the ostrich is seven months old the first crop of feathers is ripe. At 12 months he begins to develop black feathers, and his plumage reaches perfection at the end of three years. The hen ostrich lays from 12 to 20 eggs, but if these are removed she will continue laying like a domestic fowl. One bird has been known to produce 120 eggs annually. Both parents share the duties of incubation. The hen covers the nest during the day, and the cock throughout the night. The chicks are released by the old bird pressing upon the shell with its hard breast. Ostriches are not expensive to keep, because the greater part of the year they find sufficient food in the paddocks, and at other times they only require a little Indian corn or beans and some additional green food, such as lucerne or cabbage.

Russia's Greatest Dancer.

So, by general consent, Mlle. Anna Pavlova, whose wonderful dancing at the Palace Theatre in London has aroused such enthusiasm, has been termed. Mlle. Pavlova, in her infancy, decided to become a dancer. She was taken by her mother to see a ballet. The dancers fascinated her, and she exclaimed, enthusiastically, "Oh, mother, that's what I want to do. I want to be a dancer, too. I must dance. I'll never do anything else when I grow up." And before she was ten she entered the Imperial School of Dancing in St. Petersburg, and studied under M. Petitpas, who danced with Taglioni and the great dancers of the past. And when the curtain fell after her debut the old dancer, who is now ninety-two years of age, put his hand on her head and said, "My child, you are the only woman fit to dance in Taglioni's shoes," so impressed was he with her performance.

"Hard Wood."

Ever since he was a boy at school Field Marshal Sir Evelyn Wood, who recently celebrated his seventy-second birthday, has had a tough time, and often has been called "Hard Wood." At the age of ten he went to Marlborough Grammar School, and then to the college in the same town. There he received his baptism of "war." It was a riot among the boys, brought about by the prohibition of pyrotechnic displays on the Fifth of November. The culmination was a month of mutiny, during which the head master's desk was burned and great damage done to the premises. Young Wood was flogged, fined $10, and given 300 lines of Latin to learn by heart.

Gladstone Talks Dutch.

Lord Gladstone, the first Governor-General of South Africa, left London recently to take up his new duties. The large party which gave him a rousing send-off, included a number of Dutchmen. So much progress has Lord Gladstone made in learning Dutch that he was able to converse with them in their own tongue and to promise of his policy in South Africa that "Alles sal recht kommen" (the Dutch proverb, "All shall come right").

A Moist Show.

A catchy unrehearsed act took place at a London music hall the other night. When the fireproof curtain was about to be lowered, a stage hand new to the work pulled the wrong handle, with the result that the water sprinkler was set in motion. The stage was swamped, the orchestra receiving a shower bath, to the considerable amusement of the audience.

A Strange Sight.

During the thunderstorm of Thursday evening, residents of Water St., near Victoria Park, saw a slight sample of the uncontrollable forces following a brilliant flare of sheet lightning, which is described by those who saw the phenomenon fall from the heavens, two fiery fingers through a tree, just beside the pavement and across the street from Dr. Halliday's residence. Then, about half way up to the fountain, what looked like a piece of vividly burning paper fell to the ground. A few moments later what looked like a "burning ball" fell toward the ground bursting like an exploding rocket in the air, just before it touched the sod. This peculiar electrical display was witnessed by a number of absolutely reliable eye witnesses, who describe it as awe inspiring.

YOU CAN BUY
INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS
Now at 15 Cents

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

Don't hesitate to secure a portion of this stock. Your money will be returned if all statements cannot be verified. Another mill is under construction. Others will be built on various properties which the company owns and controls. This will increase the income and make your investment the best you can find.

It won't cost you anything to investigate. If you do not want to reserve your stock at once, fill out the free information blank and full particulars and literature will be sent to you.

Not a Speculative Enterprise

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS is an industrial enterprise of the most solid character. The monopoly of the supply and the constantly increasing demand make the market for the product absolutely certain. There is no substitute for asbestos. It is one of the prime necessities of modern industry and construction. And, as already stated, it sells for a price many times greater than the cost of production.

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS affords an unequalled opportunity for safety and permanent income out of all proportion to the amount of the investment.

Get the Facts about Asbestos

Complete information about the asbestos industry, its past and its wonderful future, will be furnished on request. It is the greatest investment opportunity of the present day, and it is one within the reach of every investor who reads this announcement.

Beeler, State Geologist of Wyoming for eight years, and now consulting engineer for the company will verify every statement that we are making. Experts from the Quebec mines, and from Germany, have examined the Casper properties of the company and found them in every way what we have represented. Our mill was designed by C. H. Parker, an expert asbestos mill man from Quebec, who is superintendent of the Johnson mines, Thedford, Que., one of the largest in the world. All operations have been conducted in accordance with the advice of the most capable engineers.

ADVOCATES FARM LIFE FOR NEGROES

ARKANSAS DARKY WORTH $4,000,000 ADVISES AGRICULTURING.

Style is Killing Race—Condemns Patent Leather Shoes, Fifth Avenue Clothes and High Living Because it Lowers Mortality.

New York, Aug. 27.—An old-fashioned Arkansas darky, one of those proud to call himself "nigger" and equally free-spoken with all his countrymen, stood up in a session of the negro business men's league and vowed that he wouldn't change places with Mr. Theodore Roosevelt, big American as he is."

"Come out with us, you niggers," he told the New York negroes, "where the air is free and God is good, and where if there is any gumption in you, you can have more in a year than you ever earned in all your life before. If you haven't a dollar I'll give you a farm and a chance. Come out to Arkansas.

"When I get up in the morning, and see my cows going to pasture, my calves in the lot, my sheep grazing in the meadow, and my seven boys going about to tend to the business, I say to myself, even if I am a nigger, I wouldn't change places with Mr. Theodore Roosevelt, man as he is."

"How much are you worth?" asked an inquisitive delegate.

Scott Rood shuffled and grinned. "Well," he said, "down in Arkansas they tax us 50 cents on every $1,000. I pay a few dollars less than $2,000 a year."

Still Coming to Canada.

Grand Trunk Pacific Train No. 1 had four extra cars out of Winnipeg August 16th, with 160 American farmers for different points along the line in the Prairie Provinces. These homeseekers laugh at the fake back to Uncle Sam's stories. Many of them have already visited the West and have located their homesteads or bought land! They argue that a new country which has never had a total crop failure in a quarter of a century is a good gamble.

The Welland Telegraph of August 23rd, has the following:

"The Telegraph here makes announcement of the fifth new industry secured for the town of Welland by B. J. McCormick, industrial commissioner in the last ten days. This time it is an amalgamation of a large American firm with Chemical Laboratories, Limited, of Toronto.

"This industry would appear to be one eminently desirable and as is usual when a good thing is on the move there was a hot scramble to get it. Welland's combination of rail and water shipping and cheap power turned the trick.

BOY BURGLARS WERE CAUGHT

Gang of Five Confesses to Twelve Robberies in Six Weeks.

Moline, Ill., Aug. 27.—A burgla committed in West Liberty, Iowa, Monday night has resulted in the downfall of a gang of five boys, who during six weeks' operations in Moline and vicinity confess to at least twelve burglaries.

The boys are James Morrow, William Warnock and Paul Warnock of Geneso, Ill.; Clifford Lodwick of St. Louis, Mo., and Fred Daniels. All but Morrow were arrested in West Liberty following the burglary committed there, but while Paul Warner and Lodwick were being searched William Warnock and Daniels leaped through a window at the police station and escaped. Officers awaited the boys return to Moline today.

When the two youths appeared a their rendezvous Warnock was captured and has confessed to the operations of the gang. Loot sufficient to equip a store was found in the room which the boys occupied. Daniels eluded the officers, but it is expected that he, too, will soon be in custody.

SPAIN AND VATICAN

MERRY DEL VAL THE STORM CENTER.

Catholic Secretary of State Said to Be the Cause of All the Trouble Which Church is Up Against.

Rome, Aug. 26.—The rupture between the vatican and the Spanish government has served to bring Cardinal Merry del Val, the papal secretary of state, once more into the limelight. Americans will recall the fact that it was Merry del Val, who conducted the negotiations for Col. Roosevelt's proposed audience with the pope, and who was afterwards blamed, by reason of his Spanish blood, for the vatican's faux pas. And now it is the same Merry del Val who is charged with maneuvering to overthrow the existing government in Spain because of the latter's alleged hostility to the Church of Rome.

Ever since he became papal secretary of state seven years ago, the cardinal's course has been tempestuous. Over and over again it has been reported that he was about to resign, and once indeed his resignation was at least offered. His position is naturally a very difficult and laborous one. It demands the greatest amount of tact, common sense and executive ability. The secretary of state has nothing whatever to do with spiritual matters, but stands between the pope and the rest of world to see that his will is carried out, and all the departments and subordinate organizations of which the church is composed are directly responsible to him.

Merry del Val is the son of a Spaniard, who for many years filled the post of Spanish ambassador to the vatican. He was born in England and educated there, which has led many to suppose that his mother was an English woman and that he is partly English in his sympathies. This is a mistake as both his parents were Spanish, and he was educated in England because his father was at that time an irc merchant in that country.

Both the cardinal and his father played an important part in the late war between Spain and the United States. As is well-known the sympathies at the vatican were intirely pro-Spanish at the outset of the war, which was only natural in view of the close relations then existing between Spain and the vatican. Merry del Val and his father, the Spanish ambassador, made every effort to have the influences of the vatican exerted in favor of Spain. But as the war proceeded it was realized in Rome that the American Catholics would resent any interference so strongly as to make it dangerous to the welfare of the Catholic Church in the United States the vatican remained neutral, outwardly, at least. Several years later Merry del Val was selected to succeed Cardinal Martinelli as papal delegate to the United States, but the appointment was never made, probably because of an intimation from Washington that it would not be acceptable.

In 1896 the present secretary of state was sent to Canada as a special legate to settle a dispute over what was known as the Manitoba school question. He remained for six or seven months, visited the principal cities of Canada and the United States, and so conducted his investigations that both the Manitoba government modified its action and the Catholics became reconciled to the new regime and ceased to fear for the aggressions against their religion. The pope's encyclical letter, sent after Merry del Val had returned to Rome, and reported to him, closed the controversy, evidencing a signal triumph won by the young delegate.

Peterborough Defeats Campbellford.

Peterborough cricketers won the game with Campbellford last Friday by 20 runs. THE GOOD WORK OF BRIGADE PREVENTS A SERIOUS FIRE

A. W. Cressman's Great Dry Goods Store Threatened With Extinction Yesterday Morning

Yesterday morning a prompt response of the local fire brigade to the call of duty and their energetic and intelligent work on arrival, without the shadow of a doubt saved the central part of George street's business section from a serious conflagration. About ten o'clock in the morning a pedestrian passing the large dry goods establishment of Mr. A. W. Cressman, saw smoke oozing through cracks of the main entrance on George street. He consequently made a hasty examination and found that dry goods hanging in the front part of the store were on fire, and smoke was beginning to arise. He at once turned in an alarm and Acting Chief Grange with his doughty men were on the scene in remarkably short time. It was found that a fire was rapidly spreading from where it evidently started, viz. the electric light wires which ran from the ground floor of the large display windows. These wires ran in close proximity to a large show case containing silk ribbons and laces, which latter caught fire. The brigade were enabled by quick and intelligent work to extinguish the flames before the entire store with its semi-combustible stock of dry goods caught fire. The damage will probably be comparatively light. Unfortunately for Mr. Cressman, the flames found their way into the large front display window.

On Saturday the firm had put a large quantity of high grade expensive silks and laces in the window on display and most of these valuable goods are destroyed. As yet Mr. Cressman is unable to determine the extent of his loss. The store will be closed this morning to enable Mr. Cressman and the insurance underwriters to determine the loss. Owing to the celerity with which the fire was extinguished it is hoped that the general stock will not sustain much damage from smoke. This is a matter naturally of great anxiety to the proprietor as most of the goodsin the general store are recent importations and of the latest styles Customers and the general public will have to bear with Mr. Cressman when they find the store closed today.

The fire started from the electric light wires. It is thought that either these wires became short circuited or that mice had eaten off the insulation. It is an interesting feature of this affair that it is only a short time ago that Mr. Cressman had had the entire electric light system overhauled and modernized by an expert electrician.

NEW RAILWAY LINE NOW FIVE YEARS OLD

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 27.—Next week the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway will celebrate the fifth anniversary of the beginning of its construction by opening the Governmen section between Winnipeg and Superior Junction, 280 miles. The great project of a national railway was started in September, 1905, when Sir Wilfrid Laurier turned the first sod at Fort William. At about the same time the actual construction was commenced on the prairie section west of Winnipeg. Since then thousands of men have been at wo with the result that the great project, which means so much for Western Canada, is rapidly nearing completion.

The line from Winnipeg to Edmonton was opened a year ago. The completion of the Superior Junction branch will allow the road to be operated from Fort William through to Edmonton, about 1,100 miles. This will enable the new transcontinental line to move this year's grain crop next month.

The placing of Edmonton, which is in the heart of the great wheat belt in direct communication with Fort William, the great grain outlet for Western Canada, marks another epoch of western development and has deep significance to both cities. Edmonton appears destined to become the great railroad center of Alberta, and will rapidly take its place among the great cities of the west It is probable the opening of the new line will be appropriately celebrated.

SEVEN THOUSAND POOR SACK AN ITALIAN TOWN

Milan, Aug. 27.—Terrible scenes of riot and bloodshed have occurred at Bari, on the Adriatic coast, following a general strike among all classes of workers.

The strike is the direct result of a considerable increase in the price of corn and house rents, and as yesterday was the day when the rents are due and should have been paid, the townspeople rose en masses.

Thousands of the poorer people, unable to meet what they regarded as the fresh extortions of the landlords had had notice to leave their dwellings within twenty-four hours or to suffer eviction.

With this possibility hanging over them, and driven to desperation by hunger, an angry mob 7,000 strong marched through the streets and practically forced every business, private and municipal, to come to a standstill.

Tramcars that continued to run were wrecked and the conductors and drivers roughly handled, and shops whose owners refused to close the doors were plundered and in some instanose burned.

Police and soldiers who had taken up positions in public and other buildings were driven out, and the buildings were set on fire. The property of unpopular landlords was visited with special severity, many houses being broken up and burned.

There was constant firing in the streets between the mob and the landlords, and five people were also dead. Thirty soldiers and about fifty civilians were taken to hospitals, many of them being dangerously wounded.

The fury of the people has by no means exhausted itself, and the authorities are anticipating further trouble.

CRIPPEN'S NERVE DESERTING HIM FEARED HE MAY COMMITT SUICIDE

Liverpool, Aug. 27.—Dr. Crippen, who was arrested at Father Point, on the charge of killing his wife, Belle Elmore, in their Hilldrop Crescent, London home, arrived in Liverpool, on the Megantic at noon day. Crippen was in charge of Inspector Dew of Scotland Yard. Miss Ethel Leneve, who went to Canada with Crippen, and who is also held on the charge of murder, also landed from the steamer. She was in charge of two matrons, who journed to Quebec for her.

Crippen displayed extreme nervousness during the last stages of the voyage. Effort was made to keep the celebrated prisoners in their cabins during the day, and few of the Canadian soldiers saw them until the time for disembarkation arrived. As the steamer neared the English shore, Dr. Crippen grew excited, and showed evidence of fear, the first since his arrest. Those who attended him on the voyage say that the chief concern now of Scotland yard is that the alleged murderer may lose his reason.

The man keeps muttering to himself, and his conversation with the guards has been quite incoherent. His mustache has turned white. He has a week's crop of whiskers, which give him an uncouth appearance. He will be closely watched until his case has been disposed of by the courts for fear that he may be given an opportunity to suicide.

Miss Leneve, on the other hand, appeared quite jaunty when she was escorted down the gangway. She is confident of acquittal. Whether she knows anything of the killing of the Elmore woman is a matter of doubt, though it is believed that if she knows anything she has confided all to Inspector Dew.

Men Like to Own Their Homes.

The Ontario Bank Lots put on the market by Mr. Dumble are in great demand. Six houses are now built or in course of construction. If more of our land owners were to put lots on the market at a low price poor men could afford to buy and build. Men like to own their little homes—it is better than paying rent.

CHOLERA SCOURGE INVADES VIENNA

Patients Suffering From Disease Are Found in Austria Capital—Brought from Russia.

Vienna, Aug. 27.—Cholera, it is officially announced, has broken out in this city. After throwing doubt for two days upon the reports of cases in Vienna, the health department of the ministry of the interior today announced that bacteriological examination of several suspected cases had established that the patients were suffering from Asiatic cholera. The victims are from Hungary, into which country the disease spread from Russia.

Bucharest, Rumania, Aug. 27.—Ruman army manoeuvres for 1910 were today countermanded as a precautionary measure, in view of the epidemic of cholera raging in Soutl Russia near the Rumanian frontier.

AIDS SLAYER OF HER DAUGHTER

Mother Snitches Offspring's Name in Order to Free a Convict.

New York, Aug. 27.—Behind a petition for a pardon for Harry C. Rose, actor and stage manager of the Garrick Theater at the time he shot his wife, Belle, to death, in September, 1902, which has just been sent to Governor Hughes to be acted, lies a story of a mother's sense of justice that has overcome the mother's shielding love of a daughter's name.

Mrs. Jennie C. Proctor, who lives at 144 West One Hundred and Twenty-fourth street, mother of the woman who was shot, is urging the pardon, because she asserts she knows Rose's crime was caused by his wife's indiscretions.

COWARD CUT OFF A LAWYER'S HEAD

Would Not Fight Him Yet He Did Not Scorn to Make Use of His Sabre.

Bucharest, Aug. 28.—A few days ago a tragedy occurred at Botossani, Roumania, when Capt. Grigorin, an artillery officer, cut off a man's head in the street.

He had a violent quarrel with Dr. Franzescu, an advocate, about a lady, and the lawyer had challenged him to a duel. The captain, however, refused to fight him on the ground that Dr. Franzescu was not a man of honor.

When Dr. Franzescu next met his adversary in the street he attempted to flog him with a horsewhip. Capt. Grigorin at once drew his heavy artillery sabre, and with one blow cut off the head of the lawyer, which rolled into the gutter.

Witnesses of the scene tried to kill the caotain, who kept them at bay with his sword until the police arrived, when he allowed himself to be arrested.

TERRIBLE GALE ON WEST COAST

British Destroyer Success Driven on Shore — Torpedo is Also a Total Wreck.

London, Aug. 27.—A terrific gale is sweeping the whole west coast of Great Britain and heavy loss of life is feared. Merchant and naval vessels have been driven ashore. Shipping has been suspended and ships have been forced to run for cover. Many fears are entertained for fishing and other smaller craft.

The admiralty announced that advices from Glasgow stated that the destroyed Success had been driven ashore in the Gar Loch, an estuary of the Clyde. Soon after came word that torpedo boat 13 had been driven ashore, a total wreck, near Camp belltown.

The Success was built in 1901 and was of 360 tons. She carried sixty officers and men.

The storm created havoc at all western points. At Liverpool several vessels dragged anchor and shipping was tied up, when a dredger turned turtle, drowning three. Thirteen other men narrowly escaped death.

Soreness of the muscles, whether induced by violent exercise or injury, is quickly relieved by the free application of Chamberlain's Liniment. This liniment is equally valuable for muscular rheumatism, and always afford quick relief. Sold by all dealers.

COWBOYS WILD OVER ROOSEVELT

"WHOOP IT UP" WAS SEIZED BY THE YELLING COW PUNCHERS

Great Day at Cheyenne—Enthusiastic Crowd of Sioux Indians, Shoshones and Ranchmen—A Wonderful Reception.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Aug. 27.—Theodore Roosevelt is here and the town has gone wild over him. The ex-president got in shortly after nine o'clock this morning after his long whirl over the prairie across the continent. He found cowboys and cowgirls of the Alkali plains Indians in paint and feathers, sedate visitors in city attire, all ready to "whoop it up" for him.

As the colonel's train pulled into the Cheyenne depot a prolonged cheer split the air. "Yee ip" cried the cow boys shrilly. Col. Roosevelt lifted his hat and showed his glistening teeth. "Teddy, Teddy," roarded the crowd. "We've got you at last."

GLAD HE CAME.

The former president started to step down from the train and was fairly grabbed up by the yelping cow boys. They seized his hand, patted him on the back, and let out more robust cheers. "Why, this is more than I expected," he cried, "you make me glad I came here."

Half of Cheyenne had been waiting up all night for the rough rider. They knew he would not get in until morning, but they wanted to make sure that they were at the depot to yell for him when he did get in. So the half that were up kept theother half awake. They surged through the town singing lustily and yelling all the time for "Teddy."

752 Buffalo.

Advices received by the Grand Trunk Pacific Raiway from the superintendent of the Canadian National Buffalo Park at Wainwright, gives the information that there are now 752 buffalo, including calves born this year, in the inclosure. There are about 100 buffalo left on the Pablo ranch in Montana, and the final roundup of those animals is still going on, and the delivery of this number will be made about October. When these roundsing buffalo are added to Buffalo Park it will make the largest herd in the world, and, in fact, the only herd of any consequence in existence. This park is one of the interesting features of Wainwright on the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway.

At Saturday's police court a young man whose eye was in deep mourning laid an information against a local citizen, charging him with assault. The case comes up on Wednesday morning.

INDIAN TEACHERS FOMENT SEDITION

WITH THEIR PAY SO MISERABLY LOW, THEY ARE PRONE TO DISCONTENT.

Are Menace to England—Government's Policy is Strictly to Deal With Them More Liberally.

Calcutta, Aug. 26.—The Government of India has at last awakened to the fact that the condition of native teachers is a menace to the peace and security of the dependency It is acknowledged that native teachers have been and are often the disseminators of discontent and sedition. When their position and pay are borne in mind this will not be surprising. There are three grades of schools in India: The primary school, where the vernacular only is taught; the middle school, where a four years' instruction is given in English, and the higher school, where pupils are prepared for college.

The pay of the native teacher in the primary schools ranges from $2.50 to $10 a month after long service. In the middle schools the salaries range from $10 to $12.50 a month, and a headmaster considers himself fortunate if after thirty years' service he receives $50 a month. The village schoolmaster, with at most $120 a year, is often also postmaster and keeper of the village pound for stray cattle; and if he can save a few shillings becomes the money-lender of the village.

Is it surprising if these men are tempted to complain of their lot and to seek, by influencing the discontented, some compensation for their own miserable position? Even in high schools it is rare that a headmaster receives more than $600 a year. Until a few years ago the native training colleges were looked upon as penal institutions to which native teachers were sent when they failed to satisfy the inspectors or local officials. This has now been changed. It is also proposed to increase the salaries of the teachers.

The Government of India would do well to deal liberally with these men and to remove from them both the temptation and the opportunity to use their influence against their rulers. It would be wise also to make attendance at school voluntarily by prohibiting the pressure occasionally put upon natives by eager officials.

The vernacular press is a standing menace. The native in his village has not got beyond the stage when he believes absolutely everything he sees in type. If the government cannot supply him with a sane newspaper it might at least see that the village schoolmaster has at his command a supply of books dealing with the simple wants of the people. These books do not exist at this moment, but their production would be easy and not costly, and their value would be beyond estimate.

FIRE OFF GUNS TO CAUSE RAIN

President Taft Appealed to in Hope of Starting Downpour to Quench Fires.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 28.—President Taft has been appealed to to instruct the war department to comply with the request that the coast fortifications in the Puget Sound district unite with the warships in firing their big guns in the hope of starting a general rainfall.

The appeal was signed by the Washington Forest Fire Association, The Washington Conservation Association and other organizations of lumber men and loggers.

In spite of the attitude of the War Department, the business men of Seattle and the officers of the Forest Fire Association believe that if sufficient pressure is brought to bear their request will be granted. To that end they have started a deluge of messages to Washington and Beverley.

I found great difficulty in curing," states Dr. Wilson. "Every time he caught cold or got chilled he suffered intensely from sore throat and chest soreness After every attack his throat and chest seemed more sensitive. This patient lived in the country, and couldn't come to the city for treatment. I concluded that the best remedy would be best remedy would be an honest hammer, and because of its enormous sale and well known merit, I advised 'Nerviline.' Morning, noon, and night, Nerviline was rubbed over the neck and chest, and once a day diluted with water it was used as a gargle. In a day or two my patient reported an improvement, and by the continued treatment with Nerviline he was cured I can recommend Nerviline for breaking up colds, for chest tightness throat inflammation, quinsy, tonsilitis and similar conditions."

Not a druggist or doctor who has examined the formula of Nerviline who won't tell you how good it is—why it contains the best medicaments known to science, and for general family use has no equal.

RECENT STATISTICS OF SUICIDE

The Spectator, a life insurance paper published in New York, presents statistics of suicide covering the period from 1890 down to and including 1909, and the figures will arouse interest, though it is difficult to derive much instruction from them.

Sixty-five cities are included in the review; the rate given is the number of persons committing suicide per 100,000 of population. In 1890, this rate was 12.3. In 1900 it had risen to 20.6. There seems to have been a pretty steady increase up to 1904, when 20.7 was reached. Then there was a falling off, attributed to a time of exceptional prosperity, which was followed after the panic of 1907 by another increase.

Having the figures, it is possible for anyone to frame up a theory to explain them. There is nervous tension in cities, the strenuous life, the noise, the confusion, the big ambitions and small achievements. This storm and stress makes a very plausible explanation indeed, but it is evident that we must look for a happy medium to prevent the suicidal mania, since the isolation of the country is often discussed as a cause.

It is a fact also that their are returns from the cities that are decidedly puzzling. We might shake our heads wisely over the information that San Francisco headed the list. It is a fast and wicked place. But if the rate for San Fransisco is 59.9 that of Hoboken is 52.6, and this makes Hoboken a good third, with Oakland coming between. Now, what are the marked resemblances between SanFrancisco and Hoboken that should bring them so close together in this comparison?

The impressive fact, after all, is the general increase. That sticks in the memory when we can only engage in hopeless guesses as to causes. It is ascertained beyond a doubt? Are the changes in figures due in part to a better keeping of the records, a more thorough system of investigation? Is modern life, with all the modern conveniences, more trying than life of the fathers? Are there more desparate, discouraged people than there used to be because there has been a loss of moral, spiritual and religious faith.

It is easy to put the questions and hard to answer them. But we incline very decidedly to the belief, in spite of the statistics, that the world is growing better and that it is a better place to live in than it was during some imaginary golden age. The comparatively short history of the United States abounds in proofs of the fact that the race has put behind it many cruelties and much disorder, conditions that would seem intolerable now.

For World's Peace.

Brussels, Aug. 29.—The American group of delegates to the conference of the Interparliamentary Union which is to begin its session here today, will present several resolutions looking toward the establishment of permanent peace between the nations of the world.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. 166 acres of absolutely proven oil land on Saiphur Mountain, adjoining and between the Liberty and Puritan Oil Companies' property. Ten miles from Santa Paula, Ventura Co., Calif.

FACTS—The [illegible] is absolutely proven territory, lying as it does with the UNION OIL CO. on the south, the LIBERTY OIL CO. producing on the west, the HARD OIL CO. producing on the north which only recently erected its 30th rig, and Puritan Oil Co. to commence drilling on the east. Also it is located in a district of 365 PRODUCING COMPANIES, such as Ojai Petroleum, Syracuse Oil, [illegible] Gem, Capital Creek, Hard Oil and Asphalt Co., and others. THERE IS NO GUESS-WORK ABOUT THE COMPANY GETTING OIL. It is possible that Liberty Company's new well will be a gusher, which would make the ATLANTA OIL COMPANY stock worth par. Mr. Conrad, our Superintendent, knows every foot of the ground, and having his log book of Liberty property, which adjoins our land, and the experienced OIL MAN and co-worker ourselves fortunate in obtaining his services. VENTURA CO. OIL represents the cream of the industry. It is the home of HIGH GRAVITY OIL. VENTURA COUNTY OIL means SUN a barrel at well. Costs from 2c to 5c to produce it. THE GREAT UNION OIL CO. got its start in VENTURA CO. and has paid over twenty-two millions in dividends. These GREAT ASSETS had a small beginning in the WILD BILL STRETER, within EIGHT OF ATLANTA OIL CO. property. The demand for refining oil FAR EXCEEDS THE SUPPLY. The 35 refineries in California are crying for the product. The eastern high gravity fields are diminishing. The OHIO FIELDS, FOR INSTANCE, have [illegible] declined. The demand is caused by the increased market for gasoline. Throughout the world the number of automobiles and internal combustion gasoline engines is forcing up the price of high gravity crude petroleum. Eastern operators are now making tests in VENTURA COUNTY, which are held to be the most extensive known. THIS IS THE FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT of ground floor offering of ATLANTA OIL CO., and may be oversubscribed at any time. One day's delay may mean you are too late. ACT NOW. WRITE FOR LATEST NEWS OF VENTURA OIL FIELDS.

The lumber for the derrick is on the ground and machinery has been ordered. Well No. 1 will be started as soon as drilling is installed. It should not take over six months to complete first well. Well No. 2, by conditions of lease, must be in operation by February 15th, 1911.

DIGGING THE BIG DITCH.

How the Steam Shovels Make the Dirt Fly at Panama.

The steam shovels stand on terraced levels and in fifty minutes load a train of eighteen flat cars, which are unloaded in fifteen minutes more amid a shower of dust. The line of cars is followed by "spreaders." All through the cut puffs of steam here and there indicate where the shovels are burrowing their way and pushing the work forward. Watching shovel 221, I stood on engine No. 236 when she was at work. Engineer Harrison, his hand on the lever, was pushing the cars up in due course as the steam shovels filled them, while the conductor, raising and lowering a flag, directed a "shove-up," so that even while loading it is sometimes necessary for an engineer to keep his hand on the throttle. One shovel accomplished probably as much work in a day as could be done by 600 men, and there is a great deal of rivalry among the operators to make the best record.

The record of steam shovel 228 for one bad day shows how the dirt flies on the Isthmus. Three hundred and thirteen cars were loaded in 470 minutes. In the language of Larry O'Grady, this was "going some," almost an average of a car a minute, with eleven seconds grace, or a rate of a cubic yard of earth every seven seconds. A remark was made by a sad eyed man of unknown nationality, "It looks as though the dirt had wings, doesn't it?" Over 80,982 cubic yards of rock have been taken out in twenty-five working days by one shovel, and a completed tunnel through the cut is excavated within every month.—Joe Mitchell Chapple in National Magazine.

A FOREST GIANT.

Monster Tree Trunk That Rivals the Famous Fallen Monarch.

A rival of the giant tree, the Fallen Monarch, familiar in pictures with a stagecoach on top of its trunk, has been found on the slopes of Bald mountain, in northern Tulare county.

It is in a region little visited and was first noted by R. H. Gallagher, an old Yosemite stage driver, two years ago. When Gallagher tried to return to it he lost the trail and did not find the great tree again for months.

The great trunk lies in the forest, the lower two or three feet of it buried in the soil which has been accumulating for ages. It is believed that hundreds of years have passed since the great tree fell, and the fires of ages have rolled over it through the forest. Much of the bark has been burned away, yet originally it was from twenty to forty inches thick. The trunk now is more than 100 feet in circumference, and it is a hard climb to get on top of it.

Bald peak is midway between the Sequoia National park and the General Grant National park. Near by is Redwood mountain, on which there are said to be 10,000 giant trees. The region, which is northeast of Visalia, is reached by stage to Exeter valley, twenty-one miles, where Gallagher has a camp called Juanita camp.—Los Angeles Express.

German Acuteness.

The egg cups imported into India at one time all came from Great Britain. The Indian eggs are, however, very small, and the egg cups did not fit. A German traveler noticed this small item and got his firm to make smaller egg cups and export them there. All the trade is now in German hands. In Africa the scissors imported from Sheffield were found to be rather dangerous weapons to place in the hands of the natives, owing to their sharp points. The Solingen Steel works send a lot of round pointed scissors out, which found favor, and now Germany has captured the whole market.—From "Germany of the Germans."

Result of Police Court Trial Shows That Undeserved Indignity Was Thrust on a Man From Ashburnham.

That someone blundered in connection with the arrest of young Mr. Faux of Ashburnham, is now a self-evident fact. This young man who is respected by all who know him, was arrested some days ago. He was charged in the first place with "vagrancy," a useful charge to policemen in general when they want to hold a prisoner whilst looking for evidence regarding a more serious charge to be preferred later on. Mr. Faux was charged with vagrancy and then a charge of theft was brought against him. When the case was tried on Friday before His Worship Magistrate Dunbar, Mr. Faux was discharged on the theft charge and the charge of vagrancy was withdrawn by the informant. As the young man's name has appeared in press, in connection with his unfortunate arrest, it is but justice to him and his relatives, to note that a miscarriage of justice seems to have been made. In this case Mr. Faux now stands before the world as an innocent man, upon whose character not the slightest shadow of suspicion rests, and whose past record now sustained by the result of Friday's trial, will convince his friends, if such conviction were necessary, that Mr. Faux stands before the people of this city and county as a young man of sterling integrity and honesty of purpose—of course it is not for us to impugn the local police in connection with this arrest. They must have had reason for the action. Still, policemen occasionally, like men in other professions and trades, make mistakes that, in recognition of their zealous design to do their duty, must be condoned.

YOU CAN BUY INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS Now at 15 Cents

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

Don't hesitate to secure a portion of this stock. Your money will be returned if all statements cannot be verified. Another mill is under construction. Others will be built on various properties which the company owns and controls. This will increase the income and make your investment the best you can find.

Not a Speculative Enterprise

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS is an industrial enterprise of the most solid character. The monopoly of the supply and the constantly increasing demand make the market for the product absolutely certain. There is no substitute for asbestos. It is one of the prime necessities of modern industry and construction. And, as already stated, it sells for a price many times greater than the cost of production.

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS affords an unequalled opportunity for safety and permanent income out of all proportion to the amount of the investment.

AN INSANE MAN'S TERRIBLE DEED—CRIPPEN BEGINS HIS BATTLE FOR HIS LIFE

TORONTO MAN KILLS WIFE AND THEN TURNS WEAPON ON HIMSELF

Was An Inmate of Asylum But Was Not Closely Guarded—Family Had Feared This Thing For a Long Time

Toronto, Aug. 29.—"This is the end of 37 years and five months of married life with an insulting, drunken, swindling woman. Hell cannot be any worse. My last wish is that I be cremated."

This was the baseless and utterly objectified charge made by Gustav Merkt, an insane man, against the wife he murdered today. The whole record of her life has been that of a faithful, patient and long-suffering woman.

When Lottie, the daughter of Gustav Merkt, who is employed in a large downtown store, reached her home at 10 Robert street at noon today she was horrified to find her father lying dead in a pool of blood in the front room with a revolver by his side, and in the back shed, her mother, also dead, shot through the right cheek.

This terrible double tragedy had occurred shortly after twelve o'clock. Merkt, who was committed to Queen Street Asylum early in the spring as result of an order made by the magistrate in Toronto police court, after an examination as to his sanity, had been allowed out.

This privilege was accorded him from time to time. Today he returned to his home and following his wife into the rear kitchen, shot her in the right cheek between the eye and ear. Death appears to have been instantaneous. After killing his wife, Merkt walked into the parlor and standing before a mirror to make sure of his aim again drew the trigger of the revolver, and a bullet passed into his right temple pierced his brain, and he also fell dead a few feet away from the body of his wife.

A pool of blood lay beside the dead man's head. On looking for some explanation of the desperate deed, a note was found on the table in the parlor of which were roughly scrawled these words:

"This is the end of 37 years and five months of married life with an insane, drunken, swindling woman. Hell cannot be worse. My last wish is that my remains be cremated."

The daughter, almost frantic, rushed out and notified neighbors and the police were soon on the scene.

COMMITTED TO ASYLUM.

Merkt had been in the police court several months ago on a charge of misconducting himself in a moving picture show. The circumstances led to an investigation being made, of his mental condition and his subsequent committment to Queen Street Asylum.

Korea Ceases to be Independent Power

Tokio, Aug. 29.—Disorders have broken out in Korea, according to advices received here today, coincident with the formal announcement that the old hermit kingdom, independent for more than 4,000 years, is now the Japanese province of Chosen. The annexation has caused great excitement in Japan, though it is expected. Rejoicing is general, save in Radical circles. The Socialists have attempted to make capital out of the move, pointing to Japan's definite pledge of the maintenance of Korea's independence.

The censorship is strictly maintained and the actual conditions in the peninsula are not definitely known. It is certain, however, that outbreak have occurred at several points.

The army of Japan has been ordered ready for instant service and the patrol of the coast by warships is being continued with vigilance.

TERMS OF TREATY.

Washington, Aug. 29.—The treaty between Japan and Korea, by which the Hermit Kingdom is annexed as a sovereign part of Japan, has been made public by the state department. In addition to the text the convention, a declaration of the Japanese Government concerning the effect of the annexation upon Powers enjoying treaties with Japan is made public.

REGULATIONS CONTINUE.

Existing Korean schedules covering imports from foreign countries and regulations governing coasting trade will be continued for ten years. The copyright and patent laws of Japan will be extended to Korea.

JAPAN'S EXPLANATION.

Japan's statement asserts that the efforts of both the Japanese and Korean Governments to reform the administration of Korea, carried on for four years, has shown that the existing system of government in Korea is not able to preserve peace and tranquility, and that "the spirit of suspicion and misgiving dominates the whole peninsula."

CHANGES IN REGIME

To maintain peace, promote the prosperity and welfare of the Koreans and to insure the safety of foreign residents, the statement continues, it has become clear that fundamental changes in the regime a necessary, and to that end the treat of annexation has been signed effective August 29th.

OPEN PORTS.

The treaty provides that as treaties hitherto concluded by Korea with foreign powers shall cease to be operative. Japan's existing treaties shall be applied so far as practicable. Korea's existing open ports will be continued, except Masampo and Shiuwi-ti will be newly opened.

Provision is made for the support of the members of Korea's Imperial family, for peerage grants to deserving Koreans and for the appointment of Koreans whenever possible to administer the country's affairs.

CRIPPEN HAS ASSURED COUNSEL OF HIS INNOCENCE OF CRIME

London, Aug. 29.—Dr. Hawley Harvey Crippen's fight for life began today, when with his typist companion, Ethel Clare Le Neve, he was arraigned in the Bow street police court for the murder of his wife, Belle Elmore. The most spectacular murder case of a decade was brought to a head with brief proceedings, attended by a handful of privileged people.

The testimony revealed a suicide pact between the prisoners, which, it was said, had been frustrated by Captain Kendall, of the Montrose, on which they were captured, and by Inspector Dew. The couple were remanded for eight days.

Crippen maintained when he was brought to the bar, the almost phlegmatic manner which has become characteristic of him in the last few weeks. Ethel Le Neve, pale and worn was nervous under the eyes of her relatives.

CHARGE AGAINST PRISONERS

The girl hung her head, but Crippen remained with no sign of emotion while the arraignment was read. The document charges that Crippen "murdered Cora Crippen, otherwise Belle Elmore, and further, that Le Neve, well knowing that the aforesaid Crippen had committed the said felony, did receive, comfort, assist and maintain the defendant, Crippen."

Scottish M. P.'s Join Forces with the Irish

London, Aug. 27.—Political experts who have been watching the course of events in parliament for the last few months predict that the first year or two of King George's reign will see a series of changes in the form of British government more momentous than any that have taken place since the Stuarts were driven from the throne, and the King himself is said to be the moving spirit at the back of many of the changes which it is now almost certain will take place.

Since the leaders of the two great parties went into conference on the subject of dealing with the House of Lords the secrets of the conference have been well kept. The extreme radicals, the labor men and the Irish, who were all anxious for an immediate and final battle with the lords made desperate efforts to learn what was going on, but the members of the conference met them with a stony silence. It has leaked out, however, that the discussions of the leaders covered a far wider range than the powers of the upper house. Home rule for Ireland has been discussed, and it is significant that a tip has gone out to the Tory orators that they had better drop this subject for a while.

HOME RULE FOR SCOTLAND.

Far more significant still is a manifesto signed by nearly half the Scottish M.P.'s including men of all parties demanding home rule for Scotland. The manifesto points out that Scotland is neglected by the Imperial parliament, and that when she is legislated for the legislation is often useless, because Scottish conditions are not understood by Englishmen. Wales has for a long time been demanding home rule.

Now I am informed that Kir George is keenly sympathetic with all of these demands. He is a far freer politician than his father was. Before he came to the throne he used to spend three or four evenings a week sitting in a gallery of the house of commons following the debates and he was nearly always in his place in the house of lords when a big debate was on.

KING A DEVOLUTIONALIST.

Moreover he is very seriously impressed with the fact that he is King not only of England but of the whole British Empire, and that each constituent country, not excluding the overseas dominions, has as much claim on him as any other. He is said to be a strong advocate of "devolution," by which is meant the establishment of independent local parliaments in the various countries comprising the empire. Of course the overseas dominions have them already, so that it only remains for them to be established in the four countries comprising the British Isles. It is said that the conference has been discussing a plan of this sort and that when parliament meets again in the fall some such proposal may be laid before it.

REAL IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

Of course a corollary to such a devolution would be the establishment of a really imperial parliament at Westminster, which would deal with subjects affecting the empire as a whole. In such a parliament the overseas dominions would be represented.

Another sign of the times is the launching of a movement to add to the titles of the King that of "Emperor of the British" when he is crowned next year. The suggestion is fathered by the London Express, which is often inspired by the leaders of the Tory party. Of course it would be only a recognition in name of what the King already is in fact—the head of a great federation of self-independent countries, in the sense that the German emperor is the head of such a federation. His powers will not be changed in any way, and the dignity of the colonial republics, whose people might conceivably object to being ruled by the King of little England would be preserved.

GUARD WANTS TO CHANGE HIS PLEA

ASYLUM ATTENDANT, WHO HELPED MOIR ESCAPE, ASKS PRIVILEGE OF COURT.

Criminal Code Section—Under Which Prisoners Will Be Prosecuted Will Be Decided by Attorney-General—Another Remand.

Hamilton, Aug. 29.—The Crown authorities will leave it to the attorney-general's department to decide under which section of the criminal code McCullough and Trapnell, the asylum attendants, accused of helping Moir and Taggart, the insane murderers, to escape, shall be charged. At the police court today Mr. Washington asked for another remand until Wednesday to give him time to consult with the department at Toronto, and his request was granted.

Replying to Mr. I. O'Reilly, Trapnell's lawyer, Mr. Washington said the charge was aiding escape from lawful custody and conspiring. He refused O'Reilly permission to read the indictment.

NOT PUNISHABLE OFFENCE.

Trapnell's lawyer argued that it was very doubtful if the men were guilty of any punishable offence.

"I don't think there is any question about that," said the Crown.

The magistrate offered to fix bail at $1,000 for Trapnell, but Mr. O'Reilly said he could not raise it.

George Kerr, appearing for McCullough, wanted permission to change the plea of guilty to one of not guilty. The magistrate said he would think it over, but in the meantime McCullough stood convicted and could not be allowed out on bail.

Four-Day Fair.

The Lindsay Post says that there is a movement on foot, it is understood, among some of the directors of Lindsay Central Exhibition to have a four day fair next year. The exhibition is growing every year at a rapid pace, the number of exhibits in the different departments are increasing, while the attendance each year keeps climbing up. These conditions, the directors claim, justify them in considering such an important step. There is no reason why the four day idea could not be tried next year.

MOTHER'S "NOTIONS"

Good for Young People to Follow.

"My little grandson often comes up to show me how large the muscles of his arms are.

"He was a delicate child, but has developed into a strong, healthy boy and Postum has been the principal factor.

"I was induced to give him the Postum because of my own experience with it.

"I am sixty years old and have been a victim of nervous dyspepsia for many years. Have tried all sorts of medicines and had treatment from many physicians, but no permanent relief came. I believe nervous dyspeptics suffer more than other sick people, as they are affected mentally as well as physically.

"I used to read the Postum advertisements in our paper. At first gave but little attention to them, thinking it was a fraud like so many I had tried, but finally something in one of the advertisements made me conclude to try it.

"I was very particular to have it prepared strictly according to directions, and used good, rich cream. It was very nice indeed, and about bed time I said to the members of the family that I believed I felt better. One of them laughed and said, 'That's another of mother's notions,' but the notion has not left me yet.

"I continued to improve right along after leaving off coffee and taking Postum, and now after three years' use I feel so well that I am almost young again. I know Postum was the cause of the change in my health and I cannot say too much in its favor. I wish I could persuade all nervous people to use it."

Read "The Road to Wellville," found in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

NO MORE FRANKING.

Franking Privileges Cancelled by P.R. and G.N.W.

It is understood that the franking privileges which the Great Northwestern and Canadian Pacific Telegraph Companies have extended to steady customers and to many of the officials, have been cancelled, as though as yet the Peterboro ticket agents have received no notification to that effect. A despatch says that they will be recalled at the end of the month, as a result the companies say of a notification from the Railway Commission stating that these favors were a discrimination against users who had to pay the full tariff on all messages. On franked messages only half rate was collected.

FEAR THE PLAGUE

STERN PRECAUTIONS ARE TAKEN TO PREVENT CHOLERA ENTERING ENGLAND.

John Burns is in Charge—Scourge at Trani, Italy, Deadly, Killing Its Victims in a Few Hours.

London, Eng., Aug. 29.—Western Europe is experiencing an acute cholera scarce. As previously reported in St. Petersburg and Copenhagen, the Asiatic scourge has been prevalent for many weeks throughout Russia. Now the malady has taken on a firm hold in Southern Italy and the London authorities fear that any moment may bring information of an outbreak further north. American tourists, who for days have been thronging the steamship offices to secure homeward passage, express the keenest pleasure at getting away in advance of possibly embarrassing quarantine measures.

The great army of British medical inspectors is on the alert and the local government board has issued a warning demanding that the health officers work as many hours a day as may be necessary to overhaul every ship seeking to land passengers at a British port.

Wireless telegraphy has been invoked in the crisis and all commanders of vessels equipped with Marconi install stations bound for Great Britain have been ordered to have their ships inspected and to report to medical authorities of the port to which they are going. Special vigilance is exercised with respect to vessels coming from Russian and Italian ports and trans north-bound across the continent.

John Burns, president of the local government board, is personally superintending the precautionary measures in Great Britain. He says that dangers like the present one emphasize the importance of requiring all passenger boats to carry the wireless apparatus. Infected ships will not be allowed to come nearer the coast than three miles. The penalty for concealing such diseases as cholera are so severe that the British authorities are confident that it will be able to keep the plague out of this countryt. Should any case escape detection at a port the local government board will exercise its wide powers in stamping out the threatened epidemic.

Bari, Italy, Aug. 29.—Five new cases of cholera and three deaths are reported from Trani, where the epidemic continues to give rise to serious apprehension. The disease manifests itself in its deadliest form many of the victims being attacked without the usual premonitory symptoms and dying after a few hours.

In other parts of Apulia the situation is more hopeful, the population now being more willing to help the authorities to enforce hygienic rules. Under the strict measures adopted the march of the cholera to new localities has been checked.

FRANCE SHOWS ALARM.

Paris, Aug. 29.—Premier Briand today ordered the strictest precautionary measures of inspection to be taken along the Italian frontier on account of the outbreak of cholera in Italy.

ALL G. T. R. MEN HAVE TRAINING

NONE OF THOSE BEING USED ARE INEXPERIENCED, ACCORDING TO OTTAWA BOARD.

Old Men Out at Work Yet—A Hundred Employes Still Displaced by Strikebreakers — Receive Strike Pay.

Ottawa, Aug. 29.—No complaints has reached the Railway Commission in regard to the employment of strike-breakers by the Grand Trunk since the settlement of the strike but if any such are received they will be investigated.

The officials here do not regard the case of Brakeman Graham, the man involved in the Durand wreck, as at all likely to be repeated in Canada. He was employed in Michigan, and his run would end at Port Huron, where a Canadian would take his place. Any responsibility for his acting on the Grand Trunk without training rests with the Railway Commission of Michigan, and the Canadian Commission could do nothing in his case unless he entered Canada.

All reports to the Commission here are that conditions on the G.T.R. have got back to the pre-strike stage so far as Canada is concerned.

WHAT MONTREAL SAYS.

Montreal, Aug. 29.—Over one hundred employes of the Grand Trunk who answered the strike call several weeks ago, are still out of positions, notwithstanding the fact that the strike has been settled for several weeks. The majority of these are freight conductors, whose former places are still occupied by the men who took positions as strike-breakers with a three months' agreement.

The unemployed men are still receiving remuneration from the strike fund. A number of those out of positions are passenger conductors who, in the days previous to the strike almost invariably had charge of trains carrying railway officials on inspection trips.

PARENTS THOUGHT SHE WAS DEAD

WAS COMING TO TORONTO TO DEMONSTRATE AT THE NATIONAL EXHIBITION.

Wired Parents of Safety—Will Go Home to Show Them That She Is In Truth Very Much Alive.

Chicago, Aug. 29.—There is joy in the home of George Jagermann, where gloom reigned a few hours ago, for Miss Lena Jagemann, the daughter who had been mourned as one of the victims of the Grand Trunk wreck near Durand, Mich., is on her way to Chicago to assure her parents that she is alive.

So impossible did it seem that the young woman was still alive after her father had gone to Durand and identified the body of one of the dead as that of his daughter, that the first telegram from Toronto in which Miss Jagemann said she had escaped injury did not reassure the parents, and yesterday two more messages came from her in reply to anxious inquiries, and the last one announced that she would follow immediately herself.

Miss Jagemann comes to Toronto to demonstrate at the Exhibition. Her escape leaves the number of known dead in the Durand wreck at eight.

GATES OPEN AT TORONTO FAIR

YESTERDAY SAW GREAT FAIR REVEALED IN ALL ITS BRILLIANCE.

Exhibits on Larger Scale—The Process Building Center of Attraction for All Eyes—Interest taken in Manufacturers' Building.

Toronto, Aug. 29.—The Canadian National Exhibition which was placed thirty-nine years between its present giant proportions and the "town fair" of 1879, opened at nine o'clock this morning.

The accumulation of a twelve months' elaborate planning, expenditures of many hundred thousands with, spread co-operation and steadily intensified interest and enthusiasm now ready for the seeing. With the exception of an hour's "brushing up," and a preliminary shaking, the "Ex." was prepared to stand good for all its promises the moment the gates opened this morning. Tomorrow will see not even a sign of packing paper about the grounds or buildings, and a quieting absence of working clothes and shouted directions. The grounds never looked so beautiful, the year's time developing the plots and lawns and giving the landscape gardener's art a chance to show for itself.

ATTENDANCE SATISFACTORY.

It was scarcely to be expected that in a packed area of 240 acres, with half a million feet of floor space to be filled, every preparation would be complete at the strike of the gong. When the gates opened to the public this morning the busy rush of Saturday, when workmen bundled goods out of packing cases and spread the straw and paper to the four winds were not yet banished, and visitors hence had the pleasure of watching a lair in process of making. The attendance began sparsely, brightened toward ten o'clock, and amounted to fair proportions when noon hour came. Concessionaires still labored on their booths pegging out the guy ropes and putting ice into the lemonade barrel. The people held off their small purchases through first day shyness, needing the stimulus of a big crowd and the spell-binding oratory of the side-show "barker."

Toronto Fair Opens.

Toronto, Aug. 29.—Canada's great industrial exposition will be formally opened this afternoon by General Sir Robert S. S. Baden Powell, who, by pressing an electric button, will start the machinery in the various big buildings. The occasion will be made notable by the presence of a large gathering of Boy Scouts, members of the organization of which General Sir Baden Powell is the founder.

Our loss from Sunday's fire was adjusted by the inspector yesterday. The goods that were burned have been disposed of. Those damaged in any way by smoke or water have been taken from regular stock and will be sold in the Annex when advertised. We are opening up new goods in all departments for Fall, and stocks are practically complete. The damage to store front will be put in order at once. Wednesday morning all departments will be open for business as usual.

CRESSMAN'S

Hundreds were Killed By Syrian Bandits

Constantinople, Aug. 29.—The Turkish government has received information of a serious disturbance in the Hauran.

The Druses attacked during the night the three mixed Christian and Moslem villages of Maarieh, Kadem and Taybieh, in the region of Bosra Eskisham, and massacred over 100 men, women and children of both confessions and pillaged the dwelling houses. The Druses also attacked and robbed a number of travellers on the high road. A punitive expedition consisting of seventeen battalions of troops with artillery, under the command of Sami Pasha, has been ordered to proceed to the district.

The Druses, who inhabit a mountainous district in the north of Syria, are a peculiar race or combination of races, the author of the system being one of the Fatimite califs of Egypt. For 800 years they have maintained a distinct religious and political independence and nationality. Their faith is made up of doctrines from the Pentateuch, the Christian gospel, the Koran and Sufi allegories. They do not attempt to proselytize. Massacres and barbarities by the Druses took place in 1860, and a French expedition was sent against them. The result was a new constitution for the Lebanon and the appointment of a Christian governor by the porte.

SLANDERING CANADA.

The secret of the stories which have been circulating of late in the American papers to the effect that thousands of American immigrants to Canada are becoming dissatisfied and are returning to the States is now claimed to have been discovered. Considerable pains have been taken to trace these stories to their source and documentary evidence is now stated to be in possession of certain officials in Montreal showing that a systematic campaign of slander against Canada has been carried on by one of the transportation companies in America with a view to stemming the tremendous tide of American immigration flowing into the Canadian West.

It must be difficult for the transportation companies operating in the States from which these immigrants originate to look unmoved upon such an unparalleled stream of brawn and capital as has for the past few years been flowing northwards into Canada. Many of these immigrants represent the flower of the American agricultural classes and the wholesale character of the great trek they are making into the Canadian land of promise is shown by official statistical information, according to which at least 100,000 individuals are leaving the United States for the Canadian West every year, bringing with them wealth estimated at 100 to 150 million dollars. It is, in its way, paying a great compliment to the superior attractions and opportunities of Canada when a big company on the other side of the line becomes so badly scared as to enter upon a campaign of slander. At the same time this campaign may result in much more serious effects than that which it is intended to produce. For instance, it cannot but engender bitterness of feeling between Canadian and American citizens—A bitterness which the campaign is persisted in must become widespread and acute.

METHODIST LEADERS.

When Rev. Dr. Carman was first appointed as general superintendent of the Methodist Church he was the junior associate of the late Rev. Dr. Williams. At the time of Methodist Union two superintendents were required. It is not plain that the General Conference after the death of Dr. Williams showed wisdom in putting all the work of supervision upon Dr. Carman. The Church extends from Newfoundland to the Pacific Ocean, and even crosses to Japan and China. One man could not attend to the countless chairmanship and other details which go with the office, and at the same time visit the various conferences with sufficient frequency.

Dr. Carman, who is the personification of energy, did his best, but of late years the new conditions that have been brought about by the rapid settlement of the West, made it plain that he was attempting the impossible. There was a formidable movement at Victoria to have three superintendents, but this was defeated. The Church goes back to its former arrangement. Dr. Carmen will be the senior superintendent, and Rev. Dr. Chown is named as his associate.

The work of Dr. Chown as the secretary of the Moral Reform Committee is well known. He possesses the diplomatic tact which enables him to deal even with a parliamentary Committee, and the firmness which does not permit him to depart from his objective. He is no small bigot but a man of broad vision and lively imagination. He will bring to the office a close personal knowledge of the problems of Methodism in the West as well as in the East, and undoubtedly will be conspicuous success as an administrator.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

COL. SAM HUGHES

Denies He Will Retire From Seat for Victoria County.

In response to an article in the World, stating that Lt.-Col. Sam Hughes of Lindsay, was about to resign his seat for Victoria county in the Dominion House, to accept the position of Quartermaster-General of Canada, that warrior in the Watchman-Warder, says, in part:

My attention has been drawn today to an item said to be clipped from the Toronto World of recent date mentioning my name for the position of Quartermaster-General for Canada.

This canard first appeared some weeks ago in that organ of unreliability and subserviency, the Montreal Star. It is possible it was inspired by the editor in one of his spiritual attacks. However, as I regard such condemnatory of me in that paper as complimentary I paid no attention to it.

There is not a tittle of truth in the statement.

In the first place General Macdonald has proven himself a most capable, efficient, obliging and careful officer. May he long be spared to be Quartermaster-General is my hearty wish.

In the second place, many years ago when the Conservative party was in power I was offered but refused the offer, the position of both deputy minister of militia and adjutant general, then the two highest military positions in Canada. Again I was offered the portfolio of minister of militia, but could not see my way clear to sacrifice my principles for the sake of party or office.

You may rest assured that there is no likelihood of my retiring from the political game, even though such a move might be congenial to political sycophants, until the freemen of Victoria and Haliburton or I personally decide upon such being desirable. Just yet the spirit in that direction has not moved either the said freemen or me.

There are a few questions before the people on which it is my purpose to be heard before any retirement is considered. Indeed, so far in life I have never been much on retirements.

THE BIG EXHIBITION.

Great Interest Being Taken in Peterborough's Fall Fair.

Greater interest than ever seems to have been aroused this fall in Peterborough over next month's annual industrial exhibition. The object of the fair is to promote the interests of the farming industry in the county of Peterborough and neighboring counties. The people of this city should assist the fair in its progress and by doing so it will make the work more attractive and profitable to those engaged in it.

This year many special prizes are being given in order to allow a person to compete in almost every kind of work, which will interest the public. Stock judging for Peterborough young men under thirty years, should urge them to show the results of their work as raisers of stock. The only laws governing the competition are as follows: Contestants must be amateurs and those who have won money previously in judging competitions will not be allowed to enter.

The greatest rivalry has existed among cheese makers, and now the fair gives the rivals an opportunity to settle all disputes. Prizes donated by the Peterborough Cheese Board will be awarded to the factories exhibiting the best cool cured cheese and factory cheese (both for shipping).

A package of Quaker Toasted Corn Flakes will be given to each competitor in the Quaker bread contest. Four substantial prizes will be given to those presenting two loaves of home-made bread, made from Quaker flour.

The Peterborough Branch of the Women's Art Association will give a special prize to residents of Peterborough County who show at the fair the following articles: The best group of original drawings (a) Still Life, such as books, etc., in coloring (b) Pencil Sketch from Nature, showing trees, road, etc., and stencil design for rug.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Public Building, Waterloo, Ont.," will be received at this office until 4.00 p.m., on Wednesday, September 14, 1910, for the work mentioned.

Plans, specification and forms of contract can be seen and forms of tender obtained on application at the office of Mr. Thos. A. Hastings, Clerk of Works, Postal Station K, Yonge Street, Toronto, Ont., or at the Post Office, Waterloo, Ont., and at this Department.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed forms supplied, and signed with their actual signatures, stating their occupations and places of residence. In the case of firms, the actual signatures, the nature of the occupation and place of residence of each member of the firm must be given.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, equal to ten per cent. (10 p.c.) of the amount of the tender, which will be forfeited if the person tendering decline to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

Peterborough Aldermen Not Favored

Evidently the aldermen in western Ontario towns and cities are favored as they receive complimentary passes for the Toronto Exhibition and the Peterborough aldermen do not. The Guelph Herald says:

"All the local aldermen have received complimentary passes to the Toronto Exhibition, good for the entire season. The tickets reads to admit aldermen So and So and automobile. It is surmised that most of the Guelph aldermen will take the train to Toronto, and leave their autos at home.

The editor of the Stratford Herald announces that the councillors of the Classic City have also received the "comps" to the Toronto Exhibition.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

Monday next is Labor Day.

The Collegiate Institute and Public schools will open Monday.

Tourists are leaving the summer resorts.

On Thursday a severe electrical storm passed over Mariposa township, and Mr. Reuben Gorrill, lot 19, con. 15, had the misfortune to lose five valuable cows. They were in the pasture field at the time and were killed by lightning.

The vaudeville now on at the Royal Theater is far above the average. Cosmus & Co., the merry-making manikins brought down the house, while Delay & Holcomb in their great comedy act, are well worth a half-dollar of any theatre-goer's money, and they get this, with the colored pictures top a nickle.

Men Like to Own Their Homes.

The Ontario Bank Lots put on the market by Mr. Dumble are in great demand. Six houses are now built or in course of construction. If more of our land owners were to put lots on the market at a low price poor men could afford to buy and build. Men like to own their little homes—it is better than paying rent.

YOU CAN BUY INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS Now at 15 Cents

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

Don't hesitate to secure a portion of this stock. Your money will be returned if all statements cannot be verified. Another mill is under construction. Others will be built on various properties which the company owns and controls. This will increase the income and make your investment the best you can find.

It won't cost you anything to investigate. If you do not want to reserve your stock at once, fill out the free information blank and full particulars and literature will be sent to you.

Not a Speculative Enterprise

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS is an industrial enterprise of the most solid character. The monopoly of the supply and the constantly increasing demand make the market for the product absolutely certain. There is no substitute for asbestos. It is one of the prime necessities of modern industry and construction. And, as already stated, it calls for a price many times greater than the cost of production.

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS affords an unequalled opportunity for safety and permanent income out of all proportion to the amount of the investment.

SELL

stocks and bonds of all iron, teel and smelting companies.

WHY? Because they are capitalized on the earnings of their blast furnaces now turning out base and precious metals. These blast furnaces are going to the scrap heap.

RENDALL FURNACES will supersede blast furnaces everywhere. They cost only one-fifth the price to build and produce pure metal from any kind of ore for one-half the cost of production by any other process now used.

BUY

Rendall Steel Stock

WHY? Because all iron and steel makers must buy RENDALL FURNACES—and every mining camp, where copper, silver, lead and zinc is produced must add continually to the Rendall Steel Company's income, which will amount to $17,000,000 a year in time from earnings and royalties. This means about $90 per share annual dividends on Rendall Steel stock.

Some years ago an eminent authority, Abram S. Hewitt, after a careful study made in the library of Sir Henry Bessemer, was able to demonstrate that the BESSEMER PROCESS of making iron and steel added, directly and indirectly, $2,000,000,000 YEARLY TO THE WORLD'S WEALTH.

Since then there has been steady increase over this two thousand million dollars a year.

HENRY BESSEMER'S INVENTION IS NOW SUPERSEDED BY GEORGE F. RENDALL'S INVENTION.

There will be no more BESSEMER STEEL. IT WILL BE ALL RENDALL STEEL. "Rendall Steel stock will go up to $500 a share and pay enormous dividends." Reliable, eminent authorities in mining and metallurgy predict this.

Jesse R. Grant, E.M., son of General U. S. Grant, ex-President of the United States; Captain C. B. Dahlgren, E.M., U.S. Navy (retired); Captain S. L. Burbridge, E. M.; W. F. Downs, E.M., of Columbia University; James C. Bayles, M.E.; Ph.D., ex-editor Iron Age; G. F. Rendall, M.E.; T. F. Maher, U.S. Navy Yard; G. H. Moore, E.M., C.E., and other mining and metallurgical engineers say "A REVOLUTION OF THE WHOLE IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY AS GREAT AS THAT PRODUCED BY SIR HENRY BESSEMER IS EFFECTED BY THE RENDALL PROCESS. IT SUPERDES THE BLAST FURNACE

OIL IS KING.

California, the Golden State, has become a strong competitor with the Eastern States in production of petroleum. The California oil is a strong competitor by reason of the heavy freight rates paid on refined oil shipped from the east and on account of the growing demand for crude oil for fuel on steamships and railway engines. The Atlanta Oil Co., has secured proven property, adjacent to other properties daily producing thousands of barrels. The company has 160 acres of oil land on Sulphur Mountain, within ten miles of Santa Paula, Ventura Co.

"OUTDOOR CANADA'S" name changed to THE ATHLETIC WORLD

The August number of "THE ATHLETIC WORLD," a new name for "OUTDOOR CANADA" Magazine has just been received at this office. Since this publication was taken over by W. J. Taylor, Limited Woodstock, Ont., each issue has shown a marked improvement over its predecessor. Its change of policy to that of a national athletic periodical is this month carried out both in name and nature. Besides the change of title the size has been increased and the contents augmented. Judging by the August number, full as it is of good, up-to-date reading pertaining to things athletic, a conspicuous place is assured "THE ATHLETIC WORLD" among the leading Canadian national publications.

VOL. XXXIII NO. 195 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO WEDNESDAY AUGUST 31 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

DREAD LEPROSY IS VANQUISHED

BACILLUS OF THE THIRD GENERATION GROWN OUTSIDE THE HUMAN BODY.

Search to End the Scourge— Great Achievement of Man is Announced—Rest Should be Easy.

Washington, Aug. 30.—Leprosy, the unconquered scourge of the ages, is making what is believed to be its last stand against science. From Molokai, the Coral Isle and prison for the plague-stricken Hawaiian group, a few words have been flashed half way around the world to Washington telling of an achievement accounted second only to the discovery of the lepra bacillus by Hansen in 1879. Three surgeons of the United States Public Health and Marine Hospitals Service, after months of unremitting toil, have grown lepra bacilli in pure culture outside the human body and in tiny thin glass tubes in the laboratory the loathsome germs are now growing in their third generation.

Four times the scientists have taken the infection from the body of a leper and artificially propagated the bacillus on beef, broth, egg, or the amoeba of the intestines of a pig. The work of Dr. Moses T. Clegg, who declared less than a year ago at Manilla that he had found that the bacillus could be cultivated outside the human body, is verified and extended. Clegg has been rushed from the Manilla scientific station to Molokai to assist in the experiment.

This achievement of the scientists at the government's leprosy investigation station, is the first step in the production of a vaccine or a serum for the cure or prevention of leprosy. Precisely the same ground has been covered by the men who evolved the diptheria and anti-toxic, and the serum for tetanus. In each of these cases the growing of the germ in pure culture has been the stepping stone to the cure.

Dr. Donald H. Currie, director of the station, Dr. Walter R. Binkerhoff, and Dr. P. T. Hollmann are the men who have grown the vultures.

THE KAISER'S SPEECH DOES NOT EXCITE GREAT BRITAIN.

His Theory About Divine Right is Sincere and the Keynote of His Whole Life.

London, Aug. 30.—Friends and critics of the kaiser are not surprised at his outburst at Koenigsberg. They wonder he has been able to keep his pledge of silence for nearly two years. His theory about divine rights is sincere and the keynote of his life. He is intolerant of any limitation.

He is usually able to restrain himself, but the results of recent developments in domestic politics have been more than he could bear. A similar speech two years ago would have attracted little attention.

It is likely the present outcry will take the shape of a demand to know if the utterance had the assention of Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg. It is not believed it had. The chancellor is the emperor's man and it may be necessary because of the very high feelings, to sacrifice Von Bethmann-Hollweg. In 1906 the emperor promised Von Buelow that all imperial questions should first be submitted for the chancellor's approval.

The New Fred Press says the world is disclined to tolerate the mysticism of monarchy and tends towards Frederick's dictum that the emperor should be the first servant of the state.

English comment is without bitterness. The Times finds a coincidence in the kaiser's declaration and the recent utterances of Mr. Roosevelt.

History is not likely to regard it as an accident The kaiser and Roosevelt do not preach from the same text, but the moral of their preaching is the same.

THE WAY OUT.

What to Do When Food Won't Agree.

When food don't agree sensible folks make a change.

Where all others fail Grape-Nuts, being partially predigested and nearly all nourishment, succeeds usually from the first trial.

A lady in Washington says: "My baby 20 months old had never seen a well day in her life. She had suffered from indigestion from the time of her birth, and it seemed impossible to find any food to agree with her. She could keep almost nothing on her stomach and she was in such a constipated condition she suffered a great deal.

"It was then that I tried Grape Nuts for her, steeping it thoroughly and straining it, putting a small portion in each bottle and it worked like a charm. She began to improve immediately and gained HALF a pound the first week.

"Baby got her indigestion from me for my digestive organs have always been weak. I rely on Grape-Nuts for much of my food for there are times when I can get nothing else. I am steadily improving and know Grape-Nuts will make entirely well in time.

"I have never had that tired feeling any more. I get Grape-Nuts and find the others in improved mental strength very forcibly."

"There's a Reason.

A STOWAWAY FOUND DYING

For Two Weeks He Had Neither Food Nor Drink—May Save His Life.

Montreal, Aug. 30.—With the spark of life fast fading, a foreigner was discovered this morning on the Canadian Pacific Steamship Mount Temple, which arrived today from Antwerp. Stretched across the cargo in the after hold, the man had spent the long days and nights of the trip from Europe, and for about two weeks he had lain in the hold of the ship without food or water. Another day of the life of the stowaway, and he would have perished.

He had no money nor property when he was found, except the empty water bottle which had furnished him a few cooking drafts during the earlier stages of the long trip. When the stevedores began work this morning, immediately upon arrival of the ship, they found the man. The chief officer of the Mount Temple was immediately notified, and he was taken to the General Hospital.

YOUNG GIRL TRIES TO END HER LIFE

New York, Aug. 30.—Tossing on a cot in Flower Hospital, with a police man sitting near her to arrest her as soon as she is able to be moved, is a young girl, whose attempted suicide last night in the fashionable Hotel Astor, has resulted in one of the deepest mysteries of the Metropolis. Her identity is unknown. Her clothing was of most fashionable cut and excellent texture, while her features bear every evidence of refinement. Every mark that might have served to identify her had been carefully removed from her clothing, and since she was taken to the hospital, she has steadfastly refused to speak one word about herself, although she has piteously pleaded with the doctors and nurses to let her die.

Unless there are some unforseen developments she will get well. The bullet she fired into her breast, hoping it would lodge in her heart, struck a rib and was deflected. It will be removed later on.

The girl, who is a blonde, apparently not more than 25 years of age, walked into the Astor about midnight, passed straight through the crowded corridors, and on into the ladies' retiring room. A white-aproned maid stepped forward to relieve her of the long blue silk opera cloak that was suspended from her shoulders, but was ignored. Passing across the room the visitor drew a revolver from the folds of her skirt, pressed it to her bosom and fired. She staggered back and fell to the floor, and as the maid raised her head, she whispered:

"I did it myself; now I want to die."

A MOMENTARY PANIC.

There was a momentary panic in the dining room and corridors when the shot was heard, but hotel employes formed a cordon around the door, and word was passed that a woman had accidentally shot herself. The ambulance from Flower Hospital was rushed to a side entrance and the woman carried out.

A gilt mesh purse that she carried contained $1.75, but neither cards nor handkerchief. Manager Muschenheim of the Astor, said she was not a guest and that he had never seen her before.

A search of the girl's clothing revealed three letters. They were addressed simply: "To Mother," "To Sister," "To Blanche." In the letter "To Mother," she said:

"Never reproach yourself for what I am about to do. You have been an angel of love to me, and I regret that I cause you this trouble. The force of fate has proved too strong for me to cope with, and, being defenceless, it has driven me against the wall, and forced me to this cowardly act. Then, too, I hate the insincerity, sordidness and disillusionment of life. That is all that I have met with in the last two years. And now I seek the unknown.

"I can hear you say:

"'Dear, it is very wrong for one to take one's life, whatever the motive may be.' Yet it is really deplorable that a girl cannot get along in New York honorable. In some things I might have succeeded had I conceded to the wishes of men—cultured, yes; usually money, yes; but never moral. I could never submit to such things. Death is preferable. Ill-fortune has pursued me through.

A FAMILY QUARREL.

The letter appeared to be signed "Norah," but the signature was so blurred it could not be deciphered. The letters addressed to "Sister" and "to Blanche" the police refuse to make public. They said they seemed to refer to a family quarrel, and they hope to establish the identity of the girl through them.

In the handbag there was also found a manuscript in verse entitled "Thessalia," extending over seven sheets of paper. There was also this pencilled note;

"This is my pet story. I want to have it buried with me. I would like to take my books with me as companions."

The British Association.

Sheffield, Eng., Aug. 31.—The annual meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science which met last year in Winnipeg, will be opened in this city this evening with the inaugural address of the new president, the Rev. Prof. T. G. Bonney, of the University College, London. The meeting, which will continue its sessions for a week or longer, has brought together a distinguished body of representatives of the scientific, educational, ecclesiastical and commercial activities of the British Empire.

Mr. George Fleming, of Mount Pleasant, British Columbia, formerly of Peterborough, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. David Rennings, Simcoe St.

GRAND RECEPTION TO PAPAL LECATE

Will Occur on Frontenac Terrace at Quebec —A Hundred Boats to Leave Montreal to Escort Prelates

Montreal, Aug. 30.—Archbishop Bruchesi leaves Montreal this evening from Bonaventure station for Rimouski and Father Point, where he will extend Canada's first welcome to Cardinal Vannutelli, the papal legate to the Eucharistic Congress, on the arrival of the C. P. R. Atlantic steamship Empress of Ireland.

His Grace will journey to Rimouski by the Intercolonial, and he will be accompanied by Mgr. Tampieri, Canon Dauth and Father Donnelly, parish priests of St. Anthony's. The party will embark on the Empress of Ireland, which has on board, besides the cardinal legate, the primate of all Ireland, Cardinal Logue, and other high dignataries of the Roman Catholic Church.

ON FRONTENAC TERRACE.

At Quebec the legate and his party will land, and a welcome will be tendered to them by Archbishop Begin and the lieutenant-governor on the terrace of the Chateau Frontenac. Subsequently the legate and party will proceed on the government steamer Lady Grey, via Three Rivers and Sorel, to Montreal. The bishop of Three Rivers will join the party at Three Rivers, and bishop of St. Hyacinthe at Sorel. The party are expected to reach Montreal on the afternoon of September 3.

BIG FLOTILLA TO MEET HIM.

The flotilla that will escort the Lady Grey to Montreal will meet her in the neighborhood of Point aux Trembles. It has been preparing for the function and the effect is certain to be impressive. The yachts will fly the papal flag at the bow, and the Canadian or British flag at the stern. They will line up in two rows on each side of the Lady Grey, and will steam up the river at a uniform speed. It is expected that over a hundred yachts coming from all parts of the Province, and also from Pittsburg, N.Y., will take part in this demonstration.

NO INTERVIEW YET.

Cardinal Vannutelli will not give out interviews during his sojourn in Canada, or, at least, while the cardinal legate is on board the Lady Grey, which will proceed down the river to Quebec to meet the C.P.R. liner and bring the pope's representative up to Montreal via Three Rivers and Sorel. It appears that this decision on the part of his excellency has been reached on account of the apprehension felt at the vatican that utterances from the legate to Canada might be misrepresented in the public prints and create misunderstanding not only in Canada, but at the capital of the Roman Catholic world.

KEEP REPORTERS OFF.

His excellency has intimated a wish to the Roman Catholic authorities at Quebec and Montreal that no newspaper men be permitted to board the Lady Grey, and in consequence press representatives will be excluded from the steamer during the papal envoy's trip up the River St. Lawrence.

The route for the spectacular Eucharistic Congress procession of Sunday afternoon, September 11, is a veritable path of money for all who can offer windows, balconies and seating accommodation to the thousands of congress visitors to Montreal. Vantage points along the way that have during the past few weeks been picked up in advance at a comparative song are now being resolved at inflated prices.

DR. CRIPPEN IN THE HOSPITAL SUFFERING NERVOUS COLLAPSE

London, Aug. 30.—Dr. Hawley Crippen, jointly accused with Ethel Clare Leneve, of the murder of his wife, has suffered a nervous collapse, and was removed today to the hospital ward of Brixton jail.

Solicitor Newton claims that his client has given him an explanation of the farewell message found among the prisoner's effects by Inspector Dew, which will throw a different light on the matter, when it is made public. The message was read in court yesterday at the arraignment of Crippen and Miss Leneve and indicated that the writer contemplated suicide during his flight to Canada on the steamer Montrose.

ROOSEVELT'S TOUR STIRS ALL THE WEST, PROCLAIM HIM AS NEXT PRESIDENT

Pueblo, Col., Aug. 30.—Pueblo was up early today in preparation for its reception of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, who came here from Denver to dedicate the new Y.M.C.A. building. The welcome the former president received in Denver, where nearly every one in the city turned out to meet him is having a repetition here. Flags and bunting have transformed the streets into vistas of red, white and blue.

An elaborate program has been arranged for the distinguished visitor's day here. Many downtown windows displayed large campaign posters of the colonel, with this legend written in large letters across the top, "Theodore Roosevelt, Our Next President." He goes from here to Osawatomie, Kas., where tomorrow he will discuss important national problems in a speech.

PANIC IN THE LINE.

During the procession in Denver yesterday the gun of one of the deputy sheriffs dropped from its holster and exploded, wounding one of the Roosevelt Guards in the leg. The incident caused a panic in the line for a moment before it was explained. One of the things that endeared Roosevelt to Denver yesterday was the friendship displayed for Judge Ben Lindsey, of the Juvenile Court. He invited Judge Lindsey to the speaker's platform with him.

EDISON TURNS OUT PICTURES THAT TALK

New York, Aug. 30.—"I take very great pleasure, gentlemen, in asking you to watch positively the last appearance of the stage door Johnny. He simply can't fall in love, you know, with a girl one one-hundred-thousandth of an inch thick."

With these remarks Thomas A. Edison last night began the first demonstration that has been given to any one but his own experts of his kinetophone, otherwise his talking pictures. A dozen newspaper men composed the audience that saw, and heard the performance at the West Orange laboratories.

The picture that was thrown on the screen explained itself, literally. The figure of a man stepped forward, bowed and then began to talk—the lips moved in perfect, unmistakable unison with the words that couldn't have come from them, and yet couldn't have come from any place else, it seemed.

HEARD THE BALL FALL.

The man dropped a croquet ball, its impact sounded instantly from the floor. He pounded the table with a little hammer, and there wasn't the fraction of a second between the sight and sound of the blow. He dropped a plate, and as the pieces flew the crash resounded. Finally an automobile horn was sounded, and the demonstration was at an end.

The phonograph from which the sound of the voice and that of the "business" came was behind the screen. The machine from which the pictures were projected was at the other end of the room, yet the synchronism was flawless. Wires attached to the projecting mechanism controlled the two, and their unity was as perfect as that with which the record of the one and the film of the other had been made.

CRESSMAN'S

ADVOCATES THE USE OF THE LASH

Crown Attorney of London Amazed at the Wave of Juvenile Crime of the Day.

London, Aug. 30.—Crown Attorney McKillop today advocated most emphatically the introduction of the lash for juveniles in order to stop the epidemic of juvenile crime that has broken out here.

"The situation," he said, "is the worst I have ever known in my experience in juvenile court and children's aid work. It appears that boys have learned not to fear the light sentences imposed."

It has been proposed in other quarters to do away with juvenile courts altogether and bring children up with the other prisoners, but Magistrate Love does not favor this.

CZAR OF RUSSIA TO MEET KAISER

He Traveled Fourteen Hundred Miles and While Away Was Guarded by Soldiers.

Berlin, Aug. 30.—The Czar of Russia and the Czarina arrived in Friedberg, in Hesse, today, on a visit to the Czar's brother-in-law, the reigning Grand Duke Ernest Louis of Hesse. The 1,400 mile railway journey from St. Petersburg, was made in a special train and every mile of the track guarded by soldiers.

The czar will remain in Friedberg several weeks, during which time the czarina will visit the famous health resort at Nauheim for her heart trouble.

An important meeting between the czar and kaiser will take place before the czar's return to Russia.

BULL DOG ATTACKS MOTHER AND CHILD

Both Seriously Injured—The Child May Die—An Affair at London.

London, Aug. 30.—Three-year-old Ida Kantor and her mother were terribly injured by a bull dog while visiting a chicken fancier named Willis. The dog attacked the child and knocked her to the ground and was tearing at her face when her screams attracted the mother. For some minutes a fierce battle ensued in which Mrs. Kantor was horribly bitten about the arms and body before she succeeded in rescuing the baby. The child is in the hospital in a critical condition.

PUT IN YOUR MONEY AND TAKE OUT STAMPS.

Automatic Vending Machines to Be Installed in Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal and Winnipeg.

Ottawa, Aug. 30.—Postmaster-General Lemieux has ordered fifty stamp vending machines for Canada, by way of experimenting as to their practical value in meeting the demand of the stamp-purchasing public. The machines will be erected at central points in Ottawa, Montreal, Toronto and Winnipeg. As a solution to the vexing problem of the government in meeting the demands of the public in purchasing stamps, experiments have for some time past been made in stamp-vending machines which would deliver stamps automatically when the proper amount was paid. Postmaster-General Lemieux has been watching these experiments for some time past. Now a machine has been perfected and submitted to exhaustive tests with results so good as to give the postmaster-general reason to believe that what he has been looking for has been accomplished.

The machine is a British invention and the tests made by the government were so satisfactory that the British Post Office has ordered a number of these machines for use in the principle post offices in London, and the leading cities of the three kingdoms.

The machine is a British invention, can be replenished practically without cost. It can be fixed on pillar boxes, halls of hotels, railway stations, theaters, mail steamers and other places where stamps are required. It is proof against tampering, immediately rejecting foreign and false coins without operating the machine.

EIGHT COUPLES WED

THIS IS THE RECORD OF ONE AMERICAN CITY.

Is Attracting Much Attention Just Now—Marriage Seems to Become a Sort of Joke for the Public.

Los Angeles, Aug. 30.—Sixteen marriages were shattered yesterday by the law in the Los Angeles divorce courts, against only eight couples who applied for marriage licenses. The record of the day was not only unusual and remarkable, but at the same time astounding. Not all of these marital disturbances, however, can be laid to Los Angeles, as many of those upon whom the marriage tie rested too heavily had come from elsewhere and brought their troubles with them.

It just happened that there were so many cases of divorce on the calendar for the day, and it kept two judges busy all day hearing the plaints of disillusioned wives and husbands from whom the glamor of love had fled. There were fifteen marriages broken by interlocutory decrees and one was annulled. There were fourteen more divorce cases on the calendar today. This state of affairs has aroused much comment among the ministers of the city.

"I have noticed with sorrow the increasing number of divorced people who want to marry," said Dr. Charles Edward Locke today. "The ease with which the marriage ties are now broken is the basis of a protest sweeping over the world against the divorce evil. Right-minded people are realizing the great chaos which must ensue unless divorce is stopped."

"A crusade against the divorce evil as existing in Los Angeles today, should receive the support of every right-minded man and woman," said Rev. Arthur S. Phelps, D.D. "Marriage is becoming recognized by the public as a sort of joke. I have found almost invariably that divorced persons who marry again are unhappy."

"I believe that on the whole the moral condition of the city is looking up, but it is certainly horrible when divorces exceed marriages."

The Boy Scouts.

REV. DR. CARMAN AS A LEADER

When Rev. Dr. Carman was first appointed as general superintendent of the Methodist Church he was the senior associate of the late Rev. Dr. Williams. At the time of Methodist Union two superintendents were required. It is not plain that the General Conference after the death of Dr. Williams showed wisdom in putting all the work of supervision upon Dr. Carman. The Church extends from Newfoundland to the Pacific Ocean, and even crosses to Japan and China. One man could not attend to the countless chairmanships and other details which go with the office, and at the same time visit the various conferences with sufficient frequency.

Dr. Carman, who is the personification of energy, did his best, but of late years the new conditions that have been brought about by the rapid settle ent of the West made it plain that he was attempting the impossible. There was a formidable movement at Victoria to have three superintendents, but this was defeated. The Church goes back to its former arrangement. Dr. Carmen will be the senior superintendent and Rev. Dr. Chown is named as his associate.

The work of Dr. Chown as the secretary of the Moral Reform Committee is well known. He possesses the diplomatic tact which enables him to deal even with a parliamentary Committee, and the firmness which does not permit him to depart from his objective. He is no small bigot but a man of broad vision and lively imagination. He will bring to the office a close personal knowledge of the problems of Methodism in the West as well as in the East, and undoubtedly will be conspicuous success as an administrator.

Be sure and take a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with you when starting on your trip this summer. It cannot be obtained on board the trains or steamers. Changes of water and climate often cause sudden attacks of diarrhoea, and it is best to be prepared. Sold by all dealers.

Streets Not Ready For Work of Paving

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Sir,—I am amazed at the City Council's efforts to force street paving under present conditions, and desire to give a few reasons why I think the proposal to pave George street is entirely out of order at the present time. In the first place, before any paving is done on any of the streets, care should be taken to see that everything is in order for it. What I mean is, that connections with the sewers be made, etc.

Now, Sir, I am informed that this is not the case on George street, which it is proposed to pave. I am also informed that a new sewer will have to be constructed on George street, as the present one is far too small to carry off the surface water after a rainstorm. It would be rather expensive to pull up the new pave ment to enlarge the sewer.

While writing, I would like to ask our city aldermen what about the Smith street bridge. I am told the cost will far exceed the sum voted by the people. Is this true? If so, who is to blame?

BADEN-POWELL OPENS EXHIBITION

English Scouts There, Too, and Are Taking Part in the Performance—The Big Fair is in Full Swing.

Toronto, Aug. 30.—Canada's National Exhibition is open today in in every sense of the word. Yesterday it was open, but not quite ready Today it was open and ready.

Early this afternoon the formal opening ceremonies took place. "Ceremonies" is rather a misnomer, for the affair itself was rather simple, but the imperial character of the fair was emphasized by the fact that the man who performed the simple ceremony was Lieutenant-General Sir Robert Baden-Powell, hero of Mafeking, and one of the best known and most popular officers of the British army. That his Imperial services have made for him a big place in the esteem of the Canadian people was shown by the enthusiasm with which he was greeted at the Exhibition Grounds today. Today he was the hero of the Toronto Exhibition.

BOY SCOUT DAY.

Baden-Powell has, however, retired from the British army, and is in Canada, not as a soldier, but as chief scout of the Boy Scouts, the organization of which he is the founder and the chief moving spirit. It was therefore fitting that the opening spectacle of the Fair should be a review of the Boy Scouts and an exhibition of them and their scout craft. Instead of being called opening day, today might better have been named Baden-Powell and Boy Scout Day.

Baden-Powell, who during his visit in Toronto is staying with Mr. E. B. Osler, M.P., was escorted to the grounds by Mr. W. K. McNaughton, honorary president of the Exhibition Association. He was taken to the Administration Building and entertained at luncheon by the directors, where brief and informal speeches were made. The lieutenant-governor, Hon. J. M. Gibson, was also present.

After the luncheon Sir Robert was escorted to the grand stand by the directors, and by the company of British Boy Scouts, who have accompanied him on his Canadian tour. In front of the grand stand he was presented with an address by Mr. G. H. Gooderham, president of the Exhibition Association.

BIG SERUM DOSE CURES.

Unusual Amount is Used to Treat Advanced Stage of Tetanus.

St. Louis, Aug. 30.—After having lain for three days in a continuous spasm, due to tetanus in an advanced stage, Gertrude Bedsaer, a 10-year-old girl of this city, was cured by the use of an unusual amount of tetanus serum. Nine thousand units of the serum was injected into the child's system in doses of 3,000 units the usual "immunizing" dose being, it is said, 500 units. The treatment was administered over a period of thirty-six hours, with the effect that the child is now pronounced out of danger.

Dysentery is a dangerous disease but can be cured. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has been successfully used in nine epidemics of dysentery. It has never been known to fail. It is equally valuable for children and adults, and when reduced with water and sweetened, it is pleasant to take. Sold by all dealers.

CANDY PHONOGRAPHY.

They called them lozenges, but the name was inappropriate, for a lozenge, properly speaking, is shaped like a diamond, and these were more frequently in the form of hearts and leaves and squares and oblongs, especially hearts. Sometimes they were kept in big glass bottles, but more often they lay in the store window and became fly-blown. The children did not mind, though, for flies were looked upon as friendlier things in those days. Often, when the white lozenges had basked long in the hot sun, the red print upon them faded, but it never became quite undecipherable. The young folk could always tell whether the lozenge said "I love you," or asked "Will you marry me."

The "conversation lozenges" have almost entirely disappeared. So have the boys and girls who used to toss them across the schoolrooms when the teacher was away. They are alive, no doubt, but they never would admit it. The whole proceeding was crude, not to say coarse and if they still cherish the memory with somewhat of a sneakish pleasure they take care to entomb it in their own bosoms and to keep it there. Even the inventor of the lozenges has been lost sight of in the march of years. The 'conversation lozenges' then is a member of the "Can't Come Back Association." It has given place to delights more modern though often quite as foolish. But there is a form in which it might be reincarnate, in which it might be rehabilitated in the public esteem, in which it might burgeon forth into a new and more lasting vogue.

The phonograph is a wonderful instrument. Just how wonderful is the transmission of the human voice the present generation does not realize, so accustomed has it become to hearing the words of man from the mouthpiece of an inanimate toy. Everyone is familiar with the brown disc with its convolution of tiny scorings, around which the busy needle travels, and wherein lie those tiny inequalities which mark the difference between silence and sounds. Most people have handled as well as seen these records; not a few have marked their resemblance to hard chocolate, and thereby hangs a suggestion:

It is to be hoped that the candy manufacturers will take it. In a phonograph record of "vulcanized" chocolate, the "conversation lozenge" would live again and be glad and the possibilities which are thus opened up are vast. No longer need the family dog rest content with hearing "his master's voice." He could eat it up. No longer need the neighborhood declare, with sullen wrath, that Smith must either buy new tunes for his machine or be tarred and feathered. Smith would succumb to temptation, or his wife would. In a moment of weakness they would eat their records, and next evening their long-suffering neighbours would rejoice to hear new tunes from the direction of the Smith residence. There are some phonographic records that ought to be eaten. They have been played to death. And how refreshing it would be to take a bite of Cavaleria Rusticana, or a mouthful of William Tell. Liars might be made to "eat their words" in the most literal of senses. Of a truth the lozenge will not have lived in vain if it proves to have been the chrysalis of a talking machine chocolate.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

A RARE CHANCE.

Remember That Asbestos is Daily Increasing in Use in Electrical Work.

Any intelligent man of business, or any manufacturer knows that asbestos is, of all mineral substances, greatly in demand. Asbestos is essential to makers of electrical apparatus of all kinds, and is used freely in the manufacture of paints and many other commodities. The Province of Quebec has in the past supplied the great majority of the asbestos used throughout the world. Now however, rich asbestos lands have been discovered in the State of Wyoming. This mineral is found there in a fibre, equal to most of the Quebec product, fortunately also the Wyoming asbestos lands are within easy reach of steam transportation. A Toronto syndicate, of which Mr. Frederick Nicholls, President of the Grand Trunk Railway Company, is a director, has secured a rich asbestos property in Wyoming, and are so confident in the value of the property that they are offering a limited number of shares at $1 per share. The proposition is well worth investigation.

THE PUBLIC DESIRE TO SEE MISS ETHEL LENEVE.

Theatrical Offers to Unfortunate Girl Indicate Morbid Mere Worship Says a Writer.

London, Aug. 30.—The fact that an enterprising music hall management has offered Miss LeNeve the sum of £200 a week to appear at a theater is one more proof that the public's morbid tastes are still as prevalent as ever, says M.A.P.

Supposing for a moment, that when Lord Lister discovered antiseptic surgery he could have been prevailed upon to show himself at a London music hall, how many people would have paid even sixpence to go and see him, although it is no exaggeration to say that he is one of the greatest human benefactors that the human race has seen?

But an unfortunate misguided girl who disguises herself as a boy and flees the country in the company of a man who will be tried for a terrible crime is regarded by the entertainment caterers as a sufficiently good "draw" to be worth the salary of a hard-worked cabinet minister.

THE PUBLIC TO BLAME?

One can hardly blame the music-hall manager, for he has to consult his public; but the fact that his public want this class of "entertainment" is a certain sign of depraved taste. Unfortunately, women are the greatest lovers of "sensations" of a criminal nature, and there have been numerous cases of women offering themselves in marriage to condemned prisoners.

Occasionally men show equally perverted emotional tendencies. The other day for instance, a man wrote proposing marriage to a woman lying under sentence of death for the murder of her child.

While quite admitting that these are more or less isolated instances, with a distinct pathological explanation, it cannot be denied that the morbid love of the ghastly exists with the majority of uneducated people.

ENCOURAGING EVIL-DOING.

But why, it may be asked, should people not flock to see criminals? Why should not the latter appear at music halls and other public places, if it pleases the public that they should do so?

The answer is that the offering of large sums of money to persons connected with crimes that they may show themselves at music halls is a direct incentive to evil-doing. There are hundreds of ill-balanced girls and young men who, on reading that a wrong-door has been offered a large salary, will be induced to commit some rash act in the hope of being offered a similar remuneration.

Nowadays, it is certainly more "paying" to be a criminal who takes the public's fancy than to be a scientific genius or a poet of the first rank.

SMUGGLED NECKLACE WAS HIDDEN IN HER HAT.

Society Leader of Poughkeepsie Must Tell Customs Authorities Why She Did It.

New York, Aug. 30.—Mrs. I. Reynolds Adriance, society leader and wife of a millionaire manufacturer of Poughkeepsie, N.Y., was this morning declared liable to arrest at her hearing this afternoon before the customs authorities on a charge of smuggling a $6,000 pearl necklace hidden in her hat.

With the discovery of the alleged fraud on the arrival of the liner Baltic yesterday, Mrs. Adriance was ordered to appear this afternoon before the surveyor of the port, preparatory to her appearance in the Federal Court before Commissioner Shields. Her beautiful twenty-year-old daughter, Miss Marion C. Adriance, who has been abroad at school and returned with her mother, was also ordered to appear.

In the hands of the authorities is a second necklace found upon Mrs. Mary S. Doughty, who accompanied the Adriance party abroad. Mrs. Doughty was ordered to explain possession of it to the authorities when Mrs. Adriance should appear.

On Thursday a severe electrical storm passed over Mariposa township, and Mr. Reuben Gerrill, lot 19, con. 15, had the misfortune to lose five valuable cows. They were in the pasture field at the time and were killed by lightning.

Deputation to Lindsay.

The Lindsay Post says that a deputation is expected from Peterborough this week to inspect the new street paving which is being put down on William street in that town. Our aldermen appear to take it for granted that George street is to be paved notwithstanding the protests of the ratepayers.

After 37 Years.

The Times had a call yesterday from Mr. W. L. Morris of Chicago, who leaves for home this morning. Mr. Morris left Peterborough 37 years ago, and naturally sees many changes in the city. He is a son of the late Dr. Morris, who was known throughout the district as the manufacturer of "Dr. Morris' Electric Fluid," which had a large sale in this locality at that time. Mr. Morris is the guest of Mr. Fred Andrews, Gilmour street.

Men Like to Own Their Homes.

The Ontario Bank Lots put on the market by Mr. Dumble are in great demand. Six houses are now built or in course of construction. If more of our land owners were to put lots on the market at a low price poor men could afford to buy and build. Men like to own their little homes—it is better than paying rent.

SELL

stocks and bonds of all iron, steel and smelting companies.

WHY? Because they are capitalized on the earnings of their blast furnaces now turning out base and precious metals. These blast furnaces are going to the scrap heap.

RENDALL FURNACES will supersede blast furnaces everywhere. They cost only one-fifth the price to build and produce pure metal from any kind of ore for one-half the cost of production by any other process now used.

BUY

Rendall Steel Stock

WHY? Because all iron and steel makers must buy RENDALL FURNACES—and every mining camp, where copper, silver, lead and zinc is produced must add continually to the Rendall Steel Company's income, which will amount to $17,000,000 a year in time from earnings and royalties. This means about $90 per share annual dividends on Rendall Steel stock.

Some years ago an eminent authority, Abram S. Hewitt, after a careful study made in the library of Sir Henry Bessemer, was able to demonstrate that the BESSEMER PROCESS of making iron and steel added, directly and indirectly, $2,000,000,000 YEARLY TO THE WORLD'S WEALTH.

Since then there has been steady increase over this two thousand million dollars a year.

HENRY BESSEMER'S INVENTION IS NOW SUPERSEDED BY GEORGE F. RENDALL'S INVENTION.

There will be no more BESSEMER STEEL. IT WILL BE ALL RENDALL STEEL. "Rendall Steel stock will go up to $500 a share and pay enormous dividends." Reliable, eminent authorities in mining and metallurgy predict this.

GIRL'S NAME IS MISS VERA FITCH

HAD FAILED IN HER EFFORTS TO MAKE A LITERARY SUCCESS IN NEW YORK.

Hopes She Will Succumb—Bullet Missed Her Heart By Only a Few Inches—In Critical State.

New York, Aug. 31.—The young woman who shot herself in the Astor Hotel on Monday night, and declined to reveal her identity, has been identified as Vera Fitch, of Oakland, California. Her condition is critical. An operation was performed last night, but the bullet was not removed. It entered the left lung.

The girl, according to the hospital authorities, was dejected over her literary failure.

When Dr. Hughes of the Flower Hospital staff, told her that there was but little hope for her, she smiled and murmured; "Thank God, I shall be successful in one thing at least."

The girl—she is hardly more than twenty years old, the doctors say, and one of the most beautiful ever brought into the institution. She has a low soft voice, costly clothing, and daintily-kept hands.

That the girl had come to this city to make a career, and that she had dismally failed, was made certain by the note she left for her mother, in which she pleaded that if she had been willing to accede to the demands of men she had met she need not have tried to end her life.

The girl used a twenty-two caliber revolver, of a well-known make, and the bullet missed her heart by only a few inches. The weapon is pearl-handled and an expensive one, and the police this afternoon started to trace it, in the hope of thus learning the girl's identity.

WORE ENGLISH SKIRT.

On one of the girl's skirts was found a label of Hetherington, London, a well-known British costume manufacturers. When they found that they could identify the girl the police decided to give out the other two letters. The first, addressed to "Dear Blanche," read as follows:

"You may and may not think me foolish, but I have made up my mind to do it from the time that dear daddy died. I have not had many happy moments, but I am accountable for what I do, and I am willing to take chances. The women writers for newspapers, print a lot of foolish nonsence about these things. They are generally far from the real mark. They very seldom give the real reason—reason for acts such as I am about to commit. They usually say it is the result of a love affair. In this instance, however, as you know, love has nothing to do with it. As with King Midas, where everything turned to gold, in my case everything turns to failure. Think kindly of me. I might not have been so, but mine has been an unhappy life."

This letter had been signed, but the signatures had been erased.

TRIED TO BE INDEPENDENT.

The other letter, addressed to "Dearest Sister," read as follows:

"Of course we disagree on this, as we do on every other topic. We have been both at fault, and unfortunately my disposition has been such that I could not always see things as some of my friends have. You never did understand me nor my way of doing things. Now that our wills are about to clash for the last time, you may think more kindly of me. Within the last two years I have several times been tempted to do this, and now I will be successful for the first time in my life. It is hard to do this, but harder still not to do it. Do not grieve for me. I have never intentionally done or said any unkind things in my life. I realize that my life has been a mistake—a horrible mistake. Oblivion is what I want. You know how earnestly I have tried to help myself and be independent—but with what success. You, of all others, know that my life has been a failure. I hope and pray that my blessings may fall on your life like autumn leaves, and wish you success. Say goodbye for me to the dear ones. Again I ask you to think kindly of me."

LADY ERSKINE WAS FOUND DEAD

Daughter of Earl of Buchan, Who Was to Wed Arthur Broderick, Died From Exposure.

Glasgow, Aug. 31.—The body of a woman on which there was a large sum of money in notes and gold was found in a remote spot of the Scottish moors on Aug. 26. It has been identified as that of Lady Marjories Erskine, the second daughter of the Earl of Buchan. There is no evidence of foul play, however, and it is believed that she lost her way on the moors and died of exposure.

A man who was searching for white heather found the body lying in a secluded spot near the historic rock of Craigillachie, whose cliffs rise above Aviemore, Lord Cardross, the deceased's brother, identified the remains from the clothing. Among the papers found on the body was a receipted bill bearing the name of a hotel at Kingussit. The body had apparently lain on the spot where it was found for a month.

Lady Marjorie surprised her friends in 1904 by entering a hospital in London as a probationer nurse. Her engagement to Arthur Broderick, youngest daughter of Viscount Middleton, was announced in December, 1908. This caused a sensation. Ten days later it was stated that the marriage would not occur, although the date had been fixed and the banns published. No reason was given for the breaking off of the engagement.

THE MILITIA IS GUARDING JAIL

Mobs Who Attempted to Lynch Negro Prisoner Held Back.

Huntington, West Virginia, Aug. 31.—With three companies of State militia under personal command of Adjutant-General Elliott, on guard, and a machine gun in front of the county jail, no further rioting is anticipated today by the mobs, which for two successive nights stormed the jail, in an effort to lynch the negroes John Wayne and Charles Clybarn, alleged murderers.

The Charleston military company, making the fourth company to be called out, will arrive during the day.

Thirty persons have been arrested, charged with participating in the rioting during the last two nights.

Local License Conditions.

Talking of license conditions in Peterboro. This city seems to comply with the license laws in a far superior manner to what other nearby towns do. In Peterboro if a grocer wants a liquor license, he must have his grocery department and that in which intoxicants are sold entirely separate from one another. In Cobourg, at least, one grocery store with liquor attachments has a handy way of combining the two branches. At the rear of the grocery one simply steps into a passage-way, walk about three feet, and, hey presto, one is in the abode of spirits. Such conditions would not be tolerated by the local license board.

GUARD GOT DUPLICATE KEYS MADE FOR MOIR

McCullough Swears His Fellow-Guard Paid Him to Give Keys to Murderer —Dr. English Testifies

Hamilton, Aug. 31.—Acting on the advice of the attorney-general's department, the Crown authorities today arraigned Mcteith Trapnell, one of the two attendants at the asylum accused of aiding Murderers Moir and Taggart to escape, under the common law.

McCullough, who has already admitted his guilt, stands convicted. He was not allowed to change his plea, and will be sentenced later.

CONVICTED GUARD IN BOX.

The Crown protested against Trapnell's lawyer trying to induce Dr. English to pass an opinion on Moir's condition, and Messrs. Kerr and O'Reilly, lawyers for the defendants, both protested strenuously gainst McCullough going on the stand, but the magistrate ruled out the objections.

"I had been only working at the asylum a month," said McCullough, "when Trapnell came to me and said Moir was only a young man and it was a shame to see him locked up.

GAVE MOIR THE KEYS.

"Shortly after Trapnell threw fifty cents on the table and asked me to get some keys made. When I got a day off I got duplicates made down town of the keys Trapnell gave me. I paid forty cents for them and handed the keys and change back to Trapnell. He warned me to keep my mouth shut.

"On the Saturday before the escape he handed me the keys to give to Moir, which I did. Nothing had been said about Taggart going."

McCullough then recited how he had given the alarm on the morning of the escape. He had heard no noise during the night.

Detective Bleakley told of arresting Trapnell, who said: "I had expected this."

"'Why did you expect it?' I asked. 'I expected they would swear me into it,' he said."

DETECTIVE IN NEXT CELL.

The detective testified that after the prisoners were remanded on Monday morning he had been in a cell between the two they were confined in. McCullough said: "Well, Monty, what do you think of it now?" Trapnell said: "It looks bad. Did they find out who brought the keys in?" McCullough answered: "Yes, and I think they knew who brought the saw to him." That was all that was said. Mr. O'Reilly kicked about not being allowed to see the indictment until the last minute, and still insisted that there was no law covering the case.

"This is for the higher court to decide," said the magistrate.

Trapnell was committed for trial. McCullough was remanded for eight days.

A LOCAL CITIZEN CLEANS UP $50,000

The Times is creditibly informed that a well known and popular Peterboro young man recently made an investment that brought him a nice fortune, estimated at $50,000. This large sum of money was made by a fortunate investment in an industrial stock that a short time ago took a strong upward turn. We are not at liberty at this writing to publish the name of the lucky investor, but expect to do so soon.

MAN JUMPED FROM OR FELL FROM ROOF OF A 28-STOREY BUILDING

New York, Aug. 31.—Crowds on Park Row, one of the city's busiest streets, stopped horrified today at the sight of a man's body hurling through the air from the roof of the twenty-six storey Park Row building. The body crashed into the skylight of the six-storey building adjoining, and became jammed in the machinery of the elevator in the building. It was hardly recognizable, and some difficulty was anticipated in identifying it. Surgeons who made a hasty examination said that the man had been instantly killed.

No one seems to have seen the man go to the roof of the building, and it was not known whether he fell from the dizzy height, or deliberately jumped to his death.

The victim of the fatal plunge was a well dressed man, apparently about 45 years old. From papers found on the body it is believed to be that of E. H. Holbrook, an insurance solicitor, with offices on Broadway.

FOUR BOYS EMULATED THE JAMES BROTHERS.

One of Them Confessed and a Cave Was Found Full of Stolen Property.

Cobalt, Aug. 31.—After a career which they hoped rivaled the exploits of Jesse James, four French boys have been arrested and their cave discovered. It was very cunningly hidden at the bottom of a steep bluff in an old mining tunnel about a mile outside of Cobalt. The entrance to the cave was well hidden by a boulder, which the gang would roll up to the opening when they left. Isodore Parent, the big chief of the gang, managed to maintain secrecy under terrible oaths, and the cave would not have been discovered if one of the conspirators had not confessed.

In the cave Provincial Constable McKay found 15 watches, 2 revolvers 40 rings, and a number of watch fobs, and many stick pins and trinkets.

A boy was seen running away from a house he had robbed on the O'Brien property. He was taken into custody, and after hours of close questioning, told with sobs the whole story of the cave and a year-long series of robberies. According to his narrative there is also another cave and gang at Latchford, with whom the Cobalt juveniles corresponded and worked.

Wisconsin Bars Public Cups.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 1.—The law against public drinking cups on railroad trains and at public fountains went into effect today, and, in accordance with their instructions the trainmen on all trains coming into Wisconsin from adjoining states or passing through Wisconsin on their way from one neighboring state to another, carefully remove the drinking cups before reaching the state line and kept them locked up until the train passed beyond the line into another state.

UNFROCKED CLERGYMAN SHOT TWO WOMEN THEN COMMITTED SUICIDE

Kansas City, Aug. 31.—The Rev. C. S. L. Brown, formerly pastor of the Christian Church in Lee Summit, Mo., late last night shot and killed Mrs. Edith Ward, seriously wounding Mrs. Ann E. Lampsons, and then committed suicide in a rooming house. Jealousy is said to have been the cause of the tragedy.

Two years ago, Brown, who had received a medal for bravery during the Boer War, confessed that he had gambled away $300 of church funds. He replaced the money and was forgiven. But four months later he forged checks for $60, lost the money in a poker game, and was placed in the county jail. He was unfrocked, and quit the ministry. Since then he has worked as a street car conductor and locomotive fireman.

WILL NOT SELL HAIR.

French Peasant Girls Not Willing to Part With Tresses.

Vienna, Aug. 31.—There is a scarcity in the French hair market just at present, and puffs and switches are very hard to obtain, as peasant girls are no longer willing to part with their tresses. No such scarcity exists in the Austrian hair market and abundant supplies come from Hungary. After being all the rage in Vienna for several years, blonde hair is disappearing gradually and it is expected that raven locks will be in vogue during the coming autumn.

SAYS GREAT BRITAIN HAS BEEN HARD HIT

St. Petersburg, Aug. 31.—The text of the treaty by which the Korean Kingdom was annexed to the Empire of Japan, just published here, in the occasion of a bitterly sarcastic editorial in the Novoe Vremya. The document, the paper says, constitutes "an historical example of shameless hypocrisy." The judical importance of the treaty is null, says the Novoe Vremya.

The Novoe Vremya adds that Russia's interests in the hermit kingdom are insignificant, and for that reason Russian diplomacy will not raise its voice in protest. Great Britain and the United States have been hard hit in the opinion of the editor, who, however, concludes that as war is the sole means of annulling an accomplished fact, the situation will be accepted, "for assuredly no one would go to war for Korea."

FOUND A CHECK.

Employe of Crystal Restores $24.75 to Its Owner.

Yesterday morning as Mr. Jack Smith, pianist at the Crystal, was on his way up George street, at the corner of Hunter street, picked up a pay cheque drawn by the Canadian General Electric Co., for $24.75, in favor of R. Morgan, an employe there. Mr. Smith at once communicated with the C.G.E. Co. office by phone and Mr. Campbell, of that office, called at the Crystal for the cheque which has been handed over to its rightful owner. It might be noted that this story was only learned at a late hour last night, after an adv. put in by Mr. Morgan had been set up and printed. Whilst the adv. would probably have resulted in that gentleman getting back his lost cheque, if found, all the more credit is due to the finder for his prompt action in returning the valuable document as he was not aware that the missing cheque had been advertised.

East Indian Teachers Fomenting Sedition

With Their Pay So Miserably Low They are Prone to Discontent — Are Menace to England.

Calcutta, Sept. 1.—The government of India had at last awakened to the fact that the condition of the native teachers is a menace to the peace and security of the dependency.

It is acknowledged that native teachers have been and are often the disseminators of discontent and sedition. When their position and pay are borne in mind this will not be surprising. There are three grades of schools in India: the primary school, where the vernacular only is taught; the middle school, where a four years' instruction is given in English, and the higher school, where pupils are prepared for college.

The pay of the native teacher in the primary schools range from $2.50 to $10 a month after long service. In the middle schools the salaries range from $10 to $12.50 a month, and a headmaster considers himself fortunate if after 30 years' service he receives $50 a month. The village school master with at least $120 a year, is often also a postmaster and keeper of the village pound for stray cattle; and if he can save a few shillings becomes also money-lender of the village.

Is it surprising that these men are tempted to complain of their lot and to seek, by influencing the discontented, some compensation for their own miserable position? Even in the high schools it is rare that a head master receives more than $2000 a year. Until a few years ago the native training colleges were looked upon as penal institutions to which native teachers were sent when they failed to satisfy the inspectors or local officials. This has now been changed. It is also proposed to increase the salaries of the teachers.

The government of India would do well to deal liberally with those men and to remove from them both the temptation and the opportunity to lose their influence against their rulers. It would be wise also to make attendance at school voluntary by prohibiting the pressure occasionally put upon natives by eager officials.

The vernacular press is a standing menace. The native in his village has not got beyond the stage when he sees in type. If the government cannot supply him with a sane newspaper it might at least see that the village schoolmaster has at his command a supply of books dealing with the simple wants of the people. These books do not exist at this moment, but their production would be easy and not costly, and their value would be beyond estimate.

Gambling Outlawed in Nevada.

Reno, Nev., Sept. 1.—By the going into effect today of the law prohibiting public gambling in the State of Nevada, the gamblers have been driven from their last trench, as Nevada was the last State in which public gambling was tolerated. Anticipating the closing of their season the gamblers from this part of the country made the best of their opportunity and the owners of local gambling dens did a tremendous business during the past few weeks.

SBARRETTI NOT AT THE CONGRESS

CANADA'S PAPAL LEGATE IS IN ITALY—DIFFERENCE WITH QUEBEC BISHOPS.

Laurier and Bourassa—Both Will Be Speakers at the Great Gathering in Montreal.

Montreal, Aug. 31.—The question as to the attendance of the highest Roman Catholic Church dignitary in the Dominion at the coming Eucharistic congress celebration has at last been settled by an official statement given out yesterday afternoon just before Mgr. Bruchesi left for Rimouski to meet the cardinal legate.

Mgr. Sbaretti will not be at the congress, nor has the papal delegate at Ottawa left his native Italy, having been residing quietly in the vicinity of Rome for some months past.

It has been rumored for some time past that there have been acute differences between the delegate at Ottawa and the Bishop of Quebec over the appointment of a successor to the late Archbishop Duhamel, and the opinion prevails that the delegate will not return to Canada, although his secretary remains here.

Cardinal Vannutelli, Cardinal Logue, Cardinal Gibbons, as well as other distinguished clergy, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Lomer Gouin, Hon. Chas. Doherty, Hon. Mr. Tellier, and many other leading public men of Canada are included in the list of speakers at the Eucharistic Congress as officially announced yesterday.

DEEPLY THANKFUL TO PROTESTANTS

FOR SYMPATHY TOWARDS EUCHARISTIC CONGRESS AND AID IN ENTERTAINING VISITORS.

Pope's Legate Will Be Given a Reception on Frontenac Terrace — Handsomely Decorated.

Montreal, Aug. 31.—At the Franciscan church, Dorchester street, the first of the triduums in connection with the Eucharistic Congress opened last evening. The church was handsomely decorated with streamers of the Papal colors and hundreds of church banners.

Rev. Father Ethelbert preached the opening sermon on the text: "The Message of the International Congress."

It is anticipated that the Empress of Ireland with Cardinal Vannutelli, the papal legate, and Cardinal Logue, primate of Ireland, on board, will reach Rimouski tomorrow morning. Here the distinguished visitors will be met by Archbishop Bruchesi of Montreal. Together they should reach Quebec tomorrow soon, and be given a reception on the Frontenac Terrace.

Mgr. Bruchesi, before he left the city, expressed himself in the most enthusiastic manner concerning the great congress next week. Harmony was prevalent among all classes of society, he said, and one of the most encouraging signs was the sympathy and support lent by the non-Catholics of the city. His grace was deeply thankful to the Protestants who were helping to entertain the many visitors, and had in other ways helped towards the success of the congress.

PELLETIER IS ILL.

Quebec, Aug. 31.—Owing to the serious illness of Sir C. A. P. Pelletier, lieutenant-governor of the Province of Quebec, he will be unable to attend the reception that will be rendered to his eminence Cardinal Vannutelli on his arrival in Quebec tomorrow.

Sir L. A. Jette, former lieut-governor of the Province, will act in the place of Sir C. A. P. Pelletier, and will attend in that capacity the Eucharistic Congress in Montreal.

LOCAL SCOUTS PRAISED.

Peterborough Boys Well Received in Toronto and on Their Return Home.

The Boy Scouts of Peterborough, who took part in Toronto, in the great reception to Sir General Baden Powell, returned home last night on the 7.33 C.P.R. train. The boys looked well and conducted themselves in a strictly soldierly way. They received special mention by the general, who complimented them on their good organization and excellent drill. They were met by the 57th Regt. Bugle Band, which played inspiring music, as the young defenders of their country marched up town. Their return march was witnessed by a large number of citizens.

Cavan Men's Narrow Escape.

It is to be hoped that the old saying "Lightning never strikes the same place twice," is applicable to [illegible] when W. Tinney and L. Parnell of Cavan last Tuesday, had taken refuge from a thunderstorm in a shed in that township. Mr. Parnell, as the storm progressed, was leaning against a buggy wheel, when the insidious and deadly electric fluid struck and knocked him unconscious. Mr. Tinney, who was seated in the buggy got the flag end of the flash, but was not seriously injured. The flash or bolt struck and destroyed a garden implement. Messrs. Tinney and Parnell had an experience with the forces of nature they do not wish to have repeated.

Mr. Hammond Lee, of the Canadian Machine Telephone Co., was in Lindsay Saturday.

VARICOSE VEINS CURED

NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT.

Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on Varicose Veins. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family doctor told me of operations, but mean found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than quacks. One day my landlord asked me why I was not working so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and they were very square and skilful. I wrote them and got Their New Method Treatment. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $12 a week in a manufactory when I commenced, now I earn double that and never loose a day. I also advise all persons know of your valuable treatment."

DENOUNCE MASONS.

Roman Church Bishop Fiercely Attacks All Shades of Order.

Montreal, Aug. 31.—Bishop Archambault of Joliette has come out with a fierce blast against Free masonryf All Masonic lodges, he declared in a sermon in Joliette Cathedral yesterday, whether they be English, Scotch or French, come under the excommunication of the Church, and members will be refused the sacraments at the hour of death and also burial in consecrated grounds.

He had learned that certain residents of Joliette were Masons and he warned those that if it could be proven he would denounce them from the cathedral pulpit and would ask the faithful to vote against them either at municipal, political or other elections.

Whitby Hop Dive Raided.

A Whitby despatch notes that four people were arrested there Tuesday evening in a Chinese laundry, charged with smoking opium. The prisoners are two whites, a young man named Parabee, and a girl, giving the name of Edna Fink, of Oshawa, and two Chinese, proprietors of the laundry. To those posted in such matters, it is no secret that, right in this city is a Chinese laundry where the unmistakeable smell of "hop" being cooked, as it is made into pills for the pipe, may be recognized almost any day in the week.

TRINITY SCHOOL REVISITED.

Peterborough Has Visits Great Port Hope Institution After Many Years.

Day before yesterday a local citizen, who some thirty-five years ago attended Trinity College School, Port Hope, happened to be in that burg, and went out to see his former school boy scenes. Here, the principal, Rev. Dr. Rigby, finding the Peterborough man was a former T.C.S. pupil, devoted an hour or two of his limited time to showing the splendid new buildings of that seat of learning. Naturally, as a "Divine," the doctor showed the chapel, recently reconstructed and decorated. On the walls of this handsome structure hangs a large brass plaque, placed in honor of three Canadian soldiers, former T.C.S. boys, who lost their lives in South Africa in defence of the Empire. Not only the Peterborough boys who attend T.C.S., but the thousands of past and present students there have every reason to be proud of their scholastic surroundings and to regard with deepest feelings of admiration the present head of this great Canadian school, which, in Canada, very similar in kind to Eton and Harrow of England. The T.C.S. "Old Boy" who could revist that school and not have his emotions affected must be devoid of all finer feelings.

STREET-WALKING GIRLS.

The Owen Sound Herald has started on a crusade against street walking and kindred habits of young girls in the northern town. The O.S. Herald's intention is to publish the names of all girls seen on the streets after ten o'clock at night without guardians. The Herald in its announcement of the proposal said in part:

"Drastic measures apparently will have to be taken to curb the untrammeled tendencies of the numerous children who throng the streets at all indecent hours of the night. The practice has been going on long enough now, and it is time that it was stopped. Consequently The Herald is, to a certain extent, going to take matters into its own hands, and bring up with a round turn, those children, whose parents seem to have no thought of decency or of the propriety of things. After giving ample time for a re-adjustment of the order of things, we have arrived at the conclusion that as there seems to be no improvement in sight we will in the future, freely and without regard for rank or position, publish the name of every child of tender years, that is below the age of fourteen, whom we shall see upon the streets after ten o'clock at night without the escort of a parent or suitable guardian.

"In doing this we do not think we are going a bit too far or that we are exceeding the limits of censorship, and parents, although they may for a time feel angry, will in later days bless us for our action. The time for a change is now at hand, and numerous incidents that have happened recently have brought to our minds the thought of starting a crusade against the children. The thought in this case is father to the deed and from now on we will continue the crusade that we launched two weeks ago by the publication of an article on "Knocking the Flirt," and which was continued last week by our editorial called "Leading on the Flirt." So, to those parents who wish to avoid disgrace coming to them through the medium of their youngsters, we will warn them now to have their children safely housed, within the precincts of the home before ten o'clock or they will see their names in heavy type upon the front page of future issues of The Herald. The police have decided to furnish us with the names of the stray ones and there need be no fear but that we will live up to our part of the contract."

Whether or not the Herald's scheme will prove a deterent to the practice remains to be seen. The Owen Sound paper is shouldering a big responsibility and if it succeeds in keeping the young girls in of nights a drastic action will be justified. Woodstock and other municipalities are in the same boat and here as elsewhere there should be general co-operation to stamp out what appears to be an existent evil.

WATER CARRIAGE ACT.

The new Water Carriage of Goods Act comes into force on September 1st. It is designed to prevent ship owners from contracting themselves out of liability for damages to goods in transit. It merely places water-transportation agencies upon the same basis as the railways.

Vessel owners have complained that the measure places fresh burdens upon them that can only result in such advances in carriage rates as will prove onerous to the shippers themselves. The champions of the Act reply that it will merely put Canadian carriers of export upon an equal footing with the fast freight lines operating out of Canada via such United States ports as Boston and Portland. As American Act renders these Canadian-American carriers in some measure liable for negligence in the carriage of exports, Canadian shipments via Canadian ports have enjoyed no similar protection, and the result has been to encourage the sending of goods through United States ports. The Dominion Act is intended to meet this situation and to strengthen the position of both Canadian exporters and Canadian ship owners.

It is further contended that the Act merely legalizes what some of the Canadian export carriers have been doing voluntarily. In its Pacific service the Canadian Pacific Railway has long assumed full responsibility for damages to goods arising from negligence in their carriage. The shipowners' contention that they will thus become virtually the insurer of goods appears to be over-ridden by the fact that they are now simply placed in the position of land transportation companies. It seems only reasonable that our water carriers should be responsible as to compensation between Canadian ports and from Canadian ports to foreign ports. It is however, as already indicated, the intention is quite likely to throw additional business into their hands and an increased revenue into their coffers.

When the digestion is all right, the action of the bowels regular, there is a natural craving and relish for food. What this is to happiness you may know if you need a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They strengthen the digestive organs, improve the appetite and regulate the bowels. Sold by all dealers.

HOME OF THE SHETLAND.

Little Pony Comes From a Picturesque Country.

Away to the north of Scotland lies the group of islands in which the diminutive horses commonly called Shelties have their home. The Shetlands are not all inhabited, some of the smaller islands being used merely as pasturage for a few sheep. There is little to attract either the agriculturist or the merchant, as progress is slow; the islanders till their land by old-fashioned methods, and many of them still have recourse to barter as a means of obtaining necessities.

To the lover of the beautiful and to the artist there is much to charm. Some perhaps would describe the islands as barren—but what barrenness! The country, though destitute of trees, is so varied in the nature of its scenery that their absence in no way detracts from the general beauty of the landscape.

Countless tarns, streams and lochs all serve to make the coloring of the heather covered hills and the gloomy tints of the moors stand out in pleasing contrasts, while near the sea bold cliffs tower over the blue waters, whose waves dash against their rocky sides. Overhead numerous sea birds circle on their way to their nests on the ledges.

The largest island is known as the mainland, with a length of fifty-four miles and a width of twenty-one. The islands have a singularly mild and equable climate considering their exposed situation, and compare one of the most healthful districts of Scotland; but even the most adventurous tourists seldom visit them, because a doubtful sea trip in a small steamer is necessary before they can be reached.

Of the entire area of 551 square miles scarcely one-sixth is under cultivation, yet the Shetlanders manage to maintain something like 160,000 sheep, 20,000 cattle and 5,000 of the famous ponies. The inhabitants are of Norse origin and in their speech and customs retain many of the characteristics of their forefathers. They support themselves chiefly by the herring and other fishing industries.

They cannot afford to give much feeding to their ponies, so these hardy little animals run wild in herds on the hills or seaholds, picking up what food they can find. When the bleak wintry weather comes on they find their way down to the seashore, where they derive a scanty living from the seaweed which grows upon the rocks or has been left by the high autumn tides and freshened by melted snow or rain. At this time of year, too, they will gather in groups near the homesteads and are rewarded with an occasional truss of hay.

In spite of this precarious existence the Shelties seem happy enough and they are extremely hardy. They possess extraordinary strength for their size, being able to carry a man or woman with apparent ease for long distances.

The little ponies, with their rough, shaggy coats and flowing manes and tails, seem somehow to suit their wild, rugged surroundings and the groups of them that are scattered about add the needed life to the landscape.

Perhaps it is a question of a survival of the fittest that makes these little creatures so very small, as horses of a larger type would be useless on the boggy moors or on the stony hillsides. They have been known to attain the age of thirty years and more, due probably to the healthful mode of life which they were forced to adopt, for they were born in the fields and lived and died in them.

Where Edwards Rest.

Here is a list showing where all the Royal Edwards have been laid at rest:—

Edward I., born 1239, died July 7, 1307, buried in Westminster Abbey.

Edward IV., born 1442, died April 9, 1483, buried at Windsor.

Edward VII., born Nov. 9, 1841, died May 6, 1910, buried at Windsor Castle.

The Spinning Ant of Ceylon.

The spinning ant is found in India, in Ceylon, in the Islands of Malacca, and in Australia. This ant weaves its nest between two leaves of a tree, preferably the mango. It begins to build, or to weave, by drawing two leaves together. To do this it runs a line of its working material—material similar to the spinner's thread — the length of the leaf and around it. While at work it clings to the leaf with its nails and, at the same time, draws on the leaf nearest to it with its mandibles. Sometimes the two leaves suitable for nest-building are too far apart. Then the builder calls in its fellow ants and they help it to form a chain. Each ant clings to the waist of its neighbor by its mandibles. Thus enchained, they work to build the nest of their comrade.

New Zealand's Wool Trade.

Sir Joseph Ward's the Prime Minister, speaking at Mangaweka, recently, said that New Zealand was to-day exporting more wool than any one of the Australian states. The total value of the exports had now reached twenty millions a year. Eighteen months ago people had predicted financial distress, but, happily, these fears had not been realized. The deposits in banking institutions had increased by more than four millions as compared with last year.

She Got Even.

A Lanarkshire postmistress explains how she got level with a customer who had paid for £3 10s of postal orders in threepenny pieces. First of all she kept him waiting while she counted over the coins three times, and then next day, when he came back to change some postal orders, she paid him out in the same threepenny pieces!

The following taken from the Saskatchewan Chronicle, will be read with interest, as Mr. and Mrs. Vance are well known in this section:—"Take your hats off to the ladies. Mrs. Jos. Vance, with the assistance of her son, laid the shingles on their new barn (24 x 36 with 14-foot rafters), in two days, and Big Jow, the infant, says, as good a carpenter as he is don't believe he could do it in that time. All Joe did was to carry shingles up the ladder all day, while the woman on the roof, she did the the work.

YOU CAN BUY INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS Now at 15 Cents

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

Don't hesitate to secure a portion of this stock. Your money will be returned if all statements cannot be verified. Another mill is under construction. Others will be built on various properties which the company owns and controls. This will increase the income and make your investment the best you can find.

It won't cost you anything to investigate. If you do not want to reserve your stock at once, fill out the free information blank and full particulars and literature will be sent to you.

Not a Speculative Enterprise

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS is an industrial enterprise of the most solid character. The monopoly of the supply and the constantly increasing demand make the market for the product absolutely certain. There is no substitute for asbestos. It is one of the prime necessities of modern industry and construction. And, as already stated, it calls for a price many times greater than the cost of production.

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS affords an unequalled opportunity for safety and permanent income out of all proportion to the amount of the investment.

Get the Facts about Asbestos

Complete information about the asbestos industry, its past and its wonderful future, will be furnished on request. It is the greatest investment opportunity of the present day, and it is one within the reach of every investor who reads this announcement.

No pains have been spared in placing exact and reliable information at the command of everyone interested. All the facts may be obtained by everyone who writes or calls upon the home office of the company.

Highest Possible Endorsements

Remember that INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS has the highest possible endorsements. Henry C. Beeler, State Geologist of Wyoming for eight years, and now consulting engineer for the company will verify every statement that we are making. Reports from the Quebec mines, and from Germany, have examined the Cooper properties of the company and found them in every way what we have represented. Our mill was designed by C. H. Parker, an expert asbestos mill man from Quebec, who is superintendent of the Johnson mines, Thetford, Que., one of the largest in the world. All operations have been conducted in accordance with the advice of the most capable engineers.

Write to-day. Get the information that will be furnished and study the facts. Make your subscription as large as you can carry.

Use the attached coupons, and if you are not satisfied after investigating and considering the statements that will be supplied you, your money will be returned without question.

Rendall Steel Stock

WHY? Because all iron and steel makers must buy RENDALL FURNACES—and every mining camp, where copper, silver, lead and zinc is produced must add continually to the Rendall Steel Company's income, which will amount to $17,000,000 a year in time from earnings and royalties. This means about $600 per share annual dividends on Rendall Steel stock.

Some years ago an eminent authority, Abram S. Hewitt, after a careful study made in the library of Sir Henry Bessemer, was able to demonstrate that the BESSEMER PROCESS of making iron and steel added, directly and indirectly, $2,000,000,000 YEARLY TO THE WORLD'S WEALTH.

Since then there has been steady increase over this two thousand million dollars a year.

HENRY BESSEMER'S INVENTION IS NOW SUPERSEDED BY GEORGE F. RENDALL'S INVENTION.

There will be no more BESSEMER STEEL. IT WILL BE ALL RENDALL STEEL. "Rendall Steel stock will go up to $500 a share and pay enormous dividends." Reliable, eminent authorities in mining and metallurgy predict this.

Jesse R. Grant, E.M., son of General U. S. Grant, ex-President of the United States; Captain C. B. Dahlgren, E.M., U.S. Navy (retired); Captain S. L. Burbridge, E. M.; W. F. Downs, E.M., of Columbia University; James C. Bayles, M.E.; Ph.D., ex-editor Iron Age; G. F. Rendall, M.E.; T. P. Maher, U.S. Navy Yard; G. H. Moore, E.M., C.E., and other mining and metallurgical engineers say "A REVOLUTION OF THE WHOLE IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY AS GREAT AS THAT PRODUCED BY SIR HENRY BESSEMER IS EFFECTED BY THE RENDALL PROCESS. IT SUPERDES THE BLAST FURNACE

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

The Bible Class and A.Y.P.A. of St. Luke's church, met last night at the residence of Mr. J. J. Turner, Jr., Water street.

Toronto Exhibition is now open and in full swing. Local merchants know this well and complain that business in Peterborough is injured by the many local visitors to that city. Well, these citizens on their respective returns can in a way even up things by taking in Peterborough Fair, which will soon be opened, and promises to be a "cracker."

As there seems to be a general idea in the city that the Port Hope Brewery is entirely closed down, it might be noted that Mr. J. M. Brooks informed The Times yesterday that this industry is still doing a small amount of business, pending settlement of the present difficulties.

Port Hope has Howe's circus for September 9th.

Mr. Jas. Akey of the Oriental Livery Barns has decided to take the Gibbs Livery on Chambers street, and will, move on September 8th.

Mr. Mark Spencely, corner of Smith and Downie street, has raised potatoes that tipped the scales at four pounds, six ounces. One of the collection weighs exactly a pound and another only half an ounce less.

On Monday afternoon (Labor Day) September 5th, a lawn social will be held in the Presbytery grounds, St. Martin's, Ennismore, under the auspices of the St. Martin's Total Abstinence Society.

THE PLATFORM OF THE EX-PRESIDENT

THE EX-PRESIDENT ISSUES A STATEMENT OF HIS POLICY AS A PROGRESSIVE.

Struggle for Free Men—To Gain and Hold Right of Self-Government as Against Special Interests.

New York, Sept. 1.—Theodore Roosevelt announced his new creed here yesterday.

It aligned him definitely with the progressive movement within the Republican party. It placed him on record as an advocate of some policies which find favor with the insurgents.

Mr. Roosevelt declared himself in favor of a wide increased power of the National Government. Col. Roosevelt characterized the issue of the day as "the struggle of free men to gain and hold the right of self-government as against the special interests who twist the methods of free government into machinery for defeating the popular will.

"The issue is joined, and we must fight or fail," said he.

CAMPAIGN FUNDS.

The ex-president declared himself in favor of these principles:

1. Elimination of special interests from politics.

2. Complete and effective publicity of corporation affairs.

3. Passage of laws prohibiting the use of corporate funds directly or indirectly for political purposes.

4. Government supervision of the capitalization of all corporations doing an inter-State business.

5. Personal criminal responsibility of officers and directors of corporations.

6. Increased power of the Federal Bureau of Corporations and the Inter-State Commerce Commission.

REVISION OF TARIFF.

7. Revision of the tariff, one schedule at a time, on the basis furnished by an expert tariff commission.

8. Graduated income tax and graduated inheritance tax.

9. Readjustment of the country's financial system in such a way as to prevent repetition of periodical financial panics.

10. Maintenance of an efficient army and a navy large enough to ensure the respect of other nations as a guarantee of peace.

11. Use of national resources for the benefit of all the people.

12. Extension of the work of the Department of Agriculture, of the National and State Governments, and of agricultural colleges and experiment stations so as to take in all phases of life on the farm.

CONDITIONS OF LABOR.

13. Regulations of the terms and conditions of labor by comprehensive workmen's compensation acts; State and National laws to regulate child labor and the work of women; enforcement of better sanitation conditions for workers and extension of the use of safety appliances in industry and commerce, both intra-State and inter-State.

14. Clear division of authority between National and State Governments.

15. Direct primaries, associated with corrupt practices acts.

16. Publicity of campaign contributions, not only before elections, but after elections as well.

17. Prompt removal of unfaithful and incompetent public servants.

18. Provision against the performance of any service for inter-State corporations or the reception of any compensation from such corporations by National officers.

MR. McNEVAN'S FUNERAL.

Well-Known and Popular Old Resident of Peterborough Joins the Great Silent Majority.

This morning at ten o'clock the funeral of the late Mr. Duncan McNevan will be held to the Little Lake cemetery. The late Mr. McNevan, who was one of Peterborough's best known citizens, died on Wednesday afternoon. He was born in Otonabee about 75 years ago, and came to this city about nine years ago, where he made a host of friends. He was a Presbyterian in religion, and attended St. Paul's church.

Mrs. McNevan, wife of the deceased, passed away about four years ago and the only survivors now are: two daughters, Misses Elizabeth and Catherine, who resided with their father at 274 Sherbrooke street.

MISS SEWARD'S WEDDING.

One of Peterborough's Belles Married to Well-Known Toronto Gentleman.

Yesterday morning the mellow tones of St. John's church bell rang out a merry wedding peal as Miss Lulu Alford Seward, daughter of Mrs. Lewis A. Seward, became the charming bride of Mr. Oscar Alexander Bracken of Toronto. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. Canon Davidson, rector of St. John's, assisted by Rev. Harry Bracken of Toronto, brother of the groom. Miss Harriet Kimpton, Galesburg, Illinois, cousin of the bride, presided at the organ, and played Wagner's "Bridal Chorus" and Mendelssohn's wedding march.

Mr. and Mrs. Bracken left on the second section of the C.P.R. for Quebec and Lower St. Lawrence points, and on their return will reside in Parkdale, Toronto.

Great Program by Y.M.C.A.

The local Y.M.C.A. is to be congratulated upon its enterprise in securing the Panman games for Peterborough. Other cities were after the competition, and it is a tribute to the wideawakeness of the Peterborough officials that they were enabled to get this great event. The Y.M.C.A. should be thanked for arranging for Peterborough the best Athletic meet that has ever been seen here.

Ball at Chemong Pavilion.

Last night Mr. Bruce Rickey, the enterprising proprietor of the Chemong Park Hotel, had a ball for the cottagers and visitors from town, in the pavilion. Mr. J. Halpany's orchestra of five pieces discoursed sweet strains to the accompaniment of which the large assemblage present "tripped it on the light fantastic," until nearly the time when the roosters' alarm clocks in the Chemong hen houses awoke the chanticleers to proclaim the coming dawn. A splendid supper was provided and enjoyed by the participants.

Good Sport on Labor Day.

Talking about the great ball game on Labor Day, with Lindsay, it is worthy of note that there has never been together in Peterborough at one time such a collection of famous athletes as will be here for the Y.M.C.A. games. The very names of such men as Jack Tait, Lou Sebert, Geof H. Goulding, E. P. McDonald, Irving Parkes, Arnold Knox and Harry Treesider, should be sufficient to ensure a record attendance. The keen rivalry between the West End and Central Y.M.C.A.'s of Toronto for possession of the trophy means a record day for sport.

Promising Local Sportsman Leaving.

Local hockey circles will learn with deep regret that Mr. Kenneth Crane, son of Mr. John Crane, local manager of the Dominion Bank, is leaving Peterborough next week, to accept a position in the Bank of Commerce in Toronto. During the coming winter his absence on the ice will be badly missed by the Peterborough Club. Last winter his splendid work for the West End City League team brought him well into the limelight of success. Whilst it was his first season, he earned an average of nearly four goals per game. He also greatly distinguished himself in work for the Collegiate Institute O.H.A. team. Not only in hockey, but in baseball and Rugby has Ken made a name for himself.

Mayor Geary Should Move Here.

Mayor Geary of Toronto, at the 10th annual meeting of the Canadian Municipalities, held yesterday in that city, deplored the "apathy of the general public in the administration of municipal government." Let the worthy mayor buy a few houses in Peterborough, and wait till taxes are due. Ten minutes conversation with other Peterborough taxpayers, would soon convince him that the people of this city are not suffering with stagnant circulation or moss grown from apathy in connection with local municipal government. He would find that one or two of the present local aldermen are living near the crate of an electoral volcano that is liable to spout forth the lava of indignation at any moment.

Why Not Send the 57th Regiment?

The Queen's Own Rifles of Toronto seems to have won great applause during their present visit to England. If some local philanthropic capitalist would only emulate the Q.O.R. Colonel and send the 57th Regiment over to England, and particularly to Aldershot, he would earn a lasting encomium and show the people in England that the Empire has good smart soldier boys, and well trained regiments outside of the big cities. There are several gentlemen in Peterborough, who yearly put away to capital account much more than enough to send the 57th over to England on a similar trip. If they take the patriotic interest in Canada, and particularly in Peterborough, the produce around election times, here is a chance to make good and advertise Peterborough before the world.

BLACK HAND AFTER BUFFALO DOCTOR

Health Commissioner Has Received Three Skull and Cross-Bones Letters.

Buffalo, N.Y., Sept. 1.—Three letters threatening his life have been received by Dr. E. Fronczak, local health commissioner, during the past few weeks. The last came a few days ago, and has been turned over to the Federal authorities. The police also have been called in on the case. Each of the letters demanded that Dr. Fronczak go to the corner of Fillmore avenue and Sycamore street and hand $500 to a person who would be waiting to receive it. The letters were written in good English and contained the usual Black Hand insignia, with skull, cross-bones and dagger.

HUSBAND AND CHILD KEPT 20 DAY VIGIL

Wife of Captain Parker of the Samaritan Died at Sea—Her Last Wish Observed.

Liverpool, Sept. 1.—A striking case of a sea captain's reverence for the last wish of his dead wife came to light at Falmouth last week on the arrival of the Liverpool bark Samaritan. While the vessel was on a voyage from Adelaide to England the wife of the master, Captain Parker, was stricken down with fever, and, despite the careful and devoted nursing of her husband and 17-year-old daughter, she died.

The woman expressed a wish before her death to be buried at her birthplace, Halifax, N.S. Accordingly, the ship's carpenter made a case of 2-inch planking, rendered airtight with pitch, and in this the body was placed. The improvised coffin was laid in the life boat near the bridge, and the husband and daughter took turns in the vigil for twenty days and nights, for the crew, as sailors usually do, evidenced a superstitious dread of a dead body.

On landing the dead body at Falmouth yesterday the question arose as to whether an inquest was necessary, but the coroner accepted the sworn statements of the husband and daughter. Captain Parker has abandoned the idea of taking the body to Canada, and after the rough wooden case has been enclosed in a coffin it will be interred at Falmouth.

MAY BREAK THE BIG BEEF TRUST

Is Canada Aiming Death Blow at the American Organization?

Detroit, Aug. 31.—In a recent printed interview, Joseph Leiter, the millionaire of Chicago, states that Canada is about to lift the tariff on live cattle, and is building a string of packing houses, Mackenzie and Mann being behind the project, to take care of the cattle from the northwestern section of the United States, which will be drawn across the border by the lower tariff. He is reported to have said that Canadians are aiming a death blow at the beef trust. It is pointed out that the three transcontinental lines of Canada and her water ways from Port Arthur to the coast offer advantages over those of the United States.

According to the interview the Hon. Mr. Fielding is said to have remarked about a year ago in a talk with Mr. Leiter; "Suppose Canada were to lift the tariff from American cattle on the hoof; suppose that with our railroads and waterways and by the building of a system of packing houses we were enabled to take care of tens of thousands of cattle from the Northern States, turn them into dressed cattle, supply Canadian marketed beef, supply Canada and the foreign markets, and take from the American beef trust its most important source of supply, what then would happen to the beef trust?"

The American is said to have answered: "You would serious cripple, if not break the trust."

Mr. Fielding then remarked, it is reported: "That is precisely what I intend to do."

Chicago packers either deny knowledge of the scheme or refuse to discuss it.

NEGRO TO HANG.

September 2nd, is the Day Fixed for the Execution.

Hot Springs, Ark., Sept. 2.—With the consent of Governor Donaghey the local company of militia is held in readiness to preserve order today on the occasion of the execution of Harry Poe, the 16-year-old negro condemned to death for criminal assault. Ever since Poe's arrest popular feeling against him ran high and though no attempt was made at violence Sheriff Houpt thought it best to take precautions to preserve order.

The negro's crime was an assault upon a young white girl while she was on her way home from school. His trial was at a special term of court, and militia was on hand, as threats of lynching had been heard. After his conviction the case was carried to the State supreme court, but that tribunal upheld the verdict of the trial court. An attempt to have Governor Donaghey interfere with the death sentence likewise proved futile.

Not a minute should be lost when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy given as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even after the croupy cough appears will prevent the attack. Sold by all dealers.

MAN RE-MARRIES HIS FORMER WIFE

SEPARATED FIFTY YEARS AGO, ELDERLY COUPLE ARE NOW ON HONEYMOON.

Both Had Married Again—A Quaint Romance in Real Life Gets Into the Newspapers.

Keaton, Ohio, Sept. 1.—As quaint a romance as was ever written down in fiction, has found its ending here, in real life.

Philip Carr re-married to the wife he lost in the turmoil of the Civil War nearly half a century ago, is enjoying with her his second honeymoon. They were re-united in wedlock a few days ago, but it was only yesterday that the facts became known as to their history.

Separated by raiding guerillas, who captured the Federal mails, divorced because of a believed desertion; each re-married, and each again widowed, they found the love of their youth still aflame upon an accidental meeting not long since, and their new betrothal followed at once.

Carr is now 74 years of age, and his wife 66.

DID CHURCH GOOD.

When Not Supported By State Rome Does Better Work.

Montreal, Sept. 1.—Mgr. Rameau, the famous Bishop of Angers, France, says that the Catholic Church has made more real progress in France since the separation than she has done for hundred years before, and the clergy and the people have been put on their mettle. Everything goes to show that it was a bright day for Rome when the French Government gave what the Bishop of Angers calls their liberty and drove them to self-support.

SHEIKH MAHMOUD TOO ACCURATE A PROPHET.

Cairo, Egypt, Sept. 1.—For being too accurate a prophet, Sheikh Mahmoud, an Egyptian astrologer, has lost his appeal to the English government against the suppression of his review, Tawaleh el Maiouk.

Mahmoud "guessed right" in so many of his prophecies, which were mostly of killings and deaths that the local authorities became afraid that his predictions would encourage the natives to make the astrologer's words good, so they suppressed Tawaleh el Maiouk.

Now he predicts that the khedive will die soon, that the Egyptian Nationalists will murder someone of prominence shortly, that King George of Greece, will annex three Moslem cities before long, and that Sir Eldon Gorst will be made a peer before 1911.

C.P.R. WILL PUT ON A NEW NIGHT TRAIN---WILL BENEFIT PETERBORO

Toronto, Sept. 1.—That the C.P.R. will attempt to relieve the traffic congestion in Toronto is evident from an addition in their train service in connection with this city. The extent of this change is shown by the following statement which has just been issued by the company:

"The Canadian Pacific Railway, in order to meet the greatly increased business between Toronto and Montreal, and to obviate the delays and inconvenience of handling business through the congested Union Station at Toronto, have decided to run a local train between Toronto and Montreal nightly in each direction. But instead of arriving at and departing from the Union Station at Toronto, this new train will run to and from North Toronto and West Toronto.

"The new service will start on Monday next, September 5th. The new local will leave Montreal at 10.45 p.m., and reach North Toronto about 7.45 a.m., and West Toronto about 8 o'clock. Returning it will leave West Toronto at 9.45 p.m., and North Toronto at 10, reaching Montreal about 7 o'clock the next morning.

"The regular through train from Toronto, instead of leaving Toronto Union Station at 10 o'clock in the evening, as at present, will leave at 10.30."

To accommodate Ottawa passengers a sleeper will be run on these trains, changing at Smith's Falls.

PAPAL ENVOY WELCOMED TO THE DOMINION BY ARCHBISHOP BRUCHESI

Quebec, Sept. 1.—With a royal pomp and a filial enthusiasm Quebec is preparing to welcome this afternoon his eminence Cardinal Vannutelli, the pope's legate to the Montreal Eucharistic Congress, who is coming from the Old World on the C.P.R. steamer Empress of Ireland.

All the streets through which the escort will pass are gaily adorned with bunting, decorations, and appropriate inscriptions, and the various religious orders and teaching institutions in the city have grouped at certain spots along the road to be traveled by the legate's escort. Their members and pupils will acclaim the high church official on his first visit to Canada.

DELAYED BY FOG.

The Empress of Ireland with Cardinal Vannutelli and many other delegates to the congress on board, was expected about 2 o'clock, but she was delayed yesterday down the gulf by a thick fog. This, however, cleared up this morning, and the ship is now rushing toward Quebec, gliding on a smooth sea, through exceptionally clear weather.

At 7 o'clock this morning she was at Rimouski, unloading the mails and at that point his grace, Mgr. Bruchesi, Archbishop of Montreal, with a group of clergymen, boarded the Empress and welcomed the legate and his escorts who will arrive here at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

BELLS PEAL ALONG RIVER.

On her way up the river the Empress of Ireland, with the papal colors flying at her topmast is saluted as she passes the various parishes along the waterfront by the pealing of church bells, while all available flags are dipped in a salute to the distinguished passengers.

As soon as the Empress docks here this afternoon the Canadian Government steamer Lady Grey will approach her, and Cardinal Vannutelli with his escort will board her, where he will be greeted by the Archbishop of Quebec, a number of bishops, the general clergy, and by the Hon. Mr. Brodeur, minister of marine and fisheries, and several other government officials.

ROUTE TO THE PALACE.

The Lady Grey will then proceed to the King's wharf, where the papal will land, and after the delivery of addresses to the papal legate the escort will leave the King's wharf through Champlain, Notre Dame, Mountain Hill, Port, Dauphin, Du Fort streets, to the terrace, where addresses will be read to the cardinal, the party then proceeding through St. Louis, Du Parloir, Donacona, Garden, and Fabrique streets to the Basilica, where service will be held. Cardinal Vannutelli will then retire to the archbishop's palace.

An exceptionally large number of clergymen are in Quebec attending the first temperance congress that is being held there, and all will turn out in the grand procession that will escort the papal envoy on his way from the King's wharf to the archbishop's palace.

PALM TREES AND FLOWERS.

The wharf has been decorated with particular attention. Carpets have been spread over it, and from the landing to a throne that has been erected for him, facing the offices of the Department of Fisheries and Marine, his eminence the papal legate and his escort will walk through an alley boarded with palm trees and flowers, while a cannon from the garden of Laval University on the heights of the city, will fire a salute. The bells in the Basilica tower will ring out on the landing on the party and the bells of all the churches, chapels, schools and convents in the city and suburbs will join in ringing out the warm welcome of the old French and Roman Catholic city of Samuel de Champlain to the distinguished representative head of their religion.

A CIVIC HOLIDAY.

To honor the arrival on Canadian soil of the papal legate, his worship Mayor Druin has issued a proclamation giving this afternoon as a civic holiday, and inviting the citizens to observe it as such. The appeal has been answered by a large number of commercial establishments, whose doors are closed this afternoon, and vast crowds have already assembled in the streets of lower town, on the terrace, and other spots where the procession will pass.

CHILDREN WILL SING.

At the Ettis church of Our Lady of Victories, in Lower Town, the Sisters of the Congregation of Notre Dame, have assembled their pupils a coup (of hundred strong, on the square, and flowers, with addresses will be presented to the legate. A choir 300 strong, will sing hymns and songs of welcome.

At the Laval monument, facing the Archbishop's palace, the Sisters of Charity have grouped their eight hundred pupils, who will sing songs and hymns.

LORD KILMARNOCK WAS WOUNDED WHILE HUNTING WITH HIS MAJESTY.

Out Hunting Together—Sir Victor McKenzie Was With Them — Wounds Are Not Very Serious.

London, Sept. 1.—The criticism of the Queen's Own Rifles is all cordial, and the critics say they compare favorably with the regulars in physique and drill. Although they are not perfect, they are very good they say, and individual appreciation of the work and the initiative displayed by the section commanders promises well for the manouvering with the British troops. General Lawson at the conclusion of yesterday morning's drill, was quite satisfied with the Canadians in the eight-mile march was performed in crisp style, both. The promised performance of Cordial relationships have been established with the regulars of the Q.O.R.'s officers and the mess rooms are flooded with officers and members of various clubs. Challenges to athletic contests, including baseball and cricket, already have been exchanged. Londoners want the regiment to march through the city, to be followed by the lord mayor's reception. They will be assured a great welcome if it is arranged.

THE AGE OF THE MAPLE LEAF

London, Sept. 1.—Stewart Paterson, senior chaplain in Red River expedition, writes to the press that the maple leaf was recognized as the emblem of Canada long before the year 1860, the date claimed for its first recognition, on the initiative of the late Doctor Richardson, Toronto. He was secretary of a patriotic association at Peterborough in 1856, and had a badge whereon is a wreath of maple leaves, and he wrote verses mentioning the maple leaf as ranking with the rose, shamrock and thistle.

BIG PRIZES FOR LENGTHY FLIGHTS

$30,000 Being Put Up By One Newspaper and $40,000 by Another—The Conditions.

Paris, Sept. 1.—Auto, a sporting paper, today announces the prize list in the proposed aeroplane flight from Paris to Bordeaux, 361 miles. The conditions for the race will be similar to those which governed Le Matin's recent race from Paris to Troyes, Nancy Meziores, Douai, Amiens, and back to Paris, won by Alfred Leblanc.

This makes the fourth big air race now in sight. The city of Paris proposes a race from Paris to Brussels, to Berlin, to London, and back to Paris for a $40,000 prize, this to be known as the "peace-making circuit."

THEY HAVE SUBMITTED TO THE POPE

Their Leader Has Written and Says The Silion Work Has Been Turned Over to Others.

Paris, Aug. 31.—Marc Sangier, the head of the French Catholic Sillon society, the dissolution and reorganization of which was ordered by the pope, has written a letter of complete submission to his holiness, saying that the work for popular education of the 500 branches was turned over to the episcopate.

Sangier adds, however, that he regrets the decision of the vatican as it gives the impression that the Church is opposed to democracy, and announces that he will personally continue a democratic propaganda.

PERSUADED ONE GIRL TO QUIT THE KINGDOM.

Syrian Girl, However, Absolutely Refuses to Leave—May Pull the Barque Off.

Halifax, Sept. 1.—The tug Hugh D., left for Mud Island yesterday to endeavor to pull the Holy Ghoster barque Kingdom into deep water. The hole in the ship's bow has been patched, and the ballast thrown over board. In the event of the vessel coming off, she will be towed to Yarmouth, where repairs will be affected.

The passengers and crew will remain on the Island, the Dominion immigration agent being on the spot to see that they do not leave. The barque is not much injured, and should she get off the slip on Thursday, would come off Saturday.

A young man arrived from Boston, charted a tug, went to Mud Island, and returned with one of the woman passengers on the Kingdom. A man from Ontario and another from the State of Maine have come to take friends off the vessel.

A sister of the Syrian girl who has been on the barque for some time, her brother, and a detective, arrived from Boston, and went to Mud Island to try to get the girl off. She positively refused to leave the ship, and the trio will return to Boston without her.

THREE PERSONS WERE KILLED AND A SCORE INJURED.

Jamestown, N.D., Aug. 31.—Three persons were killed and a score injured, four seriously last night when a cyclone demolished Heaton, Wells county, according to advices received today. Loaded box cars were blown 200 feet along the track of the Northern Pacific, Turtle Lake branch. Not a building in the town escaped damage and a majority were destroyed, according to the despatch.

Traffic on the railroad was blocked the rails being torn up at places. The Monarch elevator was overturned, and the station was whipped into splinters.

Houses in some instances were turned completely round on their foundations, and the roofs of many were torn off, one being carried almost a mile by the wind. Flying timbers injured many persons. Beams were thrown about like straws.

Thousands Feasted on Melons.

Rocky Ford, Colo., Sept. 2.—Twenty thousand ripe and juicy watermelons, several hundred crates of mouth-watering cantaloupes and unlimited quantities of the several varieties of fruit for which this section is famous were placed at the free disposal of the thousands of visitors who came here today from Denver, Pueblo, Colorado Springs and numerous other places to take in the Arkansas Valley Fair and to help the people of Rocky Ford in their eighteenth annual celebration of Watermelon Day. Forty "carvers" wearing huge white aprons and weilding big knives worked steadily throughout the day slicing the melons and passing them to the anxious and eager crowd.

HUSBAND NEVER WOKE.

Blind Woman Waited Day and a Half for Him to Get Up.

Guelph, Aug. 31.—Edwin Henry Hall, an old resident of this city, lay dead in his home in Suffolk street for some time before his aged and blind wife knew it.

His wife, with whom he lived alone thought that he was sleeping when he did not answer her, and covering him up as well as she could, she sat beside his bed and patiently waited for him to wake up. All Saturday afternoon and night and nearly all day Sunday she waited. Then some neighbors came in and told her that her husband had been dead for some time.

Athletic Competitions—Have Challenged for Baseball Games and to Play Cricket in Return.

London, Sept. 1.—King George, known as the best hunting shot in England, is believed today to be the one who accidentally shot Lord Kilmarnock during a hunt yesterday at Ballater, near Balmoral Castle.

Sir Victor Mackenzie was the third member of the party, but as the King was in a highly nervous state when he reached home, and the details of the shooting have been suppressed as far as possible, it is assumed that it was the King's gun that peppered Kilmarnock.

Kilmarnock was injured in the ear, nose and arm, and his eye-glasses were broken. It was at first thought his injuries were serious, and the King and Sir Victor were frantic with grief.

It turned out, however, that the wounds were slight, and aside from possible scars, his lordship will be none the worse for his experience.

LOCAL BOY HONORED.

General Baden-Powell Speaks in High Terms of Cecil Richardson.

A Toronto despatch says:

These are the Ontario Boy Scouts who for bravery in saving life, have been awarded the Baden-Powell medals for noble conduct. The general himself referring to the little group of heroes, in his address to the thousands of boy scouts in front of the grand stand at the Exhibition, complimented them for their splendid reports, he was receiving from patrol leaders all over the dominion.

"The first impression I had of the Toronto scouts on arriving here," said the general, "was that patrol leader Thomas Hobbs had saved a boy from drowing in a deep hole and had been awarded a certificate of merit. Then I heard of Scout Cecil Richardson of Peterborough, who gained the silver medal for life saving, and also George Jackson, of Dunniville, who showed remarkable bravery in going the second time to rescue a drowning lad after he had nearly lost his life in a previous attempt to save him. Jackson got the bronze medal.

"The highest award the Boy Scout movement bestows is the bronze medal for gallantry, won by Donald Smith, who, however, lost his life in trying to save a boy from drowning. The medal was awarded to his parents.

THE BISHOP AND FREEMASONS.

The Toronto Globe says:—The Bishop of Joliette has a perfect right to excommunicate Freemasons if he desires. That is his own affair. But when he asks that for spiritual reasons the electors deprive the Freemasons of all part in the representation of their fellow-countrymen, in the civic, Provincial, or national sphere he is coming perilously near to breaking the laws against intimidation. The Bishop may be right in saying a Freemason cannot be a good Catholic. But up here in Ontario nobody has ever suggested that a Freemason cannot be a good citizen or a good representative of his fellow-citizens. The trouble with gentlemen like Monsignore Archambault is that they mix up the laws of the Church and the State, and regard the law of the Church as supreme. Even Spain, the eldest daughter of the Church, is revolting from the spirit exhibited by her Archambaults.

It is doubtful if the strength of the Church itself is increased by such utterances as are credited to the Bishop of Joliette. To say that Freemasonry in general aims at the destruction of the marriage tie is an absurdity, so far as the English and Scottish branches of the order are concerned. The most notable exponents of Masonry in this Province, men like his honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mr. J. Ross Robertson are also men whose benevolence are all embracing and whose lives are beyond reproach. What interest of the Roman Catholic Church can be served by holding up Freemasonry of the Canadian type as a lot of debauchees and foes of the social system? No one who is outside the pale can object to the Church barring Freemasonry from her sacraments or her cemeteries, but this indiscriminate condemnation of thousands of good Canadians, whose lives are as helpful to humanity as even the Bishop of Joliette's, should come to an end.

OUR POPULATION.

The Department of Agriculture has sent out an estimate that Canada's population on March 31st last was 7,469,781, an increase of 395,000 over the calculation on March 31st of last year. This indicates a growth at the rate of some 40 per cent. in ten years, which is big indeed. Other big calculations have been made, however, which the actual count showed to have been too hopeful. Estimate makers are prone to forget that there is a steady outflow as well as an inflow of population and become too optimistic. There is an interest, however, in the calculation and there will be much satisfaction if it is justified by next year's census.

THE SPANISH SITUATION.

The trouble in Spain is not entirely due to religious differences. A race question enters into the situation as well. The people of the Peninsula are not all Spaniards. Those living in one part of the country consider themselves as completely apart from Spain as the majority of the people of Ireland consider themselves separate from England in the middle of the last century. It is in the section which is not Spanish that the Catholic Church has its strongest hold. If, therefore, actual rebellion occurs at home, because of the Government's rupture with the Vatican, it will probably be almost as much the result of racial as of religious differences.

Mixed in, too, with the religious and race questions is an industrial problem. Spain is, with the exception of Turkey, probably the most backward of European countries from an industrial standpoint, says the Farmer's Sun. No less than 5,000 Spanish villages can, we are told, be reached only by bridle paths, while some four-fifths of the people are unable to read or write. The present church situation stands in the way of industrial reform. There are no less than 2,000 religious orders in the country, all owning property exempt from taxation. This condition, together with the tax upon the people for the support of a State Church, and the fact that education is practically wholly in the hands of clericals places an impossible handicap on industrial progress. It is chiefly along this line that the struggle now entered upon with the Vatican, will, despite the side issue introduced by racial differences, be fought out. The Spanish Premier stands pledged to introduce a national educational system which is neither hostile or favorable to any creed, and he has announced his determination to reduce the number of religious orders by law if he cannot accomplish the same purpose by agreement with the Papal authorities. In order to carry out these policies he will have to meet and overcome the opposition of the Vatican supported by a racially hostile element at home. On whether he succeeds or fails depends whether Spain is to advance or recede.

106 acres of absolutely proven oil land on Sulphur Mountain, adjoining and between the Liberty and Puritan Oil Companies' property. Two miles from Santa Paula, Ventura Co., Calif.

FACTS—The property is absolutely proven territory, lying as it does with the UNION OIL CO. producing on the south, the LIBERTY OIL CO. producing on the west, the MARD OIL CO. producing on the north, which only recently evicted its 30th rig, and Puritan Oil Co. to commence drilling on the east. Also it is located in a district of HIGH PRODUCING COMPANIES, such as Ojai Petroleum, Pyramid Oil Co., Canadian Oil Co., Capital Creek, Rard Oil and Agricult Co., and others. THERE'S NO QUESTION ABOUT THIS COMPANY GETTING OIL. It is possible that Liberty Oil Company's new well will be a gusher, which would make the ATLANTA OIL COMPANY stock worth par. Mr. Cowell, our field engineer, knows every foot of the ground, and knows the log book of Liberty property, which adjoins our land, and an experienced OIL MAN and the only one actively interested in obtaining his services. VENTURA CO. OIL represents the center of the industry. It is the home of HIGH GRAVITY OIL. VENTURA COUNTY OIL means HEAVY A barrel of well. Conditions so favorable to the GREAT UNION OIL CO. as to start in VENTURA CO. and has paid over twenty-two millions dividends. Same GREAT ASSETS had a small beginning in the WILD CAT. GUESSING, which is RIGHT OF ATLANTA OIL CO. property. The demand for refining oil FAR EXCEEDS THE SUPPLY. The 38 refineries in California are calling for this product. The nature high gravity fields are diminishing. The OHIO FIELD'S DYE DISTRICT, have taken to cracking. The demand is enormous for fuel and refined gasoline. Increase in the number of automobiles. The number of automobiles using gasoline exceeds the number using oil. The price of high gravity crude is advancing. These conditions are very favorable to VENTURA COUNTY, which are bound to be the most productive known. stocks and bonds of all iron, teel and smelting companies.

WHY? Because they are capitalized on the earnings of their blast furnaces now turning out base and precious metals. These blast furnaces are going to the scrap heap.

RENDALL FURNACES will supersede blast furnaces everywhere. They cost only one-fifth the price to build and produce pure metal from any kind of ore for one-half the cost of production by any other process now used.

BUY

Rendall Steel Stock

WHY? Because all iron and steel makers must buy RENDALL FURNACES—and every mining camp, where copper, silver, lead and zinc is produced must add continually to the Rendall Steel Company's income, which will amount to $17,000,000 a year in time from earnings and royalties. This means about $60 per share annual dividends on Rendall Steel stock.

Some years ago an eminent authority, Abram S. Hewitt, after a careful study made in the library of Sir Henry Bessemer, was able to demonstrate that the BESSEMER PROCESS of making iron and steel added, directly and indirectly, $2,000,000,000 YEARLY TO THE WORLD'S WEALTH.

Since then there has been steady increase over this two thousand million dollars a year.

HENRY BESSEMER'S INVENTION IS NOW SUPERSEDED BY GEORGE F. RENDALL'S INVENTION.

There will be no more BESSEMER STEEL. IT WILL BE ALL RENDALL STEEL. "Rendall Steel stock will go up to $500 a share and pay enormous dividends." Reliable, eminent authorities in mining and metallurgy predict this.

Jesse R. Grant, E.M., son of General U. S. Grant, ex-President of the United States; Captain C. B. Dahlgren, E.M., U.S. Navy (retired); Captain S. L. Borbridge, E. M.; W. P. Downs, E.M., of Columbia University; James C. Bayles, M.E.; Ph.D., ex-editor Iron Age; G. F. Rendall, M.E.; T. F. Maher, U.S. Navy Yard; G. H. Moore, E.M., C.E., and other mining and metallurgical engineers say "A REVOLUTION OF THE WHOLE IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY AS GREAT AS THAT PRODUCED BY SIR HENRY BESSEMER IS EFFECTED BY THE RENDALL PROCESS. IT SUPERDES THE BLAST FURNACE."

YOU CAN BUY INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS Now at 15 Cents

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

Not a Speculative Enterprise

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS is an industrial enterprise of the most solid character. The monopoly of the supply and the constantly increasing demand make the market for the product absolutely certain. There is no substitute for asbestos. It is one of the prime necessities of modern industry and construction. And, as already stated, it sells for a price many times greater than the cost of production.

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS affords an unequalled opportunity for safety and permanent income out of all proportion to the amount of the investment.

MAYOR AND ALDERMEN ON TRIP TO LINDSAY

New Trinidad Asphalt Block Paving on William Street Inspected Yesterday by Members of City Council

As some animadversion seems to have been cast upon members of the local City Council regarding their recent trip in the city's interests, and incidentally, at the city's expense it might be noted that yesterday the mayor and several of the council took a trip to Lindsay, not only, not at the city's expense but at their own cost. His worship, Mayor Morrow, Aldermen Hicks, Metheral, Bradburn, Gillespie and others, at the expense of gasoline for their respective automobiles, and also, wear and tear, on said "devil wagons," with several unprejudiced local merchants, as well as members of the respective staffs of the Examiner and Morning Times, visited Lindsay yesterday to view the work being done there in paving Williams street with asphalt bricks. This is, of course, an incidental preparatory to considering whether Peterborough shall pave some of her principal streets or not. Three automobiles filled with Peterborough citizens, at 15-minute intervals, beginning at 10 a.m., left the store of Ald. G. A. Gillespie. Among those accompanying the mayor and city fathers were Messrs. R. Fair, Street Commissioner Kane, R. A. Morrow, Conway, Meredith and others.

On arrival at Lindsay, as the various autos arrived at that distant store-bounded thoroughfare, called Kent street, some of the Peterborough visitors went to the Simpson House for dinner, whilst the greater number dined, including his worship the mayor, at the Benson House. After dinner, Mayor Begg, of Lindsay, the Lindsay city clerk, the deputy reeve and other officials met the local visitors and escorted them to Williams street. Here was found a scene of activity. Bricks of Trinidad asphalt, mixed with the "tailings" from Lake Superior copper mines were being laid. Two gentlemen of robust color and kinky hair were handling the bricks. To see these colored men handle some 10,000 to 16,000 bricks, weighing about 7 pounds each, a day, is a standing object lesson to the hardest working bricklayer in Peterborough. The Times man naturally made a few inquiries as to the cost, etc., of this paving. Strenuous enquiries developed that fact that the cost of paving Williams street is paid for by a 50—50 assessment. That is 50 per cent. of the residents immediately and locally affected, and 50 per cent. on the general town assessment. Twenty year debentures will be issued by the town to pay for the work. It seems that Kent street, Lindsay's leading thoroughfare voted down a proposition to pave that street. Still, while the paving of Williams street has been in progress, Kent street merchants have petitioned the Lindsay council to submit another bylaw, providing for the paving of that street. A few days ago, a Times representative, who was in Lindsay on business, through these columns, gave a detailed account of the paving now in progress there. The contractors doing this paving in Lindsay have signed contracts guaranteeing the town against any damage by frost to the pavement. It is worthy of note that the asphalt bricks being laid on Williams street the length of some five blocks, are, at the intersecting streets, on such streets carried on them to the property lines. The cost to Lindsay for this paving, i.e., the bricks, over some inches of solid cement bed, is $2.40 a square yard. Between the raised cement border of the pedestrian walkway on either side of the street, and the bricks is a cement gutter, which costs 52 cents a running foot and 54 cents a foot at turnings. The bricks used were manufactured in Walkerville, Ont. The same system is being adopted by many cities in Canada, including as far West as Calgary.

The Peterborough mayor and aldermen spent several hours investigating the work and system in progress, whilst in Lindsay. The cross-examination those paving engineers and other officials had to submit to by the Peterborough city fathers, might well have given the latter nervous prostration. About 4 p.m., the three autos containing the Peterborough contingent left the hospitable streets of Lindsay, homeward bound.

A Sad Catastrophe Yesterday Morning

Once more the beautiful, but treach erous Otonabee has demanded its deadly toll of human life. Yesterday morning, at Stewart's settlement, the wife of Mr. W. E. Laing, a machinist of the Peter Hamilton Co., who resided at 586 Sherbrooke St., and the latter's seven-year-old daughter Hazel, was drowned. It seems that as the steamer Otonabee ploughed her way along the course of the river, the launch's rudder became out of order. The lady and her daughter, mentioned above were in a gasoline launch. A collision unfortunately occurred, between the little craft and the large boat. The motor boat, according to eye witnesses of the catastrophy seems, owing to her temporarily disabled steering apparatus to have run into the Otonabee. The smaller boat was upset, throwing its six occupants into the water. Those in the launch consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Laing and his four children. Mr. Laing, by heroic work, managed to save three of his children and pulled out his wife, too late to save her life, but little Hazel went down before she could be rescued.

Yesterday was the annual outing of the Peter Hamilton Company's employes, and they were being taken to Jubilee Point on the Otonabee. Mr. Laing and his family decided to spend the day in their yacht instead of taking in the excursion, and had only gotten as far as Stewartja when the fatality occurred.

No blame can be attached to the crew of the Otonabee for the disaster. It was solely due to the rudder becoming unmanageable and causing the little craft to collide with the steamer.

The Otonabee crew did everything in their power to avert the tragedy, and also to rescue the unfortunate occupants of the launch. They held the big boat back for some time trying to find the body of the little girl and then brought the excursionists back to the city. Mr. Pinches, the general manager of the company, instructed the Otonabee's crew to return at once to the scene of the fatality and help in the search for the body, and accordingly the steamer went down again immediately after dinner.

CAPITAL FIGHTS ORGANIZED LABOR

Coal Companies Sue United Wine Workers and Other Unions for $2,000,000.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 3.—The greatest legal battle between organized labor and capital in the history of this country is now on.

Suits in trespass asking for damages aggregating $2,000,000 have been filed by seven coal companies operating in the Irwin field against eighty-seven district officers and prominent workers of the United States Mine Workers of America and local unions.

BOILERMAKERS AT SHIPYARDS TOLD THAT THEY NEED NOT REPORT TODAY.

A Breach of Agreement—Firms Say Strike of Riveters Was a Violation of National Arrangement.

London, Sept. 2.—Lock-out notices were posted at all the Federal shipyards at noon today, advising the members of the boilermakers' society that their services would be dispensed with after today.

Fifty thousand men are directly affected.

The trouble is due to a strike yesterday of the riveters employed at the Walker shipyard at Newcast.e-on-Tyne.

The employers claim that this constituted a breach of the agreement between the owners and workman, and declare that those locked out will not be allowed to resume work until the boilermakers' society guarantees a fulfillment of the terms of the national agreement for the prevention of strikes and lock-outs.

TEDDY ROOSEVELT A "PROBENREITER"

IN ENGLISH THIS MEANS A POLITICAL DRUMMER.

Socialists Denounce Him—Russians Delegates Quarrel So Fiercely That Other Delegates Have to Separate Them.

Copenhagen, Sept. 2.—The opening of the public sessions of the International Socialist Convention was delayed owing to numerous disagreements among the members of the various committees. This made it impossible to finish the preliminary work in time.

The Russian delegates quarreled so fiercely that it became necessary for other delegates to intervene.

During the meeting of the committee which is discussing anti-militarism, Herr Ledebor, a member of the German Reichstag, made a vigorous attack on Col. Roosevelt for his military tendencies and also because of his meddling in the Egyptian question and support of British rule. Herr Ledebor declared that this action of former President Roosevelt was incomprehensible, inasmuch as the former president of the United States, belonged to a nation which came into existence by virtue of a revolution. Herr Ledebor closed by dubbing Col. Roosevelt a political "probenreiter," namely a "drummer."

ANTI-MILITARIST RESOLUTION.

The Anti-militarist Committee adopted a resolution declaring it to be the duty of all Social Democrats to resist militarism, to refuse to vote money in parliament for military purposes and unceasingly to demand disarmament until that object had been reached. The resolution also declares that the limitation of naval armaments and the repeal of the prize law must be demanded, the negotiation of secret treaties abolished and those now existing published.

James Keir Hardie, on behalf of the English Socialists, objected to the resolution as not being comprehensive enough. It ought, he declared, to contain a declaration in favor of a general international strike in the event of war breaking out, thus rendering hostilities impossible.

The French delegates made enquiries concerning the letter received yesterday allegedly from M. Briand, the French premier, declaring that he was still a Socialist, and proved that it was a fake.

A Russian police spy entered a secret meeting of the Russian section by means of a forged ticket, but he was recognized by one of the delegates and expelled. The incident caused great excitement.

Edmonton, Alta., Sept. 2.—A telegram, received from Athabasca Landing stating that W. H. Selby, Dominion land surveyor, was drowned in the Athabasca River at Grand Rapid ten days ago. He was walking along the river and fell in. It is thought that he had an attack of heart failure. The deceased's wife resides in Toronto.

The river at that point is very rapid and dangerous, owing to rocks. Only last year Count von Hammerstein's boat was upset and the count thrown unconscious on the shore by an eddy, while his two companions were drowned.

AN OVERDRAFT OF $2,509.54 ON SMITH STREET BRIDGE

The Result, as Claimed by Ald. Hicks, of Estimating Unduly Close on Public Works.

No Allowance Made for Unforseen Contingencies.— The Engineer's Report.

At the prolonged session of the City Board of Works last evening the engineer reported on the completion of Smith street bridge, which will cost $35,000.54, an excess of $2,509.54 above the appropriation of $32,500. The engineer reported that the extra charges are reasonable and were caused by unlooked for river bottom conditions.

The mayor thought that when the bridge is finished with all details the overdraft will be $3000.

Ald. Hicks offered that, now as for years past, estimates for public work are cut too fine, no provision being made for unforseen conditions cropping up. It is bad policy, he argued, to estimate on any work, either private or public, without allowing sufficient latitude for unlooked for contingencies. The chairman was liberally supported in his opinion that the work has been done well. BUT the board is in a dilemma as to where this overdraft is to come from. Of this overdraft it will take $2100 to finish the bridge, the remainder of the deficit being already due the contractors.

Ald. Bradburn remarked that the city is up against a higher appropriation for the Board of Works next year, and an addition of half a mill on the taxes. That is what comes of bungling figures.

These are, however, $4000 saved from the appropriation voted by by-law for bridges some few years ago, and for which debentures were issued, and the council will apply for special legislation to permit of applying this saving in hand to meet their deficit on Smith street bridge.

ELECTION RIOTS WERE MINIMIZED

OFFICIAL PORTUGUESE DESPATCHES SUPPRESSED FACTS.

Several Persons Killed—Republican Party Though Numerically Weak Has Monopoly of Intelligent Element.

Madrid, Sept. 2.—A private letter received from Portugal today sets forth that official despatches from Lisbon minimize the excitement that attended the parliamentary elections. The writer says that there was much rioting, during which several persons were killed. The Republican party is described as having a monopoly of the intelligent element of the country, including the professors of the universities. It is especially strong in the navy, Admirals De Lois Reis and Campos being the Republican candidates at Lisbon and Oporto, respectively.

CANADIAN MACHINE TELEPHONE CO. ASK FOR A 21-YEAR FRANCHISE

The Committee of the Whole Council met last night on adjournment of the Board of Works.

Mr. F. D. MacKay, general manager of the Canadian Machine Telephone Company, waited upon the committee with a view of securing an extension of their 10 years' franchise, which has now only three and one-half years to run, to one of longer duration.

After a concise explanation from Mr. MacKay as to the promising future ahead of his company in Peterborough, Ald. Turner moved, seconded by Ald. Hicks,—That the city solicitor prepare an agreement between the city and the Machine Telephone Company, by which the latter shall have a 21 years' franchise, providing they guarantee to spend $10,000 in extensions and improvements, and give free connections within a ten miles radius.—Carried.

Noted Catholics Arrive For Eucharist Fetes

Montreal, Sept. 3.—For the first time since its inception the International Eucharistic Congress, which is the most important official assembly in the calendar of the Catholic Church after that of the College of Cardinals at Rome, is to be held this year in America. The city of Montreal, which has been aptly termed "The Rome of North America," is to have the honor of entertaining the congress, whose near approach already evidenced by the presence on the streets, in the hotels and about the railroad stations and boat landings of innumerable men whose distinguished bearing and clerical garb denote their priestly calling.

The gathering of the Eucharistic Congress this year will be remarkable in several respects. First, that, in the person of Cardinal Vincent Vannutelli, there will be present a personal representative of the Holy Father at Rome, and again, apart from the papal legate, there will be a number of other cardinals in Montreal at the same time. It is many years since so many members of the Sacred College have gathered together in any country outside of Italy.

Among them are Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishop of Baltimore, and Cardinal Logue, Archbishop of Armagh, Primate of Ireland. Some of the other eminent prelates who will have prominent parts in the proceedings and the majority of whom have already reached the city are Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul, Archbishop O'Connell of Boston, Archbishop Glennon of St. Louis, Archbishop Blenk of New Orleans, Archbishop Farley of New York, Archbishop Quigley of Chicago, Mgr. Sbaretti, Apostolic Delegate to Canada; Mgr. Falconio, Anostolic Delegate to the United States; Archbishop McNeil of Vancouver, Archbishop Howley of St. John, Newfoundland, Archbishop Langevin of Manitoba, Archbishop McCarthy of Halifax, Bishop Gabriels of Ogdensburg, Bishop McFaul of Trenton, Bishop Garvey of Altoona, Bishop Harkins of Providence, Bishop Keiley of Savannah, Bishop Heslin of Natchez, Bishop Keane of Cheyenne, Bishop McDonnell of Brooklyn, Bishop Beaucamp of Lincoln, Bishop Hennessy of Wichita and Bishop Muldoon of Rockford, Ill.

In addition to those named the attendance will include hundreds of other notable representatives of the Catholic Church in the United States Canada, Mexico, South America and the countries of Europe. The laity as well as the clergy will be well represented. Probably the most notable laymen to be present is the Duke of Norfolk, the premier duke of England.

The great rendezvous of the congress on the devotional side will be St. James' Cathedral. Here, next Tuesday evening the great gathering will be formally inaugurated with a solemn reception in honor of Cardinal Legate. Each morning during the sitting of the congress high mass will be celebrated. Each evening there will be vespers and benedictions. On Thursday a midnight mass for men will be celebrated in Notre Dame Church.

BOARD OF WORKS IN SESSION AFTER A MONTHS' HOLIDAYS

The City Board of Works met last night after a month's holidays, and held forth until midnight to make up for lost time.

There were present: His Worship Mayor Morrow, Chairman Ald. Hicks and Aldermen Graham, Metheral, Turner, Butler, Gillespie, Phelan and Duncan.

Mr. Crowe asked that the sidewalk on Douro and Rogers streets, east side, be built outside the tree line. In order to allow of a 66 foot street and to keep a uniform line of walk on both sides the street in question the engineer was asked to report on this matter.

Mr. Shook again interviewed the board regarding the septic tank on Dublin and Waterford streets. Mr. Shook said that the Dickson Company would be willing to give three lots north of Dublin and West of Waterford streets (excepting 16 feet) fronting the river, for park purposes, in return for septic tanv privileges. This tank would cost the city $1200. The Dickson Company have been paying their share of the outfall sewer for years without any sewerage privileges in connection with the property in question.

Mr. Shook has an estimate from the Cameron Septic Tank Company that this tank could be installed for $1200, but the labor here is lower than figured on.

Ald. Duncan moved, seconded by Ald. Hicks,—That the city accept the offer of the Dickson Company, and that the city construct the septic tank, said work not to exceed $1200, providing the city engineer reports that the tank can be installed for this amount, and that the engineer prepare plans for the approval of the Board of Health.—Carried.

While this resolution carried the city will not undertake the work this year, the board's appropriation having been already provided for. But, while the aldermen cannot commit next year's council to any work those who voted for this measure and who are elected next year will advocate that it be carried out.

Subsequently the chairman was instructed to secure from the city engineer and Mr. Chipman reports in writing as to the cost of the proposed septic tank.

Mrs. P. Warner's application for financial assistance in the expense incurred by her through lailing on the sidewalk was referred to the Legal Committee.

Ald. Graham moved, seconded by Ald. Metheral.—That the petition for a sewer from King to Sherbrooke streets be granted when properly signed.—Carried.

R. Fowler and 25 others petitioned against the use of oil on Rubridge street owing to, as the petitioners claimed, the bad odor created thereby. The board decided to go ahead with their experiment in this matter.

Ald. Duncan moved that,—Provided a petition is properly signed, a sidewalk be constructed on Vale and Ingleburne avenues in accordance with the city engineer's report which offers that a conveyance to the city of five feet of land to extend Vale avenue to a passable width must be made before the work is undertaken.—Carried.

A petition for a sidewalk on north side of Hunter, from Rogers to Concession streets was

On motion of Ald. Duncan the street commissioner was instructed to uncover the ground to ascertain the cause of the surface flow of water on Robinson street.

TO OIL GEORGE STREET.

SOUTH END SEWERAGE.

Tenders for the south end sewerage and drainage system and pumping station were opened out and referred to the city engineer and consulting Engineer Hay to report to the board today at 12 o'clock.

THE MODERN FIGURE.
How to Regain Beauty of Form.

The vagaries of fashion are a great trial to ladies inclined to overstoutness; but it is a great mistake to go in for physical repression in the shape of special stays. Fasting and violent exercising are also dangerous. One soon becomes limp, depressed and sallow of complexion when such methods of getting thin are adopted. There is absolutely no necessity to study dietics or deprive one's self of wholesome rest and bodily comforts.

The following is a prescription which will restore beauty of form without any sacrifice of health or strength. Any druggist will make it up for you or supply the harmless ingredients, viz: ½ oz. Marmola 1 oz. Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic and 4½ oz. Peppermint Water. The dose is one teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

Don't be afraid of a good appetite especially as the digestive system will be much benefitted by this simple treatment. Indeed, the whole body is beautified, and the reduction of the weight occasions no wrinkles. The skin and complexion are rebeautified.

CZARINA'S HEALTH CAUSES SURPRISE

HER CHEEKS ARE ROUNDED AND HER COLOR GOOD.

Precautions are Very Strict—Baggage of All Arrivals Searched — Russian Visitors Annoyed by the Police Surveillance.

Friedberg, Hesse, Aug. 31.— Emperor Nicholas and Empress Alexandra, who arrived here yesterday, appeared to be in excellent health today. The empress surprised those who saw her, for, though she has long been reported as being in ill health, and here to take the curative waters, her cheeks are full and have much color. Her majesty talks with animation.

The emperor appears to be growing stouter. He strolled about outside the castle grounds today wearing a sacque suit of tweed and a derby hat and with his hands thrust in his trousers' pockets. While the police precautions are strict they are not overdone, and quite one thousand townspeople were admitted to the railway station when the Imperial party arrived. One hundred and ninety-two soldiers are on guard today at the castle, and thirty-four sentries are posted in the neighborhood. Many Russians who have been stopping at Nauheim have left the place, because they were annoyed by the supervoilance of the Russian police. All arrivals at the resort are compelled to submit to an examination of their baggage. The castle is crowded, its 140 rooms being hardly sufficient to accommodate the Royal visitors and their followers.

'BISHOP' AS PLEDGE FOR COSTLY GEMS

Swindlers Rob Russian Jeweler of $100,000.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 2.—A St. Petersburg jeweler has fallen a victim to a particularly impudent swindle, by which he finds himself $100,000 the poorer. Two or three men in clerical garb, in attendance upon a venerable white bearded bishop, entered one of the best known shops on the Newski Prospect, the main shopping center of the Russian capital, and asked to see some jewelry which they said was to be presented to a highly placed ecclesiastic. They chose a number of valuable objects for selection by the intended recipient and departed in what they represented as the bishop's private carriage, promising to return from a neighboring monastery in an hour's time.

The aged bishop was left behind in the shop, being too feeble to bear the fatigue of the journey. Time passed and the clerics did not return. Finally the jeweler ventured to enquire from the old bishop, who was still reclining peacefully in an armchair, when his attendants would be back. The dignitary, however, proved to be stone deaf, and all that could be got out of him was that he felt ill and tired and knew nothing of the affair.

Afterward the police elicited from him that he was not a bishop, but that some well dressed men had kidnapped him, garbed him in a bishop's robe and headgear and threatened to kill him if he did not accompany them.

DIVINE RIGHT.

Emperor William's speech at Koenigsberg proclaiming that he rules not by popular or parliamentary favor but by right Divine is one of the sensations of the day. Not only in Germany but in other parts of the world men are protesting against the revival of a doctrine which was obnoxious even in the seventeenth century. Cromwell's Ironsides rode at full speed against that arrogant doctrine and trampled it into the dust—but not with difficulty. Charles I. came to the block, James II. abdicated. Through neglect of popular rights Louis XVIII. of France, was engulfed in the carnage of the revolution. The world has trusted that principles of democracy were more firmly grounded in Europe. So the emperor's declaration flicked it on the raw.

As usual a such crisis the speech as a whole was not so inflammatory as its part. The kaiser was uttering a protest, not gainst moderate and constitutionalist democracy, but against that false progressiveness which waves the red flag. Socialism is strong in Germany. Even anarchy has its advocates. Against these the emperor was turning his bitterness. He took occasion also to expression his opposition to woman suffrage, which, in Germany at least, is a form of Socialism. Perhaps deep hostility to government by long-haired men and short-haired women induced his majesty to declare adherence to the most reactionary doctrine he could find.

British subjects find it difficult to appreciate the immense powers wield ed by the German emperor and his chancellor. In a sense they are unchecked. Bismarck saw to that when the States united under Prussian sovereignty. But of late years there has been a distinct growth of democratic sentiment. The suffrage has been extended and the emperor is more ready to listen to the voice of the Reichstag or the Prussian Diet. the Reichstag or the Prussian Diet. While a diplomatic kaiser is in the saddle no great constitutional change may be expected. But a man either of undue weakness or undue strength might bring on a parliamentary or even an armed revolt.

It may be regarded as a certainty that Emperor William does not intend to antagonize his people by insisting unduly upon the privileges of Divine Right. His family pride would scarcely carry him so far. The kaiser may recognize something of the ominousness in the proud eminence which has come to the sons of Conrad of Hohenzollern who collected tolls on the Alps in the Middle Ages. But pedigree cannot be substantiated by common sense, nor Divine Right for even-handed justice.

CANADIANS AS TEA DRINKERS.

Canada stands very low in the list of alcohol-consuming countries. Canada stands high in the list of tea-consuming countries. Excepting Australia and Britain, Canadians drink more tea than the people of any other European or American country. On the whole, this is cause for satisfaction; for, although tea is bad for the tea toper, the cosy is bad for the tea toper, the cosy cup of tea generally deserves Cowper's endorsement, "an the cup that cheers and not inebriates." If properly made, tea is more wholesome than coffee for most people. Not boiled tea, however. That concoction is bad for the nerves and digestion. The leaves should be gently infused—never submitted to such harsh treatment as boiling.

Our British and Australian fellow-citizens consume far more alcoholic beverages than we Canadians do—but also more tea. So that large consumption of tea cannot be taken as an indication of small consumption of alcoholic drinks. Perhaps our British and Australian friends have a more robust all-round thirst than we Canadians have. Here are the figures that show the consumption of tea per annum, per head of the population, in ten countries.

Also it is located in the district of 3000 PRODUCING COMPANIES, such as Ohio Petroleum, Pyramid Oil Co., Canadian Oil Co., Capital Crude, Bard Oil and Asphalt Co., and others. Mr. Conrad, the well known oil operator, interest owner in over 5 feet of the ground, and having his log book of Liberty property, which adjoins our land, and an experienced OIL MAN and the controlling owner of the property he is developing his services. VENTURA CO. OIL represents the cream of the industry. It is the home of HIGH GRAVITY OIL. VENTURA COUNTY OIL pumps $1.50 a barrel at well. Costs from 3c to 5c to produce it. THE GREAT UNION OIL CO. got its start in VENTURA CO. and has paid over twenty dividends in dividends. There GREAT AMERICAN had a small beginning in the WILD CATS. Many others of VENTURA OIL CO. property. The lowest for re-sults of FAR RICHER than the STOCK in California, and can't help but be. The same high quality oils are discovered. This is the best opportunity ever offered of participating in a transaction with assured profits.

OUR PROPOSITION

We have acquired a site, Nos. 788 and 790 St. Urbain Street, having a frontage of 60 feet on St. Urbain Street, with an equivalent frontage on Basset Street, in rear.

The land is 195 feet deep, but we intend ceding over to the city 20 feet in order that the lines of Basset Street may be continued past our property. You will readily see the advantage of this, as it gives us two street frontages instead of one, as is usual in most apartment houses.

We have designed an apartment house, calling for a four-storey apartment house of thirty-two (32) apartments, well planned and laid out, complete in every detail.

In the centre of the building there will be a waiting room and telephone exchange. This telephone exchange will connect with every apartment.

It is estimated that the cost of land and building will be $100,000, made up as follows:—

Land	$15,000.00
Building	70,000.00
Allowed for architect's fees and other expenses	15,000.00
	$100,000.00

Therefore we are forming a company for $100,000, composed of 1,000 shares of $100.00 each

At the expiration of the time allotted for the subscribing of stock, we will apply for a charter, so that everything will be done in proper style.

Immediately upon forming the company, the tenders will be allotted by the Board of Directors, who will have been elected by the shareholders at the first annual meeting, which will be called immediately upon granting of the charter.

It is estimated that the annual rental will be about $480.00 an apartment, or $15,360.00 per annum.

This is how you are guaranteed 7% or more

Now to show our good faith in the matter, we do not intend to receive one cent before the shareholders obtain their 7 per cent.

After all expenses have been paid, allowing the shareholders 6 per cent., we will divide the surplus between the shareholders and ourselves, as our share for the promoting of the company, and the running of the apartment house.

We will guarantee 7% to each shareholder on his Investment

CAN ANYTHING BE FAIRER? CAN ANYTHING BE SQUARER? If so, we have not yet discovered it.

After the completion of the building, it is our intention, by the consent of the Directors, to mortgage the building for an amount of say, $50,000.00, and immediately start another apartment house scheme, upon the same terms and conditions, so that eventually the shareholders will receive a considerable amount more than 7 per cent. upon the money invested.

Messrs. The House of Brown, Limited.

Gentlemen,—

I hereby subscribe for .....Shares in a company to be formed for $100,000.00 to build an Apartment House, as outlined in your advertisement, payable as follows: 5 Per Cent. to be sent with this application for Stock, balance 25 Per Cent. on granting of charter, 25 Per Cent. in 30 days afterwards, 25 Per Cent. in 60 days, 20 Per Cent. in 90 days.

Church and Clergy.

The gospel is preached in thirty different languages in the United States.

At a church in England a clergyman told the congregation that, while he had not personally witnessed it, he had been told that card playing had taken place during service.

Bishop Charles E. Cheney of the Reformed Episcopal church, now in his seventy-fifth year, preached a sermon in Christ church of that denomination in Chicago on the fiftieth anniversary of his rectorship.

At a meeting of the Rodolph Sholom congregation in Pittsburg Rabbi Leonard J. Levy was elected pastor for life at an annual salary of $15,000. He is to receive a $5,000 yearly pension if he should wish to retire after reaching the age of seventy-five, and the same amount is to be paid to Mrs. Levy in the event of her husband's death.

Science Siftings.

Experiments with ultra violet light appear to show that it is more effective for sterilizing liquids than ozone.

A carload of radium, Edison says, would have as much energy as all the millions of tons of coal mined in the United States in a year.

A French scientist says the rays from incandescent lights are beneficial to human health, destroying bacteria, stimulating circulation and cellular activity and reducing pain.

Recent experiments have proved conclusively that coal dust which has been ground to a state so fine that it will pass a 200 mesh sieve will explode from contact with either a naked flame or with the arc of an electric current.

Nothing Serious.

"Why does your husband continually mutter to himself of late?"

stocks and bonds of all iron, teel and smelting companies.

WHY? Because they are capitalized on the earnings of their blast furnaces now turning out base and precious metals. These blast furnaces are going to the scrap heap.

RENDALL FURNACES will supersede blast furnaces everywhere. They cost only one-fifth the price to build and produce pure metal from any kind of ore for one-half the cost of production by any other process now used.

In New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland VAST DEPOSITS, containing BILLIONS OF TONS of low grade iron ore, now unworked and idle because the ores are below the present accepted standard required for Bessemer ores, will soon be turning out the FINEST IRON the world has ever seen from RENDALL FURNACES now being built.

BUY

Rendall Steel Stock

WHY? Because all iron and steel makers must buy RENDALL FURNACES—and every mining camp, where copper, silver, lead and zinc produced must add continually to the Rendall Steel Company's income which will amount to $17,000,000 a year in time from earnings and royalties. This means about $90 per share annual dividends on Rendall Steel stock.

Some years ago an eminent authority, Abram S. Hewitt, after a careful study made in the library of Sir Henry Bessemer, was able to demonstrate that the BESSEMER PROCESS of making iron and steel added, directly and indirectly, $2,000,000,000 YEARLY TO THE WORLD'S WEALTH.

Since then there has been steady increase over this two thousand million dollars a year.

HENRY BESSEMER'S INVENTION IS NOW SUPERSEDED BY GEORGE P. RENDALL'S INVENTION.

There will be no more BESSEMER STEEL. IT WILL BE ALL RENDALL STEEL. "Rendall Steel stock will go up to $500 a share and pay enormous dividends." Reliable, eminent authorities in mining and metallurgy predict this.

Jesse R. Grant, E.M., son of General U. S. Grant, ex-President of the United States; Captain C. B. Dahlgren, E.M., U.S. Navy (retired); Captain S. L. Burbridge, E. M.; W. F. Downs, E.M., of Columbia University; James C. Bayles, M.E.; Ph.D., ex-editor Iron Age; G. F. Rendall, M.E.; T. F. Maher, U.S. Navy Yard; G. H. Moore, E.M., C.E., and other mining and metallurgical engineers say "A REVOLUTION OF THE WHOLE IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY AS GREAT AS THAT PRODUCED BY SIR HENRY BESSEMER IS EFFECTED BY THE RENDALL PROCESS. IT SUPERDES THE BLAST FURNACE

Mrs. Howard, who accompanied the chief, has also returned greatly benefitted in health as a result of the outing. Chief and Mrs. Howard, after attending the convention, had a very enjoyable visit in New York, Boston and other eastern cities. Chief Howard states that the convention was most successful. There was a very large attendance of fire chiefs, mayors, aldermen and other municipal representatives, including thirty-one from Canada. The feature, according to Chief Howard was the feeling generally expressed by experts that the days of the steam fire engine are numbered and that gasoline engines will soon take its place.

A MOTHER'S LETTER.

Mrs. Samuelle Vigneau graphically describes the illness and the recovery of her daughter.

All Mothers Should Read.

DAUGHTER OF MRS. SAMUELLE VIGNEAU.

MRS. SAMUELLE VIGNEAU, Amherst, Isle de La Magdaline, Can., writes:

"I write to tell you that I am perfectly well. I took only three bottles of your Fem-i-lax according to your advice and the directions in your book, and it restored my health.

"It also cured my daughter, who is 17 years old. She took one bottle exceeding to directions. I assure you that no doctor is equal to your book and your advice. I have recommended your remedy to a number of persons."

A Woman's Remedy.

Mrs. A. E. Stauffer, Copeland, Kansas, writes:

"Peruna has given me health and strength; it is the best medicine that was ever made for women. My friends say they never saw such a change in a woman. I cannot say too much for Peruna."

Man's Narrow Escape From Auto.

Talking of "joy rides," did you gentle reader, ever travel on a fifty horse power automobile to Lindsay with a few Peterborough men, who had business in that flower city of the stump-lined Scugog river, and who had, for business purposes, to get back to Peterborough that same afternoon. If so, did you travel in the car of an owner who is a true sportsman at heart and who does not intend that the other fellow's car shall beat him home? If not, you have missed one of the opportunities for hair raising, emotion quelling, excitement breeding chances in life. Now a Times scribe, by nature timid, went through this experience yesterday. The car he was in came within 17-19ths of breaking the speed by-laws. Barns, fields of corn, buckwheat and turnips that will soon sell at about 40 cents a mouthful, were passed so quickly they made no image impression on the scribe's memory, then a two-year's-back dream caused by a big rare bit supper. At Reaboro, the cars of the rival drivers about met; at Omemee it was a question which should take "the other's dust," but the leading car, as they left Lindsay, arrived in Peterborough by a distance of, say, a hundred yards. On the way home three hens were dusting themselves in the roadway. The hook-hook of the horn lifted a few rails from the fences nearby. Still those black Spanish chickens enjoying their dust bath. Just as the front of the auto was about to decapitate a big black hen, this bird flew for the tall timber at a rate that would make an automobile resemble a decrepit wheelbarrow. One gentleman, in the car, remarked, "I'll bet the next one that hen lays will hatch out a cross between a cyclone and an auto-gone-mad."

YOU CAN BUY INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS Now at 15 Cents

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

Don't hesitate to secure a portion of this stock. Your money will be returned if all statements cannot be verified. Another mill is under construction. Others will be built, on various properties which the company owns and controls. This will increase the income and make your investment the best you can find.

It won't cost you anything to investigate. If you do not want to reserve your stock at once, fill out the free information blank and full particulars and literature will be sent to you.

Not a Speculative Enterprise

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS is an industrial enterprise of the most solid character. The monopoly of the supply and the constantly increasing demand make the market for the product absolutely certain. There is no substitute for asbestos. It is one of the prime necessities of modern industry and construction. And, as already stated, it calls for a price many times greater than the cost of production.

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS affords an unequalled opportunity for safety and permanent income out of all proportion to the amount of the investment.

Parker, an expert asbestos mill man from Quebec, who is superintendent of the Johnson mines, Thetford, Que., one of the largest in the world. All operations have been conducted in accordance with the advice of the most capable engineers.

PRINCES OF CHURCH FROM EVERY NATION

Thousands Flock to Montreal for Historic Occasion—Largest Representation of Catholic Clergy Ever Assembled in North America

Montreal, Sept. 4.—At no time in the history of the North American continent has there been such a distinguished gathering of Catholic clergy as are now assembling here to attend the twenty-first International Eucharistic congress, which opens on Tuesday evening, September 6, and closes September 11.

Besides two score of Archbishops, more than a hundred bishops and thousands of priests from all over the world, there are three princes of the church—Cardinals Vannutelli, Gibbons and Logue. Every train is bringing visitors by the thousands and the hotels and lodging houses are taxed to the utmost. Private residences of Roman Catholics in the city have been thrown open for the entertainment of the prominent guests, and the laity are being looked after in less pretentious quarters.

OBJECT OF CONGRESS.

This congress is held for the purpose of celebrating and glorifying the Holy Eucharist and discussing the best methods of extending the work of the Church. Although it had its inception in Lille, France, in 1881, the meetings were never held in an English-speaking country until 1908, when the congress was held in London. World-wide attention was attracted to this meeting when Premier Asquith issued an order prohibiting the carrying of the sacred host through the streets of London, for fear of a hostile demonstration.

The present congress, the first one to be held on this side of the water, will be attended by all manner of orders and all types of churchman.

DELEGATES FROM ALL OVER.

Besides representatives from every prominent Catholic organization and diocese in this country and the United States, there will be delegates from every nation in the world. The interval between now and Tuesday will be devoted to the reception of prominent guests. The congress, which lasts six days, will be formally inaugurated with an ecclesiastical reception of the papal legate. The following evening there will be a grand civic reception at the city hall in honor of the cardinal legate. At midnight on Thursday fully fifteen thousand men are expected to assemble within the walls of Notre Dame, to attend midnight mass, in the presence of the papal legate and the visiting ecclesiastics.

THE GREAT PROCESSION.

The grandest feature of the week however, will be the procession of the blessed sacrament, which will take place next Sunday. As the procession leaves the Church of Notre Dame, the bells of the Catholic churches will be rung in honor of the host, as it will be borne by the papal legate through the city streets under a gorgeous canopy. The route will be magnificently decorated. Forty triumphal arches will span the streets at leading points. The famous band of the Royal Sixty-fifth Regiment will head the line, discoursing the inspiring music of "O Salutaris Hostia." Right behind the military band will come 250 members of the Catholic Church of New York City, marching twelve abreast as guard of honor to the cardinal legate. Next in line will be upwards of 250 prelates of the church, all vested in their scarlet or purple robes of office. There will be three cardinals, Gibbons of Baltimore, Logue of Armagh, and Vannutelli of Rome.

ZAM-BUK CURES SUNBURN.

Neglect of a sunburn on face, arm or neck often leads to the after growth of skin which is freckled or coarse; and this is particularly distressing to ladies. Timely application of Zam-Buk will prevent this. Zam-Buk is a herbal balm, which soothes and cools the burned skin, and assists nature to replace the damaged tissue with soft, velvety skin.

Zam-Buk is also good for stings, scratches, heat sores, blisters on the hands or feet, and all skin injuries. Applied to these it quickly stops the smarting, and ensures quick healing. As it is free from animal fat and mineral coloring matter, it is particularly suited to the delicate skin of babies, suffering from heat rashes, chafed places, etc. Sold everywhere by druggists and store-keepers. Beware of harmful imitations, and see the name "Zam-Buk" on the box before buying.

As today is Labor Day and a holiday The Times will not be issued tomorrow.

THE WEATHER.

Fine and warm.

Governor-General is Safe on Board Ship

Accomplished Bay Trip — Wireless Operator States Party Arrived—All Well—Are Now Heading for Pictou.

Ottawa, Sept. 2.—Earl Grey has successfully accomplished what none of his predecessors ever attempted the trip overland to Hudson's Bay.

A message announcing this was received this morning by Alexander Johnson, deputy minister of marine from the wireless operator on the government steamer, Earl Grey, by which his excellency is coming out.

The ship is heading for Pictou, and is due there on the 14th of September. She left Port Nelson at midnight on August 20th.

MESSAGE BY WIRELESS.

The message which came by wireless by way of Fame Point reads: "We arrived at Port Nelson at noon August 13th. His excellency and party arrived on board at midnight on the 20th. Today at 8 we were abeam Cape Harrison bound for Indian Harbor. All well on Board. Destination Pictou. 14th September."

A PERSONAL MESSAGE.

A personal message addressed to the minister of marine and fisheries by Earl Grey, was received today.

"Trip great success, steamer most comfortable. Greatly obliged for all your excellent arrangements. Propose to disembark from steamer, Pictou, September 14th.

The message like the one preceding it, came by way of Fame Point. As it would not take till the 14th to reach Pictou, the department officials think that a stop will likely be made at St. John, Nfld.

LONG TREK BY CANOE.

The governor-general left Norway House about the first of August, paddling down the Nelson river in canoes to York Factory on the shores of Hudson's Bay. Here whale boats took them up the coast to Fort Churchill, where they met the government steamer which took them out through the Straits, and home down the Labrador coast.

His excellency was accompanied by a party of Mounted Police under Major Moody, Professor McNaughton of McGill, and Dr. John MacRae, of Johns Hopkins University, and a band of Indian packers and paddlers. He was away over a month and traveled a distance of nearly 3,000 miles.

TRAGIC FATE OF YOUNG BRIDE.

Was Picking Thorn Apples When She Missed Her Footing and Fell 175 Feet.

Rochester, N.Y., Sept. 3.—While reaching over the edge of the river bank after thorn apples at the rear of her home, Mrs. Marie Diamond, aged 29, and a bride of about three months, lost her footing or her hold on the branches of the tree and plunged to instant death on the rock in the river bed nearly 175 feet below.

Mrs. Diamond and her husband had finished supper at 7 o'clock and were seated on the rear door step of their home, when the woman noticed the apples hanging over the gorge and said she wanted some. She climbed over a fence that seperates the yard from the brink of the gorge and reached out after the fruit. She succeeded in gathering a quantity, and her husband went into the house to get a pan to put them in when he heard her cry out.

When the husband came out, not seeing her, he at first thought she had gone around the house of climbed back over the fence. As he approached the edge of the bank he heard a boy in a boat on the river below calling to him that a woman had fallen from the bank. He notified the authorities, and an ambulance and patrol wagon were hurried to the scene.

When the members of the rescue party reached the bed of the river, they found the woman's mangled and lifeless body. The body was removed to the morgue pending an investigation by Coroner Kliensteinst.

Robber at Home of Man at Fair

Buffalo Burglar Caught by Two Plucky Women, Who Fainted After their Heroic Action.

Buffalo, N.Y., Sept. 3.—It was an unwise burglar that picked out the home of Oscar Haffa at No. 384 Guilford street as an easy place to rob early today, for he was caught in the act, and caught by a woman.

Haffa is a musician in the 65th Regiment, N.G.S.N.Y., and went to Toronto, Ont., with his command on Wednesday. Mrs. Haffa, with her 17-year-old daughter and young son, was awakened by a noise in the rear of the house shortly before dawn. She did not cry out for help. Instead, she slipped out of bed, crept up behind the burglar and throwing her arms around him, pinned his arms to his side. The man immediately began a struggle, but Mrs. Haffa had called her daughter to her assistance. The two women succeeded in throwing the burglar to the floor, and despite his struggles, sat upon him.

Meanwhile the woman's son had gone for the police. When they arrived the women were still struggling with the burglar. When relieved of their charge by the police, the women promptly fainted.

At the station house the prisoner gave his name as George H. Robertson, 30 years old, living at North Tonawanda. He was locked up on a charge of burglary, second degree.

Big Defence Fund For Dr. Crippen

London, Sept. 3.—The power of the big defence fund provided for Dr. H. H. Crippen, accused of murdering his wife, was strikingly illustrated today when it was made known that Crippen's counsel probably will be Edward Marshall Hall, K.C., one of the most prominent counsellors in England. Mr. Hall has figured in as many big cases as counsellor as has Arthur Newton as solicitor.

WHO IS SHE?

It was reported that Mr. Hall had been retained after much deliberation on the part of the mysterious woman who has furnished the fund for Crippen's defense.

Who will be counsel for Ethel Le Neve, Crippen's co-defendant, has not been announced.

Mr. Hall, whose father, Dr. Alfred Hall, was one of the foremost physicians in his day, is 42 years old. He was a member of parliament 1900-06 representing Southport.

JOHNSON WILL FIGHT BURNS.

Will Insist That He Be Guaranteed $30,000 Win or Loss.

BUFFALO, Sept. 2.—Jack Johnson, who is appearing in a vaudeville turn at the Lafayette, stated to-day that he would meet Tommy Burns anywhere, providing Burns will agree to fight him under the same terms as he, Jack, fought the Canadian in Australia two years ago.

Burns then insisted on $30,000 win, loss or draw, Johnson and his manager, Sam Fitzpatrick, getting $5,000, just enough to cover expenses of the trip to Melbourne. Now Burns seeks another chance. And Johnson gets back at him.

"Thirty thousand to Mistah Johnson, win, lose or draw," insisted the champion this afternoon when questioned as to the possibilities of being matched to fight Burns in England in November. "Burns can have five thousand."

Johnson is training consistently and expects to confer with Burns' representatives in a few days. Johnson goes to Toronto next week to visit Tom Flanagan and will, after the close of his American tour, go abroad. The champion about this time last year promised Buffalo people that he would next appear before them as world's heavyweight champion. Jack kept his vow and Buffalo people rewarded him with a great ovation when his big grey touring car was recognized on Genesee Street.

ZEPPELIN'S LUCK TURNS--GREAT RECORD

Zeppelin IV., as it Sped from Baden to Heidelburg, Was Cheered by Thousands-Carried Crew of Seven Men and Twelve Passengers-A Great Triumph

Berlin, Sept. 3.—Count Zeppelin today vindicated the worth of his type of dirigible, when, in the Zeppelin II., he flew from Baden to Heidelburg, 53 miles, in 65 minutes, carrying a crew of seven and 12 passengers. The average speed of the immense balloon was 49 miles an hour, which is believed to establish a record for dirigibles.

The speediest of the many ships that Zeppein has constructed was that used today. It was recently transferred from the Hangar at Friedrichshafen to Baden, to enter the service of the passenger airship company. In the last few days improvements in propellors have been tried out on her. The air craft is approximately 450 feet long.

Today's flight was watched with the utmost interest by the navy from the Kaiser down, in view of the loss of faith in this type of airship that resulted from the many accidents to Zeppelin's in the last few months.

After the flight the aged inventor declared himself highly pleased with the results.

"I knew that I would vindicate my claims, and I have done it," he said. The crowds that witnessed the flight were aroused to a high pitch of enthusiasm.

CHEERED ALONG ROUTE.

Duties were forgotten as the big craft sped from horizon to horizon over the populous country and the throngs gathered at the towns and villages, as well as the thousands in the fields and on the roads, sent up cheers that were still loud when they reached the passengers and crew hundreds of feet in the air.

The scenes in Heidelburg as the big ship manoeuvred over the city and the historic university were unparaled. A corps of German students turned out to salute the veteran aeronaut when he finally brought the machine down toward the houses.

THE GREATEST YET.

This flight was declared greater than the first big flight of a Zeppelin, made on March 21, 1909, when with 26 aboard, one of the count's dirigibles established a world's record, covering 156 miles in four hours.

On June 23rd last, the Deutchland, then the largest of the Zeppelins, started regular air passenger service, travelling from Friedrichsalen to Dusseldorf, 300 miles, in 9 hours, reaching a maximum speed of 43½ miles an hour and making an average of 41 miles an hour.

THE FIRST CATASTROPHE.

On June 29, however, the greatest calamity of the count's generation-long struggle to conquer the air, occurred when the Deutschland, his pride, was wrecked by a whirlwind between Osnabruck; its 33 occupants narrowly escaping death. The $125,000 ship was demolished.

MONSTER LINERS FOR THE ST. LAWRENCE RIVER.

Allan Company Will Build Vessels 700 Feet Long of Twenty Thousand Tons—Twice Size of the Old Ships.

London, Sept. 2.—The plans of the Allan Steamship Company for the improvement of its Canadian service provided for the construction of three turbine steamers, each 700 feet in length, registering 20,000 tons, and having a speed of 22 knots an hour.

It appears that the existing agreement between the Allan line and the Canadian Pacific Railway Company for carrying the mails will not be renewed, and the Allan people propose to have their new ships ready in 1912 when the mail contract expires, so that they will be in a position to carry all the trans-Atlantic mail in their own vessels.

It is said that the Canadian Pacific will also increase its fleet by two fast liners.

The new liners will be nearly double the size of any ship on the St. Lawrence route, and two knots an hour faster. As the C.P.R. and C.N.R. companies are to build new boats, and will not let themselves be outrivalled, it would appear that Canada will soon have an Atlantic service rivalling in every way that from New York.

It is certain such large vessels could not go up to Montreal, but would have to dock at Quebec, where the government is spending millions of dollars in harbor improvements. Already the C.P.R. Empresses stop short at Quebec, as they draw more water than the Royal line vessels.

Today's Big Program of Sports at Riverside Park

Everything is now ready for the big Penman games at Riverside Park, under auspices of the local "Y" this afternoon. As will be seen from the list of entries below, the finest bunch of athletes ever assembled in Peterborough, will be here for the events. Outside contestants are coming from Toronto, Belleville, Montreal and Orillia. The Toronto Y.M.C.A.'s are running a special train for Peterborough for the games, and will bring a big crowd down with them. The intense rivalry between Toronto Central and West End Y.M.C.A.'s is indicated by the number of entries from each Association in every event. The track is in grand condition; fit to break records on, and Riverside Park will prove an ideal place for the meet. The finishes will all take place in front of the grand stand, so that people there will be able to see the interesting part of every race.

Much interest is being taken in the handicap walk, in which Geo. H. Goulding, the famous walker, will be here. He is very popular here and will get a great reception from the crowd, who are anxious to see him perform.

Every event promises to be a race and there will be some fall doings. Sebert is booked to win the sprints, Knox or Tait the middle distances, Archibald the pole vault, Bricker, Archibald or Barber the jumps and Howard or Tresider the five mile, but there may be some surprises handed out and the talent may get bumped. The relay race, which brings together West End and Central Y.M.C.A. of Toronto and the Ottawa Y. will be an interesting feature.

Troops Must Not Take Part in Parade

GOVERNMENT FEARED INDIGNANT PROTESTS AND CANCELLED ORDER.

Will Use Mounted Police—Militia Department Reverses Decision to Allow Soldiers in King's Uniform to Furnish Guard of Honor for Cardinal Vannutelli.

Montreal, Sept. 4.—The use of the Duke of York's Canadian Hussars for a guard of honor for the papal delegate to the Eucharistic congress has been knocked on the head, by instructions from Ottawa that the troops could not be authorized to turn out for a gathering of this nature. The city will now supply an escort of mounted policeman.

FORMAL DRESS.

The city is to give a reception at the city hall in honor of the delegates next Thursday evening. The large number of prominent citizens who have been invited have been notified that gentlemen must appear in evening dress and ladies in black, low necks being tabooed.

KILLED BY PUBLICITY.

Ottawa, Sept. 3.—As a result of the publicity given by the Evening Telegram to the government's action in allowing the Canadian militia to parade in honor of Cardinal Vannutelli at the Eucharistic congress, the militia department has suddenly cancelled the order. The contemplated procession was in direct violation of general orders, and contrary to all precedent. The storm of protest which was welling up at the extraordinary abuse of power being wielded by a government dominated by Quebec, has had the effect of holding them in check.

HUSSARS DID TAKE PART!

As an evidence of the fact that it was the government's intention to allow the Quebec hairarchy the use of the Canadian militia at the demonstrations in connection with the congress, it may be mentioned that at the reception to the Cardinal Vannutelli at the King's wharf in Quebec on Thursday, the Hussars in uniform were playing a prominent part, according to a photograph in La Presse.

Mr. Pappas, proprietor of the Royal Theater has secured unrivalled talent for this week beginning today. H. A. MULHERN'S DEMISE.

Well-Known Local Miller Dies After a Protracted Illness.

The many friends of Mr. H. A. Mulhern, 546 Aylmer street, will be grieved to learn that this well-known citizen passed away yesterday morning. The late Mr. Mulhern was a native of Northumberland county and spent his younger years in the village of Warkworth. He came to Peterborough some 27 years ago and engaged in the flour milling business on a large scale, operating the stone mill just to the east of the Hunter street bridge. Mr. Mulhern was one of the first millers to enter extensively into the then new system of grinding corn in bond, and re-exporting the finished product. After some years spent in the old "Roger's" mill, above referred to, he established and successfully conducted the Central Milling Co., at the C.P.R. depot.

The late Mr. Mulhern has been in declining health for some years, but bore up patiently and bravely, attending to his large business interests. The deceased was well known to many of our citizens and was universally respected by all who knew him. Mr. Mulhern leaves to mourn his loss a wife and three sons, Alexander Hamilton of Renfrew, Harry and Barnard. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock from the family residence to Little Lake cemetery.

OLD RESIDENT GONE.

Mrs. Morris Meade of Douro, Dies at an Advanced Age.

The death occurred this morning at seven o'clock of Mrs. —. Mead, wife of Mr. Morris Mead, lot 1, concession 4, Douro. Deceased was seventy-seven years of age and a life long resident of Douro. She was well known and highly respected. Death was due to a general break up caused by advanced years.

The late Mrs. Mead is survived by her husband, four sons and two daughters. The sons are Morris and John, of Douro; James, of East City; Michael, of Saginaw, Mich. The daughters are Mrs. John O'Toole, Otonabee, and Mrs. John Herr, of Asphodel.

The funeral will take place this morning, at 9 o'clock to St. Joseph's church and thence to St. Joseph's cemetery for interment.

Illegal Duck Shooting.

It is said that a number of local nimrods have forgotten that the duck season does not open till Sept. 15th. They hied themselves away to the hunting grounds yesterday and peppered away at the feathered game to their hearts' content. Ducks are reported to be very scarce and if the unscrupulous hunters persist in shooting out of season it will not be long before the game is practically extinct in this district.—Lindsay Post.

AT THE POLICE COURT.

Watch Stealing Case Postponed Until Next Tuesday.

A case, which drew a crowd at the police court Saturday morning was that of Joseph Reynolds, who is accused of stealing a gold watch from John Kelly of Hastings on Aug. 18th. Owing to the absence of a witness the case was adjourned until Tuesday, after a great deal of evidence was heard.

The first one to give evidence was the loser of the watch and he stated in part:

"I was drinking that night, and some one met me at the Montgomery House and I went away with him, where I could obtain a bed. I cannot say that the prisoner is the man. We walked to a barn and slept there, but in the morning my supposed friend had flown and my watch was missing. I can't tell you where the stable is."

To Mr. Gordon he gave minute details of his watch.

James Ward, one of the bartenders of the Montgomery House, gave evidence of the incident which took place at the hotel door. He said as follows: "Kelly came to the door and William Montgomery told him that we had no room. As we were talking to him a man came along and offered to get Kelly a room. I know that the prisoner is the man. He wore a blue felt hat but the night was very dark."

William Montgomery and James Kimble both recognized the prisoner as the man seen with Kelly that night—the former thought he was the man, while the latter saw him through a window.

P. C. Newhall, who arrested Reynolds, testified to the following evidence made up of speeches, spoken by Reynolds in the presence of P. C's. McGinty and Newhall:

Fred Worboy, the last witness examined, told of having seen a watch on Reynolds. It was an open-faced one.

This concluded the case till Tuesday.

ALL ARE FREE TRADERS.

A lady who is a social leader in Poughkeepsie and the wife of a millionaire manufacturer of farm implements, has been arrested at New York on a charge of failing to declare on her arrival from Europe jewellery to the value of about $150,000. The source of the information which led to the search and arrest is not disclosed, but it is said the American jewellers maintain a secret service intended to discourage purchases abroad. If the lady had purchased at home she would have had to pay the duty to the protected jewellers. Had she purchased abroad and observed the formalities by law established she would have paid the duty to the American Treasury. She sought to evade both, and will in consequence suffer the confiscation of her property, a fine and perhaps imprisonment. The great profits for Customs officers making seizures explain their seemingly mysterious sources of knowledge. Foreign clerks and merchants who learn of the intentions of Americans abroad sometimes furnish Customs officials with information, trusting to a generous division of the results of subsequent seizures.

This sensational case serves to illustrate the fact that all men, and especially all women, are free traders. They all want freedom to buy where they can to the best advantage. This lady's eagerness for free trade in pearls and other jewels is only equalled by her husband's eagerness for protection on farm implements. While all want free trade for themselves, many want protection levied against their neighbors. The jewellers who sought to enforce protection against this detected smuggler would no doubt be quite as eager to secure free trade for themselves in regard to any foreign products they desired. With respect to the business which comes within the easy scope of the average citizen's understanding he is a free trader. When protection enables him to levy inordinate profits on his neighbors he favors that system. It has also the support of many who are deluded by theories into imagining that trade is some nebulous and portentous entity which would work the destruction of nations if not suppressed or held in check. The natural attitude toward trade comes to the surface when people actually trade, however, much it may be obscured when they theorize or indulge in fiscal controversies.

166 acres of absolutely proven oil land on Sulphur Mountain, adjoining and between the Liberty and Puritan Oil Companies' property. Two miles from Santa Paula, Ventura Co., Calif.

FACTS—The property is absolutely proven territory, lying as it does with the UNION OIL CO. producing on the south, the LIBERTY OIL CO. producing on the west, the RARE OIL CO. producing on the north, which only recently struck its 20th rig, and Puritan Oil Co. to the east producing on the east. Also it is located in a district of BIG PRODUCING COMPANIES, such as Shell Petroleum, Pyramid Oil Co., Canadian Oil, Central Oil, Reed Oil and Asphalt Co., and others. THERE'S NO QUESTION ABOUT THIS COMPANY GETTING OIL. It is impossible that Liberty Oil Company's new well will be a gusher, which would make the ATLANTA OIL COMPANY stock worth par. Mr. Cozad, our superintendent, has moved every piece of the ground, and having the long board of Liberty property, which adjoins our land, and an experienced OIL MAN and two associate practical engineers to conserve his services. VENTURA CO. OIL represents the cream of the industry. In the home of HIGH GRAVITY OIL. VENTURA COUNTY OIL means $2.50 a barrel at well. Costs from 25c to 35c to produce it. THE two millionaire drillers, Lynch and GREAT AMERICAN had a small beginning in the WILL SMELL OIL. Shell, Standard, Union, Associated, Rare Oil Co. property. The lease for producing oil FAR EXCEEDS THE TERMS OF THE AVERAGE OIL CO. property. The 25 subscribers to the California corporation are the DIRECTORS. The shares will equally take care of the FIRST PAYMENT. Bank letters of assurance. The GUSH FIELDS FOR the question. Therefore the capital of the Atlanta Oil Co. is conserved by the foremost practical engineers engaged in developing the field, and the shares of the company are being sold at a price which will not long prevail. This is the best opportunity ever offered of participating in a transaction with assured profits.

OUR PROPOSITION

We have acquired a site, Nos. 788 and 790 St. Urbain Street, having a frontage of 60 feet on St. Urbain Street, with an equivalent frontage on Basset Street, in rear.

The land is 195 feet deep, but we intend ceding over to the city 20 feet in order that the lines of Basset Street may be continued past our property. You will readily see the advantage of this, as it gives us two street frontages instead of one, as is usual in most apartment houses.

We have designed an apartment house, calling for a four-storey apartment house of thirty-two (32) apartments, well planned and laid out, complete in every detail.

In the centre of the building there will be a waiting room and telephone exchange. This telephone exchange will connect with every apartment.

It is estimated that the cost of land and building will be $100,000, made up as follows:—

Land	$15,000.00
Building	70,000.00
Allowed for architect's fees and other expenses	15,000.00
	$100,000.00

Therefore we are forming a company for $100,000, composed of 1,000 shares of $100 00 each

At the expiration of the time allotted for the subscribing of stock, we will apply for a charter, so that everything will be done in proper style.

Immediately upon forming the company, the tenders will be allotted by the Board of Directors, who will have been elected by the shareholders at the first annual meeting, which will be called immediately upon granting of the charter.

It is estimated that the annual rental will be about $480.00 an apartment, or $15,360.00 per annum.

This is how you are guaranteed 7% or more.

Now to show our good faith in the matter, we do not intend to receive one cent before the shareholders obtain their 7 per cent.

After all expenses have been paid, allowing the shareholders 8 per cent., we will divide the surplus between the shareholders and ourselves, as our share for the promoting of the company, and the running of the apartment house.

We will guarantee 7% to each shareholder on his Investment

CAN ANYTHING BE FAIRER? CAN ANYTHING BE SQUARER? If so, we have not yet discovered it.

After the completion of the building, it is our intention, by the consent of the Directors, to mortgage the building for an amount of say, $50,000.00, and immediately start another apartment house scheme, upon the same terms and conditions, so that eventually the shareholders will receive a considerable amount more than 7 per cent. upon the money invested.

stocks and bonds of all iron, teel and smelting companies.

WHY? Because they are capitalized on the earnings of their blast furnaces now turning out base and precious metals. These blast furnaces are going to the scrap heap.

RENDALL FURNACES will supersede blast furnaces everywhere. They cost only one-fifth the price to build and produce pure metal from any kind of ore for one-half the cost of production by any other process now used.

In New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland VAST DEPOSITS, containing BILLIONS OF TONS of low grade iron ore, now unworked and idle because the ores are below the present accepted standard required for Bessemer ores, will soon be turning out the FINEST IRON the world has ever seen from RENDALL FURNACES now being built.

BUY

Rendall Steel Stock

WHY? Because all iron and steel makers must buy RENDALL FURNACES—and every mining camp, where copper, silver, lead and zinc are produced must add continually to the Rendall Steel Company's income, which will amount to $17,000,000 a year in time from earnings and royalties. This means about $90 per share annual dividends on Rendall Steel stock.

Some years ago an eminent authority, Abrame S. Hewitt, after a careful study made in the library of Sir Henry Bessemer, was able to demonstrate that the BESSEMER PROCESS of making iron and steel added, directly and indirectly, $2,000,000,000 YEARLY TO THE WORLD'S WEALTH.

Since then there has been steady increase over this two thousand million dollars a year.

HENRY BESSEMER'S INVENTION IS NOW SUPERSEDED BY GEORGE F. RENDALL'S INVENTION.

There will be no more BESSEMER STEEL. IT WILL BE ALL RENDALL STEEL. "Rendall Steel stock will go up to $500 a share and pay enormous dividends." Reliable, eminent authorities in mining and metallurgy predict this.

Jesse R. Grant, E.M., son of General U. S. Grant, ex-President of the United States; Captain C. B. Dahlgren, E.M., U.S. Navy (retired); Captain S. L. Bartridge, E. M.; W. P. Downe, E.M., of Columbia University; James C. Boyles, M.E.; Ph.D., ex-editor Iron Age; G. F. Rendall, M.E.; T. P. Maher, U.S. Navy Yard; G. H. Moore, E.M., C.E., and other mining and metallurgical engineers say "A REVOLUTION OF THE WHOLE IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY AS GREAT AS THAT PRODUCED BY SIR HENRY BESSEMER IS EFFECTED BY THE RENDALL PROCESS. IT SUPERSEDES THE BLAST FURNACE."

Buy Rendall Steel stock. It is the best investment in America to-day.

YOU CAN BUY
INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS
Now at 15 Cents

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

Don't hesitate to secure a portion of this stock. Your money will be returned if all statements cannot be verified. Another mill is under construction. Others will be built on various properties which the company owns and controls. This will increase the income and make your investment the best you can find.

It won't cost you anything to investigate. If you do not want to reserve your stock at once, fill out the free information blank and full particulars and literature will be sent to you.

Not a Speculative Enterprise

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS is an industrial enterprise of the most solid character. The monopoly of the supply and the constantly increasing demand make the market for the product absolutely certain. There is no substitute for asbestos. It is one of the prime necessities of modern industry and construction. And, as already stated, it calls for a price many times greater than the cost of production.

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS affords an unequalled opportunity for safety and permanent income out of all proportion to the amount of the investment.

Get the Facts about Asbestos

Complete information about the asbestos industry, its past and its wonderful future, will be furnished on request. It is the greatest investment opportunity of the present day, and it is one within the reach of every investor who reads this announcement.

Beeler, State Geologist of Wyoming for eight years, and now consulting engineer for the company will verify every statement that we are making. Experts from the Quebec mines, and from Germany, have examined the Cooper properties of the company and found them in every way what we have represented. Our mill was designed by C. H. Parker, an expert asbestos mill man from Quebec, who is superintendent of the Johnson mines, Thetford, Que., one of the largest in the world. All operations have been conducted in accordance with the advice of the most capable engineers.

Board of Education in Regular Session

Principal H. R. H. Kenner, to Discuss With the Board the Results of Recent High School Exams---Sewer Accommodation Wanted at King Edward

Last night the Board of Education met for the first time after the mid-summer vacation. There were present, Chairman Hayes, Messrs. Hill, Dr. Burnham, Dr. Morrison, Crane, Miller, Ackerman, and Dumble.

The minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed. A number of minors accounts were presented and referred to Finance Committee. The inspector of boilers wrote that the boiler at Central School was clean and in good condition. The steam gauge was found correct.

A communication from Mr. Leary, President of the Peterborough Exhibition, asking that the local schools be closed for half a day was granted. A letter from Inspector Mowat was read, relative to the various assignments of the different teachers. Some considerable changes were made in the interests of local education. Mr. Mowatt, inspector, wrote that one applicant for the recent examinations had paid $1 but did not try the examination. He thought the money should be refunded.—Carried.

A number of accounts were ordered paid.

Mr. Hill, chairman of the Committee on Appointments, moved that Miss Florence Walker be appointed a teacher at $450 a year, and that Mr. J. W. Firth be appointed science master at $1400 per annum.—Carried

Mr. Carroll's resignation was accepted to take place Oct. 31st, unless a suitable successor be secured in the meantime.

It was decided by resolution, moved by Mr. Crane, that the text books on physiology and temperance, be used till others are issued.—Carried.

Inspector Mowat said he had, on the opening day yesterday, seen the various head masters of the various schools. He thought the King Edward school would be somewhat over crowded. The South Central showed somewhat similar conditions. The north ward school was all right and the schools in general are in a very satisfactory condition. Improvements have been made to the kindergarten. The South Central has had some badly wanted windows inserted "to get rid of the former dungeon-like conditions." The Queen Alexandra school has been improved. There is much need of sewer accommodation at the King Edward school. The attendance at the opening yesterday was very good.

It was moved by Mr. Hill, seconded by Dr. Burnham, that a successor to Mr. Carroll be referred to the Committee on Appointments. —Carried.

The matter of the recent High School examinations was discussed at some length. It was moved by Mr. Dumble, seconded by Col. Miller, that Principal Kenner of the Collegiate Institute, meet the board in Committee of the Whole, and discuss with the board, the result of the recent examinations, with such remarks as Mr. Kenner might wish to make.

The board then adjourned, after the secretary had noted that Mr. Hicks had spoken to him, asking for an earlier partial payment of his coal account.

ANOTHER INNOVATION IN RAILWAY TRAVEL.

Hi-it is the growing time for Canada it is also the growing time for the Grand Trunk Railway System. The popularity of the International Limited the finest and fastest train in Canada has made larger cars an absolute necessity in order to provide room for the growing traffic. The result of this is a much heavier train and in order to handle this train swifter locomotives have been especially designed and built. But before this was done the 80 pound rail was replaced with 100 pound steel. After all that is the foundation —the roadbed.

The cafe parlor cars, which have done service since the establishment of this splendid train, are now replaced by new diners which are pioneers in their way. The new cars are 70 feet 7 inches long, 50½ feet wide, 14½ feet high. They are equipped with six-wheeled trucks and have steel platforms. They are heated with steam from the locomotive and equipped with electric lights, electric lamps, etc. The diner is finished in African maghogany, the chairs are of Merican mahogany, upholstered with black leather. These cars were made in the Montreal shops of the Grand Trunk Railway.

New parlor cars similar in excellence to the dining cars are operated on the International Limited.

The way to a GOOD BREAKFAST

A good breakfast has a lot to do with the day's pleasure and success. The less cooking for the housewife, the happier she can be in other activities—and the better the breakfast the happier the rest of the family. These two big points are gained when are served right from the package with cream or milk. The charming flavor of this crisp, sweet food puts everyone at table in good humor.

A LARGE FUNERAL.

Last Sad Rites In Connection With Recent Drowning Accident.

A sad sight that brought tears to the eyes of spectators, was the funeral, on Labor Day, of Mrs. W. Laing and her little daughter Hazel. The funeral of these two victims of the sad drowning accident was one of the largest seen here in years. A large number of the employes of Peter Hamilton's foundry turned out as did the station and freight staff of the Grand Trunk Railway Company.

The large number who attended, and the beautiful flowers sent, testified to the sympathy of the Peterborough people for the bereaved.

Must Pay for Stolen Beer.

A case that created some interest was held at yesterday's session of the police court. It will be remembered that three young men stole a case of beer from the Snowden House cellar. They were up for trial and orders were given that they pay for the stolen amber delight. Two of them made good, but one of them failed to put up his share, and a warrant was issued for his arrest. The police, however, failed to get him, and conditions remained the same yesterday. The other two promised to pay up the remaining balance due, and they were let go with a warning.

Mr. H. A. Mulhern's Funeral.

Yesterday afternoon a sad cortege passed down George street, when the last rites of respect were paid, on arrival at the Little Lake cemetery to the memory of the late H. A. Mulhern, one of Peterborough's leading flour manufacturers. Three hacks were filled with employes of the Central Milling Co., and their respective faces and actions, demonstrated conclusively the love and respect they had entertained for their deceased employer.

Farewell Service.

This evening in St. Andrew's church, the Rev. J. G. Potter, who is about to leave for Montreal, will hold a closing communion service with the members and adherents of his church. The service will be of unusual importance, as the pastor, who is leaving Peterborough, has been an energetic and enthusiastic advocate of temperance and has, in church internal affairs been a strenuous worker.

57th Regt. Band Leaves Today.

A meeting, presided over by Mr. Rupert Gliddon, bandmaster of the 57th Regtiment, was held last night for the purpose of practising two selections which they are to play in conjunction with the massed bands at Toronto Exhibition today. One of the selections is a big descriptive number, entitled "Episodes in a Soldier's Life." The 57th Band will leave for Toronto this morning and will play two concerts at the Canadian National, as well as taking part in the massed bands numbers. The band will have thirty-one men in uniform.

THE WEATHER.

Fair at intervals, with occasional showers.

WHEAT GROWING PROBABILITIES

Prof. M. A. Carleton of the department of agriculture at Washington is a decided optimist as to the future of wheat growing on the American continent. Instead of the United States being forced to discontinue exporting wheat before many years pass, as some have contended, Mr. Carleton predicts that by 1950 the total wheat yield of the republic will reach 1,000,000,000 bushels—sufficient to feed its entire population, which he estimates by that time will have reached 100,000,000 and leave a surplus for export of 400,000,000 bushels.

In an address before an assemblage of millers at Minneapolis recently Professor Carleton explained how he reached his conclusion. He estimated that since the last decennial census was taken 200,000,000 acres had been added to the farms of the country, so that today probably 46,678,000 acres are under wheat as compared with 41,971,000 acres in 1900. In addition there are some 50,000,000 acres in the Indian reservations, unallotted and unreserved, and 70,000,000 acres of swamp lands which are gradually being drained and brought under the plow. He believes further, that advancing prices will increase the area annually sown in wheat and that the new varieties which have been introduced of late years will greatly increase the yield per acre.

What the Professor has to say about Canada is of special interest. Outside of Manitoba he points out, wheat production has only fairly begun in Western Canada, and yet the entire production can be made as large as that of the United States at present. He recognizes the greatness of the undeveloped resources of Alberta and Saskatchewan, the available area of which he places at 250,000,000 acres. Of this about one-tenth is available for wheat, as in Minnesota and Kansas, especially as corn production is impossible. He considers 30,000,000 acres in wheat for the three provinces as the figure in 1950, an estimate which Western Canadian will doubtless agree as ridiculously low. However, the professor does not include in his calculations the increases that will occurr in the older provinces of Canada and the possible production in Northwestern British Columbia and the Northwest territory.

To show that the possibilities in Northern Alberta have not been fully tested, Professor Carleton recalls the fact that in 1908, 35,000 bushels of wheat were grown in the vicinity of Fort Vermillion—an average of 24 bushels per acre—and this on land 350 miles north of Edmunton.

Reynolds Gets Three Months in Jail

In our issue of Monday, we gave the evidence in the case before Magistrate Dumble, against Joseph Reynolds, charged with stealing a gold watch from one Kelly. In our report it was noted that the trial, for lack of a wanted witness, had been postponed until Tuesday. The witness was on hand yesterday morning and gave evidence. The prisoner was charged with stealing an umbrella also. Mr. G. N. Gordon, who appeared for the prisoner in both charges, declined to elect or plead, but at the consent of the court he later put in a plea of guilty. For this offence Reynolds was sent to jail for one month. The umbrella was taken from the Mattress Co., in Ashburnham, by Reynolds, and afterwards sold. It seems that Reynold's police record is not as immaculate as it should be. He got three months in jail in 1907 for stealing $60; and was afterwards implicated with robbing Mr. R. M. Roy's yacht.

Who is Jim Crow ?

Ald. Hicks is Hot on His Trail, and Defies Him to Come Forth Openly and Substantiate His Insinuations

At last night's meeting of the city fathers, Ald. Hicks took the floor in his own defence against Jim Crow, apparently an anonymous writer in the Examiner of July 19th, who insinuated that he (Ald. Hicks) was opposed to the employment by the city of any person of the Roman Catholic faith. Jim Crow's letter evidently was an answer to Ald. Hicks' refusal to approve of the appointment of a foreman of sewers, who happens to be a Roman Catholic, on the ground that he does not know the man, and the writer, whoever Jim Crow may be, sarcastically went on to say that "Whereas Mr. Chipman and the resident engineer appointed on the south end sewer and pumping station are outside men. Be it resolved that Ald. Hicks be given every opportunity of ascertaining if either or both gentlemen are members of the Roman Catholic church. And, in case one or both should be a Catholic I suggest that the matter be introduced of late years will greatly increase the yield per acre.

You practically laid a serious charge against me and owe me a public apology."

Ald. Phelan could not see it that way. He had given the mayor the gentleman's name in question; and instead of receiving the public apology he considered due him—Ald. Hicks' charges against him having been made in open council—he had merely received a written apology. Ald. Phelan here read the apologetic letter, which he considered insufficient.

Ald. Hicks—"I know that the letter to the council was written by the left hand, in an office on Hunter street, with your knowledge."

Ald. Phelan again denied any knowledge of the letter in any way.

Ald. Hicks once more asked for the name of Ald. Phelan's informant concerning the rock elm question, which the latter refused for reasons before given. "He had given the name to his worship, and that should suffice."

Ald. Hicks seemed somewhat satisfied, however, when told by Ald. Phelan that the name in question was not that of an old steamboat man.

His worship—"I think, Ald. Hicks, that when you make a charge against a member of this council and receive a straightforward denial you should accept his statement."

This ended the controversy.

THE ROCK ELM MATTER.

While on his feet Ald. Hicks again went into the Rock Elm question, and asked Ald. Phelan the name of the citizen who had said that the Board of Works had paid too much for such lumber.

At the July council meeting an anonymous letter was read, also claiming that the city had paid too high a figure for its rock elm, and Ald. Hicks gave quotations in support of his contention that a fair price had been paid for the lumber in question. He also accused Ald. Phelan of knowing the writer of the letter, and asked for the name of his (Ald. Phelan's) informant on this matter. Ald. Phelan denied all knowledge of the letter and said that his informant was a reputable citizen, whose name he had promised not to use. Ald. Hicks agreed to apologize should Ald. Phelan give that name to the mayor, which Ald. Phelan did after the meeting and subsequently received a letter of apology from Ald. Hicks.

While warm on the Jim Crow business last night, the chairman of the Board of Works, expressed his dissatisfaction at not receiving in council the name of Ald. Phelan's informant as to the price of rock elm. Mayor Morrow assured him that the gentleman in question was a reputable citizen.

Ald. Hicks to Ald. Phelan—"When [illegible] is a lumber deal by the city, you should, as an alderman, have sought to verify the truth of such a statement.

LOOKING TO THE FUTURE.

In emphasizing the need of electric power conservation in this Province, W. K. McNaught, M.P.P., has rendered the people of Ontario an important service contends the Toronto News. To a Province which has no coal of its own and which depends upon the Pennsylvania coal fields for its fuel, the energy stored up in its cataracts and rapids must be regarded as of supreme value.

Every precaution should be taken to prevent the waste or alienation of this power to foreign interests. There is much force in the warning that if we go on recklessly exporting electricity to the United States the day may come when we shall require it all at home, and when international difficulties will arise if we withdraw the supply. American industries erected with Canadian electricity as their chief motive power will not relinquish this asset and face destruction without appealing to Washington's protecting arms.

It is the duty and privilege of this generation as far as may be to remove possible causes of discord between future generations of Canadians and Americans. For this reason alone it will be well not to give U. S. manufacturers and power users a vested interest in our water powers. The issue is pressing for the time approaches when the U.S. government, in the interests of its own people, may prohibit the export of coal from its rapidly disappearing deposits.

Our water powers are infinitely more valuable than coal fields, because they cannot be exhausted and because they cannot be diminished so long as we look after the forests that protect the watersheds. The commercial uses of electricity increase from day to day and the time probably draws near when it will be commonly employed in every household in every kitchen and in the tilling of the soil. The companies now developing power at Niagara Falls are under charter obligation to sell at least one-half of their available current on this side of the line when it shall be required by Canadian industries. There seems to be no prospect of reclaiming the other half when it also shall be needed. Henceforth the national policy should be to forbid the execution of contracts providing for the export of any more white fuel.

"Can be depended upon," is an expression we all like to hear, and when it is used in connection with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy it means that it never fails to cure diarrhoea, dysentery or bowel complaints. It is pleasant to take and equally valuable for children and adults. Sold by all dealers.

Crippen's Condition Slowly Improving.

London, Sept. 2.—The condition of Dr. H. H. Crippen, accused with Ethel Clare LeNeve, of the murder of his wife, Belle Elmore, today showed marked improvement, and it was given out authoritatively at the Brighton jail where he has been confined in the hospital since his arraignment, that in all probability he will be able to appear in the Bow street court on Tuesday, to which date his arraignment was discontinued.

Ethel Le Neve, in the Holoway jail hospital, was said today to be recuperating from the severe strain of the last few weeks.

This is the best opportunity ever offered of participating in a transaction with assured profits.

OUR PROPOSITION

We have acquired a site, Nos. 788 and 790 St. Urbain Street, having a frontage of 60 feet on St. Urbain Street, with an equivalent frontage on Basset Street, in rear.

The land is 195 feet deep, but we intend ceding over to the city 20 feet in order that the lines of Basset Street may be continued past our property. You will readily see the advantage of this, as it gives us two street frontages instead of one, as is usual in most apartment houses.

We have designed an apartment house, calling for a four-storey apartment house of thirty-two (32) apartments, well planned and laid out, complete in every detail.

In the centre of the building there will be a waiting room and telephone exchange. This telephone exchange will connect with every apartment.

It is estimated that the cost of land and building will be $100,000, made up as follows:—

Land	$15,000.00
Building	70,000.00
Allowed for architect's fees and other expenses	15,000.00
	$100,000.00

Therefore we are forming a company for $100,000, composed of 1,000 shares of $100 00 each.

At the expiration of the time allotted for the subscribing of stock, we will apply for a charter, so that everything will be done in proper style.

Immediately upon forming the company, the tenders will be allotted by the Board of Directors, who will have been elected by the shareholders at the first annual meeting, which will be called immediately upon granting of the charter.

It is estimated that the annual rental will be about $480.00 an apartment, or $15,360.00 per annum.

This is how you are guaranteed 7% or more.

Now to show our good faith in the matter, we do not intend to receive one cent before the shareholders obtain their 7 per cent.

After all expenses have been paid, allowing the shareholders 6 per cent., we will divide the surplus between the shareholders and ourselves, as our share for the promoting of the company, and the running of the apartment house.

We will guarantee 7% to each shareholder on his Investment

CAN ANYTHING BE FAIRER? CAN ANYTHING BE SQUARER? If so, we have not yet discovered it.

After the completion of the building, it is our intention, by the consent of the Directors, to mortgage the building for an amount of say, $50,000.00, and immediately start another apartment house scheme, upon the same terms and conditions, so that eventually the shareholders will receive a considerable amount more than 7 per cent. upon the money invested.

EDWARD AS MOTORIST.

He Was an Enthusiast and Patron of the Toot-Toot Art.

By the death of King Edward, motoring in common with many other forms of sport has lost a munificent patron. His Majesty was the proud possessor of a baker's dozen of motor-cars, most of which represent the last word in the automobile world.

The King was immune from the tyranny of the number-plate, and his cars were therefore innocent of the symbolism which appeals so strongly to the executive of the police-trap.

A detailed description of all the King's cars was issued to the police throughout the Kingdom together with instructions that "all facilities" were to be given for their progress up the road. But this concern at headquarters was not sufficient to prevent mistakes. More than once the royal cars were held up owing to the interference of some officious constable, who was disappointed in his search for a number, and a considerable amount of time and breath has been wasted before he has been convinced that "the King can do no wrong."

Unlike his brother, the Duke of Connaught, the King was remarkably free from anything in the nature of a serious accident. He had breakdowns in legion—no motorist is free from these little unpreventable inconveniences — but he always proved himself equal to the emergency by availing himself of the first handy vehicle and so avoiding becoming an object of interest to all and sundry.

A short while ago his car came to a sudden stop in Richmond Park. In a moment a vast crowd appeared, apparently from nowhere, and enjoyed the spectacle of the King of England instructing his chauffeur in the true inwardness of the breakdown, showing him the best method of remedying the fault, and exhibiting in a manner of ways his intimate knowledge of motor-car mechanism. He owed this knowledge to Mr. Oliver Stanton, who, years ago, taught His Majesty cycling, and more recently made him a thorough master of the automobile.

King Edward's chauffeurs were all picked men. Most of them served in Scotland Yard, and have, at some time or other, driven the official motor-cars of the police. How this idea of the King's was carried out is interesting. One day a chauffeur in the employ of the Commissioner of Police was told off to perform some service for the King, and the fine physique and bearing of the man attracted His Majesty's attention. While this man was in attendance at Buckingham Palace something went wrong with a royal motor-car, which seemed to puzzle the King's own chauffeur, and resist all his attempts at remedy.

At last the man from Scotland Yard stepped forward, and in a few minutes found a remedy. The King was so pleased that he asked the man to take service with him, and, the permission of the Commissioner being secured, the corps of policemen-chauffeurs was inaugurated. As it was necessary for policemen to accompany the King almost everywhere he went, the man performed dual service.

Although the King was extremely free from accidents, he had foresight enough to know that he was not infallible, so he had a complete first-aid outfit attached to each of his cars. This miniature surgery weighed about six pounds, and included an India rubber tourniquet to stop bleeding, several pairs of scissors and forceps, antiseptic swabs, gauze, bandages, a variety of unguents and dressings, a selection of stimulative drugs, and a bottle of brandy. These contents are arranged in the order of their use in the eight different compartments of a silver box which fits into a royal blue morocco case.

The Names of the Mighty.

Talking of family names, the new issue of the London directory provides some curiosities. Sebastian Bach is a horse dealer, Robert Bruce and John Bunyan are green grocers, John Milton is a chandler and James Boswell a mason.

William Shakespeare is the name of a barrister, tailor and a van builder. There is a Crusoe and also a Gulliver. Julius Caesar is a chemist; Livy keeps apartments. Homer is a lightterman, Pindar an electrical engineer, Mars, retails beer, and Venus, not inappropriately, sugars, candles. Frances Bacon is an architect and Bayard a dairyman. And what could be better for the name of a saddler than Whippy?

From Sailor to Royal Academician.

Mr. C. Napier Hemy, one of the newly-elected Royal Academicians, has had an extremely eventful career. Born at Newcastle-on-Tyne, he was taken by his parents to Australia, where in his early days he worked hard as a miner in the bush. The call of art was strong upon him, however, and he abandoned everything to study painting in Antwerp. Returning to England in 1870 his success with the brush was soon assured, and, elected an Associate in 1888, he has now deservedly achieved the highest honor the art world has to offer.

Healy on Redmond.

The Irish politician takes his business seriously and when he strikes an opponent he strikes to kill. The other day at a mass meeting in Cork, Mr. M. Healy, M.P., said that Mr. John Redmond and his party, in voting for the Budget, had committed the greatest act of betrayal of Irish interests since that memorable act of treachery in Ireland's history when, 110 years ago, other Irishmen put their hand and seal to the Act of Union.

Exporting Cabinet Ministers.

In proposing "Scotland and her Industries" at a Glasgow corporation dinner recently an Englishman remarked that the two chief industries of the northern land were the manufacture of marmalade and Cabinet Ministers. Sir Samuel Chisholm, who replied, suggested that they had a good-going business in the output of Prime Ministers—for export as well as for home consumption.

FACTS—The property is absolutely proven territory, lying as it does with the UNION OIL CO. producing on the south, the LIBERTY OIL CO. producing on the west, the HARD OIL CO. producing on the north, which only recently started its 20th rig, and the PROSPECTING COMPANIES, such as Ojai Petroleum, Pyramid Oil Co., Canadian Queen, Orchard Crude, Hard Oil and Asphalt Co., and others. THERE'S NO QUESTION ABOUT THIS COMPANY GETTING OIL. It is possible that Liberty Oil Company's new well will be a gusher, which would make the ATLANTA OIL COMPANY stock worth $10 per share. Atlanta would make the ATLANTA OIL COMPANY stock worth big hunk of Liberty property, which adjoins ours, and as soon as the OIL MAN and the investor realize how fortunate in obtaining his services, VENTURA CO. OIL represents the investment of the industry. It is the home of HIGH GRAVITY OIL. VENTURA COUNTY OIL brought $1.50 a barrel at well. Costs from 25 to 40 to produce it. THE GREAT UNION OIL CO. got its start in VENTURA CO. and has paid over two million dollars in dividends. These GREAT ASSETS had a small beginning in the WILL SELL 40 PAR CENT. OF ATLANTA OIL CO. property. The balance will be retained by the present owners. THIS STOCK WILL NOT LONG BE OBTAINABLE AT PAR. The eastern block stocks are disintegrating, the OHIO FIELDS, FOR INSTANCE, have practically reached the limit of production. OUR PROPOSITION

We have acquired a site, Nos. 788 and 790 St. Urbain Street, having a frontage of 60 feet on St. Urbain Street, with an equivalent frontage on Basset Street, in rear.

The land is 195 feet deep, but we intend ceding over to the city 20 feet in order that the lines of Basset Street may be continued past our property. You will readily see the advantage of this, as it gives us two street frontages instead of one, as is usual in most apartment houses.

We have designed an apartment house, calling for a four-storey apartment house of thirty-two (32) apartments, well planned and laid out, complete in every detail.

In the centre of the building there will be a waiting room and telephone exchange. This telephone exchange will connect with every apartment.

It is estimated that the cost of land and building will be $100,000, made up as follows:—

Land	$15,000.00
Building	70,000.00
Allowed for architect's fees and other expenses	15,000.00
	$100,000.00

Therefore we are forming a company for $100,000, composed of 1,000 shares of $100 00 each.

At the expiration of the time allotted for the subscribing of stock, we will apply for a charter, so that everything will be done in proper style.

Immediately upon forming the company, the tenders will be allotted by the Board of Directors, who will have been elected by the shareholders at the first annual meeting, which will be called immediately upon granting of the charter.

It is estimated that the annual rental will be about $480.00 an apartment, or $15,360.00 per annum.

This is how you are guaranteed 7% or more.

Now to show our good faith in the matter, we do not intend to receive one cent before the shareholders obtain their 7 per cent.

After all expenses have been paid, allowing the shareholders 6 per cent., we will divide the surplus between the shareholders and ourselves, as our share for the promoting of the company, and the running of the apartment house.

We will guarantee 7% to each shareholder on his Investment

CAN ANYTHING BE FAIRER? CAN ANYTHING BE SQUARER? If so, we have not yet discovered it.

After the completion of the building, it is our intention, by the consent of the Directors, to mortgage the building for an amount of say, $50,000.00, and immediately start another apartment house scheme, upon the same terms and conditions, so that eventually the shareholders will receive a considerable amount more than 7 per cent. upon the money invested.

Messrs. The House of Brown, Limited.

Gentlemen,—

I hereby subscribe for .....Shares in a company to be formed for $100,000.00 to build an Apartment House, as outlined in your advertisement, payable as follows: 5 Per Cent. to be sent with this application for Stock, balance 25 Per Cent. on granting of charter, 25 Per Cent. in 30 days afterwards, 25 Per Cent. in 60 days, 20 Per Cent. in 90 days.

EDWARD AS MOTORIST.

He Was an Enthusiast and Patron of the Test-Test Art.

By the death of King Edward, motoring in common with many other forms of sport has lost a munificent patron. His Majesty was the proud possessor of a baker's dozen of motor-cars, most of which represent the last word in the automobile world.

The King was immune from the tyranny of the number-plate, and his cars were therefore innocent of the symbolism which appeals so strongly to the executive of the police-trap.

A detailed description of all the King's cars was issued to the police throughout the Kingdom together with instructions that "all facilities" were to be given for their progress on the road. But this concern at headquarters was not sufficient to prevent mistakes. More than once the royal cars were held up owing to the interference of some officious constable, who was disappointed in his search for a number, and a considerable amount of time and breath has been wasted before he has been convinced that "the King can do no wrong."

Unlike his brother, the Duke of Connaught, the King was remarkably free from anything in the nature of a serious accident. He had breakdowns in legion—no motorist is free from these little unpreventable inconveniences — but he always proved himself equal to the emergency by availing himself of the first handy vehicle and so avoiding becoming an object of interest to all and sundry.

A short while ago his car came to a sudden stop in Richmond Park. In a moment a vast crowd appeared, apparently from nowhere, and enjoyed the spectacle of the King of England instructing his chauffeur in the true inwardness of the breakdown, showing him the best method of remedying the fault, and exhibiting in a number of ways his intimate knowledge of motor-car mechanism. He owed this knowledge to Mr. Oliver Stanton, who, years ago, taught His Majesty cycling, and more recently made him a thorough master of the automobile.

King Edward's chauffeurs were all picked men. Most of them served in Scotland Yard, and have, at some time or other, driven the official motor-cars of the police. How this idea of the King's was carried out is interesting. One day a chauffeur in the employ of the Commissioner of Police was told off to perform some service for the King, and the fine physique and bearing of the man attracted His Majesty's attention. While this man was in attendance at Buckingham Palace something went wrong with a royal motor-car, which seemed to puzzle the King's own chauffeur, and resist all his attempts at remedy.

At last the man from Scotland Yard stepped forward, and in a few minutes found a remedy. The King was so pleased that he asked the man to take service with him, and, the permission of the Commissioner being secured, the corps of policemen-chauffeurs was inaugurated. As it was necessary for policemen to accompany the King almost everywhere he went, the men performed dual service.

Although the King was extremely free from accidents, he had foresight enough to know that he was not infallible, so he had a complete first-aid outfit attached to each of his cars. This miniature surgery weighs about six pounds, and includes an india rubber tourniquet to stop bleeding, several pairs of scissors and forceps, antiseptic swabs, gauze, bandages, a variety of ungruents and dressings, a selection of stimulative drugs, and a bottle of brandy. These contents are arranged in the order of their use in the eight different compartments of a silver box which fits into a royal blue morocco case.

HOME OF THE SHETLAND.

Little Pony Comes From a Picturesque Country.

Away to the north of Scotland lies the group of islands in which the diminutive horses commonly called Shelties have their home. The Shetlands are not all inhabited, some of the smaller islands being used merely as pasturage for a few sheep. There is little to attract either the agriculturist or the merchant, so progress is slow; the islanders till their land by old-fashioned methods, and many of them still have recourse to barter as a means of obtaining necessaries.

To the lover of the beautiful and to the artist there is much to charm. Some perhaps would describe the islands as barren—but what barrenness! The country, though destitute of trees, is so varied in the nature of its scenery that their absence in no way detracts from the general beauty of the landscape.

Countless tarns, streams and lochs all serve to make the coloring of the heather covered hills and the gloomy tints of the moors stand out in pleasing contrasts, while near the sea bold cliffs tower over the blue waters, whose waves dash against their rocky sides. Overhead numerous sea birds circle on their way to their nests on the ledges.

The largest island is known as the mainland, with a length of fifty-four miles and a width of twenty-one. The islands have a singularly mild and equable climate considering their exposed situation, and compose one of the most healthful districts of Scotland; but even the most adventurous tourists seldom visit them, because a doubtful sea trip in a small steamer is necessary before they can be reached.

Of the entire area of 551 square miles scarcely one-sixth is under cultivation, yet the Shetlanders manage to maintain something like 100,000 sheep, 20,000 cattle and 5,000 of the famous ponies. The inhabitants are of Norse origin and in their speech and customs retain many of the characteristics of their forefathers. They support themselves chiefly by the herring and other fishing industries.

They cannot afford to give much feeding to their ponies, so these hardy little animals run wild in herds on the hills or seaholds, picking up what food they can find. When the bleak wintry weather comes on they find their way down to the seashore, where they derive a scanty living from the seaweed which grows upon the rocks or has been left by the high autumn tides and freshened by melted snow or rain. At this time of year, too, they will gather in groups near the homesteads and are rewarded with an occasional truss of hay.

In spite of this precarious existence the Shelties seem happy enough and they are extremely hardy. They possess extraordinary strength for their size, being able to carry a man or woman with apparent ease for long distances.

The little ponies, with their rough, shaggy coats and flowing manes and tails, seem somehow to suit their wild, rugged surroundings and the groups of them that are scattered about add the needed life to the landscape.

Perhaps it is a question of a survival of the fittest that makes these little creatures so very small, as horses of a larger type would be useless on the boggy moors or on the stony hillsides. They have been known to attain the age of thirty years and more, due probably to the healthful mode of life which they were forced to adopt, for they were born in the fields and lived and died in them.

Where Edwards Rest.

Edward I., born 1239, died July 7, 1307, buried in Westminster Abbey.

Edward II., born 1284, died Jan. 25, 1327, buried at Gloucester.

Edward IV., born 1442, died April 9, 1483, buried at Windsor.

Edward VI., born 1537, died July 6, 1553, buried at Westminster.

Edward VII., born Nov. 9, 1841, died May 6, 1910, buried at Windsor Castle.

The Spinning Ant of Ceylon.

The spinning ant is found in India, in Ceylon, in the Islands of Malacca, and in Australia. This ant weaves its nest between two leaves of a tree, preferably the mango. It begins to build, or to weave, by drawing two leaves together. To do this it runs a line of its working material—material similar to the spider's thread — the length of the leaf and around it. While at work it clings to the leaf with its nails and, at the same time, draws on the leaf nearest to it with its mandibles. Sometimes the two leaves suitable for nest-building are too far apart. Then the builder calls in its fellow ants and they help it to form a chain. Each ant clings to the waist of its neighbor by its mandibles. Thus enchained, they work to build the nest of their comrade.

New Zealand's Wool Trade.

Sir Joseph Ward's the Prime Minister, speaking at Mangaweka, recently, said that New Zealand was to-day exporting more wool than any one of the Australian states. The total value of the exports had now reached twenty millions a year. Eighteen months ago people had predicted financial distress, but, happily, their fears had not been realised. The deposits in banking institutions had increased by more than four millions as compared with last year.

She Got Even.

A Lanarkshire postmistress explains how she got level with a customer who had paid for £3 lbs of postal orders in threepenny pieces. First of all she kept him waiting while she counted over the coins three times, and then next day, when he came back to change some postal orders, she paid him out in the same threepenny pieces!

OIL IS KING.

California, the Golden State, has become a strong competitor with the Eastern States in production of petroleum. The California oil is a strong competitor by reason of the heavy freight rates paid on refined oil shipped from the east and on account of the growing demand for crude oil for fuel on steamships and railway engines. The Atlanta Oil Co. has control proven property adjacent to other properties daily producing thousands of barrels. The company has 160 acres of oil land on Mahoney Mountain, within ten miles of Santa Paula, Ventura Co.

THE BEST MEDICINE.

Pure Air Cures Many Ills and Means the Prolongation of Life.

"Pure air is more precious than gold," said the venerable physician. "It is the best medicine in the world and means the prolongation of life and the cure for many ills which make my calling necessary and profitable. Don't tarry too long in crowded, ill-ventilated places and beware of 'stuffy' rooms. Now, the dangerous element in a stuffy place, like a rush hour subway train is, strictly speaking, not due to carbonic acid gas. That in its pure condition would speedily cause death, but it has been established that the chief danger in breathing vitiated air is not entirely or even chiefly due to carbonic acid gas, but rather to organic impurities which are invariably present in vitiated air.

"And here it may be pointed out that the other chief constituent of breath is water, and an amount varying from six to twenty-seven ounces. A has been calculated, may be given off in the course of twenty-four hours. Dr. De Chaumont, a well-known authority on this subject, has estimated that an assembly of 2,000 people during a period of two hours—that is, the duration of an ordinary meeting—may exhale in respiration and give off in perspiration about seventeen gallons of water.

"The amount of carbonic acid given off by a man amounts to about three-quarters of a cubic foot an hour, or nineteen cubic feet in twenty-four hours. Each individual, therefore, may be said to destroy about fifteen cubic feet in twenty-four hours. And the man who occupies a hall bedroom and keeps his window down while he reads by gaslight far into the night should know that the burning jet gives off as much carbonic acid as he does himself. Then he may let in a little air."

Bismarck on Women in Politics.

Some interesting observations of Prince Bismarck on female suffrage have come to light. Of women in politics he said: "We men are all clumsy. We Germans especially are always ungainly bears, even diplomatists. Moreover, much time would be made public, for a sensible woman's mouth can keep silence. On the other hand it can draw from an opponent in a tone of harmless chatter many a secret that he would not give up to us men. Woman's mouth chats so ingratiatingly on most subjects that we never notice, old donkeys that we are, that we have told them more than we intended to, for everything that is feminine beats us in cunning."—London Telegraph.

The Crucial Test.

At an adjourned town council meeting in the north a member casually mentioned that a person could not enjoy or even distinguish between drinking in the dark. A worthy bailie denied this and offered to bet that, blindfolded, he could name any drink given him. The bet being accepted and the bailie blindfolded, the test commenced. The bailie drank everything submitted, smacked his lips and correctly named the drink until the token was in despair. Then "try him wi' water," whispered a councillor, and the hint was taken. Sip—smack—sip—a shake of the head—"I canna just mind the name o' this, but I mind o' tastin' it when I was a wee laddie."—London Standard.

Japan's Police Force.

Japan's police force was originally the most aristocratic body of the kind in the world. Its establishment was almost coincident with the Emperor's decree forbidding the wearing of swords. By a stroke of the imperial pen the samurai were deprived of cherished weapons by which the gentlemen of Japan had been accustomed from immemorial times to advertise their rank. So they went into the police, where it was still possible to carry a sword. And a very formidable weapon it was then, being of the two-handed variety.

How Do You Take Your Defeat.

The way a man takes his defeat is a pretty good test of his caliber. The strong man sees his failures for stepping stones instead of stumbling blocks. I know a very successful young man who has made it a rule of his life to use every misfortune that comes to him as a point of departure for something better. He has had losses and misfortunes which would have crushed most men, but they only stiffen his resolution, nerve him up for a new start. They only make him more determined to conquer the next time.—Success.

The Worst Drink.

"Pul chi-chi, the chi-chi of Patagonia! That is the worst drink in the world," said a naval man. "The Patagonians gather wild apples. They dig pits and line them with horse hides, and in these pits they leave the apples to rot and ferment. When the pits are full of foamy, hissing juices the Patagonian warriors gather for their annual jag, and the women and children go off and hide in the woods. No wonder, for chi-chi is a terrible drink. It is a thick gray foam that hisses, to seems to be alive. It is like drinking snakes."

Getting Even.

Some retaliations are too clever to be resented. They seem to be almost a logical part of the circumstances that evoked them. Dr. Wines was formerly the principal of a boys' school. One day he had occasion to trounce a lad, who naturally resented the punishment. On the doctor's front door was a plate bearing the one word "Wines." That night a bold and clever hand added three words to the inscription, so that in the morning the description read this way: "Wines and Other Liebers."

Receding Chins.

The misguided who have square chins and big lower jaws say that we of the receding chins have neither will nor strength of character, which is absurd, as anyone may know who remembers that Gen. Wolfe and Mr. Pitt had practically no chins at all, to say nothing of living soldiers and statesmen. To judge a man by his chin is no less foolish than to judge him by the bumps of his skull.

Men Like to Own Their Homes.

The Ontario Bank lots put on the market by Mr. Dumble are in great demand. Six houses are now built or in course of construction. If more of our land owners were to put lots on the market at a low price poor men could afford to buy and build. Men like to own their little homes—it is better than paying rent.

"GIVE YOUR SON A DEED"

If, by way of illustration, you will review the history of the men in your town who have made money out of real estate, you will find that in each and every instance their profits were made from real estate acquired at ground floor prices.

More money can be made by those who acquire a realty interest in a town at its inception per dollar invested than from investments made after a period of years.

Do you know that you can purchase with $5 cash a full sized residential lot in Bow City, Alberta the logical location for a great city, a city which is destined to be known, the world over, as a market place annually for hundreds of thousands of bushels of grain, grown on the vast irrigated fields surrounding Bow City, a shipping point for coal from the great Bow Centre Collieries, and a purchasing depot for hundreds of prosperous farmers resident throughout Southern Alberta.

To-day is your opportunity to acquire an interest in Bow City at the ground floor price.

It will be too late six months hence, to apply for a lot in Bow City at the present prices and on such easy terms as are offered you in this advertisement.

Why not follow Russell Sage's advice given in a letter published some years ago to the fathers in the Western States:—

"Buy your son a lot in a town being the "centre of a great agricultural country—when "he comes of age that lot will be worth consid-"erable money and will provide a handsome "stake for him in life; it is at least most sub-"stantial life insurance—sure and certain."

Buy your son a $50 lot in Bow City, the coming metropolis of the western prairies. In a very short time he can re-sell the same at a big increase, which money he will find advantageous in business pursuits or in a college course.

Bow City, the centre of the great granary of Southern Albert has a future concerning which no sane business man or banker has any doubt.

When you are assured of the success of the city, when you have proven to you beyond the shadow of a doubt that Bow City will, in the very near future, be one of the most active, one of the most progressive towns on the Western prairies, you should not hesitate to acquire at least one $50 residential lot, when same is on sale on such easy terms as 10 per cent cash and the balance 10 per cent per month until paid—a deed at any time.

Bow City is in the heart of a famous irrigated farming belt whose farmers are assured of a crop every year. They are prosperous and their prosperity will naturally enhance the value of Bow City real estate.

The great coal mines of Bow City will furnish work for 1,000 to 1,500 miners daily, these miners will constitute a substantial basis for a successful city.

The present owners of Bow City have decided that no licenses shall be issued for the sale of spirituous liquors; they intend that this great mining and agricultural centre shall be free from any traffic in intoxicating drinks—it will be a clean city.

Bow City is the headquarters of a railway which taps a territory unparalleled for richness in crops and natural resources.

The Sale of Bow City lots opened but a few days ago

If you are desirous of acquiring a $50 residential lot close in you should lose no time in making application by wire direct to the General Agents of the townsite, or to the nearest sub-agent.

Do not delay by sending your application by mail.

Wire at once your reservation for one or more lots On receipt of wire your name will be placed on the closest-in unsold lot or lots and same will be held in your name, allowing you sufficient time for your cash payment, mailed same day you wire, to travel from your home to the head office.

You may find it to your advantage, if you are desirous of securing a business opening, or a business lot, to write for copy of the plans, booklets and descriptive matter concerning Bow City, all of which may be had on application, free of charge.

A RARE CHANCE.

Remember That Asbestos is Daily Increasing in Use in Mechanical Work.

Any intelligent man of business, or busy manufacturer knows that asbestos is, of all mineral substances, greatly in demand. Asbestos is essential to makers of electrical apparatus of all kinds, and is used freely in the manufactory of paints and many other commodities. The Province of Quebec has in the past supplied the great majority of the asbestos used throughout the world. How ever, rich asbestos lands have been discovered in the State of Wyoming. This mineral as found there is of a better grade than most of the Quebec product. Fortunately also the Wyoming asbestos lands are within easy access of cheap transportation. The Rochester and Wyoming Asbestos Co., whose advertisement appears in this issue, have secured a rich asbestos property in Wyoming and are as noticed in the adv. offering a limited number of shares at 25 per share. The proposition is well worth investigation.

Wanted Her Money Back.

A Scotch lady who had been to a concert in Edinburgh wrote to the manager complaining that the singer had not sung a single Scotch song. The manager replied that the singer was a Scotch lady, but that she had married a Frenchman and had forgotten her native tongue. The lady wrote back that she wanted her money returned, as she had been deceived.

OIL SPRINKLING.

A Great Success in Dust Laying on the Streets of Omemee.

In view of the fact that some twenty-five residents of Rubidge street have petitioned the council not to use crude oil on that thoroughfare on account of the resulting smell, it may be of interest to note that the main street of Omemee is sprinkled with oil. As noted in Saturday's issue, three automobile loads aldermen and citizens went to Lindsay, on business the preceding day. As autos ran through Omemee, the great and practical results of oil sprinkling that street was most observable. Just before the autos entered and immediately after leaving Omemee each of them raised a cloud of dust that would make a sand storm in the Sahara desert look cheap. Passing through Omemee not a particle of dust followed in the wake of the autos. Of course, as far as smell of the oil sprinkling is concerned, those in the autos could hardly vouch for. An auto has a scent of its own, somewhat different to that of Otto of Roses, this auto perfume might have somewhat obliterated any smell of the streets. On the other hand, the smell, if any, arising from that street would have had to be powerful and travel fast to affect the olfactory nerves of those in the different cars as they sped by.

With a smile, Mr. MacDougall replied, "Hardly, you see, except Fort William, three miles distant, our nearest town of any size is about 250 miles away, so we hardly think it worth while to maintain many autos under such conditions." Mr. MacDougall is Dominion Government Grain Inspector at Port Arthur.

STEWART IS BOOMING.

Building Operations Going Ahead at a Great Rate.

The Stewart, B.C. correspondent of the Grand Trunk Pacific Passenger Department reports that work at all the mines in the vicinity of Stewart is being vigorously pushed, and new strikes are being made in many of the properties. The Red Cliff Mine have let the contract for a large water power plant to supply power for their compressor, electric light and other objects. Lumber has been ordered for large ore bunkers to build as soon as possible. A new strike has been made on the Waterloo claim of the Red Cliff group and from present indications it promises to be equally as large as their present wonderful showing. Values are of a higher character.

Portland Canal Mining Company have their aerial train in operation, the concentrator is practically completed, and this mine will be very shortly shipping ore.

The Mann interests are being extensively developed and very rich ore bodies have been opened up on several of their bonded properties. This practically assures us that many of their obligations respecting bonds on mining properties will be taken up.

Business in general in the town of Stewart is exceptionally good. Building operations are going ahead at a very rapid rate, and two large additions to one of the leading hotels are being rushed to completion to supply the demand for accommodation.

The Portland Canal Lumber Co., Ltd., a subsidiary company of the Fraser River Mills, Vancouver, B.C., have started the erection of a large sawmill on the townsite of Stewart which will have a capacity of 50,000 feet per day.

Earl Irwin.

The death occurred at 3.30 Tuesday morning at 392 Water street, of the four-year-old son of Mr. Alex. Irwin, from infantile paralysis. He was only ailing for a few days. Two brothers are left to mourn his loss. Ray and Harold. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2.30 to Little Lake cemetery.

The Board of Education met last night. Full report on first page.

Many Years of Solitary Confinement

Boston, Mass, Sept. 6.—Jesse Pomeroy, probably the most notorious of life prisoners in the United States to-day entered upon his 35th year as a solitary confinement prisoner behind the gray walls of the State prison in Charlestown. At the age of fourteen years he was sentenced to life imprisonment for torturing and murdering little children. For 35 years he has been confined in a little cell, dark and bare, never once being allowed to attend divine service or to work or exercise with the other convicts.

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

Not a Speculative Enterprise

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS is an industrial enterprise of the most solid character. The monopoly of the supply and the constantly increasing demand make the market for the product absolutely certain. There is no substitute for asbestos. It is one of the prime necessities of modern industry and construction. And, as already stated, it sells for a price many times greater than the cost of production.

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS affords an unequalled opportunity for safety and permanent income out of all proportion to the amount of the investment.

LARGEST RAILWAY IN WHOLE WORLD

Area of station and yards at Seventh Ave. and 33rd Street, 28 acres.
Length of trackage, 16 miles.
Proposed initial daily service of Pennsylvania Railroad trains, 400.
Proposed initial daily service of Long Island Railroad trains, 600.
Length of river tubes, (single track), 6.8 miles.
Length of land tunnels, (single track), 6.8 miles.
Total cost of all improvements, $150,000,000.

New York, Sept. 8.—The new Pennsylvania terminal station in this city; the largest and most magnificent structure of its kind in the world, together with the tunnels, which connect it with New Jersey on the one side, with Long Island on the other, opened to public traffic today. The formal dedication of the station and tunnels took place about one month ago, but actual traffic through the tubes and in the terminal was not inaugurated until today. The event, which marks the beginning of a new and important epoch in the development of New York's transportation facilities, was duly celebrated in Manahattan, in Brooklyn, in Long Island City and other Long Island towns by enthusiastic popular demonstrations today.

The work on this gigantic undertaking which was originally planned by the late Alexander J. Cassatt, then president of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and which will constitute a lasting memorial to his name, was begun about six years ag . The construction of the tunnels under the Hudson and East River was a remarkable engineering feat. The tunnels are continuous tubes of steel, nearly seven miles long, are lined with concrete and accommodate each but a single track.

The erection of the terminal station itself was a tremendous undertaking. Before the first stone of the masonry work of the building could be laid, which was on June 15, 1908, an enormous amount of work had to be done. About five hundred buildings, occupying the area bounded by 7th and 8th Avenues, 31st and 33rd Streets, had to be torn down, the entire area excavated to a great depth and not until then could the actual erection of the magnificent structure be begun.

The New York station of the Pennsylvania Railroad is the largest building ever constructed at one time, in the history of the world. It covers an area of 28 acres, of which eight acres are taken up by the terminal building itself, the rest by the yards. The station is a beatiful structure built after the Roman-Doric style of architecture. It is constructed of pink granite, quarried at Milford, Mass., steel and brick and is divided into three levels. The lowest part contains the tracks, which are fully forty feet under the street level and are reached by numerous stairways connecting the tracks with the waiting rooms and corridors, etc., on the ground floor.

The main entrance is in the centre of the 7th Avenue facade, which extends 430 feet, but all four of the fronts are practically of the same design, those on 31st and 33rd Streets being 740 feet long, nearly 20 feet longer than the Capitol in Washington. The maximum height of the building, above the street level, is 153 feet. From the street level the outside walls rise to a height of 60 feet, except in the centre where a lofty dome covers the general waiting room, which is 277 by 103 feet and is approached by a concourse 340 feet long and 210 feet wide.

At the corner of 8th Avenue and 33rd Street there is an elevation of four storeys, accommodating the offices of the Railroad Company. The interior structure is a skeleton frame work of steel resting upon 650 concrete piers, each capable of carrying a load of 1,000 tons. There are entrances on all sides, giving ample acces of the railroad company. The main waiting room on the concourse is the largest in the world. It has wmsdows of semi-circular shape, nearly 97 feet wide at the base. In addition to the general waiting room there are smaller waiting rooms for men and women, which open into the retiring rooms. The main waiting room contains the ticket offices, baggage checking windows, telegraph and telephone offices, etc. and everything is so perfectly arranged that all confusion is practically avoided. The trains may also be reached direct from the outside by means of wide stairs leading down from the street level.

Local Pastor as Good Samaritan.

A local pastor played, in practical manner, on Tuesday night, the part of a "good Samaritan." It seems that a young man of the city had dallied too long and frequently with the cup that cheers and then turned round and stings like an adder. The divine took the young man home, arm-in-arm. Whilst not extending any maudlin sympathy towards the young man stung, the action of the pastor reflects credit upon him, and shows that he is broad-minded enough to realize that human nature is weak, and that a preacher could, and did, do a more christian-like act than leaving the erring one to the tender (?) mercies of the police or a night in the gutter.

ENORMOUS DEVELOPMENT OF GRAIN RAISING.

Over 200,000 Satisfied Americans in the Country—Great Boom in the Building Line in Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 7.—Charles N. Bell, secretary of the Winnipeg Board of Trade, says that this city is the largest wheat market in North America, and he shows that this is so by quoting figures to prove the statement.

The figures for Winnipeg are taken from the Dominion Government Grain Inspectors' records filed daily with the Winnipeg Board of Trade under Dominion law, and are an exhibit of Western Canadian wheat actually received in the railroad yards in Winnipeg, and these statistics do not include grain shipped from Southern Manitoba direct to Duluth, via the Great Northern Railway Company's lines, nor do they include local deliveries, nor grain inspected at Calgary, a percentage of which does not actually pass through the Winnipeg yards.

These figures show Winnipeg to be at the top of the list for wheat shipments among the following named cities:

Winnipeg	69,389,330
Minneapolis	61,111,410
Buffalo	61,084,797
Duluth	56,664,971
Kansas City	35,354,000
Montreal	30,681,779
Chicago	26,985,112

Local Market Prices of Today Compared with Those of Sixteen Years Ago --Some Have Trebled

Most people are aware of the high degree to which prices of requisite articles of living have increased. By referring to files of ten and sixteen years ago, The Times is able to give its readers a comparative table of the prices which ruled on the Peterboro markets during those years.

By referring to the table it will be seen that potatoes were slightly lower in price ten years ago than in 1894, but since that time the price has more than doubled. Eggs and peaches have also doubled, while wheat has trebled, and cheese and all meats have soared wonderfully. Whitefish is an exceptional contrast, being quite by itself.

A remarkable fact not revealed by the table was the presence of turkey on the market in 1894 at 10c. per pound; duck eggs were quoted at 18c.

A CLEAN VICTORY FOR THE BRITISH

OTTAWA WELL PLEASED WITH THE RESULT OF THE HAGUE DECISION.

A Commission Will Act—Sovereign and Legislature Rights of Canada and Newfoundland Admitted.

Ottawa, Sept. 7.—The award in the fisheries dispute is a distinct victory for the British contention, thereby ending or at least putting in the way of ending a controversy which has existed ever since the separation of the present United States from the British Empire.

The most important question at issue was as to the right of British colonial legislatures, which in this case meant Canada and Newfoundland, to make regulations to govern their fisheries, in respect of fishermen from the United States. On this point the British contention is upheld, the tribunal holding that the British have absolute sovereign right to frame regulations in that regard.

There is a string to this decision however, in a proviso that the tribunal recommends that two months' notice be given to the United States between the publication of the regulations and their enforcement in order that the government of the United States may have opportunity of protesting, or presenting any objections to the regulations as they may affect American rights. The tribunal also recommends that an international commission be appointed, which shall have control of and supervision over all such regulations.

The effect of this will be that the governments concerned will appoint a commission upon the lines of the present international commissions which have charge of the waterways and inland fisheries, such commission to have the right to pass upon any proposed regulation before they are put into operation.

WANT FIXED TAXES.

Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Co., Ask for Assessment at $20,000.

A request made by the Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Co., for a fixed assessment of $20,000 was noted in yesterday's issue, but lack of space forbade the whole letter being presented. The letter read as follows:

To the Mayor and Council of the City of Peterborough.

Dear Sirs,—Instead of making application to the city, asking for fixed taxation before improvements were made, the Peterborough Lock Co. undertook to make an expenditure of $25,000, before intimating to the council, that they desired a fixed assessment, believing that the council would realize that the company was entitled to the same treatment extended to other industries under a similar circumstance.

The Lock Company has within the past few months expended $25,000, providing for the trebling of the out put of the plant and the employment of a large number of additional hands —increasing the pay roll to a considerable extent weekly. This has been accomplished without having said anything to the city, believing that the council would deal as justly with them as it did with those who sought first the fixed assessments, and then proceed with the work. The Lock Company [illegible] on and done its work without bargaining for favors, and they have shown the city that the work and expenditure has been made.

His worship, the mayor, who is a director of the company, first favored proceeding with the work and then make application for fixed assessment.

A fixed assessment has been given the following companies:

The Canadian General Co., $150,000; Central Milling Co., $12,000; J. J. Turner & Sons, $6,000; Peterborough Creamery, $1,000; Rapid Tool Co., $1,000; Peterborough Cereal Co. $10,000; Canadian Cordage Mfg. Co., $4,500; Auburn Mills Co., $40,000; Peter Hamilton Co., $20,000; Peterborough Shovel and Tool Co., $4,000 Opera House, $3,000; Wm. Hamilton Co., $10,000; B. F. Ackerman Co., $15,000.

The real estate and business assessment of the Peterborough Lock Co. is $19,300, and of the company's property leased by Mr. Rishea, $7,-000. The company experts to occupy these premises and make certain alterations within a reasonable time. In the meantime we have no objection to the assessment standing, but when the premises come to be occupied by the company, the whole assessment should not exceed $20,000. —We shall [illegible] therefore, to have your kind consideration of our request for fixed assessment.

Yours truly,
J. R. STRATTON, President.

Members of Royalty are Slaves of Slaves

So Declares Princess Louise of Belgium in Article on Sorrows and Tribulations of Kings and Queens

Paris, Sept. 7.—Princess Louise of Belgium has written an article on "Sorrows and Tribulations of Kings and Queens," under the name of John Orth. She is the eldest daughter of the late King Leopold of Belgium and married her cousin, Prince Philip of Saxe-Cobourg in 1875. They resided at the court of Vienna.

After thirty years of married life, during which her husband treated her with increasing cruelty, she ran away with a young officer. She was caught and incarcerated in an asylum, although clearly sane. Her husband obtained a divorce and she was released on hard conditions.

In her story she tells some things about royal domesticity, prefacing the account with a states an that she believed Archduke John Salvator of Austria, her cousin, who disappeared under the name of John Orth, is still alive after telling of his renunciation of his pretensions to the throne and leaving the country. She says:

"His departure seemed like the going out of the sun from our sepulchral court. My husband's conduct to me quickly became more brutal in the absence of John, whom he feared. He abandoned himself to drink. His depraved propensities released themselves in all their nakedness. Many a time in wild rage he tore my clothes from me. When I first attempted to escape from his brutalities he brought me back and left me helpless and fainting[illegible] tied to the bed. At last, goaded to madness, I ran away from him with the assistance of a young officer, who was devoted to me. The world knows the sad story of my experiences after that.

"And yet Prince Philip of Saxe-Sobourg was considered an ornament to the court of Vienna, while I am now excluded from it.

"The Archduchess Louise had been tied in marriage to Frederick Augustus of Saxony, now king of that country. She was a bright, volatile sensitive creature, and such companionship was death to her.

"In 1902 she ran away with her children's tutor, Andre Giron, a dagger little Belgian, not because she loved him, but because he was the only gentle civilized human being she was allowed to see. The princess she met were equal mixtures of vice and stupidity. She has since married an Italian singer, Enrico Toselli.

"Her brother, the Archduke Leopold Salbator, of very similar temperament to herself, was also chafing under the conventions of royalty. He decided to run away at the same time as his sister, and took with him a pretty little actress, Wilhelmina Adamovics, whom he married. I must say that Leopold was a fickle and unreasonable fellow. He made his wife join a colony of eccentrics living without clothes and feeding on vegetables, as they supposed Adam and Eve lived. Because his wife could not stand this he abandoned her. He has now become a private citizen in Switzerland under the name of Leopold Wolfing.

"During my residence at the court of Vienna many sorid miseries of royal life behind the scenes were revealed to me. The reigning Grand Duke of Hesse, grandson of Queen Victoria, spent most of his time knitting open work stockings and doing embroidery. His wife, a handsome and vigorous woman left for this reason and has since married the Grand Duke Cyril of Russia.

"Many secret acts of kings and princes can only be hinted at. Strange forms of madness taint many royal families. Perhaps the most repulsive monster in all the European royal circle was the Grand Duke Sergius of Russia. He habitually beat his beautiful wife, yet she continued to stand between him and death by accompanying him everywhere, for the Nihilists hated him worse than any man in Russia, but they would not kill him while his wife was with him. They had more chivalry than Sergius. At last one day they caught him without her and that was the end.

Fisheries Award Gives Britain Many Points

The Hague, Sept. 7.—With certain qualifications, the International court of arbitration, to which was left the settlement of the fisheries' dispute between Great Britain and the United States, has decided in favor of Great Britain on all important issues. The award was announced this afternoon by Prof. Lammasch.

It is unanimous on all points except that of the exclusion of United States fishermen from bays of Newfoundland that are less than six miles across at their opening.

This decision settles a matter in which Canada was greatly interested, and which several times nearly caused war between England and the United States. The dispute is a century old.

U.S. WINS MORE POINTS.

The American Government is sustained on points two, three, four, six, and seven out of the total seven points on which the issue was framed.

Great Britain wins on points one and five. Point five has been held by Great Britain as the most important of those submitted.

The fifth point was stated in the form of this question.

"From where must be measured the three marine miles of any of the coasts, bays, creeks, or harbors referred to in article 1 of the American-British treaty of 1818?"

United States fishermen claimed the right to have the measure from any part of the British North American shore, and therefore the liberty to fish in the middle of any Canadian bay or estuary having a radius of more than three miles. The British contention was that the limits should be measured from an imaginary line connecting the headlands.

The peace court sustained the British contention.

A MIDNIGHT MASS FOR MEN ONLY

FIFTEEN THOUSAND MEN WERE IN NOTRE DAME WHEN THE CLOCK STRUCK TWELVE.

Vannutelli Rules Jail Prisoners Weep—Dean Hand of Toronto Barred Out Last Night Till News paper Man Helped Him.

Montreal, Sept. 7.—The first day of the International Eucharistic Conference began with a mass celebrated by the papal delegate, Cardinal Vannutelli, in the jail here. It was a go off day as far as religious ceremonies are concerned, but the social end was well looked after.

At one o'clock the Windsor Hotel was the Mecca to which everyone wended their way, the occasion being a luncheon given by Sir Lomer Gouin and the members of the executive council of the Province of Quebec. The pope's ambassador was there, and he was just as much at home as he was in St. James' Cathedral last evening, surrounded by the one hundred and twenty archbishops, bishops, and other dignitaries of the Church. Cardinal Logue, primate of all Ireland, was also there, and, as is always the case, he had his snuff box along.

As for the others, just call in mind any archbishop, bishop, vicar-general, or any other distinguished churchman from as far away as Asia Minor or Brazil and you can set it down, with but very few exceptions that they were all there.

The luncheon is to be followed in the evening by a reception, also at the Windsor. Hon. Charles Murphy, secretary of State, being in charge in the name of the Dominion Government. "All the world," as the French expression is, will be there.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is expected late today, and he will probably be at the banquet tonight. When Sir Wilfrid pays visits to Toronto he is always received in state, but his appearance here late today will be devoid of any eclat.

Montreal knows him well, and, though there will be no special turnout to welcome him back from his Western trip there will be quite a crowd to greet him.

MEN'S MIDNIGHT MASS.

The scene within Notre Dame at midnight tonight will be notable. Starting at 11 o'clock there will be an hour's adoration of the blessed sacrament and on the stroke of 12 the celebration of the sacrifice of the mass will be commenced. The ceremony is one for men only, and every seat in the immense edifice will be occupied.

MISS BUTCHER'S WEDDING.

Pretty Ceremony in St. John's Church. Wherein a Local Belle Becomes a Staid Matron.

Yesterday morning the deep-toned bell of St. John's church pealed forth the joyful notes indicatory that two lovers had joined their future destinies in marriage. The bride, who looked charming, was Miss Florence Amelia, daughter of Mr. John Butcher, Ashburnham, and the groom, Mr. A. J. Tovey of Unity, Sask., but formerly of Peterborough, and a son of ex-Ald. Tovey. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Canon Davidson, rector of St. John's. A number of friends of the bridal pair were present at the ceremony. The bride was becomingly attired in a smart tailored costume of grey and wore a hat of Persian silk with a grey mount. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. R. J. Devey, choirmaster of St. John's, played the wedding march and Mr. George Chandler sang "O Perfect Love."

Mr. and Mrs. Tovey left on a honeymoon trip to Rochester. They will reside in Unity, and on their way to the West will remain in Peterborough for a short time.

ROUTE 18 THREE AND A HALF MILES LONG—FIVE HOURS TO PASS BY.

Cobalt Silver is Used— Monstrance for Carrying Host Made From the Ores of O'Brien's Mines.

Montreal, Sept. 7.—Everyone in the city, including the 40,000 or so visitors, is anxiously looking forward to the Eucharistic procession to be held on Sunday, marking the close of the congress. There is but little doubt but that it will be the most gorgeous religious spectacle ever witnessed on the western continent, provided that the weather is at all favorable, and according to those who saw a similar procession in London last year at the close of the Eucharistic congress there, the indications are that the one to be held here will far surpass it in splendor.

The route is about three and a half miles long, and they figure it out that it will take over five hours for the procession to pass a given caused war between England and the point, it being estimated that between fifteen and twenty thousand will take part.

Those looking after the arrangements are working day and night to have things so laid out that there will be but as little confusion as possible, but there is sure to be a certain amount of it by reason of the number of outside bodies that will take part.

They expect two or three thousand

I found great difficulty in curing," states Dr. Wilson. "Every time he caught cold or got chilled he suffered intensely from sore throat and chest soreness. After every attack his throat and chest seemed more sensitive. This patient lived in the country, and couldn't come to the city for treatment. I concluded that the best remedy would be an honest liniment, and because of its enormous sale and well known merit, I advised 'Nerviline.' Morning, noon, and night, Nerviline was rubbed over the neck and chest, and once a day diluted with water it was used as a gargle. In a day or two my patient reported an improvement, and by the continued treatment with Nerviline he was cured. I can recommend Nerviline for breaking up colds, for chest tightness throat inflammation, quinsy, tonsilitis and similar conditions."

NERVILINE CURES QUIESY

Not a druggist or doctor who has examined the formula of Nerviline who won't tell you how good it is—why it contains the best medicaments known to science, and for general family use has no equal.

CANADA AS A CONSOLATION.

In some reminiscences now being published in McClure's Magazine, we find Dr. Goldwin Smith speaking thus of Gladstone: "In a letter to me suggested that if the North would let the South go, Canada might afterwards be allowed to enter the Union. I suppressed the letter, which I thought would be of little use at the time and might afterwards do him harm.

It has often been said that Dr. Goldwin Smith did not understand Canadian opinion, but he showed sagacity as well as loyal friendship to Gladstone in suppressing this amazing proposal. It reads less like the suggestion of a practical statesman than the dream of a student of maps who thinks that countries can be carved out without regard to the sentiments of their people.

About the time of the American civil war, and for some time afterwards, there was a widespread feeling in England that Canada was a burden and a scource of danger to the Empire. British statesmen strongly favored the federal union of British North America, some hoping that it would increase the strength of Canada as part of the Empire, others, it must be confessed, regarding it quite complacently as the first step toward independence. In 1864-5, the Hon. George Brown wrote to Sir John Macdonald from England: "There is a manifest desire in almost every quarter that ere long the British American colonies shall shift for themselves, and in some quarters evident regret that we did not declare at once for independence." In 1871, Sir John Macdonald, while helping to negotiate the Washington treaty, complained that his colleagues from England were too eager to please the United States at the expense of Canada.

But this feeling has now passed away, and we find in Great Britain a cordial recognition of the value of Canada to the Empire, and a slight uneasiness lest she should lend too willing an ear to the overtures of her neighbor. There is no need to be severe with the statesmen of the sixties and seventies because they could not see through the eyes of the statesmen of 1910. But it was surely unkind to the Canadians who worked so hard to build up a British Dominion to intimate that they might enter the United States as a consolation for the threatened loss of the South.

VENTURA CO. OIL represents the cream of the industry. It is the home of HIGH GRAVITY OIL. VENTURA COUNTY OIL means $2.00 a barrel at well. Come from $2 to $5 to produce it. THE GREAT UNION OIL CO. got its start in VENTURA CO. and has paid over twenty-two millions in dividends. SECURITY OIL had a small beginning in the WILD HILL OIL FIELD, which RIGHT OF ATLANTA OIL CO. property. The demand for refining of TAR RAISED THE PRICE. The 30 Gusher wells in Coalinga are paying for themselves. The owners look upon wells as dividends. The OHIO FIELDS, FOR INSTANCE, believe of one-third. The demand is unequal to the increased market for gasoline. Therefore the price is bound to advance. Until internal combustion engines ceased to develop, so the price of high gravity crude petroleum. OUR PROPOSITION

We have acquired a site, Nos. 788 and 790 St. Urbain Street, having a frontage of 60 feet on St. Urbain Street, with an equivalent frontage on Basset Street, in rear.

The land is 195 feet deep, but we intend ceding over to the city 20 feet in order that the lines of Basset Street may be continued past our property. You will readily see the advantage of this, as it gives us two street frontages instead of one, as is usual in most apartment houses.

We have designed an apartment house, calling for a four-storey apartment house of thirty-two (32) apartments, well planned and laid out, complete in every detail.

In the centre of the building there will be a waiting room and telephone exchange. This telephone exchange will connect with every apartment.

It is estimated that the cost of land and building will be $100,000, made up as follows:—

Land	$15,000.00
Building	70,000.00
Allowed for architect's fees and other expenses	15,000.00
	$100,000.00

Therefore we are forming a company for $100,000, composed of 1,000 shares of $100 00 each

At the expiration of the time allotted for the subscribing of stock, we will apply for a charter, so that everything will be done in proper style.

Immediately upon forming the company, the tenders will be allotted by the Board of Directors, who will have been elected by the shareholders at the first annual meeting, which will be called immediately upon granting of the charter.

It is estimated that the annual rental will be about $480.00 an apartment, or $15,360.00 per annum.

This is how you are guaranteed 7% or more

Now to show our good faith in the matter, we do not intend to receive one cent before the shareholders obtain their 7 per cent.

After all expenses have been paid, allowing the shareholders 6 per cent., we will divide the surplus between the shareholders and ourselves, as our share for the promoting of the company, and the running of the apartment house.

We will guarantee 7% to each shareholder on his Investment

CAN ANYTHING BE FAIRER? CAN ANYTHING BE SQUARER? If so, we have not yet discovered it.

After the completion of the building, it is our intention, by the consent of the Directors, to mortgage the building for an amount of say, $50,000.00, and immediately start another apartment house scheme, upon the same terms and conditions, so that eventually the shareholders will receive a considerable amount more than 7 per cent. upon the money invested.

Messrs. The House of Brown, Limited.

Gentlemen,—

I hereby subscribe for .....Shares in a company to be formed for $100,000.00 to build an Apartment House, as outlined in your advertisement, payable as follows: 5 Per Cent. to be sent with this application for Stock, balance 25 Per Cent. on granting of charter, 25 Per Cent. in 30 days afterwards, 25 Per Cent. in 60 days, 20 Per Cent. in 90 days.

NO EXODUS FROM THE WEST

ceiving market in America, Winnipeg leads the list of American markets. Winnipeg's actual oat receipts during the year past totalled 30,838,900 bushels, followed by New York 23,717,562 bushels, St. Louis 18,582,670 bushels, Minneapolis 14,059,230 bushels, Omaha 10,320,808 bushels, Kansas City 6,349,500 bushels, Duluth 5,117,437 bushels.

As the reports of harvesting continue to come in, the crop of 1910 looks better. Pessimists who let loose their wails early and often forgot to take into account the fact that the West is much larger than it used to be, and that losses in one part may be more than offset by gains elsewhere. This is what has happened this year when the drought that pinched some parts of the southern country of the West, failed to reach other parts of the south or any of the great North country that gets bigger and broader with each succeeding year. The crop in this North country is heavy this year and its abundance has swelled the crop returns to good proportions.

Commenting upon the reports of a great exodus of United States farmers from Canada, Charles F. Roland, secretary of the Winnipeg Development and Industrial Bureau, says:—

"There are now over three hundred thousand satisfied American farmers who are prospering in Western Canada, and if awakened by this movement of United States interests who are waging a campaign of misleading misrepresentation that tends to lessen the value of Canadian, and thousands of letters will be sent to friends and home papers in United States resulting in the best advertisement the West could possibly obtain. Germany, France, Belgium and other foreign capital have been active during the past twelve months and glowing reports of the possibilities of Western Canada have been published in these countries over the signatures of the most representative men."

This statement is borne out by the enormous number of homesteaders who have made entry on free lands in the West during the year, although not as many from the United States file on homesteads as from other countries, the United States farmer generally comes to Canada with enough money to buy land, and the free 160 acres is not, therefore, so much of an attraction to him, although he often takes up land and buys, too.

In spite of a strike among the bricklayers and masons—now happily ended—the month of August was a particularly good one for the building trade in Winnipeg. 427 permits for 482 buildings, were taken out, and the value of these building is placed at $1,449,100, or more than $300,000 more than the building of any previous August in the history of Winnipeg, that of 1909. The total of building figures for eight months is $12,329,400.

Bank clearings for August, too, were large and show a big lead over last year. August of this year showed bank clearings amounting to over $72,500,000, as against—in round numbers—$46,000,000 last August.

In the face of such figures as these, no fear need be felt that the West is anything but prosperous.

He was surprised at how the sores healed after he took your New Method Treatment for a serious blood disease with which I had been afflicted for twelve years. I had consulted scores of physicians taken all kinds of blood remedies, visited Hot Springs and other medicinal water resorts, but only got temporary relief. They would help for a time, but after discontinuing the medicines the symptoms would break out again—rising sores, blotches, rheumatic pains, soreness of the body, weakness of the glands, pains of the bones, itching, blotches of the skin, dyspeptic stomach, etc. I had given up in despair when a friend advised me to consult you, as you had cured him of a similar disease 5 years ago. I had no hope, but took his advice. In three weeks time the sores commenced to heal up and in three months I considered the New Method Treatment for your specialty and at the end of that time every symptom had disappeared. I was cured 5 years ago and no sign of any disease since. My boy, three years old, is sound and healthy. I am solely and conscientiously recommend your treatment with all my heart. Burned Man is Doing Well.

Shortly before six o'clock Wednesday evening, Mr. Wm. Miller, a young man employed in the test department of the C.G.E., was badly burned about the arm and neck while at work. Comstock's ambulance took him to the Nicholls' Hospital, where the injuries were attended to. Reports received last night from the hospital by The Times, indicate that the injured man is doing as well as could be expected.

Inspector Stewart Was Busy.

License Inspector Joseph Stewart yesterday took a tour of inspection through some of the local hotels. We understand that at one public house that is licensed Inspector Stewart gave explicit instructions that certain improvements must be made at once if the licensee hopes to get a renewal of his license next May. At this particular hotel the inspector's main fault finding was in regard to the lavatory. Mr. Stewart was assured that the improvements demanded will be inaugurated immediately, if not sooner. As far as could be ascertained, Inspector Stewart was fully justified in his "kick," but there is reason to believe that the changes demanded will be made at once.

King Edward in Moving Pictures.

Patrons of the Royal Theater yesterday, had in all probability the last opportunity of seeing his late Majesty King Edward VII. in moving pictures. At that theater there was a picture, now gone back to the owning exchange, that showed King Edward and the Queen Mother, reviewing troops at Knowsley, as clearly as though the audience had been within thirty feet of our lamented sovereign. Whilst the Royal had large audiences yesterday, it seems a pity that this particular picture had not been more extensively advertised, so that hundreds, if not thousands of our citizens might have seen this splendid, life-like picture of the best king England had had for centuries, in moving pictures. The pictures showing the king's funeral were somewhat dim, but yesterday's scenes at the Royal theater showed their majesties as clearly as they were seen by their most intimate friends present at the review.

YOU CAN BUY INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS

Now at 15 Cents

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

Not a Speculative Enterprise

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS is an industrial enterprise of the most solid character. The monopoly of the supply and the constantly increasing demand make the market for the product absolutely certain. SELL stocks and bonds of all iron, teel and smelting companies.

WHY? Because they are capitalized on the earnings of their blast furnaces now turning out base and precious metals. These blast furnaces are going to the scrap heap.

RENDALL FURNACES will supersede blast furnaces everywhere. They cost only one-fifth the price to build and produce pure metal from any kind of ore for one-half the cost of production by any other process now used.

In New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland VAST DEPOSITS, containing BILLIONS OF TONS of low grade iron ore, now unworked and idle because the ores are below the present accepted standard required for Bessemer ores, will soon be turning out the FINEST IRON the world has ever seen from RENDALL FURNACES now being built.

BUY

Rendall Steel Stock

WHY? Because all iron and steel makers must buy RENDALL FURNACES—and every mining camp, where copper, silver, lead and zinc are produced must add continually to the Rendall Steel Company's income, which will amount to $17,000,000 a year in time from earnings and royalties. This means about $90 per share annual dividends on Rendall Steel stock.

Some years ago an eminent authority, Abram S. Hewitt, after a careful study made in the library of Sir Henry Bessemer, was able to demonstrate that the BESSEMER PROCESS of making iron and steel added, directly and indirectly, $2,000,000,000 YEARLY TO THE WORLD'S WEALTH.

Since then there has been steady increase over this two thousand million dollars a year.

HENRY BESSEMER'S INVENTION IS NOW SUPERSEDED BY GEORGE F. RENDALL'S INVENTION.

There will be no more BESSEMER STEEL. IT WILL BE ALL RENDALL STEEL. "Rendall Steel stock will go up to $500 a share and pay enormous dividends." Reliable, eminent authorities in mining and metallurgy predict this.

Jesse R. Grant, E.M., son of General U. S. Grant, ex-President of the United States; Captain C. B. Dahlgren, E.M., U.S. Navy (retired); Captain S. L. Barbridge, E. M.; W. F. Downs, E.M., of Columbia University; James C. Bayles, M.E.; Ph.D., ex-editor Iron Age; G. F. Randall, M.E.; T. F. Maher, U.S. Navy Yard; G. H. Moore, E.M., C.E., and other mining and metallurgical engineers say "A REVOLUTION OF THE WHOLE IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY AS GREAT AS THAT PRODUCED BY SIR HENRY BESSEMER IS EFFECTED BY THE RENDALL PROCESS. NEIGHBORS QUARREL.

A London street resident called yesterday afternoon at The Times' office, with a seemingly well substantiated tale of woe. It seems that the complainant lives next door to a gentleman who has a most vigorous kid, who, to use the complainant's story is possessed of demons. The kido throws paper, sticks, stones, etc., on the lawn of the complainant. The day before yesterday, the heavy wind prevailing, blew a lot of newspaper and other refuse on the grass of the neighbor. The neighbor, not knowing that the force of nature had been the cause of his lawn being littered, began to rake the objectionable matter on the grass of the complainant. This led to a wordy argument between the adjoining residents' wives, in which the neighbor seemed to have got so much the worst of it, that it is alleged, in good faith, his nerves were so overpowered that he tried to cut down a tree with a lawn mower.

Monster Parade

people will come down from Toronto and the most of these will take part in the procession. Others are coming from as far away as Chicago, a special train will arrive Sunday morning from New York city, and several thousand others are expected from the Eastern States. Only men will take part, and every one of them will walk, horses and carriages of stipation. all sorts being forbidden. The men will walk three by three on each side of the street, while those in charge of the different bodies and those carrying banners will take the center of the road.

Countless programs have been printed in French and English, describing the procession and where the various bodies will line up, but in none of them, as far as the newspaperman could see, is the name of Toronto mentioned. However, those coming from the Queen City to take part in the demonstration, will be looked after, even though they are in the program under the classification "Holy Names societies." They will line up before joining in the procession on Recollets streets, at the head of McGill street, and will be scattered along as far as St. Peter street.

A STORM OF PROTESTS

Montreal, Sept. 8.—Father Vaughan's attack has brought forth a reply from the Presbytery of Ottawa in which the Catholic mass is opposed as "tending to promote narrowness, superstition and idolatry on the part of the young and the uneducated."

The local English papers are full of letters from non-Catholic clergymen, protesting against Father Vaughan's onslaught, accusing him of lack of tact and of stirring up strife, between sects which have lived in unity."

FATHER VAUGHAN DEFENDS HIS ATTACK ON PROTESTANTISM

"Doubling up their fists and shaking them in the face of God," said Father Vaughan, "the married couple say, 'you order increase, and we defy you.'

"I call racial suicide constructive treason against God. To live the married life and deliberately to shirk its most sacred consequences is, in my judgment, to live in a state of legalized prostitution."

"The British Crown has no more solid defenders than the Roman Catholic clergy in Canada."

"If the birth-rate among non-Catholics is to continue decreasing, while the birth-rate among Catholics goes on increasing, the future of Canada, and the United States will be as glorious for the Catholic Church as it will be shameful and disastrous for those outside it."

"To those who speak of Catholicism as a 'discredited system,' the religion of a played-out Latin race,' let them study Catholicity today in Belgium or Germany. Still better, let them cross the Atlantic to Canada or the United States."

"The contention of the future of this new world will be not between Catholicism and Protestantism, but between Catholicism and Agnosticism."—Father Vaughan.

FAMOUS LONDON JESUIT SAYS THAT CATHOLICS IN EMPIRE ARE INTENSELY LOYAL TO BRITISH FLAG.

Calls Racial Suicide Constructive Treason Against God—A Storm of Protests Against His Utterances.

Montreal, Sept. 8.—Father Bernard Vaughan, whose recent slashing utterances on the faith of Protestantism have kindled violent opposition from one side of Canada to the other is not inclined to withdraw from or apologize for one single word uttered in tribute to his own religion.

In a long interview with a newspaper man this morning at the home of Captain Walsh, his host during the congress, Father Vaughan reiterated and emphasized with consistent Jesuitic zeal his belief in the imminent downfall of Protestantism in Canada, as well as in the whole non-Catholic world. The very first point of Father Vaughan's statement was to the effect that Canadian Protestantism represented only irreconcilable quarrelling elements, unattached to any anchor of authority, and drifting either backward to the fold of the Roman Catholic Church, or into the pitfall of Agnosticism, or worse.

Father Vaughan's last wish is to stir up eroedal bitterness in Canada. His frankness from the pulpit of St. Patrick's church on Sunday night was impelled by a wholesome, though perhaps undiplomatic desire to make his own burning convictions the possessions of others.

"I am a plain, outspoken, unfearing servant of my faith," said Father Vaughan at one point in the interview. "I never aim my sermons or lectures except to energize others with the principles which I know are the infallible means towards human betterment. I don-t care for anybody. The faith of a long Catholic ancestry, which suffered and was persecuted because of belief, is in me and must be communicated to others."

WAS MUCH ENGROSSED.

As the famous priests, whose stinging denunciations of the flippant tendencies of modern society have frequently focused the eyes of the world upon him, turned energetically to the discussion of the Catholic outlook in Canada, the voice of gentle discussion deepened, and at times trembled with the rhetorical vigor of the London preacher. As question and answer crossed and recrossed, Father Vaughan's interest became such that for several minutes he failed to notice an increasing drizzle of rain falling on the verandah, and which liberally moistened his face and garments.

DECLARES SOLDIERS WILL GUARD HOSTS

COLONEL LABELLE DECLARES 65TH REGIMENT WILL TURN OUT IN UNIFORM.

No Permission Necessary—Officers Who Turned Out Last Night are Treated as Heroes.

Montreal, Sept. 8.—The announcement was made this morning that, despite the opposition of the Department of militia, the 65th Regiment, the French-Canadian troops will take part in the procession next Sunday.

"Certainly the 65th Regiment will take part in the Eucharistic procession," said Col. Labelle, commanding the regiment, when questioned this morning, regarding the announcement, "and my orders are sufficient to call the men out and have them take part in the proceedings. It will not be necessary to obtain permission from the Militia Department to order the men out."

When questioned why, with that power vested in the local commanders, the military element should have been absent from the wharf when his eminence Cardinal Vannutelli landed on Saturday, Col. Labelle said:

"I cannot explain why it was. There was a mixup and general misunderstanding, but this will not be revealed on Sunday. I have called the men out to take part in a voluntary church parade, and they will guard the "host" as it is carried through the streets."

Thirty officers of the 65th Regiment who marched to the Vannutelli reception last night in dress uniform are being treated as heroes today.

NEWFOUNDLAND IS JUBILANT

REGARDS THE FISHERY AWARD AS A SUBSTANTIAL VICTORY.

Can Put Americans in Their Proper Place—Regulations Can Be Passed Which Will Protect the Home Fishermen.

St. Johns, Nfld. Sept. 8.—The decision of the International Court of Arbitration on the Newfoundland fisheries dispute is looked upon here as a substantial victory for the colony. The winning of point one by Great Britain means, it is pointed out, that Newfoundland will have full power to control all fishery legislation, and make the American fishermen subject thereto.

In regard to question two, permitting American vessels to include foreigners among their crews, this does not affect Newfoundland's rights to pass laws forbidding her own people to join American vessels outside of territorial waters or punish them for so doing.

The chief point in question three, which relieves Americans of the obligation of paying light dues in Newfoundland fishery waters, is that the colony must enact more stringent legislation to prevent smuggling.

A BIG POINT GAINED.

Newfoundland's victory on question five confirms her mastery over all the waters in which bait fishes are obtainable during the summer season.

Roosevelt Wouldn't Eat with Lorimer

Freeport, Ill., Sept. 8.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt today flatly refused to attend the dinner to be given to him by the Hamilton Club in Chicago tonight if U.S. Senator William Lorimer were present. The colonel met the committee from the club at Freeport, and when he learned that Senator Lorimer was to be at the speakers' table, he immediately stated that he would not attend unless Lorimer is eliminated. He said:

"Lorimer represents the antithesis of what I represent in politics. I cannot, in justice to myself, sit at the same table with him. Gentlemen I can't do it. If the Illinois senator is to be present at your dinner I cannot go." The members of the committee immediately began to hunt telephones into Chicago.

Aylesworth Delighted By Fishery Award

London, Sept. 8.—Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, minister of justice, who prepared the Canadian side of the fishery case, speaking to the Canadian Associated Press, expressed his opinion of the fisheries award thus: "A win all along the line for us."

Mackenzie King was present during the reading of the award and said that it seemed quite satisfactory.

Had Both Hands Torn to Pieces

Prescott, Sept. 8.—An awful accident happened to Fred La Mere at 2.30 yesterday afternoon, as a result of which he will lose the use of both hands.

He was working in the hold of a grain vessel at the elevator, guiding the big scoop. The ropes caught, and in shaking them loose he put himself in such a position that if he let go it would mean instant death, and if he hung on he would be drawn into the pulley block.

He hung on, and had his right hand cut off diagonally across the palm, barely leaving the trunk, and part of the thumb and first and second fingers of his left hand, the third finger badly pinched and torn, but not severed. He was taken to Ogdensburg Hospital.

Only a few days ago the foreman John Mills, had the end of his left thumb cut off in much the same way The men have been greatly overworked since the Ogdensburg elevator was burnt, and their trade is being handled here as well as the Forwarding Company's own traffic. La Mere has a wife and child to support.

Be sure and take a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with you when starting on your trip this summer. It cannot be obtained on board the trains or steamers. Changes of water and climate often cause sudden attacks of diarrhoea, and it is best to be prepared. Sold by all dealers.

NOTED CRIMINAL BROUGHT TO TRIAL

YOUNG MAN ADMITS AWFUL MURDER CHARGE.

Young Lady Killed in Her Home by Burglar, Who Admits the Crime.

Springfield, Mass., Sept. 8.—A plea of insanity will probably be relied upon to save from the electric chair Bertram C. Spencer, the self-confessed highwayman and murderer, whose case was called for trial in this city today. Spencer is charged with the murder of Miss Martha D. Blackstone on the night of March 31st last. The murder, it it alleged, was the climax of a career of crime extending over many years and which the young man had successfully concealed by working steadily every day and apparently leading a respectable life.

The killing of Miss Blackstone occurred at the home of Mrs. Sarah J. Dow, in one of the suburbs of this city. Mrs. Dow, her two daughters, and Miss Blackstone, who was a guest for the night, were seated in the sitting room about a small table when an intruder made a demand for money from the dining room. They looked up to see a masked man in the dark doorway threatening them with a revolver. Mrs. Dow retained her composure and replied, "We have no money," but Miss Blackstone in fright, jumped to her feet and ran screaming into an adjoining room. The burglar said, "If you want to get killed, keep on screaming," and fired as he spoke, the bullet entering Miss Blackstone's breast. Death followed instantly. The murderer turned the revolver on the group, shooting Miss Harriet Dow in the head nailant then made his escape through and seriously wounding her. The assa grove surrounding the house.

For several days posses aided by bloodhounds scoured Springfield and the entire vicinity in a vain effort to obtain a clew to the murderer. The authorities concluded that the perpetrator of the crime was the same person who had been burglarizing Springfield homes for the past two years, and who had always escaped detection. Finally a citizen whose home had been entered some time previously turned over to the police a gold locket which he believed had been dropped by the burglar while escaping over a fence in the rear of his house. Initials were engraved on the locket and with this clew to work on the police finally arrested Spencer, a young clerk employed in a local establishment. The initials on the locket corresponded with those of Spencer's sister.

The young man broke down under a 24-hours' merciless grilling, and confessed that he was the mysterious masked burglar and the murderer of Miss Blackstone. In his confession Spencer made it clear that, associated with his overpowering desire to steal, were an intense love of excitement, and a high degree of personal vanity. This latter the young man had gratified for two years by baffling the police and reading the newspaper accounts of his exploits.

He told the police that he has experienced no qualms of conscience from his crimes. He revealed a career of almost lifelong crime. Following a blow on the head while he was a small boy in Lebanon, Conn., his native town, he said, he began to steal at the age of nine. Later, while still a youth, he held up young women on the highways and entered into houses. By engaging in legitimate occupations by day, he had always escaped detection.

THREE ARE DEAD ELEVEN MISSING

EXPLOSION ON U.S. BATTLESHIP NORTH DAKOTA TOOK PLACE YESTERDAY.

An Oil Barrel Blew Up Or Powder Exploded —One of the Finest Ships in Navy, But Very Unlucky.

Newport News, Va., Sept. 8.— A report has reached here from Old Point, that the battleship North Dakota is aground in lower Chesapeake Bay with her bunkers afire and that 75 men were overcome by smoke and heat. The report cannot be confirmed here.

At 2 p.m., a report came by telephone from Fort Monroe that the North Dakota is off Ocean City with her oil tanks on fire, and that several men have been overcome by smoke and gas. The hospital ship is said to have gone to her aid.

THREE ARE KILLED.

A later report from the North Dakota says that three men were killed and 11 are "unaccounted for." No details are obtainable yet.

All reports from the ship so far say a barrel of oil exploded, but belief is gaining ground that the explosion was in one of the lesser magazines or that a shell exploded.

The only communication with the battleship is by wireless, and no information is obtainable except through official channels.

THE ROCKY ROUTE.

George Street Littered With Rocks and Stones That Should Be Removed.

Talking about the "Rocky Road to Dublin," have you seen the stones, rocks and boulders that litter up George street. This main thoroughfare of Peterborough has recently been rebuild. Stones, gravel, sand, water and promiscuous profanity have been spent on the roadway. The city's so-many ton automobile has run up and down to press all but the cuss words with the permanent street. In front of Porter's meat market is the nucleus of a good-sized pitch hole. Along the street are loose stones, weighing from, say ten ounces to as many pounds. If all this recent work is to be replaced by pavement, the public, i.e., drivers, auto fiends and bicycle riders can possibly play tag with the loose rocks for a while. If, however, the street is to be left for a few months as now completed, it would be a good idea for some contractor to gather up the loose stones, as they would come in handy for foundation work on new buildings, and, at the same time improve the street's appearance and safety.

When the digestion is all right, the action of the bowels regular, there is a natural craving and relish for food When this is lacking you may know that you need a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They strengthen the digestive organs, improve the appetite and regulate the bowels. Sold by all dealers.

CROWD OF 10,000 SURROUND THE LARGE COURT BUILDINGS

To Get Glimpse of Crippen---Prosecution will Rely on Scar on Woman's Body in Establishing Identification

London, Sept. 8.—The Crown today, began laying the foundation of the case against Dr. Hawley Harvey Crippen, accused of the murder of his wife, Belle Elmore. With the resumption of his hearing in the Bow street police court, Prosecutor Travers Humphreys set out to establish the corpus delicti. Behind him was an array of witnesses ready to testify that the mutilated remains found buried in quick lime in the cellar of 39 Hillbrop Crescent, North London, on July 13, were those of Mrs. Crippen.

AN IMMENSE CROWD.

The scenes that marked the second hearing on the 6th, were repeated today. A crowd of 10,000 surrounded the court building, hundreds stayed by their posts for hours for the chance of seeing the defendant. The police had as difficult a time as on Tuesday to handle the crowds. So great was the crush at one time that several women fainted.

The first witness called was Mrs. Smythson, a professional friend of Belle Elmore's, associated with her in the London Music Hall Artists' Guild, of which the slain woman was treasurer.

WORE MRS. CRIPPEN'S BROOCH

"I last saw Belle Elmore on Jan. 26," said the witness. "She appeared in good health, and her manner was normal. Later I saw Ethel Leneve at a ball attended by many theatrical people. She wore Mrs. Crippen's brooch, and the fact attracted much attention.

"To those who questioned him then Crippen said his wife had gone to California.

"I saw Crippen after the death of Belle Elmore had been announced in the London Era. He said then that he intended to bring his wife's ashes back to England, and have a ceremony performed over them here."

Dust Laid By Calcutt's Porter.

"Dust to dust, "ashes to ashes." But "Bear to lay the dust," was the culmination of the two first quoted lines yesterday in front of the City Hall building. It seems that a delivery wagon of the Calcutt Brewery was passing round the corner of Water and Simcoe streets, when a quick motion of the horses, sent a barrel of Porter, XXX., to the street. The imprisoned gnomes, born, like Venus, from the sea waves, but, in this case from the past up gassed resulting from fermentation, burst the confining oak staves and spilled the dark brown extract of ale and hops all over the street. One bystander remarked to a friend with a peaked cap and English accent, "I soi' Jimmy that's a bloomin waste of good stout." Still the porter certainly laid the dust, on that part of the street covered as effectively as it would have removed any dust lingering in the respective throats of the two immigrant onlookers.

SAYS VAUGHAN CHURLISH GUEST

OTTAWA CITIZEN WARMLY CRITICIZES VISITING CARDINAL FOR HIS SPEECH.

Canada is Being Made to Extending Warm Welcome to Eucharistic Congress—Visitor Was Ill-Advised.

Ottawa, Sept. 8.—The Citizen says today: "A prominent member of the Eucharistic Congress, Father Vaughan, of London, England, may be the possessor of much zeal, but he can scarcely be complimented in his good taste. All races, religions, and standards of civilization unite on at least one point, and that is the obligations of hospitality. Unhappy is the guest upon whom falls the lot of being entertained by a churlish host, but thrice unhappy is the lot of the helpless host who finds himself entertaining a churlish guest."

MAJORITY NOT CATHOLICS.

"At present Canada is aiding in the entertainment of the Eucharistic Congress, somewhat more so than many people consider advisable or desirable as coming from a State to a church in a country where all religions are supposed to be on the same plane. Canada is not a Roman Catholic country in the sense that the majority of its citizens are not of that faith, and more over, it is a portion of an empire that is undoubtedly Protestant."

BROKE INTO HOUSE AND STOLE TINY TOTS FROM THEIR BEDS

Chicago, Sept. 8.—The police today are searching for the kidnappers of Ruth and Helen Melicia, two and a half years and nine months old respectively, who were stolen from the residence of their mother, Mrs. Cora Melcia, 362 West Oak street, shortly after midnight, by two men who forced apart iron bars on the window to gain entrance.

The children were asleep with their aunts, May and Edith Danielson, sisters of Mrs. Melicia. Both women were found to have been chloroformed by the intruders.

FOUND CHILDREN MISSING.

Mrs. Melicia, who had been out following her husband, George Melicia, from whom she is separated, returned shortly after two o'clock this morning, and found the two children missing. She notified the police of the Chicago avenue station.

When the police learned that Melicia was living at the residence of Mrs. Ida Young, 55 West Erie street they went to the place, and found the two children. According to Ruth, the oldest girl, they were stolen by her father and George Young, son of the woman, with whom Melicia has been living.

Mrs. Melicia accompanied the police to the Young house, where they found the two children crying for their mother. Mrs. Young was taken into custody, but neither Melicia nor Young could be found.

LACK OF MONEY

Was a Godsend in This Case.

It is not always that a lack of money is a benefit.

"A lady, of Green Forest, Ark., owes her health to the fact that she could not pay in advance the fee demanded by a specialist to treat her for stomach trouble. In telling of her case, she says:

"I had been treated by four different physicians during ten years of stomach trouble. Lately I called on another who told me he could not cure me; that I had neuralgia of the stomach. Then I went to a specialist who told me I had catarrh of the stomach and said he could cure me in four months but would have to have his money down. I could not raise the necessary sum and in my extremity I was led to quit coffee and try Postum.

"So I stopped coffee and gave Postum a thorough trial and the results have been magical. I now sleep well at night, something I had not done for a long time; the pain in my stomach is gone and I am a different woman!

"I dreaded to quit coffee because every time I tried to stop it I suffered from severe headaches, so I continued to drink it although I had reason to believe it was injurious to me, and was the cause of my stomach trouble and extreme nervousness. But when I had Postum to shift to it was different.

"To my surprise I did not miss coffee when I began to drink Postum.

"Coffee had been steadily and surely killing me and I didn't fully realize what was doing it until I quit and changed to Postum."

Ever read the above letter. A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

CRUDE OIL TRIED.

Merchants Object to Smell, But the New System Promises to Be Successful.

The crude oil system of taming the dust that causes merchants and pedestrian to get many black marks in the book of fate, by reason of profanity has been given a test on George street. Throughout the main portion of that thoroughfare, the roadway yesterday was treated to a sprinkling of oil. As far as taming the dust clouds is concerned, the experiment is an eminent success. No dust arose even when a devil wagon at 15 miles an hour caused pedestrians and dogs to fly for safety. Still although the dust did not arise in its former might the smell, or to be candid, stink of crude oil did arise. The stench along George street was overpowering. As an absolute matter of fact three different merchants remarked to a Times representative of feeling ill. Two complained of nausea and one of headache from the scent. The smell, however, will probably wear away in a few days, and Peterborough merchants will be old time grievance against the dust removed, and citizens in general will have a few million less bacteria to the cubic centimeter to contend with. The oil is all right and will be cheaper than watering as the months go by.

WELCOME SETTLERS.

Desirable English Family Locates in Peterborough.

A few days ago Mr. James Pitchford of Shropshire, Eng., with his four grown-up sons, arrived in this city. Three of the sons, who are skilled mechanics, at once secured good positions at the Canadian General Electric Company's works. The other son is now working at the Wm. Hamilton Mfg Co. Works. When Mr. Pitchford was leaving the shores of England, he was undecided as to where he would locate, and, his first intention was to proceed to Winnipeg, Man.

However, just previous to sailing, and more particularly during his sea voyage, he heard so much of the advantages offered, and growth of Peterborough, that he decided to locate here. To The Times yesterday he stated that he is delighted with Canada and especially with Peterborough, and her evident future successful destiny. He has made his permanent home on Antrim street. Mrs. Pitchford and the remaining members of the family have been sent for, and it is hoped will soon arrive in Peterborough. This is the class of English settlers that Canada wants and will welcome with open arms and assured positions.

FORMER LOCAL MAN.

Colliers' Weekly of recent date has for its opening editorial a retrospect of Premier Laurier's visit to Prince Rupert, under the heading "The Premier and Prince Rupert." In the editorial Colliers asks "Did the premier see any easy money in Prince Rupert?" "Were there any dollars rolling up Center street?" "Did he call on Sawle of the Daily Optimist?" etc. Now, the editor Sawle, referred to is a brother of Mr. Chas. Sawle, formerly city editor of the Peterborough Times. Mr. Chas. Sawle is now associated with his brother on the paper mentioned out West.

Local Brides for the Far West.

Colliers Weekly of Sept. 3rd, deplored the fact that out West the men outnumbered the women by three to one. This article says, "In the East men go about marrying shamefacedly. In the West men are not ashamed or afraid to do anything to catch a helpmate or marry." Now without mentioning or even hinting at any ladies' names, there are at least three or four young ladies in Peterborough, not one of whom would be likely to turn down an honorable proposition of marriage, made by a well-off rancher, or even to turn their respective faces away, and blushingly remark, "This is so sudden." No, the girls the writer has in mind, if the wooer were handsome, well furnished with coin and of good manners, would willingly help to fill a long-felt want and help in the upbuilding of the West. Come here, Messrs. Ranchers, if you are short in wives and see if Peterborough can't help fill that aching void. You Westerners, however, to use a slang expression, or the prospective wives, we have in mind will be grabbed up by some of our effete Eastern men. Your only hope lies in prompt action and the shyness of our local men. We want Canada, to succeed whether her success be won by men of the East or West, either or both.

Dysentery is a dangerous disease but can be cured. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has been successfully used in nine epidemics of dysentery. It has never been known to fail. It is equally valuable for children and adults, and when reduced with water and sweetened, it is pleasant to take. Sold by all dealers.

A hot game was played on the bowling green yesterday afternoon between skips R. Waddell and W. Talbot. The result was a tie at the end of the 16th end.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1910.

FOREST FIRES DEVOURING THE TIMBER OF OUR FORESTS.

During the past summer forest fires have been devouring the growth of centuries with ruthless rapidity. Northern Ontario, Manitoba and British Columbia have suffered most. Fine tracts of merchantable timber worth millions of dollars have been destroyed, square mile upon square mile of young growth coming on to supply the demands of the future has been wiped out of existence. In Northern Ontario, where but a thin layer of vegetable mould covers the rocks, the soft, oozy forest floor, the canopy of vegitation and equable stream flow has been completely destroyed, leaving a cheerless rocky waste for generations to come. Even if no thought be given to the number of lives lost, it must be admitted that the loss occasioned this year by forest fires has been nothing short of appalling.

Can nothing be done, then, to prevent this loss? The answer is that much can be done. The solution of the problem is indicated in two words—public sentiment. The two principal causes of forest fires are campers and railways, and public opinion must be brought to bear upon these. The forest camper does not at all realize the extent of the damage which his unextinguished camp fire may do. Laws against leaving camp fires burning are already on the statute books, but it is quite evident that their observance rests mainly with the tourist himself. He must be impressed with the very serious nature of his offence. If a man sets fire to a building he is convicted of arson and sent to prison as a felon, but if his unextinguished camp fire burns down millions of dollars' worth of timber and perhaps destroys human life as well, he, at best, made to pay a small fine. When public opinion views this carelessness of the camper as a criminal act and frowns upon him accordingly, considerable progress will have been made in lessening the number of forest fires from this cause.

But it is the railways that spread the most destruction. Traversing, as they do, the great lone stretches of uninhabited timber areas, the sparks from their locomotives start numerous fires that gain great headway before being detected. Too often the right-of-way, piled thick with inflammable rubbish, furnishes a tinder-box for these conflagrations. The owner of destroyed property along the line has found it almost impossible under the present conditions to get damages from the railway company, so difficult is it to fix the responsibility, and so expensive is the progress of litigation. In order to lessen the number of fires due to this cause, the Committee on Forests of the Commission of Conservation has proposed to make the railways pecuniarily responsible. It has recommended that there be added to the Railway Act, a clause making them liable to a fine of $1,000, recovering by summary prosecution before a stipendiary magistrate, or two justices of the peace, for every fire started by sparks from their locomotives. It makes no difference whether the fire begins outside the right-of-way or spreads therefrom to adjoining land. The railways are exempt from this fine if they can show that they have the best modern appliances on their locomotives to prevent the emission of sparks, that their employes have not shown negligence on conducting to the starting of the fire, and that they have maintained an efficient and properly equipped staff of fire rangers. In other words the committee proposes to lessen the number of fires caused by sparks from locomotives by forcing the railways fined for the damage they do, unless they take every possible precaution to prevent such damage. This is obviously a fair recommendation as regards both the railway and the public, and the effort to have it made law is worthy of public support. Every Canadian is deeply interested in the protection of our forests; for each forest fire means that he and his children will have to pay higher prices for every foot of lumber they use. Such a measure, for the preservation of our forests, as that recommended by the Committee on Forests of the Commission of Conservation should there fore, commend itself to every public-spirited citizen and newspaper in Canada.

OUR PROPOSITION

We have acquired a site, Nos. 798 and 799 St. Urbain Street, having a frontage of 60 feet on St. Urbain Street, with an equivalent frontage on Basset Street, in rear.

The land is 195 feet deep, but we intend coding over to the city 20 feet in order that the lines of Basset Street may be continued past our property. You will readily see the advantage of this, as it gives us two street frontages instead of one, as is usual in most apartment houses.

We have designed an apartment house, calling for a four-storey apartment house of thirty-two (32) apartments, well planned and laid out, complete in every detail.

In the centre of the building there will be a waiting room and telephone exchange. This telephone exchange will connect with every apartment.

It is estimated that the cost of land and building will be $100,000, made up as follows:—

Land	$15,000.00
Building	70,000.00
Allowed for architect's fees and other expenses	15,000.00
	$100,000.00

Therefore we are forming a company for $100,000, composed of 1,000 shares of $100 00 each

At the expiration of the time allotted for the subscribing of stock, we will apply for a charter, so that everything will be done in proper style.

Immediately upon forming the company, the tenders will be allotted by the Board of Directors, who will have been elected by the shareholders at the first annual meeting, which will be called immediately upon granting of the charter.

It is estimated that the annual rental will be about $480.00 an apartment, or $15,360.00 per annum.

This is how you are guaranteed 7% or more

Now to show our good faith in the matter, we do not intend to receive one cent before the shareholders obtain their 7 per cent.

After all expenses have been paid, allowing the shareholders 6 per cent., we will divide the surplus between the shareholders and ourselves, as our share for the promoting of the company, and the running of the apartment house.

We will guarantee 7% to each shareholder on his Investment

CAN ANYTHING BE FAIRER? CAN ANYTHING BE SQUARER? If so, we have not yet discovered it.

After the completion of the building, it is our intention, by the consent of the Directors, to mortgage the building for an amount of say, $50,000.00, and immediately start another apartment house scheme, upon the same terms and conditions, so that eventually the shareholders will receive a considerable amount more than 7 per cent. upon the money invested.

THE FAKE STORIES

SPORTING EDITOR SAYS CORBETT CAN TELL WHY JEFFRIES HAD TO BE WAKENED.

No Weeping By Burns—Jeffries Did Not Shiver in His Nightie—Corbett Deserted Him.

New York, Aug. 24.—An article by Robert Edgren, sporting editor of the Evening World, printed today, is causing wide comment. Edgren says in part:

"The 'faked' stories about Jeffries published after the fight are somewhat amusing to those who know the inside facts. Jim Corbett, for instance, tells how Jeff sat up in a window all night before the scrap, shivering in his nightie, and worrying himself sick about his coming defeat.

"Jeff didn't sit up in his window. He slept thirteen hours, and in the morning they had to wake him up.

"There was a reason for that—and perhaps Corbett knows what it was. But he doesn't tell it in his monologue.

"Corbett gets off some other sentimental slush about Farmer Burns, and how the Farmer realizing that Jeffries had 'broken down' stood sobbing at Jeffries' side in his dressing room before the fight.

"Slush—slush—slush!

"Farmer Burns was The man in Jeff's camp. When Corbett was lying in bed in the morning or sitting around playing pinocle, or playing handball, Farmer Burns was up before daylight, and out on the road with Jeffries. I never saw Corbett on the road with Jeff himself. That was real work. Burns was with Jeff faithfully, morning, noon and night. He ran every mile that Jeff ran and even at night he was often prowling around Jeffrie's quarters like a faithful watch dog, to see that nothing disturbed the champion's sleep.

"Burns is a stern, square-jawed, intelligent man—a real man. He is known as the trickiest and most skilful wrestler ever seen in this country. Imagine Burns sobbing until restored to his wits by a warning glance from Jim Corbett.

"During the fight Farmer Burns was close to Jeffries every minute of the time. Not so with Corbett. When the fight had gone far enough to show that something was wrong with Jeffries, and that he was being slowly beaten down, Jim Corbett, supposed to be his chief advisor, deliberately walked away from his corner and deserted him. He walked halfway along the side of the ring and stood there leaning on the ropes.

"The only thing Corbett did during the fight was to talk to Johnson, and Johnson had very much the better of the kidding at that.

"Some of these days a few hitherto unpublished details concerning the defeat of Jeffries and the twenty-four hours that preceded it will be in every paper in America. They'll make good reading, too."

ELECTRIC RAILWAYS IN WESTERN ONTARIO.

An electric railway proposition is before the city of Guelph, and The Guelph Herald says that the proposed scheme is "a part of a very large network of radial lines which will ultimately cover the whole western peninsula reaching from Lake Ontario to Lake Huron and from Lake Erie to the Georgian Bay." This may be a way of stating that the construction of electric railways in this territory has just begun, and that it will be continued until every part of the territory is served. This is probably true, and while some people have been skeptical about the electric railway in which this town is especially interested, the Ontario West Shore, it may be realized within a very few years that we were not at all too ambitious in giving this railway a start.

An Act That Did Not Suit.

In reference to an adv. of the Royal Theater in this issue, it might be said that a certain so-called comedy was put on the boards yesterday afternoon. As it was doubtful whether the act was intended for tragedy, comedy, melodrama or musical act, the proprietor, Mr. Pappas, gave the company notice at once that they would not fill the requirements of the Royal and paying them for the time they had consumed, said "Good bye Dolly Gray." The Royal will have nothing but the best and, today the act mentioned will be replaced by a good feature.

SELL

stocks and bonds of all iron, steel and smelting companies.

WHY? Because they are capitalized on the earnings of their blast furnaces now turning out base and precious metals. These blast furnaces are going to the scrap heap.

RENDALL FURNACES will supersede blast furnaces everywhere. They cost only one-fifth the price to build and produce pure metal from any kind of ore for one-half the cost of production by any other process now used.

In New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland VAST DEPOSITS, containing BILLIONS OF TONS of low grade iron ore, now unworked and idle because the ores are below the present accepted standard required for Bessemer ores, will soon be turning out the FINEST IRON the world has ever seen from RENDALL FURNACES now being built.

BUY

Rendall Steel Stock

WHY? Because all iron and steel makers must buy RENDALL FURNACES—and every mining camp, where copper, silver, lead and zinc is produced must add continually to the Rendall Steel Company's income, which will amount to $17,000,000 a year in time from earnings and royalties. This means about $90 per share annual dividends on Rendall Steel stock.

Some years ago an eminent authority, Abram S. Hewitt, after a careful study made in the library of Sir Henry Bessemer, was able to demonstrate that the BESSEMER PROCESS of making iron and steel added, directly and indirectly, $2,000,000,000 YEARLY TO THE WORLD'S WEALTH.

Since then there has been steady increase over this two thousand million dollars a year.

HENRY BESSEMER'S INVENTION IS NOW SUPERSEDED BY GEORGE P. RENDALL'S INVENTION.

There will be no more BESSEMER STEEL. IT WILL BE ALL RENDALL STEEL. "Rendall Steel stock will go up to $500 a share and pay enormous dividends." Reliable, eminent authorities in mining and metallurgy predict this.

James R. Grant, E.M., son of General U. S. Grant, ex-President of the United States; Captain C. B. Dahlgren, E.M., U.S. Navy (retired); Captain S. L. Burbridge, E. M.; W. P. Downs, E.M., of Columbia University; James C. Bayles, M.E.; Ph.D., ex-editor Iron Age; G. F. Rendall, M.E.; T. F. Maher, U.S. Navy Yard; G. H. Moore, E.M., C.E. and other mining and metallurgical engineers say "A REVOLUTION OF THE WHOLE IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY AS GREAT AS THAT PRODUCED BY SIR HENRY BESSEMER IS EFFECTED BY THE RENDALL PROCESS. IT SUPERSEDES THE BLAST FURNACE

YOU CAN BUY INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS Now at 15 Cents

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

Don't hesitate to secure a portion of this stock. Your money will be returned if all statements cannot be verified. Another mill is under construction. Others will be built on various properties which the company owns and controls. This will increase the income and make your investment the best you can find.

It won't cost you anything to investigate. If you do not wish to reserve your stock at once, fill out the free information blank and full particulars and literature will be sent to you.

Not a Speculative Enterprise

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS is an industrial enterprise of the most solid character. The monopoly of the supply and the continually increasing demand make the market for the product absolutely certain. There is no substitute for asbestos. It is in one of the prime necessities of modern industry and construction. And, as already stated, it sells for a price many times greater than the cost of production.

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS affords an unequalled opportunity for safety and permanent income out of all proportion to the amount of the investment.

Beeler, State Geologist of Wyoming for eight years, and now consulting engineer for the company will verify every statement that we are making. Experts from the Quebec mines, and from Germany, have examined the Casper properties of the company and found them in every way what we have represented. Our mill was designed by C. H. Parker, an expert asbestos mill man from Quebec, who is superintendent of the Johnson mines, Thetford, Que., one of the largest in the world. All operations have been conducted in accordance with the advice of the most capable engineers.

VOL. XXXIII NO. 203 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO SATURDAY SEPTEMBER 10 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

CONTRACTOR CONROY REFUSED TO SIGN HIS CONTRACT

For Sewers, Storm Drains and Pumping Station as Originally Drafted---The Matter was Adjusted, However Last Night

The City Board of Works met last night. There were present, Mayor Morrow, Chairman Hicks and Aldermen Metherall, Graham, Phelan and Duncan.

A petition for a sidewalk on south side of Smith street between Bethune and Stewart streets, was left in the hands of the engineer with power to act.

The sidewalks on Dale avenue and Inglehurst avenue will be constructed when five feet of land on Dale avenue necessary to leave the street of sufficient width is deeded to the city.

The sidewalk on north side of Victoria avenue will be constructed, the petition being sufficiently signed.

The sidewalks on west side of Rogers street, and south side of Douro will be built as the engineer reports, inside the trees.

The Board of Health's recommendation that a sewer on Inverlea street from Water street to the manhole opposite laneway, be built, was adopted.

The street and sidewalk opposite E. Oliver's store on Sherbrooke St. will be put into decent condition.

Conroy Objected to Time Limit.

Contractor Conroy, through Mr. W. H. Moore, appealed against the time limit and penalty clauses governing the contracts which the former agreed to enter into for the construction of the south end sewer, storm drains and pumping stations. The instructions to bidder, attached to the specifications, provided that this work must be finished by November 15th, under a penalty of $100 for each week beyond that date on which the contract is not finished.

Mr. Conroy states that he did not have an opportunity for reading the instructions to bidder, which were not to hand when he tendered. He also claims that it would be impossible to finish the work by November 15th, two months from now, and refused to sign the contracts until some readjustment of the clauses in question were made.

It appears that Mr. Conroy signed his tenders, and without reading the instructions to bidder, which the solicitor and others contend were on the table with the specifications, Mr. Conroy, in his tenders certifies above his own signature that he entered into agreement with the city for the construction of this work after having read the instructions to bidder. ing read the instructions to bidder.

This difficulty was adjusted as follows:—

The time limit was extended to December 15th, and was further amended to read that should the work be delayed by reason of inclement weather, or a general strike in any particular trade or through unforseen difficulties, the engineer shall have power to make a just and reasonable extension of time.

These changes are subjected to Engineer Chipman's approval.

The penalty clause stands as a breach of contract on the part of the contractor would stand the city $100 a week in increased expenses.

Mr. Conroy finally acquiesced in the provisions of the contract as amended, and will probably sign the contract today, and commence work at once.

The request for a sewer pipe on Benson avenue, between Aberdeen and Manning avenues will be complied with either on a properly signed petition, or by giving notice of the proposed construction of this work.

Mr. Record asked for permission through Ald. Gillespie, to have a dead tree removed opposite his premises on Rogers street. This was referred to the engineer.

An agreement between the C.G.E. and the city whereby the former are permitted to lay water service pipes on Albert street, inside the sidewalk on the street line, was read and adopted by the board. The interests of both parties are thoroughly protected. The agreement extends over a period of ten years.

CATHOLIC ORGAN DOES NOT AGREE WITH FATHER VAUGHAN

THE REGISTER - EXTENSION CALLS HIS DENUNCIATION OF PROTESTANTISM A SERIOUS MISTAKE.

The Register-Extension, the leading organ of the English-speaking Catholics of Canada, will say editorially next week:

"We somehow feel that Fr. Vaughan's denunciation of Protestantism as 'a soulless religion,' was a serious mistake. It is an offensive phrase and we have been objecting to offensive phrases. The expression means nothing and has merely served to stir up bad feeling and to create sentiments of resentment in the breasts of kindly and well-intentioned Protestants. Abuse never made a convert and we feel that Catholic truth can be unfolded without inflaming the prejudices of those who hold opposite views. The kindly, tactful words of his grace Archbishop Bruchesi, and the equally kindly urbane and diplomatic message of his eminence, Cardinal Vannutelli were more in keeping with the true spirit of the great Eucharistic celebration.

HEIRS OF A TRAGEDY.

"The Holy Father himself has been touched by the sympathetic attitude of Canada and the Empire towards this splendid religious demonstration and has given public expression of his satisfaction and gratitude. This week there are thousands of Catholics praying for their Protestant friends and we can believe that there are many thousands of earnest Protestants looking wistfully to Montreal and wondering if their forefathers made a mistake. They are the heirs of that sad sixteenth century tragedy, which divided the Christian world into two hostile camps; but today they are looking for proofs not abuse. The case for the real presence in the sacrament of the Holy Eucharist is very strong.

LUTHER'S BELIEF.

"Luther believed it down to his dying hour as did Henry VIII., Queen Elizabeth and a host of the early reformers. More than three-fourths of the Christian world believe in the Real Presence today, and as Mr. Birrel put it, a few years ago, 'it is impossible to believe that a mystery so tremendous, so profoundly attractive, and so intimately connected with the keystone of Christian faith, so vouched for by the testimony of the saints can be allowed to remain an open question.' We believe we are right, and we think we can prove it, and as we have already said, our Protestant friends are looking for proofs not abuse."

Forbids Young Priests to Read Newspapers

Rome, Sept. 9.—Pope Pius X. has issued a Motu proprio giving new and practical measures to be adopted against the growing modernist campaign.

The Pontoff reiterates all of the rules previously set forth against modernism especially in the encyclical passendi and adds that the bishops and the rectors of the Catholic colleges must watch attentively the development of the young clergy seeing to it that they are well prepared to fight error, forbidding them to read newspapers and periodicals, and avoid distracting them from their studies.

Every professor in beginning his course, every acolyte before being promoted, every new confessor, canon, or holder of a similar office, and every ecclesiastical officer before taking possession of his post must take an oath of loyalty to the healthy Catholic doctrine and discipline.

BRODEUR SAW SIR FREDERICK

RESULT IS THAT REGIMENT MAY TURN OUT WITHOUT FEAR OF DISCIPLINE.

Will Surely Guard Meet—The 65th Had Been in the Habit of Parading in Fete Dieu Procession.

Ottawa, Sept. 9.—The minister of militia will do nothing to prevent the "voluntary parade" of the 65th Mounted Royal Rifles in next Sunday's procession in Montreal in connection with the Eucharistic Congress.

This has now been decided as the result of a conference between Hon. L. P. Brodeur, the minister from Montreal, and Sir Frederick Borden, minister of militia.

Mr. Brodeur represented that it had been the practice of the 65th to parade each year as their annual church parade, in connection with the Fete Dieu procession, but this procession was not held this year, and it is claimed that the regiment has the right to turn out next Sunday. Consequently the Catholic members of the 65th—and it is doubtful if there are any Protestant members in the regiment—will be able to answer the call of Lieut.-Col. Labelle without fear of any discipline from the minister or the government.

Not a minute should be lost when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy given as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even after the croupy cough appears will prevent the attack. Sold by all dealers.

A HUNDRED CASES OF NEW DISEASE

Three Adults Have Died—Health Department is Placarding All the Houses Where Cases are Reported.

Hamilton, Sept. 9.—The dread epidemic infantile paralysis, which is spreading over Ontario, is growing in Hamilton, where the outbreak was first discovered, at an alarming rate.

It is estimated that there are over a hundred cases here now.

Yesterday the disease claimed another adult, and today two more adult cases were reported.

In Mount Hope and vicinity three adults have died within the past few days.

The authorities say they are powerless to check the epidemic.

In Hamilton the health department is placarding all houses where the disease is known to exist.

THE KING'S GIFT TO NOVA SCOTIA

KING GEORGE SENDS BEAUTIFUL NEW BIBLE.

Annapolis Royal, N.S., Sept. 9.—Notable representatives of the Anglican Church in England, Scotland and the United States, as well as delegates from every diocese in Canada, took part in the celebration here today of the bicentenary of the Church of England in Canada. This place was appropriately selected for the celebration, as it was here that the first regular service in Canada according to the use of the Church of England were held. The service was one of thanksgiving for the capture of the fort by the British troops under General Nicholson.

A magnificent prayer book has been presented by King George V. to the local Anglican church in commemoration of the bicentenary anniversary. The volume is bound in red Niger morocco, and is elaborately inlaid, gold tooled, and set with amethysts. The chief feature of the design on the front cover is a cross, composed of interlaced lines, with the monogram I.H.S. inlaid in the centre. The presentation of the prayer book was made to-day by the Bishop of London, who has been one of the leading participants in the bicentenary exercises.

Stony Lake Summer Statistics.

There are two hundred and three cottages at Stony Lake. High County Constable George Cochrane has made a careful count of the Kawartha summer residents with the above results. He estimates, as judged from a careful basis, that the population during the summer season, at that lake, allowing, for permanent occupants and guests at the various cottages, and the occupants of the different boarding places is about 2000. When the industrial Commissioner secures four or five large factories for Peterborough, the Stony Lake population will probably be largely augmented.

Swiss Rural Industries.

Berne, Sept. 10.—The Swiss methods of agriculture, wine culture, forest culture and horticulture, in which occupations the people of the tiny republic are remarkably successful in spite of many natural handicaps, are comprehensively illustrated in the national exhibition of Swiss rural industries, which opens at Lausanne today.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 10.—Well-known golf players from every section of the country are gathered in Boston preparatory to the opening of the amateur championship tournament of the United States Golf Association, which will begin on the links of the Brookline County Club, Monday morning with a qualifying round of eighteen holes.

Shetland Pony and Phaeton.

Mr. Arthur Johnston, proprietor of the Windsor Hotel, with his wife and family have been spending a few days in Toronto, taking in the Exhibition and renewing acquaintances with their many friends there. While in that city Mr. Johnston purchased a very handsome jet black Shetland pony, with a one-seated phaeton of appropriate size, and set of brass-mounted harness for the use of his family. The whole outfit is one of the cutest looking in the city. Mr. Johnston remarked to The Times yesterday that there is a rage for Shetland ponies in Toronto now, that class of horse being in great demand for use of children.

MAKE SUN AND WIND DO WORK

PROF. FESSENDEN AT BRITISH ASSOCIATION SUGGESTS THAT THEY BE HARNESSED.

To Produce Electricity—Western Canada Appeals for Clergy—Dr. G. H. Locke Speaks on the Empire.

London, Sept. 8.—Professor Fessenden at the British Association meetings, outlined the possibilities of harnessing the wind and the sun to produce electrical energy.

He said that a number of windmills around the coast could give power enough to run all the railways factories, and electric light stations in Great Britain, but he thought, humorously, that with solar energy Great Britain could not do so well. Sir W. White doubted the practicability of the scheme.

At the conclusion of the meeting Professor A. P. Cole an of Toronto, proposed a vote of thanks to the Sheffield people for their generous arrangements for the entertainment of the association.

SHORTHAND.

"Mr. L. A. Clafley has been associated with us as principal of our shorthand department for the past eight years. He is a good disciplinarian, a first-class teacher of shorthand (being an expert in the Isaac Pitman system and possessing a good working knowledge of three or four other systems.) We consider Mr. Clafley one of the best teachers of shorthand and associated subjects who has ever held membership on our staff, and regret his decision to seek a wider field of usefulness than we are able to offer him. He is the possessor of a first-class general education and in addition to his experience with us has six years experience in public and high school teaching as well as two years additional teaching in the shorthand department of the Albany Business College to his credit. Mr. Clafley carries with him our very best wishes for his continued success and we have pleasure in recommending him to any commercial, high school, business college or school of shorthand which may be able to secure his services."

This is the testimony of Mr. W. H. Shaw, principal of the Central Business College, Toronto, concerning Mr. Clafley who is now supervisor of the Shorthand and Typewriting Department of the Remington Business College, corner College street and Spadina avenue, Toronto. In his new position Mr. Clafley is already making good and is winning friends. He is well-known in West Toronto, and would be glad to have those who are desirous of securing the best there is to be had in the way of business and shorthand education get in touch with him. See advertisement of Remington Business College on another page.

Big Eucharist Procession

Fifty Thousand People to March in Line in Montreal Tomorrow

Montreal, Sept. 10.—Fifty thousand marchers, including hundreds of prelates and priests clad in brilliant and multi-colored vestments, will take part in the solemn procession of the blessed sacrament which tomorrow will bring to a close the largest and most notable assembly of Roman Catholics ever held in the new world. This procession, is the culminating feature of every Eucharistic Congress and always the leading attraction from the standpoint of popular interest.

Arrangements for the grand pageant tomorrow have been completed on a most elaborate scale. Promptly at 12.30 the solemn tones of the big Bourbon wil, sound forth from the towers of Notre Dame, announcing to all wothin hearing that the immense body has started on its way eastward along Notre Dame from Place d'Armes Square. The objective point will be Fletcher's Field at the foot of Mount Royal.

Police, firemen and numerous Roman Catholic organizations will head the procession. Following these will come a multitude of choir singers, cross bearers, cardinals, abbots, bishops and archbishops. Towards the end of the procession will be seen Cardinal Vannutelli, the papal legate, bearing the Blessed Sacrament, surrounded by a guard of honor. The sacred host will be carried in a special ostensorium made of solid silver donated by a Cobalt mine owner, and decorated with precious stones, the gifts of the Catholic ladies of Montreal.

Peterborough Midway to Be Great.

A big feature of Peterborough's Industrial Exhibition next week will be the Midway, on which there will be an unique list of special attractions. The midway department of good fall fairs seems always to be a good drawing card. Realizing this the directors of the exhibition have encouraged attractions to come here for the fair. The big merry-go-round now at the Toronto Exhibition will be here next week as well as other amusement features from the Canadian National.

STATE OF PEOPLES' CHIMES FUND AND SIGNIFICANCE OF THE MOVEMENT

Letter From Rev. Canon Davidson, Dealing With Increased and Important Aspects of the Subject.

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Sir,—A few words seem to be called for as to the present position of the chimes enterprise.

It is gratifying to be able to announce that the subscription list now amounts to $4,150, of which there has been paid in $2,120. Of this amount upwards of $400 has been contributed by warm hearted former citizens of Peterborough.

We gratefully appreciate the generosity of all contributors, both in side and outside the city. The subscription list is a remarkable one and is an eloquent testimony to the broad and kindly spirit of Peterborough. In it are found, associated together in this common effort, the names of men and women of every class and religious body though the majority of the subscribers are not members of the church in which the bells are to be hung. We do not say that the money has flowed in without effort, but it has been most kindly and ungrudgingly given. There have been comparatively few refusals and countless warm expressions of approval. It seems to be clearly evident, then, that Peterborough citizens generally desire to have a good chime of bells in their city, and that they have no narrow or sectarian prejudices in connection with the matter, which is recognized as one requiring general co-operation.

It is now asked whether the large sum already collected could not be deemed sufficient, and the order given at once. In answer I beg to say that this sum, or even a smaller one, would probably procure a chime quite suitable for any particular church, but we have long ago passed out of this stage, and our question must now be "How much is needed to obtain a chime really worthy of the city of Peterborough and for that purpose we certainly have not enough at present. Very large bells are required in order to be heard at any distance, when chimed, and as they are to be used to play not only hymn tunes on Sundays but also patriotic and other appropriate melodies on different occasions, a wide treble offers before us, it now looks or there is required. From the at as if eleven fine bells could be obtained for a little over $5,000. The largest of these would weigh 3,000 pounds, three times the weight of St. John's present bell.

For my own part in view of the kindliness and public spirit which will always be associated with the Peterborough bells, I think we ought not to be satisfied even with this, but should go on a little further and secure the very best chimes in Ontario, a joy to our citizens, and credit and attraction to our city. This is a privilige now well within our reach if only other citizens will support the present subscribers. We do not say for a moment that the call is as urgent as perhaps many others, but it is unique and wholly different from any other cause before the town. Here, is something which will help to diffuse cheer, brightness and happiness, which will enable the community to give expression to deep feelings and which should generally increase healthy sentiment and enthusiasm among us.

However, we urge no one. It is difficult to see from what quarter the balance required will come, but we can only trust that more public-spirited people will spontaneously come forward. The very smallest contributions will be gladly received by the treasurer, Mr. Wainwright, Bank of Ottawa.

Meanwhile the price of bell metal is advancing and present quotations are only offered for a limited time. The chime must be ordered this autumn if we are to have it next spring or early summer.

The decision as to time and size lies, then, with future subscribers, and the whole city must await their decision. Certainly generosity on their part will be welcomed as timely aid in the public interest.

I may add that we have written in all directions for advice on this important matter, and have offers from the largest bell founders in England, Germany and the United States. And we welcome further advice from everyone whether a subscriber or not, for many who cannot subscribe are interested and will we hope derive equal pleasure from the bells.

Yours, etc.,

J. C. DAVIDSON.

MR. CULVERWELL MAKES GOOD AS ENGINEER AND FINANCIER

Sells Trent Power for $250,000 Cash — Will Now Develop Burleigh Falls.

The following is the resolution passed by the general meeting of the shareholders of the Northumberland-Durham Power Co., Limited, held at Cobourg.

Moved by Judge E. C. S. Huycve, seconded by J. F. Clark, and endorsed by speeches of Wm. J. Crossen, car manufacturer, and Reeve, Wm. J. Maher, of Cobourg; Mayor, Robert A. Mulholland, of Port Hope; Sir Mackenzie Bowell, Belleville; R. S. Hudson, General Manager Canada Permanent Mortgage Corporation, Toronto; Edward T. Adams, M.D., Toronto; Joseph Knox and James Mark, of Havelock; Col. H. A. Ward, K.C., Port Hope; H. T. Bush President Standard Ideal Company, Port Hope.

"Resolved that the shareholders of the Northumberland Durham Power Company, Limited, in general meeting assembled, desire to place on record their high appreciation of the services of John Alexander Culverwell, Managing Directory and Advisory Engineer of the Company, in connection with its business from the beginning down to the present time. We recognize that his untiring energy, ability and perseverance amidst great difficulties and in the face of apparently insurmountable obstacles have been of the highest value and service to the Company and have brought the business of the Company to a very satisfactory issue. When all this is remembered we feel strongly that no words can adequately express our confidence in his integrity and our indebtedness to Mr. Culverwell for his untiring zeal and unflagging energy in our behalf."

Carried unanimously by standing vote.

There were present at this meeting also a number of members of two other syndicates owning water-power properties on the Trent River who were partners with the Northumberland Durham Power Co., namely, the Culverwell Campbellford District Power Syndicate, and the Culverwell-Trenton District Syndicate, who also heartily endorsed the resolution.

It was explained that although a deal had been financed with leading Montreal capitalists to the extent of two million dollars capital and a firm contract made, yet on account of the properties of an opposing Power Company, it was thought the most satisfactory thing was an amalgamation, but this other opposing Power Company being stubborn—it was finally decided by the Culverwell interests to sell out for cash, which was done.

All shareholders made a handsome profit in the sales and cheques have been and are still being issued to pay off the stock. The decision of the directors in having made the sale and thus relieving the situation was considered wise and was heartily endorsed by the shareholders.

The properties interested in this deal are simply those properties located south of Rice Lake on the Trent River, and this deal in no way has any connection with another Power Company, namely—The Central Ontario Power Company, Limited, which owns Burleigh Falls and Buckhorn Falls powers located north of Peterborough.

These properties will be developed at once under the managing direction of Mr. Culverwell and already contracts have been secured from the leading manufacturers of Cobourg and Port Hope the local directors of the Company being Messrs. Wm. J. Crossen, Cobourg, car manufacturer; Col. H. A. Ward, K.C., and H. T. Bush, President Standard Ideal Co., Port Hope, and J. A. Culverwell, Port Hope, besides other Toronto directors. There are already a large number of local district people interested as shareholders.

"A Toothsome Flavour"

True for you, there's a treat in the crisp, nutty, delicate sweet taste of Grape-Nuts served with cream or milk.

(Don't spoil the food by trying to cook it. That work is done and perfectly done at the factories.)

The cream should soften it a bit, but not enough to excuse the teeth from at least a few good earnest "chews" for old Dame Nature sends rich blessings to the long chewer. Of course the one with weak teeth can soften the milk down to a mush if necessary, but the good old Dame doesn't smile quite so cheerfully on them.

You know, children and adults must use the teeth and grind freely to make them grow strong and to preserve them. Then the act of chewing brings down the much needed saliva from the gums, and that helps amazingly in the digestion of foods of various kinds.

The saliva is not so much required with Grape-Nuts, for this food is partially pre-digested, that is, the starch turned into a form of sugar in the process of making and that helps give it the fascinating flavor.

Grape-Nuts people are healthy and enjoy good things. "There's a Reason."

No better known or more popular family remedy has ever been compounded than "Nerviline." During the past half century its success has been phenominal—due to the fact that it always cures.

"No one could get me to go to bed at night unless I was sure we had Nerviline in the house," writes Mrs. R. R. Weightman, of Bomiton P.O. "Six years ago my husband was taken badly with rheumatism, which affected his right arm and shoulder. It was so sore and stiff as to be almost helpless for four years. I read of the cure of James E. Everett, and felt sure that when Nerviline cured a case like his, it would cure my husband. I got a dollar's worth of Nerviline, five bottles, in Buffalo, and am pleased to write you that the fourth bottle cured. We have since used Nerviline for Lumbago, Neuralgia, Colds, Chest Tightness and other minor ailments in the family and found 'Nerviline' to be the 'Sick Man's Friend.'"

THE WEIGHT OF BREAD.

There has been a good deal of discussion anent the Nickle Act regulating the weights of bread. With the details of the measure we are not familiar, but so far as the intention was to establish a standard weight, so that the people might know how much bread they were getting in a loaf, public sentiment must be heartily in favor of it. There should be no undue interference with the baker's business, but the establishing of a standard weight does not come within this objection. Standards of weight or measure are established in many lines of trade for the protection of the public. With the standard weight fixed, the bakers are free to vary their prices, so that no injustice is done them. The Act may need revision in regard to some of its details; but in its main lines it appears to be all right.

ONCE FOR CANADA

The award in the fisheries dispute between England and Canada against the United States is a decided win for Britain. Canadians will now drop that prejudice which argued that this country is usually sacrificed to the United States. No matter how illogical it may appear to legal minds acquainted with international law, the findings in the Alaskan case and in the controversy which was settled by the Ashburton Treaty, caused widespread dissatisfaction throughout the Dominion. The people made no secret of their disfavor towards Lord Alverstone in the former case nor of their doubt as to the award in the latter. It was openly charged that English judicial authorities, actuated by strong political motives, gave preferences to the claims of the Republic and, despite the attempts that have been made to reassure the public mind, it still regards the loss by Canada of large areas of territory.

The result of the present case may be looked upon with equal uncertainty by our neighbors, but the Canadian mind will be pacified for the injuries it supposes itself to have suffered in the past. By the finding of the Tribunal the British have absolute sovereign rights to frame regulations in Newfoundland waters. This was the vital point, and the victory, if it rests with Britain and Canada, affords credit on Sir Chas. Fitzpatrick, Hon. A. B. Aylesworth and other counsel who assisted them in the presentation of Britain's and Canada's side.

OUR PROPOSITION

We have acquired a site, Nos. 788 and 790 St. Urbain Street, having a frontage of 60 feet on St. Urbain Street, with an equivalent frontage on Basset Street, in rear.

The land is 195 feet deep, but we intend ceding over to the city 20 feet in order that the lines of Basset Street may be continued past our property. You will readily see the advantage of this, as it gives us two street frontages instead of one, as is usual in most apartment houses.

We have designed an apartment house, calling for a four-storey apartment house of thirty-two (32) apartments, well planned and laid out, complete in every detail.

In the centre of the building there will be a waiting room and telephone exchange. This telephone exchange will connect with every apartment.

It is estimated that the cost of land and building will be $100,000, made up as follows:—

Land	$15,000.00
Building	70,000.00
Allowed for architect's fees and other expenses	15,000.00
	$100,000.00

Therefore we are forming a company for $100,000, composed of 1,000 shares of $100 00 each.

At the expiration of the time allotted for the subscribing of stock, we will apply for a charter, so that everything will be done in proper style.

Immediately upon forming the company, the tenders will be allotted by the Board of Directors, who will have been elected by the shareholders at the first annual meeting, which will be called immediately upon granting of the charter.

It is estimated that the annual rental will be about $480.00 an apartment, or $15,360.00 per annum.

This is how you are guaranteed 7% or more.

Now to show our good faith in the matter, we do not intend to receive one cent before the shareholders obtain their 7 per cent.

After all expenses have been paid, allowing the shareholders 6 per cent., we will divide the surplus between the shareholders and ourselves, as our share for the promoting of the company, and the running of the apartment house.

We will guarantee 7% to each shareholder on his Investment

CAN ANYTHING BE FAIRER? CAN ANYTHING BE SQUARER? If so, we have not yet discovered it.

After the completion of the building, it is our intention, by the consent of the Directors, to mortgage the building for an amount of say, $50,000.00, and immediately start another apartment house scheme, upon the same terms and conditions, so that eventually the shareholders will receive a considerable amount more than 7 per cent. upon the money invested.

FINLAND RESENTS OPPRESSION.

Regard Law of June 30 as Unwarranted Attack on Their Constitution.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 7.—The fortnight which has elapsed since the first notification that the diet was to meet on Sept. 14, for the election of representatives of Finland in the duma and in the imperial council, has given opportunity for the whole country to offer its opinion on the matter.

The first statement that the Finns would undoubtedly refuse to proceed to the election is confirmed from every part and by every section. Organs from all over the grand duchy repeat the point that the law of June 30 is an illegal assault on Finnish constitution, and its provisions are without force in Finland until accepted by the diet. This latter body must and will continue its refusal to have any part or lot in the matter.

As to the future, Hufvudstadsbladet the leading organ of the Swedish folk party, says: "We know well that the immediate future of our people will be very hard, the path is beset with difficulties and adversity. It is quite certain, however, that it would be made no easier by an acceptance of the unheard-of injustice which has been accomplished by the completion of the Finnish bill."

DR. CRIPPEN'S STATEMENT

London, Sept. 8.—The statement made to Inspector Dew by Dr. Crippen in the latter's office was made public today. Crippen told of his meeting Belle Elmore for the first time, when she was living under the protection of a New York man named C. C. Inwood.

"Crippen told me," Dew continued "that he had frequent quarrels with his wife owing to her ungovernable temper. On the night of January 31, after the Martinettis had left the Crippen home, Crippen said he and his wife quarrelled, and that she told him that she would leave him the following day, and he would never hear from her again.

"According to Crippen, his wife told him that she was going away to a man who was better able to keep her than Crippen. Crippen confessed to me that he told the story of his wife's supposed death to hide the scandal of his wife leaving him. He said that so far as he knew his wife was still living, and expressed the belief that she had gone to Chicago to join Bruce Miller."

When the hearing was resumed after lunch, Dew again took the stand and read from the statement made to him by Miss Leneve. It was to the effect that Crippen told her that his wife had gone to America, and that he wanted her to live at the Hilldrop Crescent House during his wife's absence. When Miss Leneve went to Crippen's home, the doctor told her that his wife had died on the voyage. He told her, the statement said, that it was too far to go to the funeral.

"I finally told Crippen that he would have to find his wife," Dew said, "and he offered to advertise in Newspapers in the United States."

The evening was most pleasantly spent in cards and music. Many regrets at Mr. Hughes-Charles' departure from the city were expressed.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

A number of Alderville Indians are camped at Sugar Island ready to commence harvesting the wild rice as soon as the crop ripens.

A Toronto despatch notes that Hon. G. W. Ross says that "the Reform party in Ontario is not dead." No, just a little weary.

Keene duck shooters are looking forward to a good season's sport this year as the ducks are said to be unusually plentiful on Rice Lake. It seems to be the general opinion that the government made a wise change when they extended the close season to September 15th.

Owners of automobiles and bicycles in the city fear that the oiling of our streets, will "play hob" with their tires. It is well known that oil and rubber agree about as well, when mixed as political jobs and the resulting benefit to the general public.

The death occurred on Thursday of Gerald Patrick Moriarrity, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McGarrity, 650 Concession street. The funeral will take place at 9 o'clock this morning in Douro.

Local confectioners are making a vigorous protest against the smell arising from the oiled streets. They claim that customers are bringing back cakes, etc., saying the goods smell and taste of oil. Here is a golden opportunity for Collegiate Institute girls who attend the domestic science classes to jam in eggs, sugar, currants, baking powder and whatsoever they are taught to use in making cakes and reflect glory on their teachers.

Well, the 65th Regiment will take part in the Eucharistic parade tomorrow. What would be said or thought if the 57th Regiment turned out on July 12th. No harm may result from this regiment turning out to honor the visiting clergy of the Catholic Church. Still there is a clearly worded statute forbidding the same.

WAS TAKEN SICK FROM CATCHING COLD. PE-RU-NA RELIEVED.

MISS ERNESTINE BOUVARD, Duck Lake, Saskatchewan, Can., writes:

"At the close of 1909 I took sick as the result of catching cold. I became very weak and could not do anything.

"I consulted a doctor who had me take various kinds of medicine, but I did not find any relief from my suffering. At the advice of a friend, I wrote to you and you advised me.

"After I had taken two bottles of Peruna there was noticeable improvement. I combined the use of Peruna, Manalin and Lacopin and after taking several bottles of each I find myself entirely cured.

"I am certify that it was through your medicines that I recovered my health. I advise every one who is similarly afflicted to obtain Dr. Hartman's advice and be benefited."

Mrs. Wilda Meeers, R. F. D. No. 1, Lents, Oregon, writes:

"For the past four years I was a wretched woman, suffering with severe backaches and other pains, leaving me so weak and weary that it was only with difficulty that I was able to attend to my household duties.

"I used different remedies, but found no relief until I had tried Peruna.

"Within two weeks there was a change for the better, and in less than three months I was a well and happy woman.

"All the praise is due to Peruna."

Peruna is not a local remedy, but an internal systemic remedy. It will relieve catarrh in its most obstinate form.

stocks and bonds of all iron, steel and smelting companies.

WHY? Because they are capitalized on the earnings of their blast furnaces now turning out base and precious metals. These blast furnaces are going to the scrap heap.

RENDALL FURNACES will supersede blast furnaces everywhere. They cost only one-fifth the price to build and produce pure metal from any kind of ore for one-half the cost of production by any other process now used.

In New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland VAST DEPOSITS, containing BILLIONS OF TONS of low grade iron ore, now unworked and idle because the ores are below the present accepted standard required for Bessemer ores, will soon be turning out the FINEST IRON the world has ever seen from RENDALL FURNACES now being built.

BUY

Rendall Steel Stock

WHY? Because all iron and steel makers must buy RENDALL FURNACES—and every mining camp, where copper, silver, lead and zinc is produced must add continually to the Rendall Steel Company's income, which will amount to $17,000,000 a year in time from earnings and royalties. This means about $60 per share annual dividends on Rendall Steel stock.

Some years ago an eminent authority, Abram S. Hewitt, after a careful study made in the library of Sir Henry Bessemer, was able to demonstrate that the BESSEMER PROCESS of making iron and steel added, directly and indirectly, $2,000,000,000 YEARLY TO THE WORLD'S WEALTH.

Since then there has been steady increase over this two thousand million dollars a year.

HENRY BESSEMER'S INVENTION IS NOW SUPERSEDED BY GEORGE F. RENDALL'S INVENTION.

There will be no more BESSEMER STEEL. IT WILL BE ALL RENDALL STEEL. "Rendall Steel stock will go up to $500 a share and pay enormous dividends." Reliable, eminent authorities in mining and metallurgy predict this.

Jesse R. Grant, E.M., son of General U. S. Grant, ex-President of the United States; Captain C. B. Dahlgren, E.M., U.S. Navy (retired); Captain S. L. Barbridge, E. M.; W. F. Downs, E.M., of Columbia University; James C. Bayles, M.E.; Ph.D., ex-editor Iron Age; G. F. Rendall, M.E.; T. F. Maher, U.S. Navy Yard; G. H. Moore, E.M., C.E., and other mining and metallurgical engineers say "A REVOLUTION OF THE WHOLE IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY AS GREAT AS THAT PRODUCED BY SIR HENRY BESSEMER IS EFFECTED BY THE RENDALL PROCESS. IT SUPERDES THE BLAST FURNACE. Buy Rendall Steel stock. It is the best investment in America to-day.

YOU CAN BUY INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS Now at 15 Cents

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

Don't hesitate to secure a portion of this stock. Your money will be returned if all statements cannot be verified. Another mill is under construction. Others will be built on various properties which the company owns and controls. This will increase the income and make your investment the best you can find.

It won't cost you anything to investigate. If you do not want to reserve your stock at once, fill out the free information blank and full particulars and literature will be sent to you.

Not a Speculative Enterprise

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS is an industrial enterprise of the most solid character. The monopoly of the supply and the constantly increasing demand make the market for the product absolutely certain. There is no substitute for asbestos. It is one of the prime necessities of modern industry and construction. And, as already stated, it sells for a price many times greater than the cost of production.

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS affords an unequalled opportunity for safety and permanent income out of all proportion to the amount of the investment.

Beeler, State Geologist of Wyoming for eight years, and now consulting engineer for the company will verify every statement that we are making. Experts from the Quebec mines, and from Germany, have examined the Casper properties of the company and found them in every way what we have represented. Our mill was designed by C. H. Parker, an expert asbestos mill man from Quebec, who is superintendent of the Johnson mines, Thetford, Que., one of the largest in the world. All operations have been conducted in accordance with the advice of the most capable engineers.

COL. ROOSEVELT REFUSES TO TALK

DOESN'T SAY HE WON'T

Col. Roosevelt Refuses to Discuss Himself as Next Presidential Candidate

Cincinnati, Ohio., Sept. 10.—"That is something I shall not talk about," was the emphatic exclamation of Col. Roosevelt, which statement was emphasized by a characteristic wave of the hand, when asked today if he would be a candidate for president in 1912.

The colonel left Cincinnati this morning on the last lap of his western trip. Standing on the rear end of his private car, he said among other things:

"This has been an extraordinary trip. The cordiality shown here has been a repetition of the remarkable spirit shown by the people everywhere."

"Looks as though the people were with you?" was suggested. "Yes," replied Mr. Roosevelt, "they are very kind."

Ald. Hicks Defies the Writer "Jim Crow."

(To the Editor of The Times:)

Sir,—The late Jim Crow was a man of education and refinement, whose great ideal in this life was to sow the seed of brotherly love and good fellowship among the different creeds in the city and cement in bonds of friendship all within its borders. Jim Crow was consistent and sincere and many will miss his teachings and writings—from the depths of his warm affection and promptings of his noble manhood he was able to spread that broad mantle of charity around a bigoted heritie—of a soulless religion and the crowning effort of his life and proof of his noble character is pictured in his letter of July 19, which reads as follows:

"Sir,—At a meeting of the City Council last night it was decided to employ Mr. Willis Chipman as consulting engineer, he to appoint a resident engineer in connection with the sewer system in the south end.

"I therefore move and second the following: That whereas, one Robert Hicks is chairman of the Board of Works, and whereas in the case of other sewer work in Peterborough, he, feeling himself responsible for the proper workmanship of same, objected to any foreman "not known" to him, and whereas the two engineers now to be employed are from outside the city. Be it resolved, that every opportunity be given to the aforesaid Robert Hicks, and the Board of Worthies, of knowing the aforesaid gentlemen and of ascertaining whether both or either of them are members of the Roman Catholic church." In case one or the other should be a Catholic, I suggest that the matter be referred to the Board of Works with power to act.

"Yours truly,
"JIM CROW."

Following the exertion of such writing Jim became weary—retiring early that evening "he dreamed," that he did not know that the two following quotations had ever been written:

"Let him in a manly and straight forward manner disclose his identity and not hide behind a name that every scientific jackass has brayed forth for the past hundred years.)

He may retain his name if he wishes, but I certainly don't purpose following the ravings and wanderings of a man who will not come out in the open, who like a social and religious misfit, has resource to most extravagant opportunities and is afraid of having his inflated reputation punctured by facts and arguments charged with wholesome truths.

In the morning after such a pleasant dream "Jim Crow" awoke—and the shock killed him.

The Doctor filled in th Certificate "Died from Inconsistency."
The burial was private.

"And no man knows that sepulchre.
And no man saw it ere.
The Angel of God upturned the sod
And laid the dead man there."

Fr. Vaughan Sees English Heathen in Smart Clothes and Motors

Type of Aristocrat Who Prefers to Live Among the Poor—His Characterisation of Protestantism Nothing More Than is Taught Every Catholic Boy and Girl.

Montreal, Sept. 11.—Rumor comes down here that Ontario is threatened with another Jesuit excitement as a consequence of Father Bernard Vaughan's compliments to Protestantism and that the Catholic Register-Extension, organ of Archbishop McEvay, is trying to head off the trouble. The agitation is needless. The London Jesuit, although a headliner—the headliner of the Eucharistic Congress—is not a religious firebrand and has said nothing new. A fair description of his personal character—never mind his reputation—is that which would fit many another religious zealot of modern England. Protestant as well as Catholic. He is sincere. He comes by him love for the Catholic faith by inheritance. There are half a dozen or more Vaughan Catholic priests in England at the present time. Father Bernard is a brother of the late cardinal who was the third bishop of Westminster since the restoration of the Roman Catholic episcopacy, the others being the great cardinals, Manning and Wiseman. When English sovereigns played the game of quartering, disemboweling or burning the representatives of their first families for the glory of God and the safeguarding of the Catholic or Protestant religion as contrary winds blew the royal favor from one side to the other, the blood of the Vaughans mingled with the stream that stained the block of the executioner.

ENGLISH ARTISTOCRAT.

Cardinal Vaughan was a type of the English aristocrat, cold on the exterior. Bernard Vaughan, S.J., is his brother's opposite in half a dozen different ways. He is the aristocratic type that goes in for slumming, socialism, radical reform, or whatever other name it may be called. He is attached to the Jesuits' Church of the Immaculate Conception at Farm street in the select Berkeley Square neighborhood, but he prefers to live over on the east side right among "God's poor," for whom he entertains no sort of semi-detached love, such as the man in the street generally attributes to the fashionable profession of slumming. There he has learned the oratorical style that appeals to the coster or the cockney. And if that style is good enough for the poor it is, he thinks, also good enough for the rich.

HEATHEN IN SMART CLOTHES.

It is of course quite unnecessary to say that Father Vaughan believes in the existence of a real heathen population in the great city; but he makes this distinction, that he sees most of his heathens in smart clothes and motors, and not in rags down in the London mud. He believes that city heathens are recruited from the rich in greater numbers at least, if not wholly rather than from the poor.

Eighty to One Hundred Thousand at the Pontifical Mass

Montreal, Sept. 10.—A throng estimated at anywhere from eighty to a hundred thousand people thronged Fletcher's Field this morning to view the spectacle of solemn pontifical mass celebrated in the open air within the magnificent pavilion erected specially for the purpose.

The celebration of the mass was postponed from yesterday on account of the weather, and this morning a more perfect day could not be imagined. The crowd was simply something marvelous to see, and so dengely packed together were they that at the sanctuary they were unable to kneel and had to be satisfied with merely inclining their heads. The like has never before been seen on this continent.

From far before sunrise they came from all parts of the deity, and even when the sermon had been preached and the mass was all but over they were still coming in an endless procession. In fact there were two processions, one coming and the other going away.

Geo. Goulding Wins Mile Walking Race from E. J. Webb

Toronto, Sept. 11.—George Goulding of Central Y.M.C.A., Canada's premier walker, defeated E. J. Webb of Hornehill Harriers, the world's champion, by over 10 yards in the mile race at the exhibition games on Saturday. The time which was 6.32 4-5, is exceedingly good, considering the condition of the track, which was anything but good. Goulding took the lead after going 100 yards and gradually widened the gap till he had a ten-yard advantage at the half-mile track. Goulding was content to hold this 10-yard lead until the home stretch was reached, where he gained slightly. The race was the most exciting of its kind ever pulled off in Toronto and the fifteen thousand people that witnessed the event showed their appreciation by their wild cheering. He also trimmed Webb in the three mile race. This race was the feature event of the meet, and caused tremendous excitement among the thousands of spectators.

VIGOROUS REPLY MADE TO JESUIT BY THE S. O. E.

Entered a Formal Protest Against the Statements Made by Father Bernard Vaughan

Montreal, Sept. 10.—The Montreal District Council of the Sons of England, representing 2,700 Englishmen, members of fourteen lodges in this city, meeting in Westmount lodge rooms in Victoria Hall last night entered a formal protest against the statements of Father Bernard Vaugh an made in the Monument National on Tuesday evening last. The protest was embodied in a motion introduced by Fred A. Barter, president of the Westmount Lodge, and was carried unanimously amid a great outburst of applause by a standing vote. The motion was as follows:

"That this district council of the Montreal Sons of England, is of the opinion that the language of Father Bernard Vaughan in his lecture of Tuesday last, delivered at the Monument National, was, as far as it concerned Protestants and the Protestant faith, intemperate, abusive and unwarrantable. That as such it was a flagrant abuse of the hospitality accorded him by the city of Montreal, and liable to provoke a condition of riot among its citizens.

"That it should be resented strongly and emphatically by every member of this order.

"Further, that a copy of this resolution to be forwarded to Father Bernard Vaughan, to the Protestant Alliance of Great Britian, and to the English press of Montreal"

DAUTO FRIGHTENS HORSES.

Devil Wagon Has Noisy Attack of Elphantine Quinsy.

There is a local automobile that seems to have chronic quinsy or croup in the interior department. This machine at irregular intervals, gives a leviathan sigh and stops its progress, but, alas, not its noise. On Saturday morning this particular auto, whilst passing down Water street in front of Victoria Park, gave a snort like a dying hippopotamus and stuck in the center of the roadway. Then the pent-up power of the machine got busy. As though in protest against the auto being anchored from some interior spot, whether the valve of the benzine department, or displacement of the main clutch is not known, but a noise like ten million elephantine bees swarming, scared every horse within two blocks. At least two drivers of as many hurgies had hard work to get their horses under control. That auto-owner should put a gag on the noise department of his machine or get it into proper working order. This auto is a nuisance and a danger.

The above article was written Saturday at noon and, by a strange coincidence, at 3.37 p.m. Saturday afternoon this auto stuck in exactly the same spot with the same results, except that one runaway resulted. The farmer's team left for the north and, as far as was known when this addendum was added, are going still. The machine, should be retired from the public roads as it is a nuisance and a danger to horses, not to mention human nerves.

New Club House of West Enders.

The new club house of the West End Club is approaching completion. As intimated in these columns before the West End Club, who are now located in the Canadian Bank of Commerce Building have secured the two top flats above the Royal Theater and the building adjoining to the south. Mr. Pappas, proprietor of the Royal, has spent a good many hundred dollars in making the new club house as near perfection as possible. To the north is a large dance hall, with metallic ceiling and hardwood floor. To the south are the billard rooms and parlors. The whole establishment, to be occupied next week by the West Enders will be one of the most modern and perfect club rooms in the city.

THE ONE PRICE LOCAL THEATER

One thing that makes the Royal Theater popular with the public of Peterborough is that the man, woman or child attending that popular place of amusement, know exactly what they will have to pay for admission. If there is only a single act or if there is an act taking ten people to produce the vaudeville the price is always the same, 5c in the afternoon, 10c at night. We do not hold the public up for extra prices when we get an extra attraction. Prices always the same, and we present the best talent that money can get.

HE STOLE PLUMS.

And Now the Boy Takes His Meals Standing Up.

A boy living on a street adjacent to Gilmour street, yesterday took his meals standing up. In fact he seems to observe a penance, not only to h elders but to all humanity, or that portion of it he encounters. This seeming humility is denoted by the fact that, like courtiers, in the presence of their sovereigns, he will not be seated. In fact there is reason to believe he does not sit down when alone. The indirect cause of this sudden chair-shy attitude is a plum tree. The tree laden with luscious fruit is within tantalizing proximity to a high board fence. The boy caught a glimpse of some beautiful golden fruit, as the top branches swayed by the wind hung near the fence. To see was to act. A handy piece of scantling enabled the boy to scale the rampart. Pockets and shirt front soon bulged with plums. "Towser" is a dog—a big dog of rangous voice and forbidding appearance. "Towser" belongs to the owner of the plum tree. "Towser" is quick of hearing and keen of scent. The boy still up that plum tree was seen by "Towser." "Towser" did not play fair; instead of having the matter out with the boy himself he barked loud and long. "Towser's" owner heard the bark, and with more interest in saving his plums, than a sense of British fair play, assisted "Towser" in his chase of the kid. The kid slid down that plum tree quicker than a politician after a job and tried to scale the fence. Here the tragedy started. On top of the fence was a lot of hook nails. The boy's clothing caught, just as he was half over the top of the fence, with his face to the north. The south side of the fence and he had a stout walking stick in his hand. That's why the boy eats standing up.

Stationary Engineers Meet.

Rochester, N.Y., Sept. 12.—Several hundred delegates, representing more than 25,000 stationary engineers meet in Convention Hall here today and at the annual session of the National Association of Stationary Engineers, President William J. Reynolds of Hoboken will preside. Many of the delegates are accompanied by their wives, who will be entertained throughout the several days of the convention by the ladies' auxiliary exhibition of power-producing and of the convention is the interesting committee. One of the rigid features transmitting machinery.

Chilean Centennial Celebration.

Santiago, Chile, Sept. 12.—The Chilean Centennial Celebration is now at its height. Throughout the length of the republic cities and towns are en fete for the occasion. The more elaborate exercises are being conducted in this city, the capital, and in Valparaiso, where warships representing the navies of the United States, Great Britain and other nations are assembled to take part in the festivities.

The occasion of the national rejoicing is the centennial anniversary of Chilean independence. Originally and for a long time Chile was under the dominion of Incas of Peru, though it was not held without difficulty. Then it became a Spanish province and finally declared its independence of Spain in September, 1810, not actually winning it, however, until several years later.

State Election in Arkansas.

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 12.—The State election in Arkansas today is for State and judicial officers and members of the legislature. Governor George W. Donaghey, Democrat, is a candidate for re-election. The other gubernatorial candidates are Andrew J. Roland, Republican, and Dan Hogan, Socialist. As the success of the entire Democratic ticket it regarded as a foregone conclusion public interest centres chiefly in the fate of the two proposed constitutional amendments, the first providing for the initiative and referendum and the other providing for exemption from taxation of capital invested in cotton mills.

MORE AID REQUIRED.

Further Funds Wanted to Enable Peterborough Girl to Win Out.

Another appeal is being made to the citizens of Peterborough for funds to allow Miss Gladys Seward to continue her course of instruction under tution of Mr. Harry Field at Dresden, Germany. It will be remembered that about a year ago, friends and admirers of Miss Seward's musical abilties subscribed a considerable sum for this purpose. Miss Seward, availing herself of this assistance, went to Dresden and has made phenomenal progress in her musical studies. The money is about exhausted, and now a further appeal is being made for more money that this talented young lady of Peterborough, may be enabled to finish the three-year course advised by her tutor, who gives his service gratis. The German press speaks very highly of Miss Seward's ability and predict a great future for her.

THE AMERICAN SENATE.

Popular sentiment in the United States appears to be in favor of the election of senators by popular vote instead of by the State legislatures. The lower branch of Congress has four times passed a two-thirds vote a joint resolution for the submission of a constitutional amendment providing for election by the people. The legislatures of thirty-one States have taken action favoring a similar amendment. The States include some of the largest and most populous in the Union, the most notable omissions being New York and Massachusetts.

The Newark Evening News says that in the early days of the Union Elbridge Gerry, of Massachusetts, argued against popular election. He said that the country was already suffering from too much democracy, as the people were the dupes of pretended patriots. He argued that the commercial and monied interests would be more effective guarded by of State legislatures than in those of the people at large. In his view that the senate as now constituted would be a champion of the monied interests of the famous author of the gerrymander was probably correct. It was also contended that State rights would be more effective guarded by a nominated than an elected senate, a notion for which there does not seem to be a solid foundation.

It has been observed that when the constitution of the United States was framed, the democratic enthusiasm of the War of Independence had somewhat waned, and the framers were actuated by the ideas of such conservative statesmen as Alexander Hamilton. Safeguards against democracy were constructed, and it was made exceedingly difficult to amend the constitution. It is likely therefore, that the present system of nomination will be continued ong after it has been condemned by public opinion.

FOREST FIRES DEVOURING THE TIMBER OF OUR FORESTS.

During the past summer forest fires have been devouring the growth of centuries with ruthless rapidity. Northern Ontario, Manitoba and British Columbia have suffered most. Fine tracts of merchantable timber worth millions of dollars have been destroyed, square mile upon square mile of young growth coming on to supply the demands of the future has been wiped out of existence. In Northern Ontario, where but a thin layer of vegetable mould covers the rocks, the soft, oozy forest floor, the on hops of vegitation and equable stream flow has been completely destroyed, leaving a shoreless rocky waste for generations to come. Even if no thought be given to the number of lives lost, it must be admitted that the loss occasioned this year by forest fires has been nothing short of appalling.

Can nothing be done, then, to prevent this loss? The answer is that much can be done. The solution of the problem is indicated in two words—public sentiment. The two principal causes of forest fires are campers and railways, and public opin on must be brought to bear upon these. The forest camper does not at all realize the extent of the damage which his unextinguished camp fire may do. Laws against leaving camp fires burning are already on the statute books, but it is quite evident that their observance rests mainly with the tourist himself. He must be impressed with the very serious nature of his offence. If a man sets fire to a building he is convicted of arson and sent to prison as a felon. But if his unextinguished camp fire burns down millions of dollars worth of timber and perhaps destroys human life as well, he, at best, made to pay a small fine. When public opinion views this carelessness of the camper as a criminal act and frowns upon him accordingly, considerable progress will have been made in lessening the number of forest fires from this cause.

But it is the railways that spread the most destruction. Traversing, as they do, the great lone stretches of uninhabited timber areas, the sparks from their locomotives start numerous fires that gain great headway before being detected. Too often the right-of-way, piled thick with inflammable rubbish, furnishes a tinder-box for these conflagrations. The owner of destroyed property along the line has found it almost impossible under the present conditions to get damages from the railway company, so difficult is it to fix the responsibility, and so expensive is the progress of litigation. In order to lessen the number of fires due to this cause, the Committee on Forests of the Commission of Conservation has proposed to make the railways pecuniarily responsible. It has recommended that there be added to the Railway Act a clause making them liable to a fine of $1,000, recovering by summary prosecution before a stipendiary magistrate, or two justices of the peace, for every fire started by sparks from their locomotives. It makes no difference whether the fire begins outside the right-of-way or spreads therefrom to adjoining land. The railways are exempt from this fine if they can show that they have the best modern appliances on their locomotives to prevent the emission of sparks, that their employes have not shown negligence on conducting to the starting of the fire, and that they have maintained an efficient and properly equipped staff of fire rangers. In other words the committee proposes to lessen the number of fires caused by sparks from locomotives by having the railways fined for the damage they do, unless they take every possible precaution to prevent such damage. This is obviously a fair recommendation as regards both the railway and the public, and the effort to have it made law is worthy deeply interested in the protection of our forests; for each forest fire of public support.

OUR PROPOSITION

We have acquired a site, Nos. 788 and 790 St. Urbain Street, having a frontage of 60 feet on St. Urbain Street, with an equivalent frontage on Basset Street, in rear.

The land is 195 feet deep, but we intend ceding over to the city 20 feet in order that the lines of Basset Street may be continued past our property. You will readily see the advantage of this, as it gives us two street frontages instead of one, as is usual in most apartment houses.

We have designed an apartment house, calling for a four-storey apartment house of thirty-two (32) apartments, well planned and laid out, complete in every detail.

In the centre of the building there will be a waiting room and telephone exchange. This telephone exchange will connect with every apartment.

It is estimated that the cost of land and building will be $100,000, made up as follows:—

Land	$15,000.00
Building ..... f..	70,000.00
Allowed for architect's fees and other expenses	15,000.00
	$100,000.00

Therefore we are forming a company for $100,000, composed of 1,000 shares of $100 00 each.

At the expiration of the time allotted for the subscribing of stock, we will apply for a charter, so that everything will be done in proper style.

Immediately upon forming the company, the tenders will be allotted by the Board of Directors, who will have been elected by the shareholders at the first annual meeting, which will be called immediately upon granting of the charter.

It is estimated that the annual rental will be about $480.00 an apartment, or $15,300.00 per annum.

This is how you are guaranteed 7% or more.

Now to show our good faith in the matter, we do not intend to receive one cent before the shareholders obtain their 7 per cent.

After all expenses have been paid, allowing the shareholders 6 per cent., we will divide the surplus between the shareholders and ourselves, as our share for the promoting of the company, and the running of the apartment house.

We will guarantee 7% to each shareholder on his Investment

CAN ANYTHING BE FAIRER? CAN ANYTHING BE SQUARER? If so, we have not yet discovered it.

After the completion of the building, it is our intention, by the consent of the Directors, to mortgage the building for an amount of say, $50,000.00, and immediately start another apartment house scheme, upon the same terms and conditions, so that eventually the shareholders will receive a considerable amount more than 7 per cent. upon the money invested.

SCORES OF CONSTABLES PREVENTED UNDUE CROWDING AT DELEGATE RECEPTION.

Thousands Passed By Him—Shaughnessy Accompanied Cardinal Gibbons, Who is His Guest in Montreal.

Montreal, Sept. 9.—Without fuss or flurry the civic reception to Cardinal Vannutelli, the papal ambassador to the Eucharistic Congress was held here last night, and the aged legate showed no signs of the fatigure experienced the night before at the federal reception accorded him in the Windsor Hotel. He was bright and cheerful all evening, and passed many jocular remarks as high and low were introduced to him.

It is estimated that from ten to twelve thousand people of both sexes made their way past the cardinal during the two hours of the reception. The City Hall was a blaze of light, thousands of electric globes having been put in for the occasion. It appears, as if the whole of the Montreal police force was on duty in the vicinity of the hall, but their presence prevented any confusions or disorder in spite of the thousands who gathered round, but did not possess the necessary tickets of entrance to the reception.

SHAUGHNESSY WITH CARDINAL

Cardinal Gibbons, according to his invariable custom at such gatherings, left about 9.30 with his host, Sir. Thomas Shaughnessy. The keen, intellectual and ascetic face of the noted American cardinal, was the magnet for many eyes.

The kissing of the ring was omitted last night, the cardinal simply recognizing each individual in the endless chain of men and women in evening dress, with an outward movement of his red-gloved hands and that wonderful smile.

Mosby's Men in Reunion.

Heradon, Va., Sept. 10.—Surviving members of the 43rd Virginia Battalion of Cavalry, U.S.A., known throughout the country as "Mosby's men," assemble in annual reunion here today. The gathering will be attended by a large number of survivors from distant parts of the country.

Mahler's New Symphony.

Berlin, Sept. 10.—The music world is anticipating with keen interest the production of the Eighth Symphony of Gustav Mahler, the conductor of the New York Philharmonic Society, which will be played for the first time by any orchestra at the Munich exhibition Monday. The new symphony is said to represent the first serious attempt since Beethoven's "Immortal Ninth" to combine a purely instrumental interpretation with vocal effects.

HAS NO GROG TUB.

London, Sept. 8.—The Niobe, like the Rainbow, does not possess a Messrs. F. Clarke & Son, the well-known local jewellers, recently received an order for a very handsome clock, which will stand six to eight feet high. This beautiful time piece will not only show the hours of the day, but the days of the week and months and phases of the moon. It will strike every half hour and hour, the latter being in the form of a rich set of chimes, which may be heard at a considerable distance. The clock was manufactured for Messrs. Clarke & Son, in England, and will cost $450.

TORONTO'S LIBRARIAN.

London, Sept. 8.—At the conference of Librarians at Exeter, Dr. George H. Locke, head of the Toronto Public Library, made an interesting speech on empire building. He said Canada was more closely allied with the Mother Country than ever, and this was due in a large degree to educational work.

stocks and bonds of all iron, steel and smelting companies.

WHY? Because they are capitalized on the earnings of their blast furnaces now turning out base and precious metals. These blast furnaces are going to the scrap heap.

RENDALL FURNACES will supersede blast furnaces everywhere. They cost only one-fifth the price to build and produce pure metal from any kind of ore for one-half the cost of production by any other process now used.

In New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland VAST DEPOSITS, containing BILLIONS OF TONS of low grade iron ore, now unworked and idle because the ores are below the present accepted standard required for Bessemer ores, will soon be turning out the FINEST IRON the world has ever seen from RENDALL FURNACES now being built.

Formerly New York State was the largest producer of iron. The industry moved west when the BESSEMER PROCESS and the high grade ores of Michigan and Minnesota forced Eastern producers out of business. Now the Western industry—capitalized at about $3,000,000,000 in bonds and stocks—MUST USE THE RENDALL PROCESS OR SHUT DOWN.

BUY

Rendall Steel Stock

WHY? Because all iron and steel makers must buy RENDALL FURNACES—and every mining camp, where copper, silver, lead and zinc is produced must add continually to the Rendall Steel Company's income, which will amount to many millions a year in time from earnings and royalties. This means enormous dividends on Rendall Steel Stock.

Some years ago an eminent authority, Abram S. Hewitt, after a careful study made in the library of Sir Henry Bessemer, was able to demonstrate that the BESSEMER PROCESS of making iron and steel added, directly and indirectly, $2,000,000,000 YEARLY TO THE WORLD'S WEALTH.

Since then there has been steady increase over this two thousand million dollars a year.

HENRY BESSEMER'S INVENTION IS NOW SUPERSEDED BY GEORGE P. RENDALL'S INVENTION.

There will be no more BESSEMER STEEL. IT WILL BE ALL RENDALL STEEL. "Rendall Steel stock will go up to $500 a share and pay enormous dividends." Reliable, eminent authorities in mining and metallurgy predict this.

Jesse R. Grant, E.M., son of General U. S. Grant, ex-President of the United States; Captain C. B. Dahlgren, E.M., U.S. Navy (retired); Captain S. L. Barbridge, E. M.; W. F. Downs, E.M., of Columbia University; James C. Bayles, M.E.; Ph.D., ex-editor Iron Age; G. F. Rendall, M.E.; T. P. Maher, U.S. Navy Yard; G. H. Moore, E.M., C.E., and other mining and metallurgical engineers say "A REVOLUTION OF THE WHOLE IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY AS GREAT AS THAT PRODUCED BY SIR HENRY BESSEMER IS EFFECTED BY THE RENDALL PROCESS. IT SUPERDES THE BLAST FURNACE. Buy Rendall Steel stock. It is the best investment in America to-day

Peterboro's Wireless Communication

The press of Canada yesterday was filled with accounts of the good work done by wireless telegraphy. Right here in Peterboro there is a system of wireless communication that has no patent in it. We understand that the inventor of the local system was a lady by the name of gossip. The local, and to be candid there are similar systems of communication in most small towns and cities, goes one better than the wireless. A message by wireless, as received, has to be extended by the operator receiving it, so as to make a "story." The local wireless without the help of an operator, adds to, extends, distorts and exaggerates the original story as received for transmission. The "modus operandi" of getting a local wireless abroad for publication usually begins like this: "Say, Jennie, did you hear that Jim was keeping company with Nell?" Jennie sends the message along, to save that operator trouble at the end of the line, like this: "Minnie, I just heard that Nell and Jim are to be married this fall." Click, or rather clack, clack, and Minnie speeds the good news to her regular Sunday beau. "Harry, I think it's awful the way that Jim and Nell were married secretly months and months ago, and not a sign did that shy Nell give even about their engagement." What Harry will add to the story when he tells it to Tommy takes a higher intelligence than that of a mere man to guess. Still this is no exaggeration of the wireless news spread throughout Peterboro by subscribers to Dame Gossip's perennially busy system.

BOW LIFTED HIGH AND SHIP SANK

CAR FERRY NO. 17 ARRIVED JUST IN TIME TO SEE GREAT STEAMER STAND ON END.

Bow Lifted High and Ship Plunged to Bottom—Thirty Men Were Drowned, Including Two of the Brave Rescuers.

Ludington, Mich., Sept. 10.— With her flag floating at half mast, and thousands of anxious watchers waiting at the pier, the Pere Marquette car ferry No. 17 steamed into this harbor last night. There was a moment of tense silence as the steamer came through the piers into the harbor. Then men and women struggled with insane eagerness to get first tidings of the fate of relatives who went away from here Thursday night as members of the crew of the ill-fated car ferry No. 18 that sank in the middle of Lake Michigan with the loss of 30 lives.

PRIESTS ON WARPATH IN POLITICAL CAMPAIGN.

Determined Resistance Made to the New Law Promulgated in Portugal.

Lisbon, Sept. 10.—A religious difficulty threatens to bring about serious complications in Portugal.

According to the Seculo, the minister of justice has drafted a bill by which births, deaths and marriages will, in future, be registered civilly. This will dispense with the necessity of registration by the church, and will deprive the priests of a handsome source of income.

Meetings of protest are being organized by the clergy, and a general campaign against the government has been started.

On the other hand the Republican party has begun an agitation throughout the country against the clericals.

It is stated that the government intends to propose a general amnesty to those who were implicated in the attempted revolution at the end of Senhor Franco's dictatorship. The king is naturally reluctant to sign a decree for the release of some of these persons, especially those who are suspected of conniving at the murder of his father and brother.

THE KALAMAZOO IDEA.

Get This Famous Book on the "Kalamazoo Quality" Idea.

Every reader of this paper has probably known for years of the famous "Kalamazoo Idea" of selling high grade stoves and ranges from "Kalamazoo direct to you" on the most liberal plan ever offered by stove manufacturers. The popularity of this plan has caused this company to grow so large, that it has been necessary this year to make new additions to their factory, including a new moulding room 60 x 200 feet long and also to add a new 300 horse power boiler which more than doubles their present power plant.

Then, too—in order to increase the healthful conditions which have always surrounded the men in the Kalamazoo factories, they have built a two-storey lavatory and bath-room for their men, and it is a fact well known to the Commissioner of Labor in Michigan, that the expert stove makers employed by the Kalamazoo Stove Company work under the most favorable conditions and produce the most satisfactory work of any men employed by any company making stoves in this country.

We believe that our readers will be interested to know these facts and also to send their names for the new 1910-11 Kalamazoo Stove catalogue which also includes gas stoves, and which shows prices of all kinds of ranges, stoves, heaters, etc., sent direct to the user at wholesale factory prices.

Every Kalamazoo is handsomely finished and blacked and safe delivery is guaranteed, all ready to be set up for use. Freight is prepaid and you have 30 days free trial to test the Kalamazoo right in your own home and 360 days approval test backed by $100,000 bank bond guarantee of satisfaction or money back.

The Kalamazoo Stove Company has over 140,000 satisfied regular customers among farmers and home folk in almost every city in the United States including people who have a Kalamazoo in over 21,000 towns and cities so it is very probable that if you wish to ask people near you who own Kalamazoos how they like them, that the company can send you the names of many—probably many folks right near you in your own neighborhood.

Kalamazoo stoves, ranges and gas stoves are not sold through dealers or agents, but everybody first sends for their big free catalogue which costs them 10c to mail to you and which contains over 100 pages, fully illustrated—showing how you can save from $5.00 to $40.00 on any stove or range that you buy.

The company will let you pay cash or give credit to responsible buyers, so that if you wish you can make a small payment down and the balance on easy monthly payments.

We believe that every reader of this paper who is contemplating buying any kind of a stove or range or gas stove will find it very profitable and satisfactory to send a postal card or letter for the Kalamazoo catalogue, No. 602. You may say on your letter or postal just what kind of a stove or range you are thinking of buying, and say whether you are interested in gas stoves. Address Kalamazoo Stove Company, Manufacturers, Kalamazoo, Mich.—for prompt service say that you are a reader of this paper.

A BOBCAYGEON GIRL IN TROUBLE

COVETOUS WOMAN IS SENT TO JAIL IN TORONTO.

She Went to the Exhibition, Had Plent of Money, But Shoplifted.

It was shown in the police court today that poverty was not the motive which led Ellen Webb, Exhibition visitor from Bobcaygeon, to steal many articles from the T. Eaton counters. She was arrested on Saturday afternoon by Detective Guthrie, the articles taken then being a chatelaine, two purses, and small goods. "Besides," put in Crown Attorney Corley, "there was about $50 worth of similar things in her room. It wasn't poor circumstances. She had about $75 in money."

The plea was guilty. It is her first offence. She goes to jail for thirty days.—Toronto Star.

Natives of India on Trial for Conspiracy Against British Rule

FORTY-TWO WILL STAND TRIAL ON CHARGE OF WAGING WAR AGAINST THE KING EMPEROR.

Literature Disseminated Broadcast By Accused Urged That the Land Be Washed With British Blood.

Calcutta, Sept. 12.—Forty-two natives of India have been placed on trial at Dacca charged with conspiracy to subvert British Rule in India with sedition, and with waging war abagiust the King-Emperor. Several of the accused are men of mature age and recognized position. An attempt has been made to intimidate witnesses by sending the Dacca police a human head, accompanied by a warning that a certain high official will shortly be beheaded.

Mr. Roy, opening the case for the crown, asserted that the prosecution believed that they could prove the conspiracy to be one extending over the greater part of India. Although the major number of the conspirators were young men, the incitement came from older members. In support of this he quoted a commendatory review of the book "Sirkhar Bali dan," by Mr. Surea-dranag Banerjee which was first published in the Bengali and afterwards given as an affix to the book itself.

BLOOD-THIRSTY LITERATURE.

Mr. Roy went on to deal with the blood-thirsty character of the literature and songs which urged that the land should be washed with British blood. These were found in the Samita buildings, and in the course of other searches. The conspiracy was closely connected with the book, and this literature linked the present portion of the conspiracy with the revolutionary movement in other provinces. The whole course of training, mental and physical, enforced by the leaders of the conspiracy was calculated to educate pupils for revolution. The parent society existed at Dacca, with branches in every important place in the Province.

STARTED IN 1905.

Counsel further said that more arrests were pending. The conspiracy had started in 1905, when certain Calcutta gentlemen came to Dacca, made inflammatory speeches, and induced their hearers to take an oath that they would sacrifice their lives for their country. Counsel then read extracts from books belonging to persons concerned in the conspiracy, to show how the text of the sacred oath "Kill and you will reach heaven," was employed to inflame the youthful mind.

10,000 People Walked Streets All Night

Montreal, Sept. 12.—Ten thousand people walked the streets of Montreal last night unable to secure lodging. The food ran short in the restaurants, and crowds flocked to the fruit stores, and made meals from bananas and candies.

All night long the Grand Trunk station was packed to suffocation, policemen refusing to let any more in, and this caused scenes to lose their trains. The Canadian Pacific ran seven trains to Quebec yesterday evening, and other lines were likewise choked with specials.

Such a night of congestion Montreal has never previously experienced, and the painful end to the day's celebration was keenly felt by many of the visitors. Nearly all regular trains were late in leaving here, causing delay to mails.

Spectacular Procession Ends Great Congress

Montreal, Sept. 11.—With the representative of the King of England in the person of Mr. Justice Girouard, acting for the governor-general of Canada, with Sir Wilfrid Laurier, premier of Canada, with members of the Supreme Court of Canada, a dozen foreign nations represented by their consuls in Canada, with the highest in the land to the lowest in it, kneeling in the damp grass in Fletcher's Field, while the Pope's representative, Cardinal Vannutelli, raised the host in benediction, while bands played, swords gleamed in the moonlight and thundering bombs burst overhead, the international Eucharistic Congress in this city was brought to a close last night.

ABOUT 200,000 PRESENT.

The closing exercises were performed before a crowd of somewhere in the neighborhood of two hundred thousand people who were wedged in the smallest possible space in the field. Over their heads the moon threw a soft refulgency, while there before them was the magnificent pavilion all ablaze with lights, with a fiery cross surmounting it all. Below the dome was the altar, all aflame with a myriad of tiny electric globes and gorgeously decked out in a wealth of flowers, and there before it stood the cardinal legate, raising the host over the heads of the assembled throng, many of whom in their closely packed condition were unable to kneel and were only able to bow their heads. Some there were who had room enough to get down upon their knees and they were the highest dignitaries in the land, in its political and religious life. They occupied the center space directly before the pavilion and on both sides they were flanked by hundreds of soldiers, their bayonets flashing in the light from the moon or from the bright light from the altar. The set chimes placed on the field for the occasion rang out their full-est tones as the cardinal raised the host, and then a dozen bombs seemed to burst simultaneously overhead, while bands played and bugles trumpeted.

It was the culminating act of the Eucharistic Congress, and anything more impressive, or apt to stir up feelings around one's heart, would be hard to imagine.

Chanler's Friends Try to Recover Money

New York, Sept. 12.—Mystery today surrounds the steps which will be taken by the Chanler family to retain for Robert Winthrop Chanler the fortune which he is reported to have tossed to his beautiful songbird bride, Lina Cavalieri. "Sheriff Bob," the artist husband in the international nuptial and financial embroglio had disappeared today, while the plans of his lawyers and of the other members of his family were kept hidden.

Cables came from Paris telling of the puzzling attitude maintained by Cavalieri. While she denies that a misunderstanding exists between herself and her husband, yet she invariably is quoted as speaking of Chanler in a manner flippant and apparently contemptuous.

PUBLISHED REPORTS TRUE.

Reading between the lines it seems certain to those interested in the affair, both in Paris and in this city that the published reports of the case are true. The songstress, who is still suffering from the effects of her recent operation, told in a smiling manner today that she would soon be in the United States, although she said she could not live here. She further denied that she had duped Chanler of his money and said she was receiving love messages from him almost daily.

ESTATE IS ENTAILED.

Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler, brother of "Bob," former Lieutenant-Governor of New York State, and once candidate for governor, has returned to his home here from St. Paul, where he has been attending the National Conservation Congress, and today he made the definite statement that practically all of the million-dollar estate of Robert Chanler is entailed.

Simultaneously it was reported here that Chanler's relatives would hold a conference in the law offices of Lord, Hay & Lord, at 49 Wall street, some time during the day.

Robert W. Chanler is in hiding. Even members of the family denied today that they knew of his whereabouts.

The former lieutenant-governor said that he knew nothing of the supposed agreement wrung from his brother by the endearments of Cavalieri, by which Robert Chanler is said to have signed away his birthright.

Police Cause Sensation at Cobalt by Arresting Alleged Robbers

STOLEN FORTUNE RECOVERED IN COBALT—POLICE MAKE SEVEN ARRESTS.

Chief of Police at Cobalt, Working With Thiel Detectives, Makes a Clean Sweep in Robbery of the Nova Scotia Mine—Every Bar Recovered.

Toronto, Sept. 12.—Seven men are in custody in Cobalt, and about $17,000 worth of the silver ore stolen from the Nova Scotia mine has been recovered.

Twenty-seven bars of silver bullion were stolen a week ago from the vault of the Nova Scotia Mining Company's mill.

James Connelly, temperance hotelkeeper at Cobalt, and Paddy Ryan, a hanger-on about Connelly's, were arrested at 7.30 o'clock Saturday night by the Thiel Detective Agency, acting in conjunction with Chief Caldbeck of Cobalt.

A man named Wiley, claiming to be the champion heavyweight lifter of Canada, is being detained as chief witness. The stolen property was found in a ditch in the vicinity of the Nova Scotia Mining Company's mill, where it had been hammered deep in the mud.

The theft had been effected by breaking a hole in the side of the concrete vault.

Assiduous work on the part of the Theil detectives brought about the arrests. They were ably assisted by Chief Caldbeck, Inspector Blackwell and Constable McKay.

FOUR MORE ARRESTS.

A special despatch from Cobalt this afternoon says that four more arrests were made this morning by the Provincial police in connection with the Nova Scotia bullion robbery, making seven in all. The four new prisoners are Thos. Ballantyne, master mechanic of the mine; Ralph Ballantyne, his brother, assistant mechanic, and Thomas and Patrick Reilly.

The former was night shift boss at the mine, and was on duty the night of the robbery. It was he who planned the robbery, and later when the police were keeping too close a watch upon him he gave the rest of the gang away.

The silver had been carried away in two rigs and he only knew where sixteen of the bars were cached.

Last night the second one of the gang offered to turn King's evidence.

It was Ryan on three occasion, and he made a sworn statement before Magistrate Atkinson that led to the arrest of the Ballantynes and recovery of the missing nine bars.

From his story it appears that he Connolly and the two Ballantynes were the men who actually committed the robbery.

THE ROBBERY.

The Ballantynes brought the timbers and drill column, and Connelly and Ryan helped put them in through the window. Both Ryan and Connelly were armed and were masked. After the concrete wall was shoved in, the younger Ballantyne entered the vault, according to Ryan's story, and shoved the bars out to the other three, who promptly dumped them out of the window.

Ryan claims that the other three broke down before the ton of silver was removed to the waiting rigs, and he did the bulk of the carrying towards the end. He and Connelly cached their nine bars at a telephone pole beside the road on the O'Brien property and it has all been recovered by the police. Not one bar is missing.

Reilly, before going to the police with his story, tried to hold up Connelly for $2,000. He wanted the money to make a quick get-away as he felt that suspicion had been fastened upon him. He was refused the money and he then went to the police to claim the reward. The men will come before the magistrate this afternoon.

The robbery of the Nova Scotia Mine has but one parallel in the history of the North.

Last spring the Lucky Godfrey people, of Elk Lake, complained that many tons of selected ore had been stolen, being replaced in the sacks by low-grade ore and rock.

Belle Elmore Told Friends of Strangling Sensation

London, Sept. 12.—The inquest into the death of the woman presumed to be Belle Elmore, the wife of the accussed, Dr. Hawley Harvey Crippen, was resumed today before Coroner Schroeder at Islington.

Neither Dr. Crippen nor his typist, Ethel Clare Leneve, who is accused jointly with him, was present at the opening of the inquest.

Owing to the death of Coroner Thomas several weeks ago, Coroner Schroeder determined to review the details of the crime. A great crowd of morbidly curious spectators gathered, among them many women, to listen to the evidence today. The crush became so great that the police had to drive many of them away.

AWAKENED IN NIGHT.

Miss May, secretary of the Ladies' Music Hall Guild, testified that Belle Elmore once told her of awakening in the night around Christmas to feeling a strangling sensation, and asking her husband to call the police. He refused to do it. The witness said that she wrote to Crippen's son in Los Angeles asking him for the date of Belle Elmore's death and some of the facts surrounding it. In his reply, she testified, young Crippen stated that the first news of his stepmother's death came to him in a letter from his father to the effect that she had died in San Francisco. The young man added that the news was a great shock to him.

Attorney Newton explained that Miss May meant to state that Belle Elmore requested her husband to summon a physician and not the police in her testimony in regard to the strangling incident.

KNEW OF OPERATION.

Mrs. Martinez, who said she had been a friend of Belle Elmore of twenty years' standing, declared that the actress had been the subject of surgical operation.

Mrs. Martinez then described the scar. As she had not mentioned this scar before either to the magistrate or the coroner, she was questioned very closely.

After other evidence had been adduced, which was mainly a repition of the testimony given earlier in the inquest, Coroner Schroeder adjourned the inquisition until next Monday.

NEWTON WILL DEFEND LENEVE

FACT THAT WILL DISCOUNT CONFESSION STORY IS MADE PUBLIC TODAY.

Can Consult With Crippen—Defence's Move to Get Experts to Contradict Crown is Rare in England.

London, Sept. 12.—Arthur Newton, counsell for Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, who is on trial here, charged with murdering his wife, has been engaged to defend Ethel Clara Leneve, Crippen's typist, who is on trial as an accessory after the fact. This will enable closer co-operation between the two accused persons, who, heretofore had not been permitted to consult with one another.

Another step in the fight to save the prisoners from conviction was taken yesterday when two pathologists engaged by the defence, examined the body unearthed in Crippen's cellar. Solicitor Newton expects to receive reports from these pathologists in time for use as the basis of his cross-examination of the police experts when the trial of Dr. Crippen and Miss Leneve in continued next Wednesday. An analyst has also been retained by the defence to investigate the alleged finding of poisoning in the body.

The engagement of experts to controvert evidence offered by the prosecution is unusual in England, successful competitors

HIGH PRICES IN IN WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, Sept. 12.—The cost of living has been so high this summer in the West, and promises to be so much higher this winter, that householders are becoming alarmed. Milk, for instance, is higher than ever before. Consumers now get twelve quarts for a dollar. Last year at this time they were receiving fourteen. According to milk dealers the price will be raised shortly to ten quarts for a dollar. The dealers give as as their reason for the advance in the price of milk that the early withering of the grass, caused by the dry summer, made it necessary for them to feed the cattle extra in order to keep up the milk flow.

feed and coarse grains are dear this year and the root crop is short, an advance in the price of milk came at a much earlier date this year than last. Correspondingly high prices for butter, cheese and eggs are expected. Meat also promises to touch almost prohibitive prices. As it is meat is higher than ever before, and good beef, owing to the drought on the ranges will be hard to secure.

Jap Suspect on Trial.

Denver, Colo., Sept. 13.—Genkye Mitisunga, the Japanese indicted for the murder of Mrs. Catherine Wilson at her home in this city on May 7 last, was arraigned in court today for trial. After the discovery of the woman's mutilated body, the Jap fled from Denver, and later was captured by a posse near Lyons. Since his arrest Mitisunga has steadfastly maintained that Mrs. Wilson was murdered by an unknown white man, who forced the Japanese at the point of a revolver to assist him in concealing the body and removing evidence of the crime.

SCARCITY OF TEACHERS.

While it is most easy to advise rural trustees to pay high salaries if they wish to secure teachers for their schools, it is not in all cases as easy to suggest how those salaries shall be raised. That $400 and $500 a year is a ridiculous figure to offer a teacher who has spent twice that sum in getting a certificate, is evident, the day laborer being able to learn as much without any qualifications but those of a simple service. On the other hand it is difficult for some sections to raise enough money to pay more. Particularly is this so where a section is not thickly settled.

There are two other ways of overcoming the unfortunate condition. One is by consolidating school sections where possible; the other by making the course easier through which it is necessary to pass to qualify for the public school teacher. The former is a practical idea that can be carried out where two or more sections lie in such relations that a union school will answer well for both. The salaries formerly paid by the two sections if joined would make a splendid inducement to anyone fitting himself for the teaching profession.

The proposal to make course for teachers less difficult is an extremity and should only to considered by the Educational Department providing salaries cannot be increased and teachers cannot be found.

WHY GO TO CANADA?

The Calgary Herald has issued a "Why go to Canada" supplement that is one of the brightest publications which has come out of the West. If the "Don't go to Canada" campaign which was started across the border some time ago, needed a quietus, this supplement would supply it. But that campaign is dead. The illustrations and reading matter provided by the Herald set forth the prosperity of Canada in graphic style. The publication should be an immigration getter, and might well be scattered broadcast by the government.

280,000 Americans have immigrated to Western Canada since 1897.

25,000 more Americans have settled there than natives of Continental Europe in the past thirteen years.

200,000 of them have settled there within the past six years.

60,000 of them crossed the border during the fiscal year 1907-08.

200,000 will do likewise in 1910.

$250,000,000 in actual cash added to the wealth of Canada within the past two years.

$200,000,000 more will be added to the national assets through this source this year.

Out of 200,000 American immigrants during the past six years 200,000 were practical farmers.

Of the 180,913 homesteads taken during the same period only 36 per cent. or 65,406 have been located by Americans. The balance have bought lands.

12,000 of these were located last year, every State in the Union being represented among the entries.

The wealth to be taken to Canada by Americans this year will build a fleet of 20 Dreadnoughts or a transcontinental railway.

Estimates of the wealth they have taken across the borders in previous years have been found to be 25 per cent. too low.

THE WEIGHT OF BREAD.

There has been a good deal of discussion anent the Nickle Act regulating the weights of bread. With the details of the measure we are not familiar, but so far as the intention was to establish a standard weight, so that the people might know how much bread they were getting in a loaf, public sentiment must be heartily in favor of it. There should be no undue interference with the bak-

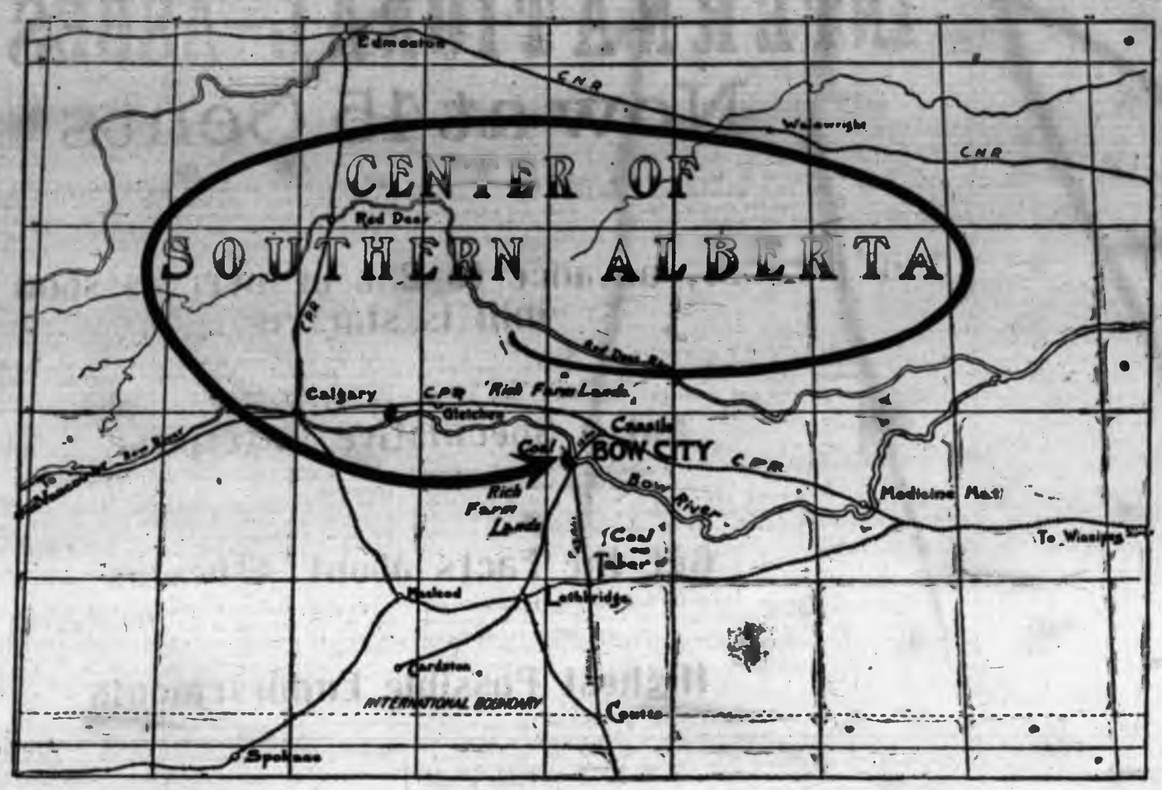
"GIVE YOUR SON A DEED"



If, by way of illustration, you will review the history of the men in your town who have made money out of real estate, you will find that in each and every instance their profits were made from real estate acquired at ground floor prices.

More money can be made by those who acquire a realty interest in a town at its inception per dollar invested than from investments made after a period of years.

Do you know that you can purchase with $5 cash a full sized residential lot in Bow City, Alberta

the logical location for a great city, a city which is destined to be known, the world over, as a market place annually for hundreds of thousands of bushels of grain, grown on the vast irrigated fields surrounding Bow City, a shipping point for coal from the great Bow Centre Collieries, and a purchasing depot for hundreds of prosperous farmers resident throughout Southern Alberta.

To-day is your opportunity to acquire an interest in Bow City at the ground floor price.

It will be too late six months hence, to apply for a lot in Bow City at the present prices and on such easy terms as are offered you in this advertisement.

Why not follow Russell Sage's advice given in a letter published some years ago to the fathers in the Western States:—

"Buy your son a lot in a town being the "centre of a great agricultural country—when "he comes of age that lot will be worth consid-"erable money and will provide a handsome "stake for him in life; it is at least most sub-"stantial life insurance—sure and certain."

Buy your son a $50 lot in Bow City, the coming metropolis of the western prairies. In a very short time he can re-sell the same at a big increase, which money he will find advantageous in business pursuits or in a college course.

Bow City, the centre of the great granary of Southern Albert has a future concerning which no sane business man or banker has any doubt.

When you are assured of the success of the city, when you have proven to you beyond the shadow of a doubt that Bow City will, in the very near future, be one of the most active, one of the most progressive towns on the Western prairies, you should not hesitate to acquire at least one $50 residential lot, when same is on sale on such easy terms as 10 per cent cash and the balance 10 per cent per month until paid—a deed at any time.

Bow City is in the heart of a famous irrigated farming belt whose farmers are assured of a crop every year. They are prosperous and their prosperity will naturally enhance the value of Bow City real estate.

The great coal mines of Bow City will furnish work for 1,000 to 1,500 miners daily, these miners will constitute a substantial basis for a successful city.

The present owners of Bow City have decided that no licenses shall be issued for the sale of spirituous liquors; they intend that this great mining and agricultural centre shall be free from any traffic in intoxicating drinks—it will be a clean city.

Bow City is the headquarters of a railway which taps a territory unparalleled for richness in crops and natural resources.

The Sale of Bow City Lots opened but a few days ago

If you are desirous of acquiring a $50 residential lot close in you should lose no time in making application by wire direct to the General Agents of the townsite, or to the nearest sub-agent.

Do not delay by sending your apulication by mail.

Wire at once your reservation for one or more lots On receipt of wire your name will be placed on the closest-in unsold lot or lots and same will be held in your name, allowing you sufficient time for your cash payment, mailed same day you wire, to travel from your home to the head office.

You may find it to your advantage, if you are desirous of securing a business opening, or a business lot, to write for copy of the plans, booklets and descriptive matter concerning Bow City, all of which may be had on application, free of charge.

ONCE FOR CANADA

The award in the fisheries dispute between England and Canada against the United States is a decided win for Britain. Canadians will now drop that prejudice which argued that this country is usually sacrificed to the United States. No matter how illogical it may appear to legal minds acquainted with international law, the findings in the Alaskan case and in the controversy which was settled by the Ashburton Treaty, caused widespread dissatisfaction throughout the Dominion. The people made no secret of their disfavor towards Lord Alverstone in the former case nor of their doubt as to the award in the latter. It was openly charged that English judicial authorities, actuated by strong political motives, gave preferences to the claims of the Republic and, despite the attempts that have been made to disabuse the public mind, it still regrets the loss by Canada of large pieces of territory.

The result of the present case may be looked upon with equal uncertainty by our neighbors, but the Canadian mind will be pacified for the injuries it supposes itself to have suffered in the past. By the finding of the Tribunal the British have absolute sovereign rights to frame regulations in Newfoundland waters. This was the vital point, and the victory, if it rests with Britain and Canada, reflects credit on Sir Chas. Fitzpatrick, Hon. A. B. Aylesworth and other counsel who assisted them in the presentation of Britain's and Canada's side.

THE AMERICAN SENATE.

Popular sentiment in the United States appears to be in favor of the election of senators by popular vote instead of by the State legislatures. The lower branch of Congress has four times passed a two-thirds vote a joint resolution for the submission of a constitutional amendment providing for election by the people. The legislatures of thirty-one States have taken action favoring a similar amendment. The States include some of the largest and most populous in the Union, the most notable omissions being New York and Massachusetts.

The Newark Evening News says that in the early days of the Union Elbridge Gerry, of Massachusetts, argued against popular election. He said that the country was already suffering from too much democracy, as the people were the dupes of pretended patriots. He argued that the commercial and monied interests would be more effective guarded by of State legislatures than in those of the people at large. In his view that the senate as now constituted would be a champion of the monied interests the famous author of the gerrymander was probably correct. It was also contended that State rights would be more effective guarded by a nominated than an elected senate, a notion for which there does not seem to be a solid foundation.

It has been observed that when the constitution of the United States was framed, the democratic enthusiasm of the War of Independence had somewhat waned, and the framers were actuated by the ideas of such conservative statesmen as Alexander Hamilton. Safeguards against democracy were constructed, and it was made exceedingly difficult to amend the constitution. It is likely therefore, that the present system of nomination will be continued long after it has been condemned by public opinion.

The Seventh Gate

A Story of the Chinese Forbidden City.

By CLARISSA MACKIE

Copyright, 1908, by American Press Association.

Owen Ryder left the train at the terminus several miles outside the walls of Peking and covered the remaining distance toward the city gate on the back of a donkey.

As he approached the seventh gate he paused for an instant. He had come on a journey of thousands of miles to accomplish a mission, and now that the object of his search was almost within his grasp he hesitated.

Fear had no part in his hesitation. He was comparatively safe in the disguise afforded by his Chinese dress—as safe as any native Chinese who wished to gain admission to the Forbidden City.

Then, with quick indrawn breath, he moved into the deeper shadow of the gate. As his hands touched the bronze doors they swung softly inward and engulfed him.

A dark shadow loomed at his side and, without a sound, guided him close against the inner wall in a curving line. They came to an abrupt stop in a grove of trees whose tops rustled high over their heads. Before them were the dim outline and bulky mass of some huge building.

At last a door closed softly behind them, the hands were removed from Ryder's lips and arm, and presently a light twinkled out of the gloom.

The American turned to look at his companion, who had withdrawn the cover from a small bronze lantern and stood revealed in its dim light.

Ryder stared and stared again at the tall, spare figure that confronted him. This was no Chinese—this man with deep sunken blue eyes and wisps of fair hair sticking out from under the cue bound about his forehead. Owen Ryder's wondering gaze traveled over the yellowed skin drawn tightly over the protruding cheek bones, down to the handsome nose and bitter, curling lips, down to the common blue cotton Chinese dress and then up again with puzzled eyes to study the face with something lacking—something—what?

The man laughed silently as he lifted his bony hands to each side of his head. "You miss these appendages, my friend. I have been cropped, you see." His voice was low and vibrant with some suppressed emotion.

Ryder gasped. "Your ears—my God!" He felt within his blouse for the comfortable reassurance of his revolver, and his fingers curled about the butt lovingly.

"Your ears next, my friend, and the ears of all who pass through the seventh gate inward," said the stranger, with assumed lightness. He turned and pointed to the wall behind him, and Ryder gasped again to see a line of dart figures stretched along the door.

"Earless freaks," said the tall stranger, with sudden dreariness in his mocking tone. "Sit down on the floor, man, and tell your story—say, let me preface it for you and for me and the rest of us—white men!"

"Go ahead," said Ryder.

"You are an artist of some sort. You have learned that these people have recovered their lost art of producing Kinstin porcelain, that rare painting of invisible flowers, fishes or other symbols on the outside of porcelain vessels, paintings that are only revealed when the vessel is filled with liquor of some sort. The discoverer of this lost and precious art is confined to his workshop in the palace here. The retention of the secret means the addition of large sums of money to this country; hence they guard it carefully. You were put on to the secret, you have come to spy it out, you have reached as far as"— "I had a model"—began Ryder eagerly, when the other man's low laugh cut him short.

"What is your name?"

"I am Edward Stone, an Englishman. I had a model, too, and so did each of these five other poor earless devils. It was the same model. One by one she sent us here as she sent you. It could have been no one else but Lena Shults."

"It was Lena Shults," returned Ryder dully.

"I knew it. The man who discovered the lost art is not a native. To what country he belongs I do not know. I do know that he made the discovery and was captured with his belongings and is confined within three feet of where we now are. All day he works in the underground cell perfecting his discovery, for in spite of the most violent threats he will not impart the secret to another soul or work in another man's presence."

"But why did that woman send us here—on a wild goose chase?" muttered Ryder after a silence.

"Yonder poor devil is her husband. She hopes with the aid of other white men to help him escape from here. I was the first to come. I arrived at 9 in the evening. Now it is my duty to open the gate at 9 every evening in the hope of catching other would be thieves. 'Set a thief to catch a thief,' you know!" He uttered a hard little laugh.

"I suppose that's what we are, agreed Ryder.

"That's so."

"How long have you been here?"

"Four years."

"By Gad! How do you live?"

"Don't live—exist."

"Any hope of escape?"

"None whatever."

"The imperial government"—began Ryder suddenly, when the Englishman interrupted.

"The imperial government knows nothing about the matter. The whole rascally affair is in the hands of a clique of highborn scoundrels. Resolve to make yourself as comfortable as possible under the circumstances—resign yourself to losing your ears (if you ever should escape one can buy lovely pink rubber ears, I fancy) and hope for a change of rulers. Nothing else will cause excitement enough to have our existence forgotten. Good night!"

Stone calmly stretched himself on the floor and went to sleep. Ryder sat and brooded at the bronze lantern flickering in the distance. His hand still caressed the butt of his revolver, but with less confidence.

New York seemed many thousands of miles away tonight—New York and alluring Lena Shults. He cursed her under his breath and wondered how many more men she would throw as bait into that hidden city in the hope that one or all of them might aid in the escape of her husband.

There was an audible murmur of sound without the thick walls, pierced by sharp staccato cries. The thud of many pounding feet sounded in the courtyards above their heads, and in an instant the six sleeping prisoners were awake and on the alert. The Latins gabbled French to one another, while Stone and Ryder drew near to an iron grating in the stone roof.

The American could make nothing of the strange sounds, but the Englishman's face lighted with sudden excitement.

"By Jove," he whispered exultantly, "you've brought good luck after all, Ryder! Something extraordinary has happened, from what I can hear—a change of government indeed! Two deaths and chaos everywhere. Time for us to make a move, and disguises are in order."

He swooped to a dark corner and pried up a portion of the stone flagging. He brought into view a mass of silk and satin. He threw rich garments to each of his fellow prisoners, and without a word they slipped into the voluminous folds.

"Doubly a thief," muttered Stone as he surveyed his companions. Then he caught up one remaining robe and thrust it under his arm. "See if we can release Lena's husband, poor devil! We owe her a grudge, sure enough, but white men must stand by one another!"

With the air of one who had studied his ground and was well versed in his undertaking, he unfastened the oaken door and by the guiding sound of his slipping, padding feet the six followed him into the outer darkness of corridors. They twisted and turned and doubled, and at last Stone paused before another door.

"I don't know just how to get inside," he admitted in a low tone. But the pressure of his hand on the planks pushed the door inward and revealed to their shocked senses a scene of carnage indeed. With the details omitted, they realized that Lena's husband was dead, with his precious secret still a mystery behind his horribly grinning lips.

"The syndicate has done well indeed," said Stone, turning away. Silently they filed through the passages until they reached the foot of the grass grown steps where Ryder had left the outside world behind. "It is here where the guard is set. Look for danger, friends," whispered the Englishman.

The shadows were uninhabited. They slipped up into the grove of whispering trees and followed the curve of the shining wall around to the seventh gate.

"Once outside!" muttered Stone feverishly.

"Once outside!" each man repeated in his own tongue.

In the distance were muffled cries and excited murmurings. Around the seventh gate all was still—ominously still.

The seven were pressed against the bronze gate, and Stone was fumbling with the complicated lock. There was a rushing sound behind them, and they turned their heads.

A file of soldiers was running toward them, and their short swords were raised in deadly menace. Stone pulled the door open and dashed forth with his companions into pitchy blackness. They crashed into a sedan chair just entering the gateway. A woman's scream pierced the darkness, and from the tower overhead the watchman thrust his lantern.

A white face appeared for a brief instant between the parted curtains of the chair.

"Lena Shults!" hallowed Ryder excitedly.

With one accord the seven victims of Lena Shults ignored the oncoming soldiers, and, shouldering the bearers aside, they grasped the poles of the chair and carried the shrieking woman away from the seventh gate—away from the Forbidden City beyond the outer darkness to the lighted consulate buildings—to safety for all.

The next day Ryder and Stone left for the nearest treaty port. "A fifth story studio and paint pots for the rest of my life. I'll take my foreign travel book fashion hereafter," said Ryder sheepishly to his companion as they whirled along the railway. "What's your first wish, Stone?"

The Englishman touched a matted wig which hung well down over the lapel of his coat.

"Pink rubber ears," he said solemnly.

And neither laughed.

A RARE CHANCE.

Remember That Asbestos is Daily Increasing in Use in Electrical Work.

Any intelligent man of business, or busy manufacturer knows that asbestos is, of all mineral substances, greatly in demand. Asbestos is essential to makers of electrical apparatus of all kinds, and is used freely in the manufacture of paints and many other commodities. The Province of Quebec has in the past supplied the great majority of the asbestos used throughout the world. Now however, rich asbestos lands have been discovered in the State of Wyoming. This mineral as found there is of a better grade than most of the Quebec product. Fortunately also the Wyoming asbestos lands are within easy access of cheap transportation. The Rochester and Wyoming Asbestos Co., whose advertisement appears in this issue, have secured a rich asbestos property in Wyoming, and are as noticed in the adv. offering a limited number of shares at $1 per share. The proposition is well worth investigation.

SELL

[redacted] stocks and bonds of all iron, steel and smelting companies.

WHY? Because they are capitalized on the earnings of their blast furnaces now turning out base and precious metals. These blast furnaces are going to the scrap heap.

RENDALL FURNACES will supersede blast furnaces everywhere. They cost only one-fifth the price to build and produce pure metal from any kind of ore for one-half the cost of production by any other process now used.

In New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland VAST DEPOSITS, containing BILLIONS OF TONS of low grade iron ore, now unworked and idle because the ores are below the present accepted standard required for Bessemer ores, will soon be turning out the FINEST IRON the world has ever seen from RENDALL FURNACES now being built.

Formerly New York State was the largest producer of iron. The industry moved west when the BESSEMER PROCESS and the high grade ores of Michigan and Minnesota forced Eastern producers out of business. Now the Western industry—capitalized at about $3,000,000,000 in bonds and stocks—MUST USE THE RENDALL PROCESS OR SHUT DOWN.

BUY

Rendall Steel Stock

WHY? Because all iron and steel makers must buy RENDALL FURNACES—and every mining camp, where copper, silver, lead and zinc is produced must add continually to the Rendall Steel Company's income which will amount to many millions a year in time from earnings and royalties. This means enormous dividends on Rendall Steel Stock.

Some years ago an eminent authority, Abram S. Hewitt, after a careful study made in the library of Sir Henry Bessemer, was able to demonstrate that the BESSEMER PROCESS of making iron and steel added, directly and indirectly, $2,000,000,000 YEARLY TO THE WORLD'S WEALTH.

Since then there has been steady increase over this two thousand million dollars a year.

HENRY BESSEMER'S INVENTION IS NOW SUPERSEDED BY GEORGE F. RENDALL'S INVENTION.

There will be no more BESSEMER STEEL. IT WILL BE ALL RENDALL STEEL. "Rendall Steel stock will go up to $500 a share and pay enormous dividends." Reliable, eminent authorities in mining and metallurgy predict this.

Jesse R. Grant, E.M., son of General U. S. Grant, ex-President of the United States; Captain C. B. Dahlgren, E.M., U.S. Navy (retired); Captain S. L. Barbridge, E. M.; W. F. Downs, E.M., of Columbia University; James C. Bayles, M.E.; Ph.D., ex-editor Iron Age; G. F. Rendall, M.E.; T. F. Maher, U.S. Navy Yard; G. H. Moore, E.M., C.E., and other mining and metallurgical engineers say "A REVOLUTION IN THE WHOLE IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY AS GREAT AS THAT PRODUCED BY SIR HENRY BESSEMER IS EFFECTED BY THE RENDALL PROCESS. IT SUPERSEDES THE BLAST FURNACE Buy Rendall Steel stock. It is the best investment in America to-day

THE BEST MEDICINE.

Pure Air Cures Many Ills and Means the Prolongation of Life.

"Pure air is more precious than gold," said the venerable physician. "It is the best medicine in the world and means the prolongation of life and the cure for many ills which make my calling necessary and profitable. Don't tarry too long in crowded, ill-ventilated places and beware of 'stuffy' rooms. Now, the dangerous element in a stuffy place, like a rush hour subway train is, strictly speaking, not due to carbonic acid gas. That in its pure condition would speedily cause death, but it has been established that the chief danger in breathing vitiated air is not entirely or even chiefly due to carbonic acid gas, but rather to organic impurities which are invariably present in vitiated air.

"And here it may be pointed out that the other chief constituent of breath is water, and an amount varying from six to twenty-seven ounces, it has been calculated, may be given off in the course of twenty-four hours. Dr. De Chaunnont, a well-known authority on this subject, has estimated that an assembly of 2,000 people during a period of two hours—that is, the duration of an ordinary meeting—may exhale in respiration and give off in perspiration about seventeen gallons of water.

"The amount of carbonic acid given off by a man amounts to about three-quarters of a cubic foot an hour, or nineteen cubic feet in twenty-four hours. Each individual, therefore, may be said to destroy about fifteen cubic feet in twenty-four hours. And the man who occupies a hall bedroom and keeps his window down while he reads by gaslight far into the night should know that the burning jet gives off as much carbonic acid as he does himself. Then he may let in a little air."

Bismarck on Women in Politics.

Some interesting observations of Prince Bismarck on female suffrage have come to light. Of women in politics he said: "We men are all clumsy. We Germans especially are always ungainly bears, even diplomatists. Moreover, much less would be made public, for a sensible woman's mouth can keep silence. On the other hand, it can draw from an opponent in a tone of harmless chatter many a secret that he would not give up to us men. Woman's mouth chats so ingratiatingly on most subjects that we never notice, old donkeys that we are, that we have told them more than we intended to, for everything that is feminine beats us in cunning."—London Telegraph.

The Crucial Test.

At an adjourned town council meeting in the north a member casually mentioned that a person could not enjoy or even distinguish between drinks in the dark. A worthy bailie denied this and offered to bet that, blindfolded, he could name any drink given him. The bet being accepted and the bailie blindfolded, the test commenced. The bailie drank everything submitted, smacked his lips and correctly named the drink until the taken was in despair. Then "try him wi' water," whispered a councillor, and the hint was taken. Sip—smack—sip—a shake of the head—"I canna just mind the name o' this, but I mind o' tastin' it when I was a wee laddie."—London Standard.

Japan's Police Force.

Japan's police force was originally the most aristocratic body of the kind in the world. Its establishment was almost coincident with the Emperor's decree forbidding the wearing of swords. By a stroke of the imperial pen the samurai were deprived of cherished weapons by which the gentlemen of Japan had been accustomed from immemorial times to advertise their rank. So they went into the police, where it was still possible to carry a sword. And a very formidable weapon it was then, being of the two-handed variety.

How Do You Take Your Defeat.

The way a man takes his defeat is a pretty good test of his caliber. The strong man uses his failures for stepping stones instead of stumbling blocks. I know a very successful young man who has made it a rule of his life to use every misfortune that comes to him as a point of departure for something better. He has had losses and misfortunes which would have crushed most men, but they only stiffen his resolution, nerve him up for a new start. They only make him more determined to conquer the next time.—Success.

The Worst Drink.

"But chi-chi, the chi-chi of Patagonia! That is the worst drink in the world," said a naval man. "The Patagonians gather wild apples. They dig pits and line them with horse hides, and in those pits they leave the apples to rot and ferment. When the pits are full of foamy, hissing juices the Patagonian warriors gather for their annual jag, and the women and children go off and hide in the woods. No wonder, for chi-chi is a terrible drink. It is a thick gray foam that hisses. It seems to be alive. It is like drinking snakes."

Getting Even.

Some retaliations are too clever to be resented. They seem to be almost a logical part of the circumstances that evoked them. Dr. Wines was formerly the principal of a boys' school. One day he had occasion to reprove a lad, who naturally resented the punishment. On the doctor's front door was a plate bearing the one word "Wines." That night a bold and clever hand added three words to the inscription, so that in the morning the doorplate read this way: "Wines and Other Lickers."

Receding Chins.

The minority who have square chins and big lower jaws say that two of the receding chins have neither will nor strength of character, which is absurd, as anyone may know who remembers that Gen. Wolfe and Mr. Pitt had practically [illegible] at all, to say nothing of living soldiers and statesmen. To judge a man by his chin is no less foolish than to judge him by the bumps of his skull.

THE CHEMONG BUS.

The Chemong 'Bus will leave Gibbs Livery Stable every morning at seven o'clock, calling at the National Hotel, Snowdon House, Oriental Hotel, and going straight to Chemong. Leaves Chemong at 8.15 a.m., for Peterborough. Same route every evening leaving at 5 o'clock.

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

Not a Speculative Enterprise

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS is an industrial enterprise of the most solid character. The monopoly of the supply and the constantly increasing demand make the market for the product absolutely certain. There is no substitute for asbestos. It is one of the prime necessities of modern industry and construction. And, as already stated, it sells for a price many times greater than the cost of production.

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS affords an unequalled opportunity for safety and permanent income out of all proportion to the amount of the investment.

OUR PROPOSITION

We have acquired a site, Nos. 788 and 790 St. Urbain Street, having a frontage of 60 feet on St. Urbain Street, with an equivalent frontage on Basset Street, in rear.

The land is 195 feet deep, but we intend ceding over to the city 20 feet in order that the lines of Basset Street may be continued past our property. You will readily see the advantage of this, as it gives us two street frontages instead of one, as is usual in most apartment houses.

We have designed an apartment house, calling for a four-storey apartment house of thirty-two (32) apartments, well planned and laid out, complete in every detail.

In the centre of the building there will be a waiting room and telephone exchange. This telephone exchange will connect with every apartment.

It is estimated that the cost of land and building will be $100,000, made up as follows:—

Land	$15,000.00
Building	70,000.00
Allowed for architect's fees and other expenses	15,000.00
	$100,000.00

Therefore we are forming a company for $100,000, composed of 1,000 shares of $100 00 each.

At the expiration of the time allotted for the subscribing of stock, we will apply for a charter, so that everything will be done in proper style.

Immediately upon forming the company, the tenders will be allotted by the Board of Directors, who will have been elected by the shareholders at the first annual meeting, which will be called immediately upon granting of the charter.

It is estimated that the annual rental will be about $480.00 an apartment, or $15,360.00 per annum.

This is how you are guaranteed 7% or more

Now to show our good faith in the matter, we do not intend to receive one cent before the shareholders obtain their 7 per cent.

After all expenses have been paid, allowing the shareholders 6 per cent., we will divide the surplus between the shareholders and ourselves, as our share for the promoting of the company, and the running of the apartment house.

We will guarantee 7% to each shareholder on his Investment

CAN ANYTHING BE FAIRER? CAN ANYTHING BE SQUARER? If so, we have not yet discovered it.

After the completion of the building, it is our intention, by the consent of the Directors, to mortgage the building for an amount of say, $50,000.00, and immediately start another apartment house scheme, upon the same terms and conditions, so that eventually the shareholders will receive a considerable amount more than 7 per cent. upon the money invested.

Gentlemen,—

I hereby subscribe for .....Shares in a company to be formed for $100,000.00 to build an Apartment House, as outlined in your advertisement, payable as follows: 5 Per Cent. to be sent with this application for Stock, balance 25 Per Cent. on granting of charter, 25 Per Cent. in 30 days afterwards, 25 Per Cent. in 60 days, 20 Per Cent. in 90 days.

STRONG EVIDENCE AGAINST DR. CRIPPEN.

Crown Prosecutor Expects to Convict Him of Murder—Some New Points Brought Out.

London, Sept. 10.—The crown prosecutors are slowly unravelling a chain of evidence with which they expect to convict Dr. Hawley H. Crippen of the murder of his wife, the music hall singer, Belle Elmore, and Ethel Leneve as accessory after the fact.

It was expected that important medical testimony would be given early in the court proceedings, but its presentation has been delayed until the experts for the defence have had an opportunity of viewing the remains. The trial therefore has been adjourned until September 14.

FOUND SOME CLAY.

A marked change in the demeanor is noted of Crippen, who is less downcast. He carried on a whisper conversation with his former stenographer in court yesterday. Miss Leneve replied in monosyllables, keeping her eyes on the ground. She was much agitated throughout the hearing and had trouble in controlling herself when the circumstances attending the finding of the remains were narrated by Inspector Dew. The inspector brought out a new point, testifying that he found in the garden, under a heap of rubbish, some clay similar to that in the cellar.

NEWTON IS CONFIDENT.

London, Sept. 9.—Arthur Newton, the prisoner's counsel, who is directing the international search for Cora Crippen, expressed confidence that he would be successful in proving that the remains found in the cellar of Dr. Crippen's London home were not those of Belle Elmore. He does not undertake to explain whose they are or how they came to be there.

Scotland Yard is just as sure of convicting Crippen as Inspector Dew was of finding the wanted man in Canada.

SOCIETY EVENT OF TRIAL.

Indications give proof that when the trial is resumed, fashionable women of London will make a society event of the affair.

"Crippen case parties" may come into vogue with the court room filled with women of social and money aristocracy, who watch the prisoners through gold mounted lorgnettes and listen with aristocratic interest to the gruesome details as they are presented in evidence. There is a possibility that those who would turn the murder trial into a society event may have their aspirations checked through a ruling from the court, but it is only concerned in rumor at this time.

SENSATION LOOKED FOR.

Some believe that the next session of the case will result in a tremendous sensation. This might be brought about through the attempted exposure by Arthur Newton that a murder had been committed but not by Crippen and that the remains found were those of some person who had been mysteriously missing.

The intense interest shown by society women in the Crippen case strengthens the assertion which has been made from time to time that wealthy and fashionable American and English women in London subscribed to a defence fund with which to wage the desperate battle for the accused physician's life.

The body of Mrs. Sager, mother of the late killed engineer of Peterborough arrived on the 10.28 C.P.R. train yesterday from Buffalo, where she passed away last week. The funeral took place from the C.P.R. station to Little Lake cemetery. Rev. Mr. Couch conducted the services.

Lucy Gertrude Elliott's Death.

Lucy Gertrude Margery, the three-months-old child of Louis H. Elliott, 165 Sherbrooke street, died Sunday morning after a short illness. Death was due to heart trouble. General sympathy will be extended to the parents in their bereavement. The funeral will likely take place to Little Lake cemetery with Rev. Mr. Trumpour officiating.

New Curate of St. John's Here.

Rev. Mr. Carpenter of Newfoundland, the new curate of St. John's church, is now in the city and rapidly making himself known with the general, as well as specific requirements of the parish. Judging by Rev. Mr. Carpenter's past record and his own personality he will be a valuable and valued assistant to Rev. Canon Davidson, the indefatigable rector of that church.

Keen Competition in Holstein's.

Mr. R. H. Leary, president of the West Peterborough Agricultural Society, has received an entry of twenty head of registered Holsteins for the special in dairy herds to be shown at the exhibition. The exhibitor is Mr. George A. Brethren, of Norwood. In the Farm and Dairy competition last year for the county Mr. Brethren won the gold cup his herd. Other entries have been received and competition promises to be a keen one.

Prominent Union Man Here.

Mr. William H. Noyes, son of Mr. Charles Noyes of Ashburnham, was in the city yesterday on his way to his home in Toronto. Mr. Noyes has been in Boston for the last few weeks attending the convention of the International Brotherhood for Maintenance of Railway Trainmen. Two hundred and ninety-two lodges were represented. Mrs. Noyes, his wife, was elected to the grand executive of the society. Mr. Noyes is a foreman of the West Toronto railway yards, and left for Toronto on the 4.38 C.P.R. yesterday evening.

When Peterborough Fair Entries Close.

As this year the entries for Peterborough's Fall Fair will probably exceed all past records, it might be of interest to intending exhibitors to know that all entries close on the evening of September 14th, except those of horses and cattle, which will be received until the night of the 15th. Owing to the vast amount of work placed on the shoulders of Secretary Hall and the directors of the fair, all intending exhibitors should register their entries at the earliest possible date.

A Good Position.

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or railway telegraphy. Since the Seamur law became effective, and since the wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chances of advancement. The National Telegraph Institute operates six official institutes in America, under supervision of R.R. and wireless officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details at Cincinnati, O., Philadelphia, Pa., Memphis, Tenn., Davenport, Ia., Columbia, S.C., or Portland, Ore., according to where you wish to enter.

Dr. Blanchard Convalescent.

The many friends of Dr. W. H. Blanchard, V.S., 332 Water Street, will be pleased to learn that this well known vetinary surgeon is once more able to be about and to attend to his professional duties. It will be remembered that some six or seven weeks ago Dr. Blanchard, whilst mounted on a step-ladder in his residence, engaged in repairing a defective electric light wire had the misfortune to fall. The step-ladder, as such household articles have a common way of doing, slipped, throwing Dr. Blanchard heavily across the back of a chair. The result was that two of his ribs were broken and the doctor confined for weeks to his room.

Americans Pleased With Result.

Our American cousins, judging by newspapers issued south of the division line, seem to think they got the best of that decision of the Hague Tribunal. Something like a Yankee fishing last year at Stony Lake, who caught a big rat fish. He had studied the Ontario fishing regulations and knew he could not hold a bass under a certain size. Looking at his ugly catch, the American visitor remarked to his guide, "Wall youse Canucks won't let a feller catch a bass under so many inches long. What's the difference between this fish and a bass with whiskers on? I'm just as well pleased anyhow!

Good Near-by Advertising.

The Times Printing Co., have concluded arrangements for issuing in the near future, a big wall map, on fine paper, printed in five colors, backed by cotton, of the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham. The company has now on its presses a similar map of Victoria county. These maps are about 5x6 feet in size. In the margin of each is a space reserved exclusively for high grade advertising cards. The map of Northumberland and Durham, soon to be issued, has spaces yet left for three cards. This map will hang for the next fifteen or twenty years in practically every school in the United Counties. This latter statement is made in view of the great expense of issuing such a map. Any live professional man, or enterprising business woman their respective cards to appear for years before the eyes of the rising generation as well as the business and professional men of said counties, should communicate at once with The Times and secure the limited space left.

It seems that in England tens of thousands of workers are being shut out of employment, not from any any friction between employers and employed, but between employed and the trade union officials. If things there could be run on the same basis as here in Peterborough, this huge threatened strike could be averted.

The fathers of two different boys called at The Times office yesterday and enquired, in indignant tones, why reference to their sons stealing plums, in yesterday's issue. Neither of the callers had any legal right to parentage of the boy our article referred to. This was explained. The whole matter, however, shows clearly that more than one boy, besides the writer, has "hooked apples," or plums.

THE EX-PRESIDENT EXPECTED TO WIN

ENTIRE NEW YORK DELEGATION WILL PROBABLY DO BIDDING OF THE EX-PRESIDENT.

Primary Election is On—The Anti-Roosevelt Forces to Lose Their Lead—Woodruf Fights Hard.

New York, Sept. 13.—That the entire delegation from New York County to the Republican State Convention, with the possible exception of three men, will be prepared to vote for anything Col. Theodore Roosevelt may want, was certain when the polls opened for the primary election today.

The "old guard" forces, after looking over the ground admitted they had little chance of disledging the present leaders, and the 190 delegates will do exactly as Lloyd Griscom, county chairman, and first Lieutenant of the Roosevelt army directs.

There was great interest, however in King's County, where State Chairman Timothy L. Woodruff is fighting in the struggle for the 162 delegates to retain his control. The anti-machine leaders were claiming when the polls opened today, that they would wrest the county organization from Woodruff. This claim was believed to be founded more on hopes than real facts, as, while the anti-Woodruff men may get a few additional districts, it was considered unlikely that the defection would seriously menace Woodruff.

Up to date the old guard has 161 delegates elected, as against 98 for Roosevelt, but the Roosevelt forces will be greatly added to by today's primaries in this city.

JULIUS CAESAR.

Chicago, Sept. 13.—Col. Roosevelt has been placed. He was once Julius Caesar, Napoleon Bonaparte, Alexander the Great, and perhaps even Washington of later times. Many of the colonel's enemies have seen resemblances to Caesar and Napoleon in his acts, but it remained for the Theosophic Society, in convention here, to properly classify and label him.

T. H. Talbot declared that he had no doubt but the spirit of Roosevelt had achieved prominence in the world's affairs in other generations.

Farewell to Rev. J. G. Potter.

The Ministerial Association of the city tendered a farewell luncheon to Rev. J. G. Potter yesterday at noon at the Y.M.C.A. Rev. Dr. Langfeldt, vice-president of the association, occupied the chair, and Rev. Robert Pogue occupied the vice chair. Dr. Langfeldt explained the object of the gathering, namely to say farewell to Mr. Potter, prior to his departure for Montreal. He called on Rev. Canon Davidson for a few remarks. Canon Davidson outlined the different lines of work the association had pursued, and in which Mr. Potter had taken a prominent part. Rev. Mr. Webb of Murray street Baptist church, Rev. Mr. Coon of the Mark street Methodist church and Rev. Keith of Knox church, and Rev. Mr. Pogue of St. Paul's church, all expressed regret at Mr. Potter's departure. The departing clergyman with emotion in his voice, replied to the previous speakers.

VISITS PETERBOROUGH AFTER 40 YEARS' ABSENCE.

Mr. Philip Dwyer of Rochester, N. Y., is visiting his brother Mr. John Dwyer, Water street. Mr. Dwyer left Peterborough forty years ago and has only been in his native city twice since leaving here. His last visit to Peterborough was about thirty years ago, and naturally he notices the great improvements that have been made here since the years sped by. Mr. Dwyer paid The Times a friendly visit yesterday. He remarked that of the men who, in his time guided the destinies of Peterborough, nearly all are now dead or gone away. Amongst those that Mr. Dwyer enquired after, who have joined the great silent majority were Messrs. T. G. Hazlitt, Samuel Dickson, Wm. Snyder, Jacob Snyder, John Ludgate, Wm. Clugston, Thos. Bradburn, P. Morgan, Geo. Hilliard and others. Amongst those now alive that Mr. Dwyer asked after were Mr. James Stevenson, Mr. Rountree and Mr. T. Cavanagh. Mr. Dwyer also knew the late Mr. Patrick Ryan, who formerly conducted a tannery on Simcoe street. Mr. Dwyer was surprised to learn that Mr. Ryan's son, James, had murdered his wife. This sensational murder, whereby Ryan stabbed his wife to death, will be fresh in the memories of our older citizens. Mr. Dwyer expressed his intention of going to visit Mr. James Stevenson and several of the older residents whom he knew a generation ago. Mr. Dwyer looks hale and hearty, and is a proof either that Peterborough raises healthy men or that Rochester keeps men young.

WATER IS FAIR.

Local Board of Health Discuss Questions of Water and Milk.

The local Board of Health met yesterday morning. There were present, the chairman, Dr. McNulty, Dr. McPherson, M.H.O., Dr. Burnham, Dr. Young, James Edgar and James Murty.

Is the water good? asked Dr. Young. The medical health officer answered that a report he received last week, showed only a slight infection. The percentage of chloride was two and the infection cannot be very serious remarked the M.H.O. So far as he knew none of the cases of typhoid fever in the city were traceable to city water.

Mr. Edgar introduced the subject of ice. He had been told that ice from Little Lake and the canal had been used, even for hospital use. He claimed that by a resolution of the board ice for cooling purposes only could be taken from the lake. The chairman suggested that no ice should be taken from the Little Lake, but all brought from the north. This would allow residents living near Inverlea Park, who have not proper sewerage connection to use the river. Dr. McPherson questioned whether ice dealers could be prevented from taking ice from the lake.

On motion of Drs. Burnham and Young, it was moved that the last resolution of the board be enforced. —Carried.

The chairman brought up the question of milk inspection. Since the last meeting he had secured the commissioner's report from Toronto and had endeavored to look up other information. The special committee appointed, he hoped, would decide on something definite to be put before the council. The M.H.O. thought something should be done before the cold weather comes. No action was taken.

Peterborough Bids Farewell to Mr. D. Hughes-Charles

BANQUET AT NATIONAL HOTEL IN HONOR OF GENTLEMAN WHO HAS TAKEN GREAT INTEREST IN LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Board of Trade and Canadian Club Pay Last Token of Respect to a Prominent Citizen.

Last night the local Board of Trade and the Canadian Club of Peterborough paid a last token of respect to a gentleman, who has taken a prominent part in both associations, viz., Mr. D. Hughes-Charles, who for the past few years has so ably conducted the affairs of the Peterborough branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. As noted in these columns before, Mr. Charles has resigned his position with the bank here to associate himself with a leading firm of stock brokers in Montreal.

Last night the large dining saloon of the Hotel National contained, at its many tables, a representative gathering of Peterborough's leading professional and business men.

To enumerate those present would simply mean to describe at large the leading professional financial and business men of Peterborough. However, among those present were noted: Messrs. Rev. J. C. Davidson, rector of St. John's; J. H. Burnham, Jas. Kendry, Dr. Halloway, G. S. Sherry, Dodds, H. Winch, Laird, (general manager Bank of Commerce), Ferguson (manager Bank of Nova Scotia), Industrial Commiss. Duggan, D. O'Connell, Mayor Morrow, E. G. Patterson Mgr. C.G.E. Co.), V. Eastwood (Mgr. Royal Bank), Alex. Elliott, Ex-Ald. Elliott, R. R. Hall, ex-M.P., Ald. Gillespie, Ald. Bradburn, F.D. Kerr, Coulthard, His Honor Judge Huycke ex-Ald. Leary, T. Q. Quartermaine (Secretary Board of Trade), Cyril Hill, H. R. H. Kenner (Pres. Canadian Club), Morphet, Geo. Hatton Wainwright Mgr. (Bank of Ottawa), Morrison, C.A., D. W. Dumble, P.M., P. Campbell (Bank of Toronto), F. Dobbin (Mgr. Review), R. Fair, H. Claxton, Denham (Mgr. Quaker Oats Co.), W. Goodwill, J. Crane (Mgr. Dominion Bank), L. M. Hayes, D. Davidson, Dr. McCullough, W. H. Moore, W. H. Hill, Medd, Hon. J. R. Stratton, Ex-Mayor Rush, Ald. Phelan, Rolly Deane, R. E. Wood, R. M. Glover, J. E. Belcher, C.E., C. H. Clement (City Editor Times), and many others.

The handsome dining hall of the National, was becomingly decorated with many national emblems. The dinner was well served and well cooked. To give a full report of the menu would only make our readers water at their respective months and possibly impair the paper. Suffice to say that Mine Host Denison demonstrated his ability to cater to the best.

Mr. Deveyjs splendid orchestra rendered in fine style the following airs during the evening:

March, "Peterborough," Peters.
Selection, "Sons of Erin," Godfrey
Waltz, "The Dollar Princess," Jones.
Overture, "Greek Slave," Jones.
Violin solo, "Cavalleria Rusticana," Mascagne.
Intermezzo, "Advance Canada," Charles.

Mr. Kenner, the chairman, introduced the toast to the King which, as usual was drank whilst all present were standing.

Mr. Kenner then read a well worded expression of regret by the Canadian Club over Mr. Charles' impending absence.

Mr. Gillespie, president of the Board of Trade, then read the following address:

The Address.

Happily, it is only on rare occasions, in our capacity as a public body, that we are called upon to say farewell to one who, like yourself, has been for many years in the forefront of our public life. No less by your open heartedness and geniality than by the close attention given to all questions pertaining to the betterment of civic, commercial and agricultural methods, you have made for yourself a host of warm-hearted friends in the city and county.

In stating that your wise counsels in matter of public import have been, on all occasions, of great value in the deliberations of the Peterborough Board of Trade, we simply give utterance to a truth that has long been facitly recognized, and that you will be greatly missed in the various activities to which you have so long and so ungrudgingly given your services, goes without saying.

We cannot say farewell without voicing the great pleasure we have experienced in witnessing the restoration to health of your gracious partner in life, Mrs. Hughes-Charles. That you may be spared to each other for many happy years to come, is our sincere wish.

We part from you with a very genuine feeling of sorrow, a sentiment which we know will be shared by the numerous friends whom you have made, both socially and in your capacity as a business man during your stay in Peterborough. Be assured that our cordial hope is that in the new sphere of action on which you are about to enter, an abundant measure of success and happiness awaits you.

Mr. W. McIlroy then favored the assemblage with that good old song, "May God Speed Old Ireland." Those present demanded the chorus again.

His Honor Judge Huycke proposed the health of the guest of the evening. He regretted the coming loss of Mr. Hughes-Charles. During the time he had known him, he had learned to love and respect Mr. Charles. He judged by the sentiments expressed that Mr. Charles is an Irishman. Mr. Laird the general manager of the bank is present. He then told a humorous story about a wild cat and an Irishman that induced much laughter. He hoped that Mr. Charles will be more successful in the future than in the past. No public function in Peterborough has been complete without Mr. Coarles. The toast to the guest was drank amid great applause.

Hon. Geo. A. Cox telegraphed his regrets.

Hon. J. R. Stratton then made a short but well worded speech regretting the departure of Mr. Charles.

His Worship Mayor Morrow expressed his regret that Mr. Charles was leaving. Mr. Jas. Kendry, ex-M.P., and Mr. Laird, general manager of the Bank of Commerce made pithy but well received speeches in similar vein. The meeting closed to the well known strains of the National Anthem.

Democrats Sweep Maine---Staggering Blow to Republicans

Portland, Me., Sept. 13. — The State election returns up to noon today, when 491 towns and cities out of 521 had been heard from, showed these victories for the Democrats:

Election of Frederick W. Plaisted by a plurality of 9,369.

The certain election of Senator to succeed Hale.

The certain election of two congressmen.

The election of seven out of nine sheriffs and other officials.

The latest figures on the gubernatorial result gave Plaisted 73,768, and Governor Bert W. Fernland, 64,394. The Democrats have a certain majority on joint ballot in the legislature.

The election is very close in the first district. Asher Hinds' lead is less than 100 votes. Pennell, his Democratic opponent, says he will contest the election.

Portland, Me., Sept. 13.—Governor elect E. W. Plaisted declared today that the Democratic victory in Maine was won on national issues.

"Local conditions were not responsible," he said. "The people of Maine voted on National issues, high prices, control of the Republican party in the interests of the trusts and Cannonism—all these contributed to our victory. The people of this country are tired of Republican misrule.

Late in the afternoon the Democratic leaders reiterated their earlier claims that all four Democrat congressmen have been elected. The Republican leaders, however, claimed that the election of Congress of Asher, C. Hinds and F. E. Guernsey had been saved to their party out of the Democratic avalanche.

City Temperance and Moral Reform League Say Farewell to Rev. Potter

GATHERED LAST NIGHT TO SAY FAREWELL TO REV. J. G. POTTER, WHO LEAVES FOR MONTREAL.

Presented With an Address and a Purse of Gold on Behalf of the Citizens of Peterborough.

A meeting of the Temperance and Moral Reform League was held last night and the league took the opportunity to bid farewell to their worthy president, Rev. J. G. Potter, who is leaving for Montreal. The meeting was held in the Charlotte street Sunday school hall, and there was a large attendance. Mr. Potter has been an able and most enthusiastic president, and his untiring efforts in no small degree have been the direct result of the splendid work that has been accomplished by the League. Mr. F. G. Hassard was elected to succeed Mr. Potter as president.

During the evening Mr. Potter was presented with an address and purse of gold to which he made a very feeling re

To Rev. J. G. Potter, Peterborough, Ontario:

Dear Friend,—We gather tonight as citizens of Peterborough to say farewell, and to express to you our heartfelt gratitude for the great services you have rendered our community.

We realize that our city stands on a higher moral plane as a result of your untiring energy and inspiring leadership.

The greatest foes of hearth and home, the greatest enemies of civic government have been dethroned from a place of control, and though still enjoying a legal existence are furtively awaiting their final defeat. For this great measure of success, we as citizens, are profoundly thankful.

We feel your departure will be a great loss to us but we also realize that the good seed of inspiration and ultimate victory you have so faithfully sown, will bring forth its hundredfold harvest. To the various speakers of the evening we have delegated the expressions of regard felt by every Christian church and society in our city.

As a slight token of our regard we ask you to accept this purse and trust its golden coins may symbolize in some measure the worth, esteem and love we desire to express.

You carry with you our earnest prayers and good wishes for success and happiness in your new field of labor.

Presented by the City Temperance League on behalf of the citizens of Peterborough.

R. LEES,
Vice-President.
A. BROWN,
Treasurer.
A. B. CUNNINGHAM,

CITY PROPERTY COMMITTEE IN SESSION

Insurance of Isolation Hospital to be Arranged for and an Additional $10,000 to be Placed on the Library

The City Property Committee met last night, with Mayor Morrow present, together with Chairman Ald. Duncan, Aldermen Graham, Batten and Bradburn.

Mr. Clapp, representing the McDonald Wilson Co., of Toronto, was present with his catalogue of electric fixtures, with a view to securing the contract for fitting up the new public library. This company makes a speciality of fitting up public libraries with electric fixtures.

Mr. McGill of the Toronto Office Speciality Co., addressed the committee on the question of fitting up the public library with book stacks, tables, a charging counter, etc.

He showed many photos and plans of the interiors of public libraries for the committee's guidance, and advised the installing of steel racks, which would come cheaper than those of best quarter-cut oak.

The committee will meet these gentlemen at ten o'clock this morning at the library, when, being on the ground, they will be in a better position to decide upon the designs and number of electric fixtures and fittings needed.

Henry Firbre has been engaged to clean up the lot around the public library, level up the ground and leave same ready for seeding, at the reasonable price of $35.

A QUESTION OF INSURANCE.

The brick work of the isolation hospital, is half way completed and on motion of Ald. Batten, seconded by Ald. Bradburn, the chairman was authorized to insure the isolation hospital for as much as necessary at present.

Ald. Bradburn offered that it would be a good move to leave the matter of insurance with the City Trust Commissioners, who arrange such matters so that all policies fall due on the same date, which saves considerable trouble.

There are $5,000 insurance at present on the public library, and Ald. Graham moved, seconded by Ald. Batten, that Mr. T. E. Bradburn get all the insurance on this building and Mr. Might that on the hospital.—Carried.

Ald. Bradburn moved, seconded by Ald. Graham,—That another $10,000 insurance be placed on the public library.—Carried.

The solicitor will be asked to draw up a bylaw to appoint a library board, the names to be filled in at a council meeting in the near future.

Mad Wolfe Hound Bit 23 Persons

New York, Sept. 13.— Twenty-three persons are known to have been bitten by a wolf hound, which ran mad for half a mile through the streets of Bath Beach and Bensonhurst sections of Brooklyn spreading terror before it.

At least twenty-five more victims are believed to have been laid low by the animal, but their injuries are so slight that they have not applied for treatment. Though the dogs attacks were made yesterday, it was not until today that the police learned of the great number of injured.

When the stomach fails to perform its functions, the bowels become deranged, the liver and the kidneys congested causing numerous diseases. The stomach and liver must be restored to a healthy condition and Coamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets can be depended upon to do it. Easy to take and most effective. Sold by all dealers.

MORE TROOPS FOR THE CORONATION

CANADA WILL BE ASKED TO SEND LARGER NUMBER THAN WENT ON LAST OCCASION.

Premier Also Wanted—It is Hoped the Provinces Will Be Well Represented in Spectacular Event.

London, Sept. 13.—Arrangements for the coronation include a larger representation of contingents of troops from Canada than on the last occasion, and also probably from Australasia and South Africa.

It is also felt that the rapid expansion of Canada demands an impressive delegation of colonial premiers, who with other officials, will naturally receive invitations.

Walter Long, in consequence of ill-health, is postponing his visit to Canada.

Sir T. Graham has been appointed vice-president of the Institute of Journalists.

Teething children have more or less diarrhoea, which can be controlled by giving Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. All that is necessary is to give the prescribed dose after each operation of the bowels more than natural, and then castor oil to cleanse the system. It is safe and sure. Sold by all dealers.

He has made statements implicating other youths, who have left the city. The police believe the robberies discovered are part of wholesale thefts that have been taking place.

Goods taken were consigned to western Ontario shippers from Toron to and Hamilton firms.

THE HAGUE FISHERIES AWARD.

Probably at no time was there any danger of war between the United States and England over the Newfoundland fisheries dispute, but this does not detract from the historic and international importance of the award of the arbitral court at The Hague. The submission of this controversy, now nearly a century old, to arbitration was a notable victory for the cause of peace and good will, and it is easily the most complex case the arbitral court has been called on to hear and determine.

In another respect is the case epoch-making. The court was empowered and obligated to decide the issues on principle, international law and accepted rules of interpretation of treaties. There was to be no diplomatic "splitting of differences," no effort to please both parties. Justice was to be done without fear or favor, justice according to the most conscientious conclusions of the eminent jurists who composed the court. "Diplomatic" arbitration leaves irritation and discontent; to the voice of impartial law of self-respecting, civilized powers listen with deference.

The seven points were exhaustively and ably argued, and on five of the minor ones the United States government is sustained. The two most important points won by Great Britain—that relating to sovereignty and that touching the question of "headland" lines versus the sinuosities of the coast—are of great practical importance, however. It is to be hoped that the award will be satisfactory to all concerned. It is final and binding.

INVENTION AND DISCOVERY.

Evidently steam has had its day, and its importance is passing. The explosive engine is becoming one of the most important power producers. Even battleships are to be propelled by this method. Edison has perfected his storage battery, it is said, at a cost of a million and a quarter dollars. This means bringing the power water falls away in a flash for use anywhere. German experimentalists claim to have invented means for bottling the heat of the sun, so that fuel of every kind may be dispensed with. Chemists put up and sell to farmers germs which will produce nodules on the roots of certain plants in which nitrogen is stored direct from the atmosphere for fertilizing purposes. It is just now announced that the germ which causes soil impoverishment has been discovered and may be proceeded against directly. That wonderful storehouse of energy, radium, has been found in a pure state only a few days ago.

All these things indicate progress, and the immense advancement of the world's activities. They may not be revolutionary in their effects, for it appears to be the plan of the universe to give long notice of impending change. But the discoveries and inventions are evidently not all made yet. Nor in the world, improved undoubtedly by our efforts, by any means as perfect as it will be by the time our grandchildren leave it.

SCARCITY OF TEACHERS.

While it is most easy to advise rural trustees to pay high salaries if they wish to secure teachers for their schools, it is not in all cases as easy to suggest how those salaries shall be raised. That $400 and $500 a year is a ridiculous figure to offer a teacher who has spent twice that sum in getting a certificate is evident, the day laborer being able to learn as much without any qualifications but those of a simple service. On the other hand it is difficult for school trustees to raise enough money to pay more. Particularly is this so where a section is not thickly settled.

There are two other ways of overcoming the unfortunate condition. One is by consolidating school sections where possible; the other by making the course easier through which it is necessary to pass to qualify for the public school teacher. The former is a practical idea that can be carried out where two or more sections lie in such relations that a union school will answer well for both. The salaries formerly paid by the two sections if joined would make a splendid inducement to anyone fitting himself for the teaching profession.

The problem, to make matters for teachers look difficult is an extremity and should only be considered by the Educational Department providing salaries cannot be increased and teachers cannot be found.

There are people in England who want King George to assume the title of "Protector" of the British. George has never shown any signs of being a trouble hunter, and he will probably decline the invitation.

Canadian Trades and Labor Congress

Both in the matter of attendance and the importance of the subjects slated for discussion, the congress promises to be the most notable conference ever held by organized labor in this Dominion.

Indiana Charities Conference.

Marion, Ind., Sept. 10.—The nineteenth annual meeting of the Indiana Board of Charities and Correction, which opens here tonight with an address by President S. E. Smith of Richmond, has brought together many men and women who are regarded as experts on the various lines of work which the conference will discuss. Governor Marshall of Indiana and Miss Jane Adams of Chicago are scheduled to address the conference tomorrow.

O'K

Extra Mild, Remember

Many people would drink ale, in preference to all other malt beverages, if ale did not make them bilious.

This O'K brew is brewed especially for those people. It is extra mild and extra light, and lets you enjoy the creamy deliciousness of real old English ale without the heaviness and excessive bitterness. In easily—opened seal stoppered bottles. No broken cork or tinfoil in the glass.

OUR PROPOSITION

We have acquired a site, Nos. 788 and 790 St. Urbain Street, having a frontage of 60 feet on St. Urbain Street, with an equivalent frontage on Basset Street, in rear.

The land is 195 feet deep, but we intend ceding over to the city 20 feet in order that the lines of Basset Street may be continued past our property. You will readily see the advantage of this, as it gives us two street frontages instead of one, as is usual in most apartment houses.

We have designed an apartment house, calling for a four-storey apartment house of thirty-two (32) apartments, well planned and laid out, complete in every detail.

In the centre of the building there will be a waiting room and telephone exchange. This telephone exchange will connect with every apartment.

It is estimated that the cost of land and building will be $100,000, made up as follows:—

Land	$15,000.00
Building	70,000.00
Allowed for architect's fees and other expenses	15,000.00
	$100,000.00

Therefore we are forming a company for $100,000, composed of 1,000 shares of $100 00 each.

At the expiration of the time allotted for the subscribing of stock, we will apply for a charter, so that everything will be done in proper style.

Immediately upon forming the company, the tenders will be allotted by the Board of Directors, who will have been elected by the shareholders at the first annual meeting, which will be called immediately upon granting of the charter.

It is estimated that the annual rental will be about $460.00 an apartment, or $15,360.00 per annum.

This is how you are guaranteed 7% or more

Now to show our good faith in the matter, we do not intend to receive one cent before the shareholders obtain their 7 per cent.

After all expenses have been paid, allowing the shareholders 6 per cent., we will divide the surplus between the shareholders and ourselves, as our share for the promoting of the company, and the running of the apartment house.

We will guarantee 7% to each shareholder on his Investment

CAN ANYTHING BE FAIRER? CAN ANYTHING BE SQUARER? If so, we have not yet discovered it.

After the completion of the building, it is our intention, by the consent of the Directors, to mortgage the building for an amount of say, $50,000.00, and immediately start another apartment house scheme, upon the same terms and conditions, so that eventually the shareholders will receive a considerable amount more than 7 per cent. upon the money invested.

207 St. James Street, Montreal:

Gentlemen,—

I hereby subscribe for ——— Shares in a company to be formed for $100,000.00 to build an Apartment House, as outlined in your advertisement, payable as follows: 5 Per Cent. to be sent with this application for Stock, balance 25 Per Cent. on granting of charter, 25 Per Cent. in 30 days afterwards, 25 Per Cent. in 60 days, 20 Per Cent. in 90 days.

A PROPOSAL TO LIMIT ARMAMENTS

The notion that the German people are unanimously in favor of the naval construction program which has caused a flurry among the Powers is far from being correct. Premier Asquith a few weeks ago stated that a proposal to limit armaments had been made to Germany, but that the German Chancellor had declined, saying that German public opinion was averse to such a course. The Berliner Tageblatt, one of the greatest papers in Germany, undertakes to set the Chancellor right on this point which it does in the following paragraphs and echoes of Monday, viz.:—

"We most emphatically protest against the assertion that popular opinion would not endorse such an alteration of the Navy Bill as would admit of a limitation compact with England. While Germany would refuse to be dictated to by any foreign power as to the extent of her naval armaments, it would be a very different thing if the greatest sea power in the world holds out the hand with a view to limiting armaments, and keeping them at a certain level.

"Such an offer would be welcomed by the whole nation with the greatest cordiality. When The Times sent a circular letter to all the most important provincial papers of the Empire we find the result of the enquiries thus summarized by the Berlin organ:—

"The vast majority of German provincial newspapers would hail with delight any compact that would limit naval armaments. . . . The German government has no right and no reason for declaring that in bound to refuse any offer of negotiations on this subject because such a step would outrage public opinion.

In Germany, as in England, it is not the people who want war; but the classes who see in military operations the chance for preferment, the interests who see in the increase of armaments a chance for profit, mingled with those unfortunate individuals who are only happy when their mouths are distended by bonnets and insults.

FINLAND RESENTS OPPRESSION.

Regard Law of June 20 as Unwarranted Attack on Their Constitution.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 7.—The fortnight which has elapsed since the first notification that the diet was to meet on Sept. 14, for the election of representatives of Finland in the duma and in the imperial council, has given opportunity for the whole country to offer its opinion on the matter.

The first statement that the Finns would undoubtedly refuse to proceed to the election is confirmed from every part and by every section. Organs from all over the grand duchy repeat the point that the law of June 20 is an illegal assault on Finnish constitution, and its provisions are without force in Finland until accepted by the diet. This latter body must and will continue its refusal to have any part or lot in the matter.

As to the future, Hufvudstadsbladet the leading organ of the Swedish folk party, says: "We know well that the immediate future of our people will be very hard, the path is beset with difficulties and adversity. It is quite certain, however, that it would be made no easier by an acceptance of the unheard-of injustice which has been accomplished by the completion of the Finnish bill."

SELL

stocks and bonds of all iron, teel and smelting companies.

WHY? Because they are capitalized on the earnings of their blast furnaces now turning out base and precious metals. These blast furnaces are going to the scrap heap.

RENDALL FURNACES will supersede blast furnaces everywhere. They cost only one-fifth the price to build and produce pure metal from any kind of ore for one-half the cost of production by any other process now used.

In New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland VAST DEPOSITS, containing BILLIONS OF TONS of low grade iron ore, now unworked and idle because the ores are below the present accepted standard required for Bessemer ores, will soon be turning out the FINEST IRON the world has ever seen from RENDALL FURNACES now being built.

Formerly New York State was the largest producer of iron. The industry moved west when the BESSEMER PROCESS and the high grade ores of Michigan and Minnesota forced Eastern producers out of business. Now the Western industry—capitalized at about $3,000,000,000 in bonds and stocks—MUST USE THE RENDALL PROCESS OR SHUT DOWN.

BUY

Rendall Steel Stock

WHY? Because all iron and steel makers must buy RENDALL FURNACES—and every mining camp, where copper, silver, lead and zinc is produced must add continually to the Rendall Steel Company's income which will amount to many millions a year in time from earnings and royalties. This means enormous dividends on Rendall Steel Stock.

Some years ago an eminent authority, Abram S. Hewitt, after a careful study made in the library of Sir Henry Bessemer, was able to demonstrate that the BESSEMER PROCESS of making iron and steel added directly and indirectly, $2,000,000,000 YEARLY TO THE WORLD'S WEALTH.

Since then there has been steady increase over this two thousand million dollars a year.

HENRY BESSEMER'S INVENTION IS NOW SUPERSEDED BY GEORGE P. RENDALL'S INVENTION.

There will be no more BESSEMER STEEL. IT WILL BE ALL RENDALL STEEL. "Rendall Steel stock will go up to $500 a share and pay enormous dividends." Reliable, eminent authorities in mining and metallurgy predict this.

Jesse R. Grant, E.M., son of General U. S. Grant, ex-President of the United States; Captain C. B. Dahlgren, E.M., U.S. Navy (retired); Captain S. L. Burbridge, E. M.; W. F. Downs, E.M., of Columbia University; James C. Bayles, M.E.; Ph.D., ex-editor Iron Age; G. F. Randall, M.E.; T. F. Maher, U.S. Navy Yard; G. H. Moore, E.M., C.E., and other mining and metallurgical engineers say "A REVOLUTION OF THE WHOLE IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY AS GREAT AS THAT PRODUCED BY SIR HENRY BESSEMER IS EFFECTED BY THE RENDALL PROCESS. IT SUPERDES THE BLAST FURNACE."

YOU CAN BUY INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS Now at 15 Cents

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

Don't hesitate to secure a portion of this stock. Your money will be returned if all statements cannot be verified. Another mill is under construction. Others will be built on various properties which the company owns and controls. This will increase the income and make your investment the best you can find.

It won't cost you anything to investigate. If you do not want to reserve your stock at once, fill out the free information blank and full particulars and literature will be sent to you.

Not a Speculative Enterprise

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS is an industrial enterprise of the most solid character. The monopoly of the supply and the constantly increasing demand make the market for the product absolutely certain. There is no substitute for asbestos. It is one of the prime necessities of modern industry and construction. And, as already stated, it sells for a price many times greater than the cost of production.

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS affords an unequalled opportunity for safety and permanent income out of all proportion to the amount of the investment.

Get the Facts about Asbestos

Complete information about the asbestos industry, its past and its wonderful future, will be furnished on request. It is the greatest investment opportunity of the present day, and it is one within the reach of every investor who reads this announcement.

No pains have been spared in placing exact and reliable information at the command of everyone interested. All the facts may be obtained by everyone who writes or calls upon the home office of the company.

Highest Possible Endorsements

Remember that INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS has the highest possible endorsements. Henry C. Beeler, State Geologist of Wyoming for eight years, and now consulting engineer for the company will verify every statement that we are making. Experts from the Quebec mines, and from Germany, have examined the Casper properties of the company and found them in every way what we have represented. Our mill was designed by C. H. Parker, an expert asbestos mill man from Quebec, who is superintendent of the Johnson mines, Thetford, Que., one of the largest in the world. All operations have been conducted in accordance with the advice of the most capable engineers.

Write to-day. Get the information that will be furnished and study the facts. Make your subscription as large as you can carry.

Use the attached coupons, and if you are not satisfied after investigating and considering the statements that will be supplied you, your money will be returned without question.

H. Leslie Parker, of Thetford mines has been engaged to superintend the mill and is on his way to take charge.

HAMILTON GIRLS DIE AS SUICIDES

GIRL OF SIXTEEN ENDS HER LIFE IN SAME WAY AS HER FRIEND.

They Both Died in the Bay—First Tragedy Occurred About a Week Ago, After Girl Had Been Dismissed From Store.

Hamilton, Sept. 14.—Brooding over the tragic death of her girl chum, Beatrice Stoker, who suicided a week ago, Emily Cole, a sixteen-year-old girl, ended her own life last night in exactly the same manner. Her body was taken from the bay this morning in the identical spot where the remains of her unfortunate friend were found a week ago.

Pathos surrounds both tragedies. Beatrice Stoker and the Cole girl were both sixteen years old, and they had been loving friends since baby days.

A week ago Miss Stoker, who worked in a large department store, after being reprimanded for a misdemeanor, walked home with a boy friend, tossed him a rose as she left him at her door, and then walked to the revetment wall and drowned herself.

Emily Cole was heart-broken over her chum's sad fate, and brooded over it until she became mentally deranged.

When she disappeared last night her brother rushed to the revetment wall and found her hat floating in the water, just as the Stoker girl's brother had found his sister's hat a week before.

THE CITY DOCTORS ARE FLAGRANTLY NEGLIGENT IN REPORTING THE DISEASE.

Toronto, Sept. 14.—"125 typhoid patients in the hospitals. That means there are 500 in the city."

This was the statement made by a Toronto physician, who is recognized as an authority.

"It is notorious, but true that the regulations requiring Doctors to report typhoid cases to the medical health officer immediately symptoms become apparent, is flagrantly violated. If the facts were known I am not afraid to say that three cases are not reported for every case that is."

He then gave some figures to illustrate his statements.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1910.

THE HAGUE DECISION.

By the treaty of 1818, inhabitants of the United States have the right to take fish on certain coasts of Newfoundland and Labrador "in common with the subjects of his Britannic majesty." The United States took the ground that this provision constituted a "servitude." That is that it established a right which limited British sovereignty over these coasts. They contended that the regulations must be made by joint agreement, the consent of the United States being necessary to validity.

On this point the Hague Tribunal decides in favor of the British contention that the regulations of Great Britain, Canada, or Newfoundland must prevail against all fishermen. It is provided, however, that they must be framed with the bona fide intention of carrying out the treaty, and must not unfairly discriminate against American fishermen. Who is to decide whether the regulations are bona fide and fair? The judgment will be followed by the creation of an impartial authority for the decision of this question.

Great Britain scores a victory on the question of fishing in bays. This question relates to those points wher where the Americans are not allowed to fish within three marine miles of the coast. The British contention is that territorial jurisdiction extends seaward for three miles from a line drawn from the outer headlands of a bay, no matter how wide the mouth may be. The United States maintain that the three-mile limit should follow the sinuosities of the coast; that is, that American fishermen should be allowed to enter any bay more than six miles wide at the mouth, and to fish within the bay in any water that is three marine miles from the shore. The British contention is maintained and elaborate rules are given for the definition of a bay.

The Americans win on several points. They have the right to employ as crews persons who are not inhabitants of the United States. Their rights in regard to Newfoundland and the Magdalene Islands are declared to be as extensive as their rights in Labrador. The right to obtain shelter, repairs and supplies of wood and water is declared to be permanent.

By this momentous decision, a dispute which extends back to the war of the Revolution is apparently terminated. For each country there are disappointments, but these may be accepted cheerfully in view of the enormous advantage of settling a troublesome question, which bare caused irritation and several times brought two great nations to the verge of war. The example thus set by Great Britain and the United States may have far-reaching results in hastening the advent of world-wide peace.

THE KING TO TRAVEL.

The assurance from the London Times that the King will find means of visiting his outlying dominions fits in with the modern conception of the British Empire as a league of co-equal States. George the Fifth is no more king of Great Britain than he is King of Canada, King of Australia, of New Zealand and and of South Africa. The aspect of the monarchy as a common possession of all the British people wherever distributed, has steadily grown of late years and will steadily grow in the years to come.

It is therefore, altogether improbable that the sovereign will always hold his court exclusively within the British Isles. As the perfection of transportation facilities lessens the distances between the mother and the daughter States, the monarch should find it feasible to realize his wish of passing part of his time in this and those other parts of the Empire, which he already knows so well, and where he is already so popular.

There are obstacles in the way such as the value of the Kingly presence in the conduct of affairs at Westminster, but these can be overcome. The thing to be kept in mind is that the reigning sovereign is in himself the chief visible link of Empire. The visual embodiment of the Imperial idea he focuses in his person the patriotic sentiments of British citizens the world over. As he moved from one to another of his Dominions in his majesty, naturally would adjust his court to the tastes of whichever of his peoples he happened for the time being to be among. Great Britain and India, probably, requiring more pomp and circumstances than the newer communities.

The proposal of a portable court harmonizes with Canada's ambition some day to share with England the leadership of all the British States. The Dominion's vast area, its great natural resources, its position midway between the British possessions on Africa, Asia and Australasia—all these factors tend to foster the dream. Nor is the prospect of the realization either than enhanced by the prospect alongside Canada, of a great friendly Anglo-Saxon nation which daily becomes more and more towards an alliance with the greatest of empires. When the Dominion surpasses Great Britain in population and in wealth, the people of this countryt will desire considerable of their monarch's time. So perhaps the British Isles had better get used to the idea now.

OUR PROPOSITION

We have acquired a site, Nos. 788 and 790 St. Urbain Street, having a frontage of 60 feet on St. Urbain Street, with an equivalent frontage on Basset Street, in rear.

The land is 185 feet deep, but we intend ceding over to the city 20 feet in order that the lines of Basset Street may be continued past our property. You will readily see the advantage of this, as it gives us two street frontages instead of one, as is usual in most apartment houses.

We have designed an apartment house, calling for a four-storey apartment house of thirty-two (32) apartments, well planned and laid out, complete in every detail.

In the centre of the building there will be a waiting room and telephone exchange. This telephone exchange will connect with every apartment.

It is estimated that the cost of land and building will be $100,000, made up as follows:—

Land	$15,000.00
Building	70,000.00
Allowed for architect's fees and other expenses	15,000.00
	$100,000.00

Therefore we are forming a company for $100,000, composed of 1,000 shares of $100 00 each.

At the expiration of the time allotted for the subscribing of stock, we will apply for a charter, so that everything will be done in proper style.

Immediately upon forming the company, the traders will be allotted by the Board of Directors, who will have been elected by the shareholders at the first annual meeting, which will be called immediately upon granting of the charter.

It is estimated that the annual rental will be about $480.00 an apartment, or $15,360.00 per annum.

This is how you are guaranteed 7% or more

Now to show our good faith in the matter, we do not intend to receive one cent before the shareholders obtain their 7 per cent.

After all expenses have been paid, allowing the shareholders 6 per cent., we will divide the surplus between the shareholders and ourselves, as our share for the promoting of the company, and the running of the apartment house.

We will guarantee 7% to each shareholder on his Investment

CAN ANYTHING BE FAIRER? CAN ANYTHING BE SQUARER? If so, we have not yet discovered it.

After the completion of the building, it is our intention, by the consent of the Directors, to mortgage the building for an amount of say, $50,000.00, and immediately start another apartment house scheme, upon the same terms and conditions, so that eventually the shareholders will receive a considerable amount more than 7 per cent. upon the money invested.

LORRAINE, THE ACTOR AVIATOR, ACCOMPLISHES A REMARKABLE FEAT

But Fell Into Dublin Bay—Machine Not Badly Damaged—Aviator Easily Swam to Shore.

London, Sept. 13.—Robert Lorraine, the actor-aviator, flew across the Irish Channel yesterday. He left Holyhead at 11.05 Sunday morning, traveled 60 miles, being out of sight of land for more than 40 miles, and then, when about to land, his aeroplane gave out, and he dropped into Dublin Bay, sixty yards from shore.

Early in the morning Lorraine made a couple of circuits of Holyhead Bay. He started from Penrhos Park, Lord Sheffield's seat, and disappeared from sight in eight minutes.

It was not known here that he was going to make the attempt. Yachtsmen in the bay about one o'clock saw an aeroplane descending from a great height. It struck the water near the Bailey lighthouse.

Lorraine, who was wearing a life-belt, swam towards the lighthouse, from which a boat put out. Soon afterwards the Dublin steamer Adela lowered a boat and drew the partly submerged aeroplanes to the side of the steamer.

AEROPLANE NOT HURT.

After reaching the lighthouse Lorraine set out again in a boat for the Adela and superintended the hoisting of his aeroplane to her deck. He found the injury to the machine was slight. The Gnome engine was in perfect condition.

Lorraine proceeded to Dublin, and later returned to Holyhead, having made a record over-sea journey by aeroplane.

It was a hazy morning. A deckhand of the Adela first noticed the aeroplane and cried to the captain "Look at that great bird." The captain recognized an aeroplane flying at great speed towards Dublin. It soon flew over the steamer, and in ten minutes was lost in the haze. The Adela later crossed the track of the aeroplane, and was surprised to find it floating partly submerged in the sea. She lowered a boat and towed it alongside. For a time it was impossible to see Lorraine, but he was soon observed on the rocks under the lighthouse, squeezing the water from his clothing.

Lorraine says that when he got over the channel he met with considerable hazel. He had some trouble with his engine. After he had covered one-third of the distance one of the wires broke, but he got along fairly well. Passing the Kish lighthouse in Dublin Bay, at an altitude of 400 feet, he made for Howth Hill. As he neared the cliff he found himself too low to clear the face of the hill, and he doubled back, intending to ascend, when another wire broke, and the machine immediately began to fall.

PROF. FESSENDEN AT BRITISH ASSOCIATION SUGGESTS THAT THEY BE HARNESSED.

To Produce Electricity —Western Canada Appeals for Clergy—Dr. G. H. Locke Speaks on the Empire.

London, Sept. 8.—Professor Fessenden at the British Association meetings, outlined the possibilities of harnessing the wind and the sun to produce electrical energy.

He said that a number of windmills around the coast could give power enough to run all the railways factories, and electric light stations in Great Britain, but he thought, humorously, that with solar energy Great Britain could not do so well. Sir W. White doubted the practicability of the scheme.

At the conclusion of the meeting Professor A. P. Cole an of Toronto, proposed a vote of thanks to the Sheffield people for their generous arrangements for the entertainment of the association.

stocks and bonds of all iron, teel and smelting companies.

WHY? Because they are capitalized on the earnings of their blast furnaces now turning out base and precious metals. These blast furnaces are going to the scrap heap.

RENDALL FURNACES will supersede blast furnaces everywhere They cost only one-fifth the price to build and produce more metal than any kind of one for one-half the cost of production by any other process now used.

In New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland VAST DEPOSITS, containing BILLIONS OF TONS of low grade iron ore, now unworked and idle because the ores are below the present accepted standard required for Bessemer ores, will soon be turning out the FINEST IRON the world has ever seen from RENDALL FURNACES now being built.

Formerly New York State was the largest producer of iron. The industry moved west when the BESSEMER PROCESS and the high grade ores of Michigan and Minnesota forced Eastern producers out of business. Now the Western industry—capitalized at about $3,000,000,000 in bonds and stocks—MUST USE THE RENDALL PROCESS OR SHUT DOWN.

BUY

Rendall Steel Stock

WHY? Because all iron and steel makers must buy RENDALL FURNACES—and every mining camp, where copper, silver, lead and zinc are produced must add continually to the Rendall Steel Company's income which will amount to many millions a year in time from earnings and royalties. This means enormous dividends on Rendall Steel Stock.

Some years ago an eminent authority, Abram S. Hewitt, after a careful study made in the library of Sir Henry Bessemer, was able to demonstrate that the BESSEMER PROCESS of making iron and steel added, directly and indirectly, $2,000,000,000 YEARLY TO THE WORLD'S WEALTH.

Since then there has been steady increase over this two thousand million dollars a year.

HENRY BESSEMER'S INVENTION IS NOW SUPERSEDED BY GEORGE F. RENDALL'S INVENTION.

There will be no more BESSEMER STEEL. IT WILL BE ALL RENDALL STEEL. "Rendall Steel stock will go up to $500 a share and pay enormous dividends." Reliable, eminent authorities in mining and metallurgy predict this.

James R. Grant, E.M., son of General U. S. Grant, ex-President of the United States; Captain C. B. Dahlgren, E.M., U.S. Navy (retired); Captain S. L. Barbridge, E. M.; W. F. Downs, E.M., of Columbia University; James C. Bayles, M.E.; Ph.D., ex-editor Iron Age; G. F. Rendall, M.E.; T. F. Maher, U.S. Navy Yard; G. H. Moore, E.M., C.E., and other mining and metallurgical engineers say "A REVOLUTION OF THE WHOLE IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY AS GREAT AS THAT PRODUCED BY SIR HENRY BESSEMER IS EFFECTED BY THE RENDALL PROCESS. IT SUPERDES THE BLAST FURNACE.

The Oil Is a Winner.

Now that the scent (?) of the crude oil on George street, from Murray street south, has somewhat abated, merchants and others are beginning to realize that oil is a little better than good substitute for the old-fashioned watering cart. North of Murray street the road has been given a new dressing of gravel, and rolled, but no oil has been put on. The difference in the two sections is most noticeable as regards dust.

Drowned at Rice Lake

Another sad drowning in the Otonabee occurred yesterday afternoon, when an old and respected citizen lost his life. The full particulars of the tragic affair are not yet known, but from what could be learned at a late hour last night it appears that Mr. Thos. Blois, who for some years filled the position as signalman at the diamond crossing, where the C.P.R. crosses the G.T.R. tracks, went down to Rice Lake yesterday in a small boat to spend the day. The boat by some means upset and Mr. Blois was drowned. Mrs. Blois and her daughter were attending the harvest home festival at St. John's church, when the news was received in the city. Rev. Mr. Trumpour of All Saints,' where the deceased family worshipped, was requested to break the sad intelligence to the wife and daughter. The remains were recovered shortly afterwards and taken to his late home.

The stricken family will have the sincere sympathy of the whole community in their irreparable loss.

THE NEGOTIATIONS WILL BE DIRECT

ARE LOOKED UPON IN LIGHT OF CONTINUANCE OF FORMER CONFERENCE.

Mr. Taft Makes a Move When Low Tariff Party in U.S. is Marching to the Front—Canada Not Likely to Concede Much.

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—The despatch from Beverley indicating that Ambassador Bryce has consented to direct negotiations between the United States and Canada on the subject of reciprocity in place of their being through the embassy, is not officially confirmed here, but an explanation is offered.

It is pointed out that, at the commencement of the negotiations last spring, having reference to the application of the maximum or minimum tariff, the preliminary communications which brought the parties together, were through the embassy, but the latter part were direct.

NEGOTIATIONS WERE DIRECT.

Reference to the correspondence shows several communications from Mr. Fielding to Secretary Knox and vice versa. This was with the consent of the ambassador and to expedite matters it is stated. The understanding was that negotiations would be resumed this fall and they are being regarded as being in the light of a continuance of the conferences were more or less direct the same method will be followed largely, but it is said here that the good offices of the ambassador will likely be utilized to a greater or less extent.

Having regard to the result of the elections in Vermont and Maine, the news from Beverley is regarded as significant. The tariff cut a large figure in these contests and it is believed that Mr. Taft is seeking to stem the tide by proposing resumption of the negotiations with Canada. There is good ground for the statement that no proposition has gone from Ottawa. The attitude here seems to be stand pat.

The government has previously intimated its readiness to negotiate but the first move such as suggesting a time and place is expected to be made by the American Government. There is much support here for the argument that at a time when the low tariff party in the United States seems to be marching to the inevitable attainment of its end, it is an important moment for Canada to consider giving any concessions to the United States in return for tariff favors, when such favors are likely to come in the natural course of events, following the somewhat anticipated triumph of the tariff reduction propaganda.

OLD RESIDENT GONE.

Funeral of Late Miss Corkery to Be Held This Morning.

Miss Catharine Corkery, aged 94 years, one of the oldest residents of Peterborough, passed away Wednesday night at the residence of her niece, Miss W. A. McDonald, 174 Perry street. The deceased had been a residence of this city since 1878. She was born in County Cork, Ireland, and with her brother, the late William Corkery, came to Canada in 1847. The ship they came to Canada on, was wrecked on the coast of Nova Scotia, the passengers being saved. Miss Corkery and her brother remained in Nova Scotia for three or four years, and then went to Providence, Rhode Island, where they resided until 1878, when Miss Corkery came to Peterborough.

The funeral, which will be private, will take place this morning at nine o'clock from the residence of her niece, 174 Perry street, to the Sacred Heart church, and thence to St. Peter's cemetery for interment.

OLD INDIAN RELICS.

Government May Take Hold of Find in Smith Township.

An important ethnological discovery has been made in this county. Whilst men were engaged in digging gravel from a pit in the township of Smith for construction work on the dam at Burleigh Falls, they found parts of human skeletons. The mound opened is on the Smith side of the river about a mile and a half from Burleigh. The workmen at a depth of 18 feet encountered the remains. The mound has long been regarded by many as an Indian burial place. Among the remains were found jaw bones, containing teeth and one skull, from its size, indicated that the man whom it surmounted, must have been of gigantic stature. Judging by the position in which the remains were found, the bodies must have been interred in a sitting position. Local archeologists and those posted in such matters, assume that the remains found must have belonged to people who died previously to the coming of the present Indians' ancestors. With the bones of these former "residents of this county, ji were found tools made of stone. It is suggested that the government take possession of the place and excavation work for historic purposes.

CITY MAY BUY.

Option on Property for Park and Other Civic Property.

The special Park Committee after due consideration, has decidexd to get an option extended on Ashburnham property.

A petition was presented, signed by a large number of the ratepayers of Ashburnham, asking that the council buy the property at the corner of Mark and Hunter streets, for park purposes. The petition pointed out the necessity of a park in that part of the city. The Clancy estate offered an option on their portion of the property of $2750, and Mrs. McGregor placed an option on her share of it, at $3000. This property includes a frontage on Hunter street of 220 feet and a depth of 192 feet.

"How are they going to pay for the property?" Ald. Bradburn asked

Ald. Turner thought it would be best to decide on the purchase of the property first.

Ald. Turner moved, seconded by Ald. Bradburn, that the committee endeavor to have the option on these lots extended until February the first next, with a view to purchasing them, and submitting a bylaw to the ratepayers in connection with the same. The motion was carried, after which the committee adjourned.

OLD LUMBER.

Sheds That Have Stood for Sixty Years Being Pulled Down.

Mr. Hudson, the Brock street artist and taxidermist, whose building has recently been evacuated by the local electrical firm of Alexander & Miller, is pulling down the sheds to the rear of the same premises. Whilst this, in itself, is not of great local interest, it is interesting to see the lumber put into these sheds, possibly sixty or seventy years ago. The shingles, in those days, removed yesterday, were not sawn but split. The block from which the shingles were to be made, instead of being turned over to the tender mercies of the saw, were put under an axe or adze. Thus the shingles were split instead of sawn. The result was that such shingles did not have the rough surfaces left by the necessary action of the saw, to hold snow and wet and thus, in time, rot them. The shingles of this seventy-year-old shed are generally as good as when laid. The lumber in this septuagenarian building surpasses anything that money could buy now. Many of the boards are nearly three feet wide. Such lumber could not be procured here now at any price.

FR. VAUGHAN SAYS PROTESTANTS BETTER THAN THEIR RELIGION

HE SAYS HE WAS NOT CORRECTLY REPORTED BY THE MONTREAL PAPERS.

What His Sermon Meant—Distinguished Jesuit Who Lectured in Toronto Last Night Takes Short Trip.

Hamilton, Sept. 15.—Speaking about his now famous sermon in Montreal, which caused so much stir among Protestants throughout Canada, Father Vaughan, who is to deliver a lecture in Toronto tonight, said that he had not been fairly reported by the Montreal papers.

"My original intention," said Father Vaughan, "to put it in syllogistic form, was this:

"The sacrifice of the mass is the soul of religion, and as Protestants do not recognize the sacrifice of the mass, therefore it is without the soul of religion.

"The reason why I have not answered my critics, is that instead of pulling my syllogism to pieces, they have tried to tear me to pieces. That did not interest me, so I left them alone. It is a pity they had nothing to say about sacrifice as I defined it. Truth to tell some of my friends have been very cleverly building up sallies of their own, and shying it at them, thinking that it was me all the time, while I have been standing behind and laughing."

But Father Vaughan insisted that he had not been fairly treated in the Montreal reports of his sermon. "Nothing," he said, "surprised me more than the headline in a Montreal paper, the day after I delivered my sermon. It pained me very much to think that an interpretation had been put upon my words which they did not bear, which, certainly was not meant.

"It is so easy to take a single sentence out of the context and make the whole context tell in any way needed for editorial purposes. For instance, before saying that I called Protestantism a soulless religion, they should have taken the major premises that the sacrifice of the mass is the soul of religion, and either disputed that fact or denied it.

With regard to Protestants themselves, Father Vaughan added:

"I think that the Protestants are infinitely superior to the religion which they profess. I admire them, their zeal, their energy, enterprise, their philanthropy, their extraordinary generosity, but I can't admire their religion. Why, you ask. The reason is that while I think Protestants themselves fine, I think their religion very thin, poor nourishment for the support of the soul."

Newton and Crippen Both Hopeful

London, Sept. 15.—"So far the prosecution has failed utterly to make out a case against Dr. H. H. Crippen. Right now I can't see on what the prosecution is depending even to have Crippen bound over to the grand jury."

This statement was made today Solicitor Arthur Newton, who is conducting the defence of the alleged wife murderer and his typist, Miss Ethel Clare Leneve.

"Until the prosecution completes its case, I can't say what the defence will be. There won't be any unless the State forges a much stronger chain of evidence than is now apparent," he said.

Reported That Cook has Documents to Prove Polar Claims

Copenhagen, Sept. 15.—Dr. Cook the explorer, again came to the front in Arctic activity today when the report reached here from Greenland that he is en route to Copenhagen from Etah with documentary evidence to prove his polar claims.

ON BRADLEY'S YACHT.

According to these advices Cook is aboard the yacht "Beauty," which is owned by John R. Bradley, the New Yorker who financed Cook's north pole venture.

The report says that all the Eskimos who were associated with the Brooklyn explorer seem convinced that he reached the pole.

HIS EVIDENCE.

The evidence which the explorer is said to be bringing with him consists of statements from government officials in North Greenland and from Eskimos whom Cook met upon his return from the north two years ago.

Deported Englishman Leaped From Liner

Quebec, Sept. 15.—Discouraged because he had been deported by the local immigration officers, James Rae, an Englishman, jumped from the Empress of Ireland, which was taking him back to England, and was drowned in the gulf off Fame Point. When Rae jumped overboard the ship was stopped and boats were lowered, but the suicide never came to the surface after the plunge.

Rabies in Wolves If Dogs Go North

Toronto, Sept. 15.—Three months more of muzzled dogs is the expectation of Dr. McCullough, secretary of the Provincial Board of Health. A new case came in from Hamilton this morning for treatment, the second within a week, and Dr. McCullough, it is understood, will report to the Provincial Secretary against the raising of the restrictions. This will be sent on to Ottawa.

Scores of hunters are sending in petitions, asking that dogs be allowed to go north and northwest for the deer season, but Dr. McCullough thinks it would be better if they sacrificed this year.

"If rabies get amongst the wolves through being bitten by the dogs, they would go mad and would come down into the towns."

Sends Large Sum of Money for Scholarship

LADY JANE VAN KOUGHNET SENDS £2,000 TO THE BENCHERS IN TORONTO.

Will Yield $300 a Year—Goes to the Student Passing Highest in Class of His Final Year.

Toronto, Sept. 15.—Lady Jane Van Koughnet, widow of the late Captain Van Koughnet, and daughter-in-law of the late Chancellor Van Koughnet of Osgoode Hall, has donated 2,000 pounds to the Law Society of Upper Canada for the founding of a scholarship to be known as the Chancellor Van Koughnet Scholarship.

The annual income from this fund is to be paid to the graduating student at law passing highest in the class of his final year.

The principal is about $9,700. At four per cent. say, the annual scholarship would be $388, a decided help to many a young man after being called to the bar.

Lady Jane Van Koughnet wrote the Law Society some time ago, intimating her wish, which had also been her husband's wish. The benchers replied, with thanks, that the scholarship would be accepted, and at today's meeting it was reported that the money had been received.

The details, as to when the scholarship shall go into effect, etc., will be arranged within a week or so.

Miss E. M. Stewart Married in Far Away Saskatchewan.

Miss Ethel Mildred Stewart Dixon, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dixon, formerly of Peterborough, was married in the Methodist church at Maple Creek, Sask., to Mr. J. S. Shepherd, Lethbridge, Alta. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. G. W. Johnston. The bride was becomingly attired in ivory duchess satin, en train, over soft taffeta, with deep tunic of dewdrop net, finished with pearls and silver fringe. The silk net was outlined with seed pearls and from the shoulders fell a diaphanous cape of Venetian and duchess lace. The wedding veil of tulle was caught in the coiffure with a coronet of pearls and lilies of the valley. The bride wore a handsome pearl and emerald necklace and pendant, the gift of the groom, and carried a beautiful shower of valley lilies, bride's roses, and maidenhair fern. Miss Garve Hatsie, the maid of honor, wore handsome pale blue satin, with blue and white osprey plumes. Mr. Shepherd was assisted by Mr. Arthur Barnesley of Lethbridge. A reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents.

Celebrates His 100th Birthday.

Summit, N.J., Sept. 15.—"Use tobacco in moderation, only never let the habit enslave you," is the maxim suggested for those who aspire to longevity by William Rankin, who celebrated his 100th birthday at his home here today, surrounded by about 50 of his descendants and other relatives. Mr. Rankin was born in Elizabeth, N.J., Sept. 15, 1810, and one of his earliest recollections is of the general illumination celebrating the declaration of peace after the war of 1812. He was graduated from Williams College in 1831, and he is the oldest living alumnus of any American college. For many years New York and for forty years he was he practiced law in Cincinnati and treasurer of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church. At 100 years of age he is enjoying excellent health and the use of all his faculties.

SHE THREW FRUIT HE THREW BREAD

New York, Sept. 15.—Impelled by what he terms a gentleman's honor Robert Winthrop Chanler is reported to be wavering today, uncertain whether to break forever with his powerful family clan, the Astors and Chanlers, or to submit to their ultimatum and repudiate his pre-nuptial contract with Mme. Cavaliere and begin legal steps to save the great fortune which he signed over to the beautiful singer on the eve of their marriage in Paris.

With one brother, John Armstrong Chanler—or Chaloner, as he prefers to call himself—already estranged, the indications today were that "Sheriff Bob" would defy the advice of his family and demand that his wealth be transferred to his bride without further delay.

DOES NOT LIKE PUBLICITY.

The possibility of an international legal wrangle fought out in the courts of America was not lessened today by the news that Mme. Cavalieri would come to this country to assist her brother, Oreste, and her husband "Bob," in having the antemarriage agreement carried out or else in effecting a financial settlement with the family.

"Lina is pained deeply at the light placed upon her conduct by the American press," said Oreste Cavalieri today in explaining why his sister may hurry to New York.

"My sister never intended to dupe Mr. Chanler, and she has been made the victim of legal technicalities and the sensationalism of gossips. Mme. Chanler has the stubbornness of certain people interested in the Chanler fortune to thank for much of the notoriety which has attended this affair. She is deeply grieved."

STARTED TO THROW THINGS.

Oreste added a few details to the story of the domestic relations of his sister and Chanler.

"My sister made it plain to Mr. Chanler that she did not love him before they were married, but she had a great deal of respect and admiration for him," said he.

"While they were happy after their marriage, the usual little love quarrels naturally arose. In a fit of anger Mr. Chanler threw a piece of bread in my sister's face, and she retaliated by throwing a bucket of cherries at him. He complained about a great many things, saying that his food was not cooked right, and that his apartments were not cleaned properly.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH HARVEST FESTIVAL

The Church Beautifully Decorated—Five Clergy in Attendance—An Interesting Sermon

The annual harvest festival at St. John's church last night was a brilliant event in every way. The sacred edifice, moderately ornate even under normal conditions, has been tastefully dressed with the fruits of garden, field and orchard, relieved here and there by beautiful floral offerings the whole charmingly arranged so as to produce a harmonious combination of decorations. The altar was appropriately decorated with several substantial loaves of bread, interspersed among a very acceptable arrangement of cut bloom. At the entrance to the center aisle is a pretty arch composed of foilage, flowers, fruit and vegetables.

The capacious windows filled, present a truly inviting appearance, with their ample burdens of edibles, while from window to window hang festoons of hoks, enlarged by bunches of brilliant red berries. At the head of the nave, west side, is suspended a large and handsome floral cross, symbolical of the Christian faith. The church truly presents a resplendid appearance, and were it not that its pillars had been all but overlooked by the loyal decorators one might venture to say that it had never before been so appropriately adorned for a harvest festival. The service was very bright and cheerful, and a large congregation entered into the spirit if the occasion. The rector, Rev. Canon Davidson, was assisted by Rev. Mr. Seager of Toronto, Dr. Langfeldt, Rev. Mr. Trumpour, and the new assistant for St. John's, Rev. Mr. Carpenter, who was heard for the first time here to good advantage in the prayers. The service was fully choral and the work of the choir under the capable direction of Mr. R. J. Dewey, was excellent.

The visiting clergyman, Rev. Mr. Seager, preached a sermon, and from the text, "Oh House of Israel Come Ye, Let Us Walk in the Light of the Lord." He delivered an interesting and thoughtful discourse. To be brief the speaker contended that a harvest festival is an acknowledgment from God to us in providing a bountiful harvest, and an acknowledgment on our part to Him as the giver of all good things. Our participating in such a festival service is also an acknowledgment of God as a personal Being, and an active operator in human affairs, in whom we live in complete and absolute dependence, and finally out of a harvest festival comes the summons to ask from God to give Him a heartier and more sincere service.

The offertory was in aid of the widow and orphans' fund. This service will be repeated on Sunday when the decorations will still be in evidence.

DELEGATE CENSURES THE SALVATION ARMY.

Labor Congress Says Its Work in Bringing Out Laborers is Canada's Greatest Menace.

Fort William, Sept. 13.—In his annual report to the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, W. R. Trotter, general organizer, refers to the Salvation Army's activity in bringing laborers to this country, as one of Canada's greatest menaces.

The report asserts that for immigration purposes the Salvation Army circulates among the laboring classes throughout England, grossly misleading literature, concerning opportunities in Canada.

Following the discussion of routine affairs the Congress adjourned one hour and a half after it assembled.

In buying a cough medicine, don't be afraid to get Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. There is no danger from it, and relief is sure to follow. Especially recommended for coughs, colds and whooping cough. Sold by all dealers.

A GREAT REGIMENT.

Toronto's Splendid Regiment Makes a Great Impression.

Toronto, Sept. 17.—In conferring honors upon Col. Sir Henry Pellatt, of this city, and his next in command were honed by King George has recognized the services of one of Canada's finest regiments. The Q.O.R. has not only been a military organization which has appeared well on parade and has taken its part in various civic demonstrations but it has been permitted by circumstance to serve this country in a practical way and when called upon has acquitted itself in an honorable manner.

The trip to England will have a wider significance than a mere holiday would imply. After the Baer war the Mother country was permitted to see types of our Canadian soldiers and was not sparing in its praise of their appearance and loyal service throughout the war. Now Britishers can see how our soldiers appear in times of peace, how they acquit themselves on inspection and at the targets.

Canada is young. She cannot be expected to show the perfection that may attach to the old land regiments that have had a long history and have imbibed the military spirit and enthusiasm that has come down from Marlborough and Wellington, but her citizen soldiers will nevertheless stand a fair comparison.

The King's honor is not only a recognition of the usefulness of the Q.O.R. in the past, but of its efficiency on peace footing.

The world's most successfully remedy for bowel complaints is Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It has relieved more pain and suffering, and saved more lives than any other medicine in use. Invaluable for children and adults. Sold by all dealers.

PUTS IT UP TO FREE TRADERS

PREMIER WHITNEY CALLS ON THEM TO SUGGEST AN ALTERNATIVE TO CHAMBERLAIN'S PROPOSALS.

ley of Drift in Imperial Affairs is Stopped, It May Be Serious. A Backward Movement—Unless Policy Is Changed.

London, Sept. 15.—In consequence of the alleged distortion of his views here, in Canada, Premier Whitney, gave an interview to the Standard recapitulating his views on Imperial questions.

Sir James urges the desirability of Canada establishing herself in the British market, and strongly deprecates any reciprocity arrangement with the United States. The accusation that he favored a policy which would raise the cost of living in England he said was a scandalous misrepresentation. He would have nothing to do with any policy having that effect, but he was unable to see any possibility of such a result.

Canada could supply wheat as cheaply as the United States and Argentina. The refusal of Britian even to discuss proposals for Imperial professional trade was deplorable, and might well prove disastrous.

Dealing with the strong desire in Canada to weld the Empire on the strongest lines, Premier Whitney said—"We don't care whether you make free trade or tariff reform the basis on your part of commercial arrangements. But for goodness sake let us stop drifting and agree to some definite course. The only live Imperial policy before us is that enunciated by Mr. Chamberlain. Let us get round the table and discuss it as business men and as loyal sons of fathers by whom our splendid heritage was won.

"If free traders cannot see their way to make the Chamberlain policy the subject of discussion let them produce an alternative policy of their own. We will examine that, anything to make a step forward and anything to prevent the backward movement which may naturally occurr."

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 76, 1910.

HONORING CANADIAN SOLDIERS.

In conferring honors upon Col. Sir Henry Pellatt and his next in command of the Queen's Own, King George has recognized the services of one of Canada's finest regiments. The Q.O.R. has not only been a military organization which has appeared well on parade and has taken its part in various civic demonstrations but it has been permitted by circumstance to serve this country in a practical way and when called upon has acquitted itself in an honorable manner.

The trip to England will have a wider significance than a mere holiday would imply. After the Boer war the Mother country was permitted to see types of our Canadian soldiers and was not sparing in its praise of their appearance and loyal service throughout the war. Now Britishers can see how our soldiers appear in times of peace, how they acquit themselves on inspection and at the targets.

Canada is young. She cannot be expected to show the perfection that may attach to the old land regiments that have had a long history and have imbibed the military spirit and enthusiasm that has come down from Marlborough and Wellington, but her citizen soldiers will nevertheless stand a fair comparison.

The King's honor is not only a recognition of the usefulness of the Q.O.R. in the past, but of its efficiency on peace footing.

A POSTAL IMPROVEMENT.

Automatic postage stamp machines have been installed in Montreal for the benefit of the public. The machines are simply devices that release stamps when the coin has been deposited in the slot, and five of them have been put in operation in different sections of the metropolis. In the United States and likewise France the postal authorities are installing these devices. The latter country has issued a contract to have them put in fifty post offices in Paris, and 200 in the provinces.

A more practical scheme for meeting a general public requirement could not well be introduced. In every large city there should be more than one place at which stamps may be obtained. In the small cities a post office is not often so crowded that the stamp office cannot serve every one in due time, but even in the smaller centres these machines would be appreciated by the public.

INVENTION AND DISCOVERY.

Evidently steam has had its day, and its importance in passing. The explosive engine is becoming one of the most important power producers. Even battleships are to be propelled by this method. Edison has perfected his storage battery, it is said, at a cost of a million and a quarter dollars. This means bringing the power water falls away in a flask for use anywhere. German experimentalists claim to have invented means for bottling the heat of the sun, so that fuel of every kind may be dispensed with. Chemists put up and sell to farmers germs which will produce nodules on the roots of certain plants in which nitrogen is stored direct from the atmosphere for fertilizing purposes. It is just now announced that the germ which causes soil impoverishment has been discovered and may be proceeded against directly. That wonderful storehouse of energy, radium, has been found in a pure state only a few days ago.

All these things indicate progress, and the immense advancement of the world's activities. They may not be revolutionary in their efforts, for it appears to be the plan of the universe to give long notice of impending change. But the discoveries and inventions are evidently not all made yet. Nor is the world, improved undoubtedly by our efforts, by any means as perfect as it will be by the time our grandchildren leave it.

THE WEIGHT OF BREAD.

There has been a good deal of discussion anent the Nickle Act regulating the weights of bread. With the details of the measure we are not familiar, but so far as the intention was to establish a standard weight, so that the people might know how much bread they were getting in a loaf, public sentiment must be heartily in favor of it. There should be no undue interference with the baker's business, but the establishing of a standard weight does not come within this objection. Standards of weight or measure are established in many lines of trade for the protection of the public. With the standard weight fixed, the bakers are free to vary their prices, so that no injustice is done them. The Act may need revision in regard to some of its details; but in its main lines it appears to be all right.

When the digestion is all right, the action of the bowels regular, there is a natural craving and relish for food When this is lacking you may know that you need a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They strengthen the digestive organs, improve the appetite and regulate the bowels. Sold by all dealers.

OUR PROPOSITION

We have acquired a site, Nos. 788 and 790 St. Urbain Street, having a frontage of 60 feet on St. Urbain Street, with an equivalent frontage on Basset Street, in rear.

The land is 195 feet deep, but we intend coding over to the city 20 feet in order that the lines of Basset Street may be continued past our property. You will readily see the advantage of this, as it gives us two street frontages instead of one, as is usual in most apartment houses.

We have designed an apartment house, calling for a four-storey apartment house of thirty-two (32) apartments, well planned and laid out, complete in every detail.

In the centre of the building there will be a waiting room and telephone exchange. This telephone exchange will connect with every apartment.

It is estimated that the cost of land and building will be $100,000, made up as follows:—

Land	$15,000.00
Building	70,000.00
Allowed for architect's fees and other expenses	15,000.00
	$100,000.00

Therefore we are forming a company for $100,000, composed of 1,000 shares of $100 00 each.

At the expiration of the time allotted for the subscribing of stock, we will apply for a charter, so that everything will be done in proper style.

Immediately upon forming the company, the tenders will be allotted by the Board of Directors, who will have been elected by the shareholders at the first annual meeting, which will be called immediately upon granting of the charter.

It is estimated that the annual rental will be about $480.00 an apartment, or $15,360.00 per annum.

This is how you are guaranteed 7% or more

Now to show our good faith in the matter, we do not intend to receive one cent before the shareholders obtain their 7 per cent.

After all expenses have been paid, allowing the shareholders 6 per cent., we will divide the surplus between the shareholders and ourselves, as our share for the promoting of the company, and the running of the apartment house.

We will guarantee 7% to each shareholder on his Investment

CAN ANYTHING BE FAIRER? CAN ANYTHING BE SQUARER? If so, we have not yet discovered it.

After the completion of the building, it is our intention, by the consent of the Directors, to mortgage the building for an amount of say, $50,000.00, and immediately start another apartment house scheme, upon the same terms and conditions, so that eventually the shareholders will receive a considerable amount more than 7 per cent. upon the money invested.

YOU CAN BUY INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS Now at 15 Cents

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

Don't hesitate to secure a portion of this stock. Your money will be returned if all statements cannot be verified. Another mill is under construction. Others will be built on various properties which the company owns and controls. This will increase the income and make your investment the best you can find.

It won't cost you anything to investigate. If you do not want to reserve your stock at once, fill out the free information blank and full particulars and literature will be sent to you.

Not a Speculative Enterprise

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS is an industrial enterprise of the most solid character. The monopoly of the supply and the constantly increasing demand make the market for the product absolutely certain. There is no substitute for asbestos. It is one of the prime necessities of modern industry, and construction. And, as already stated, it sells for a price many times greater than the cost of production.

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS affords an unequalled opportunity for safety and permanent income out of all proportion to the amount of the investment.

MAD DOG CHEWED HIS OWNER'S FACE—DRASTIC STEPS TAKEN

Toronto, Sept. 16.—Solemn Cordingly, a farmer of the ninth concession of Trafalgar Township, Halton County, is at present undergoing the Pasteur treatment for rabies, which is administered at the General Hospital, as the result of having been bitten on the nose by his own dog. The animal was at once killed, and its head sent to the Provincial laboratory, where an examination showed that it was affected with rabies.

Just how the animal came to attack its owner is not known, but the case is regarded as a serious one, as all bites on the face are so considered. However, the most prompt steps were taken, and the authorities do not fear a fatal termination.

PARAGRAPHS OF INTEREST TAKEN FROM FATHER VAUGHAN'S SPEECH TO THE EMPIRE CLUB IN TORONTO

"I am not here to preach my religion. Of course, I believe that it is the only true one—if I didn't I would chuck it. The fact is I have a good taste in religion."

"In France they are trying to teach a moral law without a moral lawgiver. The result is Hell."

"Let us remember as commercial men, that it is better to give our workmen a living wage today than to sweat them now and give them a palace when we are dead."

"For man and woman to be joined, and then to shake their puny fists and say, 'Thy will may be to increase, but we will not follow it, that is constructive treason against the will of God.'"

"It matters little whether we agree with a man or not. We have to find out whether he is straight. For example there is the character of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, Robert Laird Borden, and Sir James Whitney, men of integrity."

"Any blooming idiot can be vicious, but it takes a hero to be good."

WHISKEY SETS CHEROKEE INDIANS STABBING AND MURDERING

Spartanburg, S.C., Sept. 16.—Bearing the news that the Indians on the Cherokee Reservation in North Carolina are on a rampage, in which probably several have been killed, and declaring that he was forced to flee for his life, Charles Long, a full-blooded Cherokee Indian has just arrived in Spartanburg with his wife and six papooses.

Long said that a large quantity of whiskey was received at the reservation Saturday night, and the Indians began a carousal, which was still under way when he escaped Wednesday morning. Quarrels arose and on Monday one of the Indians, Tom Woodpecker, was killed and another seriously stabbed. Many other fatalities are feared.

SAVED HONEYMOONERS, GOT $25,000 AS REWARD

Capt. Turnavich Saved Lives of Bartlett Coutts and His Bride Off Labrador Coast.

Montreal, Sept. 16.—The arrival here this morning of Capt. E. Turnavich, owner of a fishing fleet operating on the Labrador coast, and commander of one of his own vessels, brings to light a remarkable tale of romance. Capt. Turnavich reached the city in time to receive a check for a thousand pounds, which arrived for him in the English mail this morning. It was from Mr. Bartlett Coutts of London as a reward for saving his life and that of his bride. The Bartlett couple started from the Shetland Islands, where he has an estate, in his private yacht on their wedding tour last July. The yacht was blown out across the Atlantic in a big storm, in which the three members of the crew were drowned. Captain Turnavich, in his fishing schooner, came across the couple to each other in the rigging of the sinking yacht off the Labrador coast, near Cape Muskavik, and rescued them. He sent them back to England on another vessel.

NIGHT RIDERS LEAVE RUIN IN THEIR WAKE.

Burn Barns and Tobacco Houses, and Commit Widespread Depredations in Kentucky.

Maysville, Ky., Sept. 16.—Night riders are scouring the tobacco-growing regions, leaving burning ruins and tales of depredation in their wake. Word was received here today that raiders burned the barns and warehouses on the grounds of W. O. Bradford and Geo. B. Kenny, in Bracken county last night.

The authorities fear that the political outbreak is the beginning of a series of depredations which will rival those of a year ago, which resulted from an effort to pool the Burley crop.

Kenny permitted soldiers to camp on his farm, when troops were station in Bracken county during the last night-riding.

The loss from last night's marauding will exceed $5,000.

A Good Position.

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or railway telegraphy. Since the 8-hour law became effective, and since the wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance of advancement. The National Telegraph Institute operates six official institutes in America, under supervision of R.R. and wireless officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details at Cincinnati, O., Philadelphia, Pa., Memphis, Tenn., Davenport, Ia., Columbia, S.C., or Portland, Ore., according to where you wish to enter.

AN AMERICAN MARRIAGE OF LOCAL INTEREST.

Son of Mr. Frederick Nicholls, of the Canadian General Electric Co., Joins the Benedicts.

A despatch received yesterday from Lynn, Mass., says:

The wedding took place here today of Frederick W. Nicholls of Toronto, son of Mr. Frederick Nicholls, the wealthy manager of the Canadian General Electric Company, of Peterborough. This wedding was the culmination of a romance which began years ago in St. Catharines, when Mary Hennessy, the bride, a girl at school, met young Nicholls, who was a student at Ridley College. She was then attached to the convent school at Niagara Falls. Rt. Rev. Monsignor Wheeling performed the ceremony. The bridegroom's father and many Canadian friends were present. The happy couple departed on an European wedding tour.

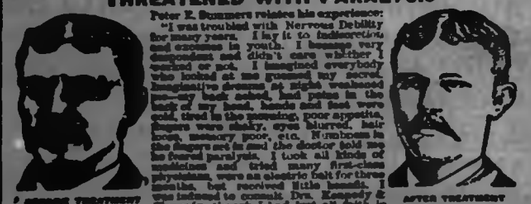
THREATENED WITH PARALYSIS



BEFORE TREATMENT AFTER TREATMENT

Peter F. Summers relates his experience:

"I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indiscretion and excesses in youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me guessed my secret. Imaginative dreams at night weakened me very much, and a dull pain in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair loose, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers led me to think the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians, were an electric belt for three months, but received little benefit. I was induced to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the New Method Treatment and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic—I could feel the vigor going through the nerves. I was cured mentally and physically. I have sent them many patients and continue to do so.

"Teddy" will Not Discuss the Rumor

New York, Sept. 16.—Col. Roosevelt refuses to break the steadfast silence he has maintained in regard to the Taft administration. Asked today at his office at the Outlook, what he thought of the report that Taft had practically made up his mind to refuse to allow his name to be offered in 1912 for renomination in order to clear the way for Roosevelt's return to the presidency, he said:

"There has been a great many stories printed and there will be a great many more. I cannot afford to discuss them."

Bank Clerk Pleads Guilty but Manager Declares Innocence

Brockville, Sept. 16.—A sensation was caused at Athen, a village 15 miles north of here, this morning by the arrest of Robert Cugher, manager of the Farmers' Bank of that place, and Melvin Forrest, a clerk. The former being charged with theft to the extent of $900, and the latter with the theft of $500.

Both men appeared here this morning before Police Magistrate Deacon, and were remanded for a week.

Forrest pleaded guilty and Cugher not guilty.

West End Y.M.C.A. Claims Penman Shield

Toronto, Sept. 16.—West End Y.M.C.A. are claiming the Penman Shield although the official report of the meet at Peterborough on Labor Day shows Central and West End to be tied with 51 points each.

The Queen street club have a very good case, and have the rules to back them up. The whole question hinges on the awarding of the points in the high jump. Marsnall of West End, and Barber of Central, were tied for first place, and when the rod was lowered, Marshall cleared the bar in the least number of jumps. After going over he went to the dressing room, but Barber kept on jumping and finally made the same height as the West Ender. Because Marshall had retired from the field the judges gave "Tiny" first place. According to the rules Marsnall should have got it, and was more than surprised when informed of the decision of the judges. J. H. Crocker of Brantford, once physical director of Central did not agree with the officials, and said that Marshall should have earned five points. With Barber in second place West End would have taken the shield with a margin of four points.

Damaging Evidence Against the Defence in the Crippen Case

London, Sept. 16.—Dr. H. H. Crippen entered the court room today for the resumption of his trial on a charge of murdering his wife, Belle Elmore, the actress, buoyed up by the belief that today's proceeding might see the government's case entirely shattered.

He nodded cheerfully to several acquaintances as he came up the aisle of the court room, and smiled encouragingly at Ethel Clare LeNeve the beautifully typist, jointly accused with him in the murder charge. It was evident from the physician's demeanor that he was greatly cheered by the points in his favor brought out at the last session of the trial when the government's expert witnesses testified that it was impossible to tell the sex of the remains found in the cellar of Crippen's residence, or the manner in which death had been inflicted.

JACKET BURIED WITH BODY.

Dr. Wilcox testified that he had found the jacket of a pair of pyjamas buried with the body.

Subsequently, he testified, detectives found the trousers matching the jacket in a trunk in Crippen's room. These were introduced in court as evidence and marked as an exhibit.

A telling point against the defence came at this juncture, when Dr. Wilcox made the flat declaration that the person whose remains were dug up in the cellar died of hyoscin poisoning.

CASE ADJOURNED AGAIN.

"More than half a grain of hyoscin was found in the remains," said Dr. Wilcox. "considerably more than is necessary to cause death."

Crippen paled as this damaging testimony was given and a deathlike stillness prevailed in the court room.

Miss Le Neve gave one glance at Crippen, and bowed her head on her arms.

The Crippen case has been adjourned until next Wednesday.

GOOD WEATHER, LARGE CROWDS AND A SPLENDID PROGRAM THIS YEAR.

Today Promises To Be Another Big Day—The Directors and Public Are Pleased.

Peterborough's great annual event, the Wall Fair, was used kindly by the clerk of the weather. Yesterday morning there were several hundred people on the grounds, some of them exhibitors, some interested spectators and some who went merely out of curiosity. The fair this year plainly shows a growing interest on the part of local citizens. There are more tents on the grounds than in past years. The Midway is crowded with tents from which are heard the joyful news that "Ice cold lemonade," "cold as ice can make it," "roasted peanuts," "candies," etc., are to be bought. The usual men with walking sticks in a frame drew dimes from the people for chances to "ring" a cane. The exhibition of hogs and sheep was about on a par with last year. The main building is altogether inadequate in size and make-up for the requirements af a fair for this prosperous county. Messrs. R. M. Roy & Son have their usual exhibition of photographs of the utmost merit on view, as one enters the building from the east side. The Brinton Carpet Works have a good exhibit showing the original design of old Turkish or Persian rugs, and the finished artticle. A good exhibit of roots and vegetables is also shown in this building, as are some good samples of needlework and fancy goods. An innovation this year is the minature railroad. An oval shape track has been laid down, on which a minature locomotive draws a train of small open cars. This attractions seems to meet with popular approval, as hundreds of people took the ride around the track. The sheep exhibit is good; the leicester breed being in great evidence. Westington and Lean were kept busy yesterday morning showing their sheep and displaying the wool producing qualities of those animals. Ald. Gillespie had a large tent in which the separators and other milk and cheese apparatus handled by him were exhibited. On the Midway was a gentleman whose face and business were well known here a few years ago, viz., Mr. W. C. Andrews. Our readers will remember that Mr. Andrews, recently with the Mighty Haag Circus, took photographs on buttons at his stand in front of the Snowden House. Those young men taking their girls to the fair today should call on Mr. Andrews and get their respective features indelibly stamped on souvenir buttons.

Mr. F. Hall, the indefatiguable secretary of the fair, was kept busy all morning, mainly taking in $5 and $10 bills, also in giving information to exhibitors. During the morning an Italian fruit dealer drove down and wanted to sell fruit on the grounds. He was told that such small privileges were worth money. He did not put up so was kindly but firmly told to "chase himself," but firmly told to skiddoo. Several Several of the local churches had tents wherein hot meals were provided at a reasonable cost. This was a great relief to exhibitors who could not leave the grounds for dinner. Much interest was taken in the splendid string of horses shown merely to oblige Peterborough citizens, by Hon. J. R. Stratton. These horses have taken many prizes at the Toronto and other leading fairs. They will be shipped from here to compete at the Ogdensburg, N.Y. Fair. Besides his horses Mr Stratton had some up-to-date conveyances on exhibition. Mr. Beith of Bowmanville, also had a fine string of horses at the Fair.

The afternoon attendance ran into many thousands, and, judging by remarks heard by The Times, all present thoroughly enjoyed the big Fair. The grand stand was fairly well filled, but those present, seemed to prefer the ground, and hung around the race track rails.

Possibly the most attractive feature of the Fair was the Minature Railroad. Round the race track was built a temporary oval shaped railway. On this were run an engine and train of small cars. The originators of this interesting feature certainly know what the public wants. That is an original feature. Fall fairs wanting a new feature to draw the crowds, should secure this attraction. Mr. E. J. McDonald was in charge of the Minature Railroad.

THE RACES.

The horse races were good, good, good; better than have been seen in Peterborough for many a year. The most sceptical doubter could not, for a second ainsinuate that the best horse did not win. The drivers under the eagle eye of Dr. Sinclair, Dr.

BISHOP INGRAM STIRS CANADA

THANKS GOD HE IS AN ENGLISH CATHOLIC AND NOT A ROMAN CATHOLIC.

Wild Enthusiasm Shown — Speaker Was Addressing the Brotherhood of St. Andrew's in Convention.

Montreal, Sept. 16.—At the Arena last evening Bishop Ingram of London, addressed the opening meeting of the convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew and made a confession of his Protestant faith which aroused an immense audience to such a pitch that for several minutes they cheered until the rafter rang.

"Why am I not a dissenter?" cried Bishop Ingram. "Because there is Both men appeared here this morn am I not a Roman Catholic? Because thank God, I am an English Catholic."

This was the climax address, and sharp as the sentences were flung to the air an audience of fully three thousand people jumped to their feet and cheered wildly for several minutes.

It seemed as though the pent-up Protestant feeling, which had been moved to an unwonted extent by recent events, had suddenly found vent and men and women by thousands rose and cheered themselves hoarse in what was perhaps the most remarkable demonstration of the Protestant faith ever witnessed in Montreal.

It was only after Bishop Ingram had repeatedly waved his hands for silence that he was able to proceed with his address," in which he dealt with the work and objects of the St. Andrew Brotherhood.

Bishop Ingram was escorted to the platform by Bishop Farthing of Montreal. Bishop DuMoulin of Niagara, a number of clergy, and the mass meeting proved a most successful event, the interest in the proceedings being evidently sharpened by the recent ebullition of Roman Catholic activity caused by the Eucharistic convention. While there was an entire ansence of antagonism to the Roman Catholic or any other Christian faith, the meeting was a splendid exhibition of the reliance of the English Church on their own Protest ant religion.

"NO FRILLS."

Just Sensible Food Cured Him.

Sometimes a good, healthy commercial traveler suffers from poorly selected food and is lucky if he learns that Grape-Nuts food will put him right.

A Cincinnati traveler says: 'About a year ago my stomach got in a bad way. I had a headache most of the time and suffered misery. After several months I ran down until I lost about 70 pounds in weight and finally had to give up a good position and had to go home. Any food that I might use seemed to nauseate me.

"My wife, hardly knowing what to do, one day brought home a package of Grape-Nuts food and coaxed me to try it. I told her it was no use, but finally to humor her I tried a little and they just struck my taste. It was the first food I had eaten in nearly a year that did not cause any suffering.

"Well, to make a long story short, I began to improve and stuck to Grape-Nuts. I went up from 135 pounds in December to 194 pounds the following October.

"My brain is clear, blood all right and appetite too much for any man's pocket-book. In fact, I am thoroughly made over, and owe it all to Grape-Nuts. I talk so much about what Grape-Nuts will do that some of the men on the road have nicknamed me 'Grape-Nuts,' but I stand today a healthy, rosy-cheeked manna pretty good example of what the right kind of food will do.

"You can publish this if you want to. It is a true statement without any frills."

CLEVELAND CAPTAIN PROPOSES TO START FROM MAID OF MIST LANDING TODAY.

Motor Boat Has Arrived—River Men Say the Terrible Current Will Suck the Vessel Under.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., Sept. 16.—Captain Klaus Larsen of Cleveland, Ohio, with his staunch little craft, "Ferro," in which he will make the trip from the Cataract to Lewiston through the turbulent waters of the Whirlpool Rapids and the dead whirlpool itself, arrived at the Canadian Maid of the Mist landing early last night, everything shipshape for the journey.

Larsen will make the trip down the river on Saturday afternoon between two and three o'clock, setting out from the Maid of the Mist landing, which is directly in front of the American Falls.

Today he will make several short trips between the bridges to test his engine.

He made the trip from Buffalo by the Niagara River to Chippewa, on the Canadian side, and brought the little boat from there down by

Although Captain Larsen seems confident of making the trip, river men are skeptical. They say that the speed of Larsen's craft—eight miles an hour, is not sufficient, that the current will suck her under. They say his fragile little craft will turn turtle and fail to right herself before she traverses half the distance.

HOT TO MAKE THE FAT COMFORTABLE IN SUMMER.

If you are fat, and have difficulty in breathing or walking or eating and if you find that the heat is exhausting to you during the heated term you will be interesting in knowing that the famous Marmola prescription is now being prepared in tablet form and that one of these little tablets taken after each meal and at bedtime will reduce your fat at the rate of from 12 to 15 ounces per day. These tablets stop fat from being made and they assist the body to throw away the fat already made in a natural manner. They are harmless and you will find that their use will build up your system to a higher degree of perfection than ever before. They have perhaps the greatest army of responsible men and women who have written of their effectiveness than any other prescription ever written. You need not diet or exercise and you may eat when and what you will. The food you now eat turns into fat. The food you eat will make no fat if you take a Marmola tablet after the meal; and more than that, you will so strengthen your digestive organs that you will need no assistance in a short time even from Marmola Tablets. Every drug store sells them or you may write the Marmola Company, 1192 Farmer Bldg., Detroit, Mich. A case of Marmola Tablets costs only 75 cents anywhere.

DEATH ON THE WATER.

The summer boating season is about closed and the record of boat fatalities in Canada has grown with abnormal and terrible rapidity. In former years, before the motor boat sprung into existence, the tuttish canoe used to be the most deadly device known in Canada for aquatic fatalities and that light and easier-tipped craft earned unenviable notoriety as a death dealer, but already the motor boat, though only in existence less than a dozen years, has claimed a toll of human victims far in excess of the achievements of the canoe in its palmiest days.

There is reason for this, too, because the canoe never was a boat giving an outward semblance of security, and consequently never appealed too strongly to the pleasure loving instincts of women and children and was therfore patronized chiefly by those who knew its insecurity and who had self-reliance and nerve enough to take chances to it and generally to overcome its natural disposition to turn bottom side up at the least provocation.

With the motor boat conditions are very different indeed. Outwardly it has the appearance of a staunch built little craft skilfully designed for pleasure without the least danger of upsetting and a perfect saver of labor. Everything about the motor boat's outward appearance tends to coax the unwary pleasure seeker to step aboard and enjoy a rapid spin over the inviting looking waters. It is no wonder then than the motor boat has multiplied until all the waterways of Canada are day and night being churned by their swiftly revolving screws.

But inside the motor boat there is danger enough to satisfy the most reckless. Engines which at first were designed to drive the boat through the water at a rate of three or eight miles an hour, have been discarded and replaced by more powerful and heavier engines until now a boat of 20 miles an hour capacity is a slow one not worthy of consideration for racing purposes. For general purposes, too, the speed of this craft has been increased so that pleasure parties often including many ladies and children may be seen driving through the waters at high speed of from 15 to 20 miles an hour. The machinery of the motor boat while of extraordinary strength is also of such delicate adjustment as to be easily disarranged as was shown a few days ago on the Otonabee river near Peterboro' when a lady's handkerchief became entangled in the steering apparatus of a motor boat, and caused a collision with a river steamboat that resulted in the cutting down of the motor boat and the drowning of a lady and her daughter besides imperilling the lives of three other occupants of the motor boat.

Not only is the machinery of the motor boat and the gasoline used for the operation of the machinery of dangerous character, but the gravest and greatest danger of all lies in the fact that most of these boats now in use are being operated by persons who have very little, if any, mechanical knowledge of the rules of navigation and the laws governing the passage of boats on waterways. These unskilled ignorant mariners endanger not only their own lives, but also the lives of many others who have occasion to make use of the waters when these boats are operated. More than a year ago the Kingston Standard briefly drew attention to the need of governmental inspection for this class of boats, but so far as we can learn no such system of inspection has been ordered or even considered. In the meantime the death roll caused by craft of this description has been swelled to enormous proportions, and inasmuch as the motor boat has come to stay and is really a useful and valuable device when properly operated it is certainly time that some regulations should be adopted to govern the operation of this class of boats.

THE HAGUE FISHERIES AWARD.

Probably at no time was there any danger of war between the United States and England over the Newfoundland fisheries dispute, but this does not detract from the historic and international importance of the award of the arbitral court at The Hague. The submission of this controversy, now nearly a century old, to arbitration was a notable victory for the cause of peace and good will, and it is easily the most complex case the arbitral court has been called on to hear and determine.

In another respect is the case epoch-making. The court was empowered and obligated to decide the issues on principle, international law and accepted rules of interpretation of treaties. There was to be no diplomatic "splitting of differences," no effort to please both parties. Justice was to be done without fear or favor, justice according to the most conscientious conclusions of the eminent jurists who composed the court. "Diplomatic" arbitration leaves irritation and discontent; to the voice of impartial law of self-respecting, civilized powers listen with deference.

The seven points were exhaustively and ably argued, and on five of the minor ones the United States government is sustained. The two most important points won by Great Britain—that relating to sovereignty and that touching the question of "headland" lines versus the sinuosities of the coast—are of great practical importance, however. It is to be hoped that the award will be satisfactory to all concerned. It is final and binding.

160 acres of absolutely proven oil land on Sulphur Mountain, adjoining and between the Liberty and Puritan Oil Companies' property. Ten miles from Santa Paula, Ventura Co., Calif.

FACTS—The property is absolutely proven territory, lying as it does with the LIBERTY OIL CO. producing on the south, the LIBERTY OIL CO. producing on the west, the BARD OIL CO. producing on the north, which only recently crossed into their property and is now drilling to commence drilling on the east. Also it is located in a district of OVER TEN PRODUCING COMPANIES, such as Ojai Petroleum, Pyramid Oil Co., Canadian Ojai, Central Ojai, Bard Oil and Asphalt Co., and others. THERE'S NO QUESTION ABOUT THE COMPANY GETTING OIL. It is possible that Liberty Oil Company's new well will be a gusher, which would make the ATLANTA OIL COMPANY stock worth $10 per. Mr. Cahill, our Superintendent, knows every foot of the ground, and having had charge of Liberty property, which adjoins our land, and an experienced OIL MAN and driller, perceives fortunate in obtaining his services. VENTURA CO. OIL represents the bigger part of the industry. It is the home of HIGH GRAVITY OIL. VENTURA COUNTY OIL means $1.50 a barrel at well. Costs from 3c to 6c per case to refine. THE GREAT DIXON OIL CO. got its start in VENTURA CO. and has paid great returns to its stockholders. Some GREAT ASSETS had a small beginning in the WILD CAT territory within EIGHT OF ATLANTA OIL CO. property. The demand for fuel oil FAR EXCEEDS THE SUPPLY. The S. P. railroads is changing their engines from coal to OIL. The eastern high gravity fields are diminishing. The OHIO FIELDS FOR example, have fallen off considerably. The demand is caused by the increased number of gasoline engines throughout the world the number of automobiles and internal combustion engines are now legion, so VENTURA COUNTY, which are held to be the most extensive OIL CO., and may be overwhelmed at any time. One day's delay may cost you one hundred dollars. NOW. WRITE FOR LATEST NEWS OF VENTURA OIL FIELDS.

The hunter for the derrick is on the ground and machinery has been ordered. Well No. 1 will be started as soon as drilling is installed. It should not take over six months to complete first well. Well No. 2, by conditions of lease, must be in operation by February 16th, 1911.

SELL
stocks and bonds of all iron, teel and smelting companies.

WHY? Because they are capitalized on the earnings of their blast furnaces now turning out base and precious metals. These blast furnaces are going to the scrap heap.

RENDALL FURNACES will supersede blast furnaces everywhere. They cost only one-fifth the price to build and produce pure metal from any kind of ore for one-half the cost of production by any other process now used.

In New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland VAST DEPOSITS, containing BILLIONS OF TONS of low grade iron ore, now unworked and idle because the ores are below the present accepted standard required for Bessemer ores, will soon be turning out the FINEST IRON the world has ever seen from RENDALL FURNACES now being built.

Formerly New York State was the largest producer of iron. The industry moved west when the BESSEMER PROCESS and the high grade ores of Michigan and Minnesota forced Eastern producers out of business. Now the Western industry—capitalized at about $3,000,000,000 in bonds and stocks—MUST USE THE RENDALL PROCESS OR SHUT DOWN.

BUY
Rendall Steel Stock

WHY? Because all iron and steel makers must buy RENDALL FURNACES—and every mining camp, where copper, silver, lead and zinc is produced must add continually to the Rendall Steel Company's income—which will amount to many millions a year in time from earnings and royalties. This means enormous dividends on Rendall Steel Stock.

Some years ago an eminent authority, Abram S. Hewitt, after a careful study made in the library of Sir Henry Bessemer, was able to demonstrate that the BESSEMER PROCESS of making iron and steel added, directly and indirectly, $2,000,000,000 YEARLY TO THE WORLD'S WEALTH.

Since then there has been steady increase over this two thousand million dollars a year.

HENRY BESSEMER'S INVENTION IS NOW SUPERSEDED BY GEORGE F. RENDALL'S INVENTION.

There will be no more BESSEMER STEEL. IT WILL BE ALL RENDALL STEEL. "Rendall Steel stock will go up to $500 a share and pay enormous dividends." Reliable, eminent authorities in mining and metallurgy predict this.

Jesse R. Grant, E.M., son of General U. S. Grant, ex-President of the United States; Captain C. B. Dahlgren, E.M., U.S. Navy (retired); Captain S. L. Burbridge, E. M.; W. F. Downs, E.M., of Columbia University; James C. Bayles, M.E.; Ph.D., ex-editor Iron Age; G. F. Rendall, M.E.; T. F. Maher, U.S. Navy Yard; G. H. Moore, E.M., C.E., and other mining and metallurgical engineers say "A REVOLUTION OF THE WHOLE IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY AS GREAT AS THAT PRODUCED BY SIR HENRY BESSEMER IS EFFECTED BY THE RENDALL PROCESS. IT SUPERDES THE BLAST FURNACE."

Buy Rendall Steel stock. It is the best investment in America to-day. The Rendall Steel Company's handsome 32 page catalogue, giving full information mailed free on request.

DEAFNESS OF WHITE CATS.

An Affliction Which Prevents Their Being Good Mouse Catchers.

According to a magazine writer, the acuteness of the average cat's sense of hearing is proverbial, but it is a proverb that needs qualifying. For example, many white cats are absolutely deaf, and though the idea may appear absurd at first sight, I am inclined to believe that the color of the cat is associated with its sense of hearing.

I have several times imported Persians or long haired cats from abroad, but not one white one in the number has been able to hear the slightest sound. Of course I have possessed white cats that could hear, but they have been the exception, and that applies as much to the short hair pet of the fireside as to the aristocratic long hair of the shows. Moreover, I have observed that the white cats dullest of hearing are those with blue eyes.

The cats with orange eyes which I have had could hear quite well, those having odd eyes—that is, one orange and one blue—could hear a little but not well, and those having blue eyes were quite deaf, though all have come from the same litter. All kittens have blue eyes till they are about six weeks old, when the eyes change to their adult or permanent color. But to show how widely the permanently blue eye differs to begin with from other eyes I may say that immediately the eyes of white cats that are to have permanently blue eyes open they will shine bright red in the dark and neither the ephemeral kitten blue nor any other color eye does this.

One peculiarity of deaf cats is that they seem to have an aggravated sense of feeling in their feet pads. It is very difficult for a heavy walking animal such as man to approach a deaf cat from behind without giving it warning, and this I attribute to the extreme sensitiveness of the cat's feet, recording the slightest tremor of the ground and so to a certain extent taking the place of hearing. It is a belief held by some country people that white cats do not make good hunters, good mouse or rat catchers, even if they do hear. I am inclined to think that there is a foundation for this idea, and I would go further and say that dark colored cats make the best mouse and rat catchers because they hear best.

Where Slavery Exists.

Joseph Burtt, of England, who has visited the slavery part of West Africa, and seen how the Portuguese are treating the hapless natives, says:

"The world should unite and stamp out slavery in Africa and everywhere else. The cultivation of the cocoa in the islands of San Thome and Principe, West Africa, employs 60,000 ignorant blacks who are kept in pitiable servitude. In the islands fevers and tropical diseases carry off the people rapidly and 5,000 slaves have to be taken there yearly to maintain the needed labor supply.

"These slaves come principally from the central regions of Africa. Some are sold for debt; some are given up on accusation of witchcraft; some are captured in tribal feuds and village raids, but most are captured by expeditions equipped and sent out for the damnable purpose. They are conveyed to the coast, fastened together with wooden shackles to prevent them escaping. It is a long march, many hundred of miles, nine days of which is over a desert. Approximately 50 per cent. of the slaves die on the march."

The Strength of a Shark.

Given special advantages, such as that of holding the end of a stout rope at the other extremity of which is a hook fixed in a shark's mouth, man may, with the assistance of a number of his fellows, have the best of the shark. But alone and in the water the advantage is wholly and absolutely the other way, and the strongest swimmer and the bravest heart fail when the tyrant of the sea seeks to make his acquaintance. The shark is gifted with great strength, a savage temper, dogged perseverance and exceptional power of jaw. The lion and tiger may mangle, the crocodile may lacerate, the bulldog may hold fast—the shark alone of living creatures possesses the power of nipping off a human limb at a bite.

King and other experts in that line had to keep strictly to the mark.

The 2.35 class took five heats to determine the winners as follows:

Lulu Chimes, T. McKiver	5	2	1	1	1
Lew Jean, Hodgson, Orillia	3	3	2	2	2
Tom Tariff, C. Fife, Keene
Harry Mack, Dr. McMahon
Picket Boy, Simpson.

This race was for a purse of $200. The time made was .24¼, .24¼, .24.

On the fourth heat of this race Dr. Sinclair warned the drivers to get their positions or quit.

THE 2.22 CLASS.

This race created much excitement. The purse was for $150. The entries and results were as follows:

Bourbon Brook, Elmhirst, Keene	1	1	1
Holland Boy, Dr. Leach.	4	4	5
Plant, McDonald. Toronto	2	5	2

The respective times of the various heats were 2.18¾-4, 2.18¼, 2.18.

COLT RACE.

When the third heat in the colt race was to be run off, Dr. Sinclair got Mr. Story to move the various rigs on the track to one side. Only two entries were in this race. The first two heats tied, and the third heat gave the race to Fred Jones. Hazel Brooks' driver was thrown as the wheels of his rig caught in those of his opponent. The matter was simply an accident and the driver was not seriously hurt. The prize was awarded to Fred Jones. The race was one of the closest and most interesting run off yesterday.

In response to a question put by The Times to Mr. Leary, president of the fair, that gentleman replied, "My dear fellow today's attendance at the fair will pay all expenses. Tomorrow's receipts are all profit. The people of this city have at last awakened to the fact that Peterborough, for her population can and does put up as good a fair as any city in Canada its size or greater."

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

The Japs at the local fair seem to have "caught on" in public estimation. Their clever work was loudly applauded yesterday.

The weather prophet must have a kindly feeling towards Peterborough, judging by the kind of weather handed out to the local Fair yesterday.

The horse races at the local fair yesterday excelled any similar sport seen in the city for years. In the 2.35 class, five heats had to be run off, and, in the 5th heat one driver was thrown clearly off his sulky, but fortunately not seriously injured.

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS
Now at 15 Cents

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

Don't hesitate to secure a portion of this stock. Your money will be returned if all statements cannot be verified. Another mill is under construction. Others will be built on various properties which the company owns and controls. This will increase the income and make your investment the best you can find.

It won't cost you anything to investigate. If you do not want to reserve your stock at once, fill out the free information blank and full particulars and literature will be sent to you.

Not a Speculative Enterprise

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS is an industrial enterprise of the most solid character. The monopoly of the supply and the constantly increasing demand makes the market for the product absolutely certain. There is no substitute for asbestos. It is one of the prime necessities of modern industry and construction. And, as already stated, it sells for a price many times greater than the cost of production.

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS affords an unequalled opportunity for safety and permanent income out of all proportion to the amount of the investment.

INSPECTOR CANNOT EXAMINE PUPILS

BECAUSE HE ADMITTED THAT HE WAS A MEMBER OF EMANCIPATION LODGE.

Civic Authorities in Montreal are Puzzled Over What Action to Take in the Matter.

Montreal, Sept. 18.—The principals of several Roman Catholic schools have written to the civic officials, complaining against a health inspector because he admitted at the recent investigation that he was a member of Emancipation Lodge. The principals say that they will not allow the inspector to examine any of their pupils. The civic authorities are puzzled over what action to take in the matter.

ARTISTIC WORK.

Splendid Exhibit by the Celebrated Roy Studio.

Prominent among the exhibits at the Fair, and an exhibit that attracted attention from every lover of art, was the splendid artistic exhibit of the Roy Studio. The mention of the word "Roy," simply means to refer to artistic photography. Mr. R. M. Roy, head of the firm not only seems to, but has, a natural artistic sympathy with art and the reproduction of countenances that defys competition. Mr. Roy is lucky in having as his partner in the art work, his son, Mr. Fred Roy, on whom has descended the toga of an artistic father. At the Fair Saturday, Messrs. Roy & Son, had a collection of artistic studies that would claim attention from art lovers the world over. Among the pictures that drew attention was that of a combination group photograph of the Peterborough Curling Club. Miss Beadle Elcome's piano class was also a perfect sample of the photographer's art. There were also a number of individual portraits of men prominent in Canadian life, men whose portraits thus eternally perpetuated will be of interest to coming generations.

As an instance of the up-to-date equipment and rapidity with which such high grade work, satisfactorily rendered, can be produced it might be mentioned that the Roy Studio took a picture of Peterborough's Boy Scouts at three o'clock Friday afternoon, and at three o'clock on Saturday afternoon realistic and artic views were shown, fully completed, of these coming saviours of their country.

The Roy Studio was awarded two out of three possible prizes.

Fine New Brick House Burned.

Whilst Mr. Andrew Dobbin, who lives about two miles from the city in North Monaghan, was away at Norwood on Friday, his handsome new brick house was totally destroyed by fire. It seems that during his absence, the housekeeper, who, while out milking the cows left a fire in the kitchen stove, as she had been ironing. On her return the kitchen was in flames. Nothing could be done to stay the progress of the blaze, and the building and contents were destroyed. Mr. Dobbin finding only a ruin when he returned from Norwood. The barns and outbuildings escaped undamaged.

A Good Position.

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or railway telegraphy. Since the 8-hour law became effective, and since the wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance of advancement. The National Telegraph Institute operates six official institutes in America, under supervision of R.R. and Wireless officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details at Cincinnati, O., Philadelphia, Pa., Memphis, Tenn., Davenport, Ia., Columbia, S.C., or Portland, Ore., according to where you wish to enter.

THREE NOTED CASES.

This Week Will See Great Criminal Trials.

New York, Sept. 19.—Proceedings in three noted criminal cases will attract attention to New Jersey during the week. The Hudson County grand jury which meets Wednesday will probably return indictments against James J. Gallagher, who attempted to assassinate Mayor Gaynor of New York. On the same day and in the same county a hearing will be had on the application of the Italian Government for the extradition of Porter Charlton, accused of murdering his wife and throwing her body, in a trunk, into Lake Camo, Italy. The third case to attract attention is that of the Wardlaw sisters, accused of the murder of Ocey M. W. Snead in East Orange, N.J., last November, which will be called for trial Wednesday in Newark.

CANADIAN MANUFACTURERS.

Annual Meeting Begins at Vancouver This Week.

Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 19.—The Canadian Manufacturers' Association which was organized in 1871 and now has a membership of nearly 2,500, holds its annual convention in Vancouver this week, beginning tomorrow and continuing until Thursday. Representatives of the business interests of the entire Dominion are here to take part in the gathering. The first day's session will be devoted to executive business, but thereafter the programme embraces the presentation of many papers and addresses dealing with the progress of business, reports of committees and a discussion of the tariff situation and business conditions. There are already ample evidences that there will be a great demonstration against reciprocity and against lower duties in the tariff. This demonstration will be in response to the strong and persistent pressure which the thirty thousand organized grain growers in the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta brought to bear on Sir Wilfrid Laurier during his recent tour in the West.

At the election of officers for the year it is thought probable that the present vice-president, W. H. Rowley of Hull, Que., will be chosen to head the Association. The gathering will close with the annual convention banquet at which Hon. Richard McBride, premier of British Columbia will be one of the chief speakers.

ANOTHER GIRL HAS DISAPPEARED

IT IS THOUGHT THAT SHE HAS COMMITTED SUICIDE. — THE THIRD WITHIN TWO WEEKS.

The Police of Hamilton are of the Opinion That Another Has Done Away With Herself.

Hamilton, Sept. 16.—The police today are grappling for another girl's body in the same spot where Beatrice Stoker and Cherry Cole, girl chums, suicided during the past two weeks. The Stoker girl, after being reprimanded by her employers, ended her life. Then her friend, Cherry Cole, haunted by visions of coffins and the dead girl's face, drowned her self. In each case the girls' hats were found on the revetment wall, and led to the discovery of the bodies.

This morning the police were startled to find another girl's hat in the same spot. They are wondering if the dramatic suicide of the other two has led to a third fatality.

Odd Fellows Gathering.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 17.—Odd Fellows from all parts of the United States, Canada and Mexico, have gathered here for the annual communication of the sovereign grand lodge which will be opened on Monday. The Patriarchs, Militant and the Sisters of Rebekah will also meet during the week, and it is expected that at least 50,000 members of the fraternity will be in evidence. Tomorrow morning the visitors will attend services at Wesley Memorial church, where the sermon will be preached by Rev. W. I. Canter of Fairmount, W. Va., who is the grand chaplain of the Order.

THE BIGGEST AND BEST FAIR EVER HELD IN PETERBOROUGH

CITIZENS AND COUNTY RESIDENTS TURNED OUT IN LARGE NUMBERS ON BOTH DAYS.

Exhibition Excelled All Previous Ones Held in the County.—The Directors are Well Pleased—Will Start to Prepare for the 1911 Exhibition.

Well the big Peterborough Fair is over, and no longer can it be intmated that Peterborough does not take interest in her Fall Fairs. It is an secret that for several years past there has been an undercurrent of opinion that let the directors work as hard as they might, let them present as good attractions, as common sense, and a certain limit of expense would allow, the residents of this city could not be made to take a great and general interest in the home fall fair. The local exhibition of last week has fully demonstrated that ,let the records of previous years, be what they may, our citizens this year have awakened to the fact that Peterborough can produce and last week furnished as good an interesting an exhibition as any city of her size. President Leary, Secretary Hall, and the directors have reasons for hearty congratulations on the result of their weeks of hard work. Very general satisfaction was expressed by exhibitors over the judges' decisions. To give a detailed report of all the exhibits would take more space than we have at Command. Suffice to say that all classes were well filled and that good exhibits of every class were shown. The vegetable exhibit was excellent. The roots being particularly good.

THE BOY SCOUTS.

One of the most interesting features of the exhibition was the fine parade of Peterborough's Boy Scouts These coming defenders of their country, turned out in good numbers under direction of Scout Master Waring. The lads marched like veterans past the reviewing stand as the band played "The Maple Leaf Forever," Those who saw the manly attitude and military precision of the Scouts could easily understand the high compliment paid them in Toronto by General Baden Powell, when he said they were the neatest Boy Scouts at Toronto Exhibition. President Leary complimented the lads and presented them amidst great applause with a British ensign.

One feature that attracted much interest, and incidentally brought many sightseers to the Fair was the fine exhibition of high grade horses belonging to Hon. J. R. Stratton's splendid string of thoroughbreds,and also the magnificent horses shown by Mr. Beith of Bowmanville.

The vaudeville specialities were of exceptional merit. A wise choice had been made in this part of the Fair's items of interest. The Japanese and the tumblers were all good, and delighted the audience. The fireworks were also particularly good.

GILLESPIE'S EXHIBIT.

Alxd. Gillespie, who is possibly better known among the farming community than any other single exhibitor had a large tent wherein he had a display of the most modern and useful dairy implements. Mr. Gillespie was kept busy all day long, aided by a staff of assistants in explaining the merits of the various separators, etc., he had on exhibition. Those interested, and that meant every farmer in the county, can get literature and personal information by calling at Mr. Gillespie's store on Simcoe street, a few doors east of George street. The Weely Times will have a detailed account of Mr. Gillespie's exhibit, which has grown to tremendous proand interred in the Little Lake interest in her Fall Fair. It is a

R. E. THURSTON.

Mr. Thurston was again in the front ranks with his splendid lot of Yorkshire white hogs. The herd contained 12 animals, viz., 1 aged boar, 1 aged sow, 1 12-month-old hog, 12-month-old sows, 3 6-month-old sows. He also had a fine herd of Polled Hereford Cattle. A full report of the prizes taken by Mr. Thurston will be given in The Weekly Times of next issue. His address is R. E. Thurston, Bobcaygeon, Ont.

S. OLIVER'S EXHIBIT.

Possibly no department of the Fair attracted more general interest than the poultry, and here the magnificent display of Mr. S. Oliver of Lindsay, as usual, was the center of attraction. The Fair's great interest, or rather the poultry branch of it was due in great measure to this breeder's exhibit. Among the poultry shown by Mr. Oliver were White Bramas, Houdans, Black Spanish, Brown Leghorns, Black Reds, which took first prize at the Toronto Industrial, Indian Games, Black and Silver pencilled Hamburgs, White Crested Black Polish, Golden Polish, unbearded Golden Polish, which took second prize for cock and hen at Toronto, Silver Polish, which last year took first prize, white golden Bantams, Golden Seabright, Light Brama Bantams, Red Piles. Mr. Oliver got first prize on Young Light Bramas in Toronto. He also had a splendid exhibit of Muscovy and other ducks. His white Muscovy ducks were magnificent birds. To enumerate the prizes Mr. Oliver took here would practically be to name all the classes he exhibited. Those wanting high grade birds, of the kind mentioned should communicate with Mr. S. Oliver, Lindsay.

CHEESE.

Some splendid samples of cheese made in this vicinity were shown. The prizes for cheese were:

Cool cured—Central Smith 1st, Shearer, 2nd.

Ordinary cured—Keene, 1st; Cedardale, 2nd. Cavanville, 3rd; Lakefield, 4th, and Fleetwood, 5th.

CHINA TO HAVE POWERFUL NAVY

UNITED STATES MAY BUILD A FLEET OF WARSHIPS FOR HER.

The President of the United States Steel Trust is to Talk Things Over With Tsai Hsde in China.

San Francisco, Sept. 18.—The Call this morning states that Chas. M. Schwab, former president of the U.S. Steel Corporation, is to meet Prince Tsai Haun, uncle of the Emperor of China, in this city next week "to close a deal" for the building of a fleet of war vessels for China.

In support of its assertion that American shipyards are likely to be given the work of building the war ships, the Call quotes John McGregor, president of the United Ironworkers as saying that he is informed that plans drawn by the Bethlehem Steel Company, through Schwab, have been favorably considered by the Chinese Government.

HOME RULE TO COME IN 2 YEARS

"TAY PAY" PREDICTS COMPLETE SUCCESS OF THE IRISH MOVEMENT.

Are Looking for Funds.—Leaders Expect to Collect More Than Any Time Since the Time of Parnell.

Liverpool, Sept. 18.—John Redmond, the Irish Nationalist leader, and his lieutenants, "Tay Pay" O'Connor, Joseph Devlin, and Daniel Ooyle, all members of Parliament, sailed today on the Baltic for another raid on the pocket books of Irish-Americans to support the Nationalist party.

O'Connor said he expected the visit to bring the greatest financial returns since the first visit of Charles Stuart Parnell to America in 1879-80.

The party will split forces in Buffalo. Redmond will look after the Middle States, Devlin the South, Doyle the West, and O'Connor the Eastern States and Canada. The tour will last about six weeks.

"I think we are nearer the success of our cause," O'Connor said, to the press," than we have been since the death of Parnell. Victory, including home rule, will come within two years."

Belmont Resident's Awful Discovery on Returning from Work

Havelock, Ont., Sept. 17.—Hugh Deline, who lives about eight miles north of this village on the 12th concession of the township of Belmont, on returning from work on Thursday night, found his wife laying dead in the back woodshed.

MARKS ON THE BODY.

It was evident that there had been foul play as there were several marks on her face and head and about her body. Both wrists were badly scraped in a manner which would indicate that her hands had been tied together and she had been attempting to free herself.

The marks about the body showed that a struggle had taken place.

IN A LONELY PLACE.

The Deline home is situated in a lonely spot about a mile from the main road, and with no other houses in sight. No clue has been found thatis of aid in apprehending the party who committed the deed.

The husband of the woman says that when he left home in the morning his wife was enjoying good health, and that he returned from a neighboring farm, where he had been working about eight o'clock at night He entered the house and not finding his wife, he called for her, but received no response.

FOUND THE BODY.

Deline made his way to the back shed where he found the dead body.

Mr. Deline aroused the neighbors, who found the woman in the position stated and the two little children, aged two months and two years respectively, lying huddled in bed, crying for their mother.

The couple had been married about four years, and it is said they had never quarreled.

AN INQUEST OPENS.

Corner Kindred of Havelock, empanelled a jury and viewed the body at the Deline home.

A post mortem was ordered to be held, and the inquest will be resumed on Friday next, Sept. 23rd.

Italian Shooting at Cobourg May be Fatal

Cobourg, Sept. 17.—A shooting affray took place here this morning about noon, when Tony Toris fired four shots at a fellow countryman named Cresenzo Anitona. One of the shots went through Anitone's hand and one inflicted a severe wound in the neck, which may prove fatal. The other two shots went wild.

Toris tried to make his escape,but was caught by Chief Ruse near the town limit. The chief went after him in an automobile.

This is the second tragedy to occur among Italians in this town within a few months. Both men are employed by the Randolph Macdonald Co., in wharf construction.

HOP IMPORTER UP FOR FRAUD.

Charged With Duping Banks in an Attempt to Make Million Dollars for Himself.

New York, Sept. 16.—An international aspect today was added to the bank fraud case of Adolph Rothbarth, the hop importer, who is in Tombs prison, charged with duping the Mercantile National Bank and the Liberty National Bank out of $133,000, in the attempt to make a million on Wall street, when lawyers for the bank in question began work on steps to hold foreign companies responsible for Rothbarth's speculations. Indications were today that Rothbarth's bank deals might aggregate $500,000 or more when they were all uncovered.

The Rothbarth firm of hop dealers is one of the biggest houses in the world dealing in that commodity. It is divided in two branches, Adolph, through power of attorney, controlling the American branch, and his brother the foreign section. Because of Adolph's power of attorney from his brothers, lawyers believe that the European house can be held responsible for all of his speculations.

"There's a Reason"

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.

It is not often an opportunity occurs at your door to see the latest Parisian and New York styles in Hair Goods, yet such is the case, as Prof. Dorenwend of Toronto, is visiting this city, and invites your inspection of these goods at his private apartments reserved at the hotel.

These Hair Goods styles, when properly adjusted, protect and ornament the head, soften and beautify the expression of the face, and consequently tone up an aged appearance. Be sure and see them at Oriental Hotel, on Friday, Sept. 23rd.

"Can be depended upon," is an expression we all like to hear, and when it is used in connection with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy it means that it never fails to cure diarrhoea, dysentery or bowel complaints. It is pleasant to take and equally valuable for children and adults. Sold by by all dealers.

MR. STRATTON'S HORSES.

One of the Most Interesting Features of Last Week's Fall Fair.

One of the most interesting features af last week's Industrial Fair was the splendid string of horses, shown merely for exhibition purposes, belonging to Hon. J. R. Stratton.

These horses are all imported,registered English hackneys; some of them red-ribbon winners at the Olympia exhibittion, London, England, besides other exhibition honors in England this year and last. They have never been beaten in any competition for which they were entered in the Old Country. These horses were a very strong drawing card in the Exhibition attendance.

SAVED HONEYMOONERS, GOT $25,000 AS REWARD

Montreal, Sept. 16.—The arrival here this morning of Capt. E. Turnavick, owner of a fishing fleet operating on the Labrador coast, and commander of one of his own vessels, brings to light a remarkable tale of romance. Capt. Turnavick reached the city in time to receive a check for a thousand pounds, which arrived for him in the English mail this morning. It was from Mr. Bartlett Coutts of London as a reward for saving his life and that of his bride. The Bartlett couple started from the Shetland Islands, where he has an estate, in his private yacht on their wedding tour last July. The yacht was blown out across the Atlantic in a big storm, in which the three members of the crew were drowned. Captain Turnavick, in his fishing schooner, came across the couple to each other in the rigging of the sinking yacht off the Labrador coast, near Cape Muskavik, and rescued them. He sent them back to England on another vessel.

WILL THE DIVA BE BOUGHT OFF!

SOME THINK THAT CAVALLIERI WILL NOT ACCEPT ANY TERMS OF SETTLEMENT.

Was Chanler Crazy? — Courts May Be Appealed to to Prove He Was When He Sibsed the Agreement.

New York, Sept. 18.—John Armstrong Chanler may not have been very far out of the way when he sent his famous telegrams "Who's loony now?" to his brother, William Astor Chanler, when the news that Chanler and Cavallieri had disagreed became public.

Attorneys who have examined the ante-nuptial agreement, unite today in asserting that it is seemingly legal proof. That this is the opinion of the members of the Chanler family is indicated by the intimation from them that they would be willing to ensure Cavallieri a lump sum of $10,000, and a guaranteed annuity of $5000 if she will excute a quit claim to her husband's possessions.

While none of the members of the Chanler family nor their attorneys will discuss the proposed offer, it is generally credited that it has been made. People who know Cavallieri, and who are amazed over the revelations contained in the agreement filed yesterday, say that she will hardly accept any such offer.

Boston is 280 Years Old.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 17.—Flags were displayed on Boston's public buildings today in celebration of the 280th anniversary of the founding of the city. While it was in July, 1630, the colonists brought by John Winthrop to Salem established themselves at Charlestown, it was not until Sept. 17th of that year that the greater part of Winthrop's company crossed the river to Trimontaine and renamed the place Boston, after the Lincolnshire town whence many of the colonists had come.

THE CONTAGION OF PRICES.

One of the things not yet discovered by scientists is what peculiar form of bacteria infests household necessities to make them catch the upward price fear. That it is contagious is obvious; that the disease is usually malignant and lasting is equally apparent but the cause and cure baffle the public.

The last case of upwarditis has chosen the oyster as its victim, according to the fertile mind of a Buffalo correspondent. The delectable prince of the coral reef has resisted a serious attack for several years. He has been boiled till as tough as leather, he has been frozen on ice, covered with pepper and salt, buried in patties and fried to nothingness, but he always had enough physical power and endurance to overcome the raids of soaring prices. At last he has fallen prey and this winter he promises to come to your table in case only that you have a good square of ready cash to offer as an investment.

It is hard to think that any of those oysters that we used to eat at the winter party or in the fine hotel grill room would suffer themselves to be treated in this way. They were generally very illusive, succulent shape that needed a fair amount of chasing around a plate or soup bowl. Often they would never be found in companies of more than two or three but certainly they never wanted to be bought for a high figure.

Now the whole situation is likely to be different. Everything else used on the table has gone up from the tender chicken to the wiry steak and perhaps in order to be in up-to-date company the oyster has decided that it is worth more than it used to be when the country tea meeting was held. If this opinion is true, it could not be considered a breach of good manners if after this a person were to use, instead of one spoon, six spoons, four forks and a pair of magnifying glasses to find those oysters that do by chance find their way into soup at the average boarding house. There must be some allowance made for conditions.

A POSTAL IMPROVEMENT.

Automatic postage stamp machines have been installed in Montreal for the benefit of the public. The machines are simply devices that release stamps when the coin has been deposited in the slot, and five of them have been put in operation in different sections of the metropolis. In the United States and likewise France the postal authorities are installing these devices. The latter country has issued a contract to have them put to fifty post offices in Paris, and 300 in the provinces.

A more practical scheme for meeting a general public requirement could not well be introduced. In every large city there should be more than one place at which stamps may be obtained. In the small cities a post office is not often so crowded that the stamp office cannot serve every one in due time, but even in the smaller centres these machines would be appreciated by the public.

HUNTING WITH DOGS.

Hunters who go into the northern part of the Province in the fall of the year have long been divided into two camps, those who contend that dogs are necessary to their success, and those who say that they are not. A reasonable view seems to be that the necessity of canine aid depends upon the nature of the game and the type of country in which the hunt is made. There are probably many places where dogs are practically indispensable, and it seems a hardship that the Dominion regulations made at a time when serious outbreaks of rabies were reported, should be enforced this late in the year if they are to be prohibitory of sport to many hunters.

It is doubtful whether any dogs with rabies are likely to be taken into New Ontario woods, and if they are taken, the probability of their causing an epidemic of hydrophobia among the wild creatures are very slight. The gun, not the dog, is the direct agent of slaughter. The dog is a creature of the chase, not a taker of life, as hunting goes nowadays. If the government is desirous of restricting the number of dogs which are to accompany hunting parties this fall, a permit system would be sufficient check, and a requirement that the dogs must be inspected by a veterinary would guarantee their fitness to be at large.

Small Fire on Saturday.

The fire brigade received a call on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock to the Catholic Orphans' Home on London street. Some sparks from a bonfire lighted on the roof of a shed at the back of the building, setting it on fire. The brigade arrived at the place promptly and the blaze was extinguished without the use of water. One chemical was used, and little damage was done.

Funeral of Mrs. Wm. Everett.

On Saturday afternoon the last mortal remains of Mrs. Wm. Everett were taken from 73 Lansdowne St., and interred, in the Little Lake cemetery. The late Mrs. Everett, who passed away Friday night, at the age of 70 years was well and favorably known throughout the township of North Monaghan. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, three sons and one daughter. The sons are Harry and Russel of Peterborough; Bert, Lakefield. The daughter is Miss Lizzie, of Toronto.

No Light for Art Exhibits.

Without wanting to cavil or find fault with the very successful Fall Fair, just concluded under most auspicious conditions, there is an oversight that should be provided against next year. The art exhibit, one of the best ever seen in the Midland counties was rendered useless Friday night for lack of light. Mr. R. M. Roy and Mr. Louis Mendell had art pictures, some of which could not be replaced in that department. Not a ray of light was thrown on these fine pictures shown by those artists. Now, not only was the public prevented from enjoying these samples of art, but the exhibitors ran a grave chance of having their treasures stolen or mutilated by persons of mischievious turn of mind.

Ald. Bradburn Objects To Deal with Peterboro' Canoe Co.

He Does Not Think The City is Getting Enough in Return for 212 ft. 6 Inches of Land--Besides, a Certain Laneway Suggests to Him Another Kind of a Deal

The Manufacturers' Committee of the City Council met last night, when there were present: Mayor Morrow, Chairman Ald. Gillespie, and Aldermen Bradburn, Duffus, Turner and Morgan; also Industrial Commissioner Duggan.

The meeting was called to thresh out an unfortunate misunderstanding that had arisen over the deal with the Peterborough Canoe Company, put through last week, by which the committee agreed to recommend that the city give this company 111x21 feet on King street, immediately south of their premises, on which to make considerable building extensions. Subsequently, however, it appears that Mr. Rogers had in his letter, and marked on a blue print submitted with same, asked for 212 feet 6 inches of land in depth, to the water front, in return for which he offered the city 50 feet south along the water front across his property, which could be converted into a road way, connected with King and Sherbrooke streets, when it is filled in. This property offered by Mr. Rogers is merely a strip of water at present running south from King street to the city's property at Sherbrooke, west of C.P.R. spur line.

At the meeting of September 14th the committee adopted a resolution as they thought meeting the Canoe Company's requirements, and which was read in Mr. Roger's presence, but to which he evidently was paying but little attention, and this resolution offered the company 111x21 feet of King street in return for 165x50 feet of water-covered property southward from King along the water front.

This was thought to be satisfactory by all parties concerned, but when the city solicitor started to put the matter into legal shape, he discovered that the resolution did not cover what was asked for by Mr. Rogers in his letter to the committee and as shown on the accompanying blue print. On Mr. Roger's attention being drawn to this fact, he appealed to the mayor and chairman Ald. Gillespie, and asked for another meeting to open up the question again, which was called for last night.

In rediscussing this oversight, all the committee contended that they had understood the resolution to be satisfactory to Mr. Rogers; but Ald. Turner stated that while he did not go into measurements, still he thought the city was deeding the company a strip of land 21 feet wide extending west to the water's edge.

Mr. Rogers replied that his letter was plain enough, as also the blueprint, in evidence of which the solicitor readily saw that a mistake had occurred in the wording of the resolution in question according to the letter and plan submitted him from which to draw up the legal agreement. Mr. Rogers said he had already spent $3,000 on the extension of premises for which he required the land, and were there any doubt of his getting the additional 101 feet necessary, he would stop operations at once.

At this juncture the committee were dubious as to the wisdom of exchanging the additional 101 feet—212 feet 6 inches in all—or a total of 3000 cubic feet in return for the 50-feet roadway above mentioned.

Then, as King street narrows down at an angle from Water street to the river, there was considerable doubt if, after subtracting 61 feet in width of land for Mr. Rogers, there would remain the regulation road-way of 66 feet below the 111 feet previously granted.

The committee here resolved itself into a surveying party and adjourned to measure King street at the point in discussion, when it was found that the proposed deal would only allow sufficient land remaining for a 60-foot street.

The committee took a pretty thorough survey of the conditions on King street alongside the Canoe Company's premises and down to the river. The moon shone brilliantly upon the scene, revealed so glaringly the lane between the Canoe Company's premises and Mrs. English's property that Ald. Bradburn was quite fascinated by the possibilities arising therefrom. It must be understood that this laneway is directly paralleled each side by the C.P.R. property, and our worthy finance minister's financial perspicacity suggested to him a possible deal in the near future that he would like the city to have a fair share in when deeding away some 3000 feet of its land. In fact he cannot see any doubt but that this laneway will be subsequently acquired by the railway in question; he can see no other possible use for it.

On returning to the City Hall Ald. Bradburn asked Mr. Rogers if he would in return for the additional 101 feet he needed, give up the right he has to this lane, but the latter refused point-blank. He needed it for access to his drying kiln.

Mr. Rogers said the company are making extensive additions to their premises that are but the precursor of a steam launch factory. This winter they will employ at least 15 additional hands; they are not asking for fixed assessment, a bonus or any assistance of that nature, and he thought the least they were entitled to was an exchange of the land in question as a legitimate encouragement to local manufacturing enterprise.

Ald. Duffus did not think King street at this point would ever be of sufficient importance to suffer from its width being a trifle less than 66 feet.

Ald. Turner moved, seconded by Ald. Duffus,—That the resolution of September 14th be rescinded, and the Peterborough Canoe Company be granted the 212 feet 6 inches x 21 feet of King street asked for, providing the same is used for manufacturing purposes only. Also if any of this land is sold to the C.P.R. Co. or any other concern, the same shall revert to the city.—Carried.

Ald Bradburn moved in amendment, that the 111 feet east of what was arranged for on September 14th be given in return for the company's rights over the lane between their property and Mrs. English's premises.

Ald. Bradburn could get no second er to his amendment, all the remainder of the committee voting for Ald. Turner's motion.

Joseph Cooper Worked for William Lyon Mackenzie and Other Notables—His Life Sketch.

Lindsay, Sept. 19.— Mr. Joseph Cooper, one of the oldest newspaper men in the Province, and an esteemed citizen of Lindsay, passed away this morning at the ripe age of 83 years. He was born in Killalo, County Mayo, Ireland, and at the age of 14 was apprenticed to Mr. Verdun, publisher of the Sligo Champion, what would then be termed Unionist newspaper. After short experience in New York and Philadelphia, he moved to Toronto, where he worked on the Globe and Leader for some time, being foreman for William Lyon Mackenzie in printing the "Message." Then Mr. Cooper moved to Omemee, establishing the Metcalf Warder, afterwards called the Omemee Warder. In 1866 he moved to Lindsay, and established the Victoria Warder, now the Daily Warder and the Weekly Watchman Warder.

BELLE ELMORE WAS TO GO AWAY AND CRIPPEN GET A DIVORCE FROM HER.

The Fair Typist, in Her Distress, Confided With Woman at Whose House She Roomed—Awaited Fulfilment of Contract.

London, Sept. 19.—Something of what Ethel Clare LeNeve suffered as, half mad with jealousy, she impatiently waited the fulfilment of Dr. Hawley H. Crippen's promise to make her his wife, was revealed at today's session of the inquest into the death of Belle Elmore, with the murder of whom the doctor and his typist are jointly charged.

In her distress, Miss LeNeve confided in her landlady, Mrs. Jackson, and the story that the latter told on the witness stand rivaled the most sensational evidence introduced at the murder trial.

WAS TO MARRY CRIPPEN.

Mrs. Jackson said that the accused girl gave up the room which she had occupied at the home of the witness on March 12th, explaining that she was leaving to be married to Dr. Crippen.

Until the first week in February, Miss LeNeve had slept regularly at Mrs. Jackson's. After that she stopped at the house only occasionally. She said that she spent the other nights at the homes of friends. On one occasion Miss LeNeve mentioned having been at the Hilldrop Crescent home of the Crippen's, early in February, to help the doctor in a search for a bank book, which showed an account of $1,000. She added that a diamond tiara and rings had been found in the house and that the doctor had raised $850 on these.

MISS LENEVE WAS DEPRESSED

About the middle of February the witness said Miss LeNeve appeared most miserable and depressed. Such was her state that Mrs. Jackson followed the girl to her room to learn if possible, the cause of her trouble. Miss LeNeve, the witness said, was in a terrifying state of agitation. Her eyes seemed fairly staring out of her head. The landlady insisted upon an explanation, telling the girl that she must have something awful on her mind to be in such a condition. The witness testified that the other reohed:

"Would you be surprised if I told you that it was the doctor and Miss Elmore? He was the cause of my trouble when you first knew me. She is his wife, and when I see them go away together it makes me realize my position, as to what she is and what I am."

WHAT'S USE OF WORRYING?

Mrs. Jackson asked, "What is the use of worrying about another woman's husband?"

To this Miss LeNeve answered: "Miss Elmore has been threatening to go away with another man. Dr. Crippen has been waiting for her to do so when he would divorse her."

Solicitor Newton, who is looking out for the interests of Dr. Crippen and Miss LeNeve, closely cross-examined Mrs. Jackson, suggesting that her lodger's excitement was due to the landlady having resurrected a trouble which the girl experienced during her earlier association with Crippen, but the witness maintained the correctness of her evidence as given.

IDENTIFIED LOCK OF HAIR.

London, Sept. 19.—Another blow was given to Dr. Crippen's fight for liberty today when the wife of Dr. T. H. Burroughs, Crippen's closest friend in London, identified a lock of hair, which was disinterred with portions of the human body in the cellar of the Crippen Hilldrop Crescent home, as being from the head of Belle Elmore, as Mrs. Crippen was known on the stage.

This identification was made at the resumption of the Crippen case before Coroner Schroeder, and it was indicated that it would be strongly used by the Crown at the resumption of the murder trial later in the week.

Bishop Fallon Starts Movement Against Bi-lingual Schools

The Toronto Sunday World contains the following:

While the Orange Sentinel is inveighing against the maintenance of bi-lingual schools in the Province and using up columns of space in the effort, it is incidentally implementing a work dear to the heart of the newly appointed bishop of London, Rt. Rev. M. F. Fallon.

His Lordship, before he became bishop, fomented trouble in the diocese where he was situated, and he was no sooner elevated to the London bishopric than he started a movement against the settlements of French-Canadians in Essex and Kent counties.

Bishop Fallon is opposed to Bilingual schools, and to that end has organized the Irish archbishops and bishops into a campaign to retain Ontario as an English-speaking Province, and has issued a manadate forbidding the schools in Essex and Kent counties to teach French. In this respect the bishop is working against a good part of his diocese, as 45 per cent. of the communicants are French-Canadians.

Toronto is said to have succumbed to his influence. The Basilian order, with local headquarters at St. Michael's College, has almost been reorganized. The French priests have been sent to the United States, where their sphere of influence will be restricted, and Irish priests have been substituted, with the exception of a few "sickly" or "weak" French members, who have been retained to save the face of the College. Assumption College in Sandwich has been included in the soake-up, where easy going Frenchmen have submitted to the bishop's manadate.

The French-Canadian communicants in these counties feel that their interests have been outraged by their spiritual lord, although the bishop apparently has not realized that the result of his campaign will make mission work among these people easier now. The French priests in the various dioceses will be "dragooned into submission, lest they be transferred to other parts.

REV. DR. GRAHAM THINKS VATICAN WILL BE MOVED TO CANADA

Toronto, Sept. 19.—Rev. Dr. Wm. T. Gragam, pastor of the First Ave. Baptist church last night gave an address in which he referred to the remarks of Father Vaughan at Montreal, that Protestantism was a soulless religion.

"I hold that it ought to be absolutely impossible in this country, where there is no State Church, for the militia to be called upon to take part in any such demonstrations," he said. "It was not done when we Baptists had our conference, or for the Presbyterians, the Methodists, or the Anglicans.

"It was the pope, the Italian priest, and the Church of Rome that were exalted throughout this entire congress, and Christ and His Church were kept in the background.

"Mark my words, before long you will see an effort on the part of the Catholic Church to remove the seat of the papacy from Rome to Montreal.

"I have no quarrel with Father Vaughan. He had a perfect right to say what he believed, and I believe he meant what he said when he cried 'I hate Protestantism,' I admire him for his courage. Many of us, I am afraid, are not half so outspoken toward what we believe to be our Protestant doctrine."

Dr. Graham stated that he believed that the mass and the confessional were the two pillars on which the Roman Catholic religion was founded.

"Get the people to believe that the mass as a humbug, and there is nothing in the confessional," said he, "and they will forsake them as they have done in the past when the light has come in. These people have not the truth. They are in the dark. You may talk of idol-worship. If anything their worship is worse."

ROOSEVELT SEES PRESIDENT TAFT

He Sought the Meeting—Comic Opera Secrecy Maintained—Braved a Nice Chop of a Sea.

New Haven, Conn. Sept. 19.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt slipped quietly into New Haven today for a politican conference with President Taft.

The request for the conference came from the ex-president. The two men talked politics, and reviewed both the New York state and the general national situation.

After having observed the utmost secrecy in the preliminary arrangements for the meeting, Col. Roosevelt crossed the Sound from Oyster Bay in a motor boat this morning to Black Rock, and from there cruised up the Connecticut shore to New Haven. At the residence of Henry C. White, he lunched with the president, Lloyd C. Griscom, Otto T. Bannard, and Charles D. Norton, the president's secretary.

There was almost a comic opera plot in the secrecy observed in the meeting. Secretary Norton this afternoon admitted that the arrangements for the conference had been made by him after the request had come through Griscom from Col. Roosevelt.

NO CLUE TO THE DELINE MURDERER

HUGH DELINE CANNOT, HOWEVER ACCOUNT FOR INJURIES ON WIFE'S BODY.

Row With Wood Ranger—He Had Taken Meal at Woman's House and Refused to Pay for It—Some Words Ensued.

No clue has yet been found as to who was the murderer of Mrs. Hugh Deline, whose lifeless body was found in the woodshed at her home on Belmont township on Thursday night last by her husband, Hugh Deline.

The mystery remains as deep as ever. Deline states that he arrived home about half-past eight, and that he at once ran to the home of Mr. Samuel Newell, which is about fifteen minutes walk away. It is stated however, that he did not arrive at Newell's until ten o'clock, but there seems to be some uncertainty as to the time.

WHY DID HE DELAY?

He notified James Buchanan on the other concession about twelve o'clock, and the coroner at Havelock the next morning. The husband attributes his wife's death to the effects of a bad pain in the head. It seems he had told the neighbors that she suffered a great deal from these pains and remarked that he might go home any night and find her dead. He says he can give no other explanation for her sudden death. The Deline house is some distance from the road, and the farmers in the vicinity saw very little of the family, but as far as they know, their family relations seemed to be happy.

The facts of the case are that on Thursday night Hugh Deline left the farm of James Buchanan with whom he had worked during the day. He arrived home, according to his own statement, at 8.30 o'clock. He found his wife dead, and at once ran to Mrs. Sam Newell's a 15-minute walk but it is stated he did not arrive there until 10 o'clock. There is some uncertainty as to the time. He notified the coroner next morning.

THE WOMAN'S INJURIES.

The woman's face was scratched as if by finger nails; there was a scalp wound, and her wrists were scraped as if they had been bound. No one had been seen entering or leaving the house during the day. The place of tragedy is in a clearing in the woods about a mile from the road and about eight miles north of Havelock. The question is: "Who committed the deed?"

It does not seem possible that suspicion should point its finger to the husband, thus left with two little children, aged three months and two years. There seems to be a difference in the time as stated by the husband and neighbors, but that is uncertain. The husband appears to attribute death to the effects of a bad pain his wife had in her head, but cannot account for the marks on the body. He had told the neighbors about the pain his wife had in her head, and said that he might go home any time and find her dead. He apparently feels bad about the death of his wife, but has made no effort to solve the mystery.

ROW WITH WOOD RANGER.

When asked if he could throw any light on how his wife met her death, Deline said he could not. He was then asked if she was on bad terms with any person. He admitted that a wood ranger who passed through that district about two weeks ago, had words with his wife, and there existed a bitter feeling between them when he left. Deline was not at home when this trouble occurred, but his wife related the story to him when he returned. The wood ranger had called at the Deline home at noon and had asked for his dinner. Mrs. Deline had given it to him, and when he had finished, asked for the pay for the meal. There was some dispute over the price. Hot words passed between them, and the wood ranger left in a fury without paying anything for the meal. Outside of this, Deline knew of no one on bad terms with his wife.

A post mortem was performed on the body on Saturday and the inquest will be concluded on Friday next.

DRUNKEN MAN KILLS WOMAN

Truro, N.S., Sept. 19.—A woman dead with her throat cut, and a man lying by her side in an alcoholic stupor, and bleeding from several wounds was the shocking discovery made in a house on Foundry Hill in Truro.

The name of the woman is Mrs. Maud Wright, and of the man Stephen Perry. Both are of ill-repute and are said to have been living together for some time. Both were drunk on Satutday night. These are about all the facts so far known to the police who have Perry under arrest.

The coroner's inquest over the remains of the murdered woman opened this morning but adjourned until this afternoon. Perry is not seriously injured, but between his wounds and his intoxication has not yet been able to make any statement.

It was first thought that it was a case of murder and attempted suicide but it is generally believed that the two got into a drunken encounter and that Perry received his wounds from the woman before he overpowered her and cut her throat.

Miss L. Quinlan has returned to the city, after spending her holidays with her brother, W. H. Quinlan, Rochester, Ont.

QUESTION SETTLED IN CANADA'S FAVOR

HUDSON BAY BELONGS SOLELY TO CANADA WITH EXCLUSIVE RIGHTS.

United States Fishermen Will Have to Cease Operations Until Agreement is Reached.

Washington, Sept. 19.—Canada owns Hudson Bay with exclusive rights. This is now conceded by the authorities here in view of the decision at The Hague, which has been carefully scanned.

The decision will have an important bearing upon the fortunes of the great fishing industry now carried on in Hudson Bay by United States fishermen. It means that this business will have to come to an end unless Canada makes some agreement under which it can be continued.

In the past the sealers and whalers have been allowed to prosecute their calling, and even to winter on the Canadian islands. But it is not probable that these liberties will be voluntarily given in the future.

By a section of the press it is admitted that the decision of The Hague Tribunal settles the question in favor of Canada. An administration organ says the judgment is a definite pronouncement of the whole head line question. "The United States has contended that the three-mile limit followed the sinuosities of the coast and allowed fishing in bays when the outer headlands were more than six miles apart. The British contention is that territorial jurisdiction extends seaward from a line drawn between the outer headlands, no matter how wide the bay that is enclosed. The Hague Tribunal affirms the British view, which shuts out American boats from fishing, not only in the bays of Newfoundland and Labrador, but apparently also in the vast expanse of water, Hudson Bay, in which our whaling and fishing craft have been accustomed to claim, and exercise fishing and whaling rights under the American flag."

AWFUL TRAGEDY IN A SAW MILL

Emporia, Va.; Sept. 19.—One man was cut to pieces, another had his head crushed into a shapeless mass of flesh and bone and three other were badly mangled at the saw mill of the Camp Manufacturing Company at Arringdale, near here, today when a negro workman pulled the lever of a saw mill carriage the wrong way and knocked five workmen into the maelstrom of whirling teeth.

The five workmen were standing upon the platform which is used for carrying timbers into the path of the great circular saw. Taken unawares by the action of the negro workman they were thrown into the very teeth of the saws.

MONEY NOT WEALTH.

"Money and Democracy" is the title of a book written by W. F. Doll now a resident of Liberty, N.Y., but formerly of Winnipeg, where he conducted a jewelry business. Mr. Doll, according to a review in Moody's, declares that the present system of currency in the United States is grafted from that of a monarchial form of government and can never be made to fit a democratic people.

The true basis of the wealth and power of a nation, the declares, is not in the amount of gold or silver in a nation's treasury; it lies in the productiveness of its farms, factories and great industries made productive by human labor. Farms, factories and industries must be made the basis of the currency system of the United States if we are ever to have a democratic country in anything but name. Democratic money, Mr. Doll defines as a medium of exchange issued by the people, for the people and having as its base the combined labor products of the people.

The assessed or market value of real property land and labor—as contained in real propert valuations, is the natural basis of the people's medium of exchange. The assessed valuation or selling price of all real property should be the basis of all money systems. One quarter of that assessed valuation or selling price should be the basis for the volume or quantity of money issued. This would insure a safe basis and sufficient volume of money for all commercial requirements and insure a staple value for real properties and products of labor. Now assessments should be made every presidential year and as the assessed valuations increased or decreased so should the volume of money be increased or decreased in like ratio or as one to four.

As the assessed value of all real property in the United States for 1910 was one hundred and twenty billion dollars, Congress should authorize the issue of forty billion dollars of paper money, the same to be deposited in the treasury and be legal tender for all indebtedness. This money should be printed so as to range from one dollar to one thousand or one hundred thousand dollars, with a fractional currency on one, five, ten, twenty-five and fifty-cent bills. Counterfeiting should be punished with life imprisonment.

The thirty billion dollars deposited in the national treasury should then be deposited in central post offices of each state, in proportion to the assessed valuation of real property in each state. The central post offices should redistribute the money so allotted to outlying post offices as required. The individual citizen desiring to borrow money would take his tax receipt with the title of his property to the nearest post office, where the postmaster, after properly verifying his tax receipt, and title deed, would loan the citizen sums of money up to one-fourth of the assessed valuation of the property at one per cent., being the probable cost to the government of manufacture and distribution.

ITS MAJESTY THE APPLE.

Good bananas are plentiful at fifteen cents a dozen. Good apples are scarce at two cents apiece. It is Canada's lean fruit year, and the export trade is a heavy drain on the supply of "extra selects," but even in an off season the apple should be more plentiful than now. The reason for its scarcity is suggested by the articles published on apple cultivation. It is somewhat startling to read that the unsprayed orchard produces fruit which is 50 per cent. culls, while only one apple in a hundred is so classified when the trees are properly treated.

Ontario has been prodigal with its orchards. The apple is as fine and as healthy a fruit as nature provides, but the wormy, stunted, and dried up specimens which retail at fancy prices in Peterborough this year are not worthy the name of apple. Most of the orchards of the Province have been let run wild. No attention has been paid to their cultivation. Old trees have not been replaced by young ones. And anyone may see the result by looking in the average apple barrel at the average grocery store.

Spraying, soil cultivation, and pruning will do wonders with an apple orchard. Sometimes the hogs will help too. There is a species of green fly which lays its eggs under the skin of the growing fruit. These eggs develop into worms, which tunnel in the juicy flesh until the apple falls. It is all a wonderful provision of nature for the propagation of the species, for the worm thus unconsciously calls gravity to its aid in order that it may crawl from the apple into the earth, nd there remain during the winter as pupæ until spring, when it is transformed into green flies. Thus, in nature's ceaseless round, the pest is perpetuated, unless, indeed, the farmer gathers up his wormy apples, or keeps a hog or two in the orchard to eat them as soon as they fall.

An intelligent campaign against apple destroyers would cut the price of Ontario's apples in half. And the consumer would get sound fruit instead of worms for his money.

SELL

stocks and bonds of all iron, steel and smelting companies.

WHY? Because they are capitalized on the earnings of their blast furnaces now turning out base and precious metals. These blast furnaces are going to the scrap heap.

RENDALL FURNACES will supersede blast furnaces everywhere. They cost only one-fifth the price to build and produce pure metal from any kind of ore for one-half the cost of production by any other process now used.

In New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland VAST DEPOSITS, containing BILLIONS OF TONS of low grade iron ore, now unworked and idle because the ores are below the present accepted standard required for Bessemer ores, will soon be turning out the FINEST IRON the world has ever seen from RENDALL FURNACES now being built.

Formerly New York State was the largest producer of iron. The industry moved west when the BESSEMER PROCESS and the high grade ores of Michigan and Minnesota forced Eastern producers out of business. Now the Western industry—capitalized at about $3,000,000,000 in bonds and stocks—MUST USE THE RENDALL PROCESS OR SHUT DOWN.

BUY
Rendall Steel Stock

WHY? Because all iron and steel makers must buy RENDALL FURNACES—and every mining camp, where copper, silver, lead and zinc are produced must add continually to the Rendall Steel Company's income, which will amount to many millions a year in time from earnings and royalties. This means enormous dividends on Rendall Steel Stock.

Some years ago an eminent authority, Abram S. Hewitt, after a careful study made in the library of Sir Henry Bessemer, was able to demonstrate that the BESSEMER PROCESS of making iron and steel added, directly and indirectly, $2,000,000,000 YEARLY TO THE WORLD'S WEALTH.

Since then there has been steady increase over this two thousand million dollars a year.

HENRY BESSEMER'S INVENTION IS NOW SUPERSEDED BY GEORGE F. RENDALL'S INVENTION.

There will be no more BESSEMER STEEL. IT WILL BE ALL RENDALL STEEL. "Rendall Steel stock will go up to $500 a share and pay enormous dividends." Reliable, eminent authorities in mining and metallurgy predict this.

Jesse R. Grant, E.M., son of General U. S. Grant, ex-President of the United States; Captain C. B. Dahlgren, E.M., U.S. Navy (retired); Captain S. L. Burbridge, E. M.; W. F. Downs, E.M., of Columbia University; James C. Bayles, M.E.; Ph.D., ex-editor Iron Age; G. F. Rendall, M.E.; T. F. Maher, U.S. Navy Yard; G. H. Moore, E.M., C.E., and other mining and metallurgical engineers say "A REVOLUTION OF THE WHOLE IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY AS GREAT AS THAT PRODUCED BY SIR HENRY BESSEMER IS EFFECTED BY THE RENDALL PROCESS. IT SUPERSEDES THE BLAST FURNACE.

Buy Rendall Steel stock, now selling under $10 a share. It is the best investment in America to-day. I have sound reason to believe it is going up to $500 a share and eventually much higher.

BIG JEWEL ROBBERY IS STILL A MYSTERY.

C.P.R. Detectives Travel on All West Bound Pullmans to Protect Patrons.

Winnipeg, Sept. 15.—The mystery of the theft of the Countess of Antrim's jewels is still not cleared up, despite the fact that a crowd of detectives are working on the case.

Owing to the robberies that have recently taken place in Pullman carriages, C.P.R. detectives are travelling on every train, and the transcontinentals arriving yesterday were liberally protected in this way.

It is claimed that the large number of tilted and wealthy people who are now travelling through Canada has attracted the attention of the gangs in the United States. Within the last month there have been as many as a dozen personages of title and other wealthy people staying at the Royal Alexandra at the same time, and some were travelling with their wives, who carry valuable jewels.

THE BEST MEDICINE.

Pure Air Cures Many Ills and Means the Prolongation of Life.

"Pure air is more precious than gold," said the venerable physician. "It is the best medicine in the world and means the prolongation of life and the cure for many ills which make my calling necessary and profitable. Don't tarry too long in crowded, ill-ventilated places and beware of 'stuffy' rooms. Now, the dangerous element in a stuffy place, like a rush hour subway train is, strictly speaking, not due to carbonic acid gas. That in its pure condition would speedily cause death, but it has been established that the chief danger in breathing vitiated air is not entirely or even chiefly due to carbonic acid gas, but rather to organic impurities which are invariably present in vitiated air.

"And here it may be pointed out that the other chief constituent of breath is water, and an amount varying from six to twenty-seven ounces, it has been calculated, may be given off in the course of twenty-four hours. Dr. De Chaumont, a well-known authority on this subject, has estimated that an assembly of 2,500 people during a period of two hours—that is, the duration of an ordinary meeting—may exhale in respiration and give off in perspiration about seventeen gallons of water.

"The amount of carbonic acid given off by a man amounts to about three-quarters of a cubic foot an hour, or nineteen cubic feet in twenty-four hours. Each individual, therefore, may be said to destroy about fifteen cubic feet in twenty-four hours. And the man who occupies a hall bedroom and keeps his window down while he reads by gaslight far into the night should know that the burning jet gives off as much carbonic acid as he does himself. Then he may let in a little air."

Bismarck on Women in Politics.

Some interesting observations of Prince Bismarck on female suffrage have come to light. Of women in politics he said: "We men are all clumsy. We Germans especially are always genuinely heavy, even diplomatists. Moreover, much less would be made public, for a sensible woman's mouth can keep silence. On the other hand, it can draw from an opponent in a tone of harmless chatter many a secret that he would not give up to us men. Woman's mouth chats so ingratiatingly on most subjects that we never notice, old donkeys that we are, that we have told them more than we intended to, for everything that is feminine beats us in cunning."—London Telegraph.

The Crucial Test.

At an adjourned town council meeting in the north a member casually mentioned that a person could not enjoy or even distinguish between drinks in the dark. A worthy bailie denied this and offered to bet that, blindfolded, he could name any drink given him. The bet being accepted and the bailie blindfolded, the test commenced. The bailie drank everything submitted, smacked his lips and correctly named the drink until the taken was in despair. Then "try him wi' water," whispered a councillor, and the hint was taken. Sip—smack—sip—a shake of the head—"I canna just mind the name o' this, but I mind o' tastin' it when I was a wee laddie."—London Standard.

Japan's Police Force.

Japan's police force was originally the most aristocratic body of the kind in the world. Its establishment was almost coincident with the Emperor's decree forbidding the wearing of swords. By a stroke of the imperial pen the samurai were deprived of cherished weapons by which the gentlemen of Japan had been accustomed from immemorial times to advertise their rank. So they went into the police, where it was still possible to carry a sword. And a very formidable weapon it was then, being of the two-handed variety.

How Do You Take Your Defeat.

The way a man takes his defeat is a pretty good test of his caliber. The strong man uses his failures for stepping stones instead of stumbling blocks. I know a very successful young man who has made it a rule of his life to use every misfortune that comes to him as a point of departure for something better. He has had losses and misfortunes which would have crushed most men, but they only stiffen his resolution, nerve him up for a new start. They only make him more determined to conquer the next time.—Success.

The Worst Drink.

"But chi-chi, the chi-chi of Patagonia! That is the worst drink in the world," said a naval man. "The Patagonians gather wild apples. They dig pits and line them with horse hides, and in those pits they leave the apples to rot and ferment. When the pits are full of foamy, hissing juices the Patagonian warriors gather for their annual jag, and the women and children go off and hide in the woods. No wonder, for chi-chi is a terrible drink. It is a thick gray foam that hisses. It seems to be alive. It is like drinking snakes."

Since the 8-hour law became effective, and since the wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. A TRAGEDY RECALLED

By Mr. W. F. Doll's Theory on Basis of Wealth.

On our editorial page will be found an article by Mr. W. F. Doll on the basis of wealth. Mr. Doll formerly conducted a jewelry business in Peterborough with his brother, Franz L. Doll, in the store at present occupied by Mr. E. F. Mason, George street. Franz was a handsome young fellow, and roomed on the top storey of the building. This was about the year 1873. One night some one passing along the hallway heard groans proceeding from Doll's room, and on entering found the young man lying across the bed with a bullet in his head. He died during the night, and his brother, who did not live here, was sent for and the body was removed to the family residence. It was a clear case of suicide, being due, it was said at the time, to a love affair.

ARISTOCRATIC ASSASSIN IS RELEASED FROM JAIL.

Berlin, Sept. 19.—Prince Prosper von Arenberg, probably the most notorious of German colonial tyrants, has been released from the sanatorium where he has spent the last three years, and is about to proceed to the Argentine, where he has bought a ranch.

It will be remembered that Arenberg, about five years ago, was sentenced to death for murdering a negro servant in an incredibly revolting manner. The sentence was afterward commuted to one of 20 years' penal servitude.

Arenberg's powerful friends and relatives, however, induced the authorities to be merciful to this aristocratic sinner. They proved to the satisfaction of the courts that he was afflicted with a "pathological tendency to cruelty," and that his mind was affected by the heat of the tropics. So the Prince was liberated from jail and sent to a sanatorium for mentally affected persons. This place happens to be conveniently near his estates.

It was surmised at the time that his detention would be a short duration—a surmise which was proved to be correct. After a three years' "cure" he has been liberated.

VOL XXXIII NO. 212 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO WEDNESDAY SEPTEMBER 21 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

TO BE TRIED FOR BATHTUB MURDER

ONE OF THE MOST SENSATIONAL OF CASES.

That Has Ever Come Before the Courts in the United States — Tragedy in High Life.

Newark, N.J., Sept. 21.—The case against Mrs. Caroline B. Martin and Mrs. Mary W. Snead, who together with Miss Virginia O. Wardlaw, whose death from voluntary starvation occurred at the House of Detention on August 12, were indicted for murder of Mrs. Ocey Wardlaw Martin Snead, the victim of the famous "bathtub murder," will be called for trial before the New Jersey Supreme Court in this city today. It was known that the State had the strongest case against Miss Virginia O. Wardlaw and it was rumored that owing to the death of Miss Wardlaw the prosecution would probably abandon the case against the two other defendants, but this supposition proved to have been wrong. The prosecution, though foiled in convicting Miss Wardlaw, showed no disposition to give up the case against the two other defendants and there is every reason to believe that they will be given a speedy trial.

Mrs. Ocey Snead was found dead in a bathtub of the house No. 89 West Fourteenth street, East Orange,. on November 29th, 1909, and so peculiar were the circumstances surrounding her death, that the authorities began to investigate, to ascertain the true facts in the case. In the afternoon of November 29th, some woman called up the police of East Orange, asking for the address of the coroner. When the woman was informed that there were no coroners in New Jersey, she informed the police that a woman had committed suicide in No. 89 West Fourteenth street. Dr. H. M. Simmons, one of the deputy county physicians, was sent to the house and he found the body of the young woman in the bathtub. The tub was full of water and the entire body of the dead woman was submerged. At first the physician did not suspect that there was anything wrong, especially as he found, pinned to the clothes of the woman, a note stating that she had committed suicide. Closer investigation convinced him, however, that the woman had been dead more than twenty-four hours. As the bathroom was the only one in the house it seemed strange that the body had not been found sooner. The explanations offered by the three women in the house did not satisfy the physician and upon his report a careful investigation was begun by the police authorities.

It was ascertained that the victim of the tragedy and her aunt, Miss Virginia Wardlaw, had moved into the house on West Fourteenth street ten days before the finding of the body. They had no furniture excepting a cot and a soap box, which served as a table. The two women had no money and had subsisted on milk, biscuits and a few oranges.

It was found the three women afterward indicted, were near relatives of the victim. The aunt of the dead woman, Miss Virginia Wardlaw, came from a well connected southern family and at one time was president of Soule College, at Murfreesboro, Tenn., and later a member of the faculty of Roanoke College, Salem, Va. The exact circumstances which led to the decline of the family fortunes are not known, but it seems that Miss Wardlaw, accompanied by Mrs. Caroline B. Martin, the mother of Ocey, and Mrs. Mary W. Snead, came to New York some years ago, probably in the hope of recovering their fortune. At first they lived at the Waldorf-Astoria, but as their funds dwindled, they moved to less expensive quarters in Brooklyn, and finally to the unfurnished house in East Orange. Ocey's husband could not be found for a long time, but was finally located in St. Catharines, Ont., where he was working as a cook. Although free from suspicion, he disappeared shortly after being located.

It was ascertained that the women were in desparate financial condition for several years and had borrowed from many wealthy persons, giving their notes as security. At one strong moment of suspicion it considered the fact that the life of Ocey Snead was insured in ten companies for an aggregate of $32,000. The insurance companies at first suspected that the body of the young woman in the bathtub was not that of Ocey Snead but the body was positively identified by several persons, among them the doctor who had treated Ocey Snead when her baby, which died in the spring of last year, was born. Another strange feature is the fact that six or seven wills were found purporting to have been signed by Ocey Snead, and making her aunt and some other relatives the beneficiaries.

The three women were indicted for murder on December 22, 1909, and influential friends furnished them with the means for engaging counsel. Miss Wardlaw, the principal defendant, deliberately starved herself to death and was removed from the jail to the house of Detention, where she died on August 11th.

A Trip to Canada.

The London Teachers' Association, with a membership of 16,500, arranged for a trip to Canada during the summer vacation this year. The party visited Quebec, Montreal, MacDonald College, St. Annes de Bellevue, Ottawa, Algonquin National Park, Muskoka Lakes, Toronto, Niagara Falls, and returned through the Thousand Islands and the St. Lawrence Rapids to Montreal. In the September number of the "London Teacher" an account of the trip is given, and it shows how thoroughly the party enjoyed their trip. The originator, Mr. Thos. Gautrey, has written to the European Traffic Manager of the Grand Trunk System through whom the trip was arranged expressing gratification at the admirable way in which all the arrangements were carried out and intimating that the party was most enthusiastic, and that the trip, which covered the most attractive passenger of Quebec and Ontario, will certainly be repeated next year.

INAUGURAL BANQUET.

Successful and Well Patronized Event at the Y.M.C.A.

Last night the fine dining hall at the Y.M.C.A. building was comfortably filled by about one hundred subscribers to the banquet held there. This banquet was called "An Inaugural." The application of the word is that a dinner was a formal or solemn commencement or initiative of the admirable and strenuous campaign about to be waged by the local Y.M.C.A. The dining hall was appropriately and handsomely decorated for the occasion.

Mr. C. E. Sisson, chairman of the Y.M.C.A. Membership Committee very ably filled the chair, and was a host in himself in carrying out the banquet to the delight of all present.

The menu was, it is needless to say, of the finest and thoroughly enjoyed by everyone present. It might be explained that no invitations were issued, the banquet being for members and subscribers. Only those who agreed to be present handled the admission tickets, which, considering the event, sold at the low price of 25 cents each.

There was no formal toast list. Admirable speeches were given by Mr. George A. Warburton, of the Toronto Central Y.M.C.A.; Mr. J. A. Johnston, Dr. Middleton, and General Secretary H. M. Gilchrist. Every speech made was profuse with encouragement towards the impending and present campaign. Mr. Sisson deserves special recognition for the good work he has done in promoting both the campaign and the banquet

EUROPE GROWING MORE TEMPERATE

DR. HENIUS SAYS THAT BREWERS WILL BACK TEMPERANCE BUT NOT PROHIBITION.

Signs of a Powerful Temperance Movement in Europe—Denmark Has Taken the Lead.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Europe no longer is the home of the toper, according to Dr. Max Henius, of Chicago, who has returned from the first international Congress of Brewers at Brussels.

"Signs of a powerful temperance movement in Europe were manifested by the 600 delegates to the convention, Dr. Henius said. "Denmark has taken the lead. There the government does not tax the beverages containing less than 2½ per cent of alcohol, while it does tax—and heavily too—all other drinks.

"The brewers both here and abroad will back temperance. There is no doubt that drunkenness is the world's greatest curse. On the other hand, however, they do not want prohibition, because beer, drunk in moderate quantities, is not harmful."

IS IT A PSYCHOLOGICAL OR PHYSIOLOGICAL MATTER?

Well Known Local Man Tells a Story Worth Deep Consideration By Thinkers.

Most of our readers have heard that when a man or woman is unfortunate enough to lose a limb, the extremities of the amputated limb often pains as much as though still attached to the trunk of the afflicted human being. This was exemplified between a Times representative and a gentleman will known to most of our local merchants. The gentleman referred to a year or so ago had the misfortune to lose part of one of his legs. He is fortunately able now, to attend as well as ever to his duties. The Times man yesterday asked him, "Do you ever experience any trouble or pain with the leg you have had cut off." "No," replied this well-known citizen, "not since my brother had the amputated leg dug up, straightened and reburied." This naturally aroused the scribe's interest, and, in reply to questions put, got the following account, that is a study for psychologists. "You remember that a year or so ago I got my leg cut off in the hospital. The severed leg was buried in the cemetery. Some time afterwards I felt a distinct pain in the toes and foot that had been amputated. I felt that there was something pressing upon the toes that were buried. In fact a corn that used to bother me, pained. I stood the pain as long as I could, and then asked the hospital nurse how the leg, taken off, whilst I was under chloroform or ether, had been got ready for burial. I was told that the leg had been carefully wrapped in linen bandages, and placed, leg upright in a box. I got my brother go have the amputated limb disinterred. It was, from the lapse of time somewhat decomposed. However, my friends, with the use of sticks, found that some paper was pressing upon the toes. This paper was removed, the leg placed in normal position and reburied. Since the time that this change was effected, I have felt no pain in the dismembered leg.

The narrator of this physiological or psychological confirmed his own experience by telling a very similar story of a little girl in a nearby village. The child had sustained an accident to her foot with bob-sleighs and the foot was amputated and, subsequently buried. After a short time the child felt pains in the amputated foot. It was disinterred and found to have been jammed in a box, in a distorted shape. The foot was reburied, after being straightened into the shape and condition nature made it, and, after that the child had no more pain, real or imaginary, in the amoutated leg.

TROLLEY CAR RAN OFF THE TRACKS

ACCIDENT AT CENTRAL PARK, ROCHESTER, IN WHICH CAR RAN OVER PAVEMENT.

One Conductor Killed—Another Was Seriously Hurt—He Escaped the Wheel.

Rochester, N.Y., Sept. 20.— Leonard Manning, of 669 Frost street, was instantly killed, and Lewis Hough, of 41 Marshall street, was seriously injured in a trolley accident at Central Park and Portland avenue early today, when an east-bound car running from Central Park into Portland avenue left the tracks at an open switch, and ran for a few feet over the pavement before it could be stopped by the application of brakes.

The two men, both employed as trolley conductors, were waiting for a car to take them home when the car struck them. Manning was caught beneath the wheels and crushed to death, but Hough managed to roll clear of the wheels. At the hospital it was said he was suffering from a gashed head, broken nose, and internal injuries.

FEMALE ROBBER STRUCK MAN DOWN

SHE THRUST A REVOLVER IN HIS FACE AND DEMANDED HIS MONEY.

She Was Wearing Veil—Left Man Unconscious and Escaped—Town of Richmond Much Excited.

Richmond, O., Sept. 20.—This town was thrown into excitement last night shortly after six o'clock, when the news spread that an unknown woman with a veil on, entered the store of Ginn and Elliott. Main street, asked for stamps, and when told she would get the same in the post office next block went out. Returning shortly again she said to Mr. Elliott, "do you know me?" Mr. Elliott said, "no." Then the woman demanded money, and upon being refused, she pulled out a revolver. Mr. Elliott tried to secure the revolver, but was unsuccessful. The woman struck him on the forehead, and rendered him unconscious. Mr. Ginn, who was in a nearby room, came on the scene, but the woman had disappeared.

The mayor and Constable Chartrand were notified, also a doctor was summoned and attended to Mr. Elliott's wound.

Everything is being done to locate the unknown woman. A rumor is around that the supposed woman was a man dressed in woman's clothes. The town is being thorough ly searched.

MINISTER SUDDENLY DROPS OUT OF SIGHT

THE REV. J. T. BRADBURN WANDERS AWAY FROM THE FOLD —ABSENT TWO WEEKS.

Suddenly Disappears, Says He Had Alphasia, But Young Heiress Departs at the Same Time.

Spencer, N.Y., Sept. 20.— After searching for two weeks for her husband who mysteriously disappeared, Mrs. J. T. Bradburn, wife of Rev. Dr. Bradburn, pastor of the Spencer Methodist church, received a letter from him today, in which he stated that he had wandered away while suffering from aphasia, and found himself in Pittson, Pa.

About the same time that the Rev. Mr. Bradburn wandered away, Miss White, a beautiful young heiress of Halsey Valley, near here, also mysteriously disappeared from home. Her family has received no word of her whereabouts.

The minister said in his letter that he was now recovered, and would return home at once. He makes no mention of Miss White.

The Rev. Mr. Bradburn suddenly dropped out of sight after preaching a sermon at Nicholls two weeks ago on Sunday. He said in his letter that he did not remember leaving Nicholls, and that his mind was blank during his wanderings.

The authorities, who have been asked to find Miss White, have now redoubled their efforts

KING MANUEL MAY TIDE OVER.

Appoints Sixteen Peers and Manages to Ward Off Election, Which Would Mean Revolution.

Lisbon, Sept. 20.—It is believed that King Manuel's appointment of sixteen peers all members of the present Liberal Cabinet, will afford sufficient new strength to the government to avoid a dissolution of parliament and new elections which the Republicans declare would mean revolution.

Dr. Alpoim, chief of the Progressive dissidents, recently told his majesty that unless he insisted upon the Liberal Government enforcing religious orders which re-entered Portugal after the issuance of the decree of 1901, but which are not devoted to the work of charity or teaching as provided in the decree. The newspapers say that the monks are fleeing to the mountains.

FATHER VAUGHAN LEAVES A MESSAGE

TELLS HOW DEAR THE ENGLISH FLAG IS TO THE ROMAN CATHOLICS.

Declares That They Would Fight Till the Last For the Empire—Last Shot to Be Fired by Romanist.

Winnipeg, Sept. 20.—Striking a high imperial note, Father Vaughan has left behind him a message which will long be remembered.

"The Anglican Bishop of London," he said, "stated the other day that as he was an English Catholic he could not be a Roman Catholic.

"Tonight," continued Father Vaughan. "I tell you that, as I am a English Catholic, I must be a Roman, and what I am, my family have been for 1,500 years. I am proud to to be an English Catholic today, standing upon the platform to tell you Canadians how dear is the English flag to Catholics, and to tell you that their patriotism is the fairest bloom that rises out of the taproot of their religion.

"I hope that every Catholic will show himself to be true to the Mother Country, to see that the British Flag keeps flying, and in a clean atmosphere.

"I believe so strongly in Catholic loyalty and patriotism," concluded the speaker, "that if our Empire were to lose her prestige, and, through any mistaken folly, were to come to decrepitude and decay, I believe that the last shot would be fired in her defence by an English Catholic."

KILLED HIS WIFE TO RELIEVE HER PAIN

HE IS NOW A NERVOUS WRECK AND HIS CONDITION IS HOPELESS.

Woman Fell Over Precipice, Her Condition Was Helpless and Husband Ended Her Life.

New York, Sept. 19.—James McDowell, aged 58, six feet tall, and a nervous wreck, is at the home of friends at 2774 Bainbridge street, the Bronx, under treatment. Despite everything that can be done for him he is growing worse.

The cause, as he tells it, was in the Cascade Mountains in British Columbia, where McDowell had a mining claim. When setting out from Calgary for the place, his wife succeeded in getting him to allow her to go along. When passing over a trail in Castle Mountain, while McDowell was dozing in his saddle, Mrs. McDowell's mule brayed and plunged over a precipice. Twenty-four hours later McDowell found her, about 2,000 feet below, unconscious, and every bone apparently broken. As there was no one nearer than one hundred miles, and no medical help nearer than Calgary, one hundred and twenty miles away, the case was hopeless, so when she begged him to shoot her, he put his revolver to her head and killed her. He went back to Calgary and told all. A jury exonerated him when the remains were found as described, but he is suffering mentally. A mere shadow of his former self, he exclaims: "I don't know how much longer I can stand it."

TOO MANY IRISH LEAVE IRELAND

Washington, Sept. 19.—Too many Irish are leaving Ireland this year, in the opinion of the home government. A clipping from an Irish journal forwarded here by Deputy Consul J. S. Armstrong, jr., of Cork, says: "The Irish emigration statistics prove unsatisfactory, 1,891 persons left this country during July as compared with 1,682 for July of last year, an increase of 209. Of this emigrants 1,907 were males and 764 females. In all 20,816 persons have left Ireland during the first seven months of 1910—an increase of 1,947 in the same period in 1907. The total emigration last year was 28,677 and was the second lowest on record for six decades. If the same rate of increase is kept for the remainder of this year emigration will reach nearly 32,000 for the year.

CONSTABLE WILLIAMS SAYS HE MAY ARREST DELAINE

FRIENDS COAXED HIM TO "BEAT IT" ON TRAIN.

Vermont Man Was Later Assaulted, Stabbed and Robbed of Nearly $100 and Ticket.

South Durham, Sept. 19.—Charles Bombard, of Barre, Vt., who was assaulted and stabbed by a man named Black on Friday night, was taken to his home by his father yesterday morning. It appears that Bombard, who is a respectable person, met with Black in Sherbrooke, and the latter persuaded him to "beat it" from Richmond. Bombard did not wish to do so, but wanted to go on a passenger train. Black insisted, however, and when, between South Durham and Lisgar, assaulted Bombard, and threw him from a moving train. He was stabbed five times in the head and nearly $10, and a ticket to Detroit taken from him. The police are on the lookout for Black. His home is in Portland, Maine.

AUTHORITIES BELIEVE THAT HUGH DELAIRE IS AN EPILEPTIC.

Paris Green Found in Woodshed Where Body Was—Spots on His Trousers Correspond to Stains on Dead Woman's Wrapper.

Havelock, Sept. 20.—That Hugh Delaine, the Dummer township man, who found his wife strangled to death last Thursday, is an epileptic, is the belief of the authorities here.

The presence of a Provincial detective lends interest to the situation, and startling developments are expected hourly. The arrest of Delaine on the charge of murdering his wife, was foreshadowed by a statement made to a representative of the press today by Constable Williams, of this town, who is in charge of the case. "We have nothing tangible as yet on which to base our suspicions, but Delaine himself is the man we want. We know just where he is, and I have a man watching his movements. The first false step by Delaine will mean his apprehension," said Mr. Williams.

Delaine, along with fourteen others has been subpoenaed for the inquest, which will be held before Coroner Kindred in the Havelock town hall at one o'clock on Friday afternoon.

THE CHAIN OF EVIDENCE.

All the neighbors will give their testimony adding their quota to the chain of evidence that all unknown to Delaine, seems to be tightening about him.

There are facts in the case that, to the observer, seem to indicate only one thing, as Delaine made repeated statements that he would go home some night and find his wife dead. The presence of a quantity of Paris green in the woodshed, where the body was found by Delaine, the marks of someone's hands on the woman's neck, the scratches on her face, the cut on her forehead and the evidences of struggle everywhere near are strong points.

COUPLE WERE ILLITERATE.

Delaine and his wife were illiterate, desperately poor and shiftless. Delaine's spasms seemed to verge on insanity, and he had periods of distress when he would froth at the mouth. These all incline the neighbors in the belief that he was subject to epileptic fits. Their lonely life, away from all friends of any kind, devoid of all social intercourse, and the little that is known about either of them, all lends color to the supposition that Delaine, unknown to most people, was an epileptic. Local doctors know nothing of him. He was regarded as simple that is all.

"But," said Constable Williams, "he was not so simple that he did not know enough to keep his mouth shut on the subject of his wife's death."

ANALYSIS OF STOMACH.

The stomach of Mrs. Delaine will be sent to Toronto to the Provincial analyst. There is little to lead the local authorities to suppose poison was used, but they want to make sure.

Two Children Meet with Awful Deaths

A sad accident occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Finnie, Lotus, Manvers, near Pontypool, on Monday night. Mrs. Finnie being ill, their little boy, two years of age, was sent to the home of neighbors near by. In some way the child, whilst playing about, got hold of a loaded revolver kept in the house he visited and by sad mistake shot himself to death.

In the same vicinity, last week, Mr. J. H. Clarke, who lives near the Finnies' home, lost their child by an equally lamentable accident. It seems that Mrs. Clark, who had been doing the family wash, left a wash boiler full of boiling water on the floor, not seeing the child near by the little three-year-old Chart toddler, whilst playing about, took the lid from the boiler and, in some inexplicable way, fell into its scalding contents of the boiler meeting with a sudden and terrible death. Mrs. Clark, from the awful shock sustained was partially paralyzed. She however, we are glad to say, has recovered her normal state of health, but, of course mourns greatly the loss of her child.

The parents of both the deceased children are known in Peterborough, and the sympathy of their many friends, both here, and in Manvers, will be extended to the utmost.

Astor-Chanler Faction Have Doubled Offer

New York, Sept. 20.—The crusade of the creditors which heretofore has been in verbal form, today took legal shape against Robert Winthrop Chanler, whose unprofitable investment in matrimony with the beautiful Lina Cavalieri has resulted in the filing of two suits for the collection of debts and preparations by the singer to carry the prenuptial contract through the courts in a legal battle for the Chanler fortune that will be the society sensation of two continents.

The second suit against "Sheriff Bob" was made known today, when it was learned that Jean Martin, proprietor of the Cafe Martin, had asked the courts to have Mr. Chanler satisfy a claim for two dinners which was served to "Bob" and Lina in the courtship days.

The first suit, which was placed on the calendar to come up in court today, was brought by Wm. Barnes, a Fifth avenue tailor, who desires payment for Mr. Chanler's wedding raiment. The suit is for $987. The second suit, brought by M. Martin, is for the two dinners, which were served on May 7th and November 17th, 1909, the cost being $15.20.

Aside from the court action today, the principal feature of interest was the watchfulness of the attorneys for the next step in the international domestic case and the complete effacement of "Bob."

BRITAIN STILL RULES THE S.A.

The great review of the British navy held by King George at Torquay on July 28th, was an exhibition well calculated to restore confidence to nervous Britons whose sleep has been disturbed by the efforts of invasion alarmists. The huge fighting force assembled in close order covering five square miles of the bay. It presented 36 first-class battleships, led by the famous Dreadnought; twenty-three armored cruisers, many of them as formidible fighting machines as the battleships; six protected cruisers; forty-eight destroyers, with their parent ships and escorts; submarines of the latest type and fleet auxiliaries. And there was no "has-beens" for more filling purposes. Every vessel was a perfect one of its type; every one up-to-date. Ships and guns were the latest and best that war demands. Every vessel was ready for service, coal and ammunition up to the war standard; perfectly trained crews. Every man at his post.

And all this immense naval display was presented without withdrawing a single ship from the various foreign stations. The eight divisions were each accompanied by its fleet of colliers, and every vessel was in wireless communication with every other and with the Admiralty Office in London. Seated at his desk in his flagship the commander-in-chief could control every movement of the great flotilla. It was a peaceful demonstration of the great sea power Britain holds in reserve.

EXPERTS ON THE WEST.

A party of American agricultural editors have been touring Western Canada with Herbert Vanderhoof of the "Canada West" magazine. At Edmonton the visitors were received by President Hays of the Grand Trunk, who proceeded to interview them. They told Mr. Hays that they had enjoyed the trip over the Grand Trunk Pacific which traversed a fine district showing good crops of wheat, oats and hay in Alberta. In Saskatchewan the wheat was good and oats fair with every evidence of prosperity in the new towns. They spoke with enthusiasm of the excellent character of the road. Mr. Hays expressed his pleasure at meeting them and asked them to come again. Arriving at Winnipeg they expressed themselves to the representatives of the press most enthusiastically. Elmer E. Critchfield of Chicago said:—"I was the only member of our party who had seen Western Canada. I had been away four years and was amazed at the growth of the towns and cities, especially of Edmonton, Prince Albert and Saskatoon. Western Canada is all right, and we found the farmers everywhere thoroughly satisfied."

Clarence D. Strew, managing editor of "Farm Life" and the "National Fruit Grower and Gardener," Chicago: "Practically everywhere we went we found fine crops and thoroughly satisfied farmers."

A. W. Fulton, editor of "New England Homestead" and American Agriculturalist" said: "The trip has been a revelation and an education. I have read all that ever came my way about Western Canada, but must admit frankly that I was utterly unprepared for what I saw. I am now armed to speak from first hand experience in answering the great number of questions that are constantly asked down our way about actual conditions in the Canadian West. I have nothing but good to report and particularly as to the success of the American settlers in every part of the West that we traversed."

Frank C. Moorehead of the "Iowa Homestead," "Wisconsin Farmer," "Farmer and Stockman," Desmoans, Iowa, was equally enthusiastic: I have never seen finer crops anywhere. I was particularly interested in the Melfort district, where several hundred Iowa farmers have settled. Without exception they have been successful, and everyone of them is thoroughly satisfied. I can only have one answer to anyone enquiring about Canada and you know what the answer is."

J. B. Montgomery, editor of the "Farmer" magazine and "Rural Weekly," Omaha, Nebraska, said: "The Americans are not leaving Canada. They are coming and more than ever will come."

As a rule they are good farmers, which is one of the reasons for their invariablessness. "This has been a season of seasons to show up good farming and for that reason, the invariable conditions in certain sections are by no means an unmixed evil. Thousands of farmers have learned a lesson by which they will benefit in the future."

Mr. Parke West, Land Department, "Chicago Record Herald," declares with enthusiasm: "Fine crops and prosperous satisfied farmers tell the story why there is no truth in reports of American settlers leaving the country. We shall all have the best of reports to make to all questions, and our paper alone has hundreds of them at a time."

They Can't Forgive Canada.

Already it has been pretty well demonstrated that certain railways of the Northwest are fighting desperately to stop the flow of immigration to the Canadian west. In fact this campaign has extended to the South Western Railways as well. For instance, the Texas and Pacific Quarterly, rather a pretentious magazine published by the company and issued at Dallas, Texas, opens its July number with an uplift article which includes a quotation from Longfellow's Evangeline:—

"All the year round the orange groves are in blossom and grass grows
More in a single night than a whole Canadian summer."

Meaning, no doubt, the grass. Not the Canadian summer.
